Helping out

Mrs. Margaret Hallett of Holden presented a cheque for $555.55 to Murray Lyons, president of the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society. The money was raised by Mrs. Hallett in a swim-a-thon and will be used to help operate the swimming pool in Ryley.

Super Curling playoffs will open on Wednesday

Three of the four teams gaining playoff berths in the Super Curling League had been decided going into last night's (Wednesday) final games in the regular schedule.

Brian Schultz of Tofield had earned one of the berths from the Highway 14 Division while the two berths from Highway 13 were taken by George Heck of Daysland and Ean Eckstrand of Sedgewick.

Doug Dobry of Viking and Armand Goubault of Ryley were to have played in Ryley last night to determine the second representative from Highway 14 as they ended the regular schedule tied for second place.

The semi-finals will be played this coming Wednesday night in Ryley with the finals to be played in Daysland on the following Wednesday.

The championship team will collect $800 while the losing finalist will receive $280 and the two teams losing in the semi-finals will each collect $150.

Schultz clinched first place in his final game when he edged Kalawsky while Dobry earned a share of second place by taking a close 6-5 victory over Goubault. In the other game in the Highway 14 Division, Thompson got by Albrecht by an 8-6 score.

Schultz will meet the second place team from the Highway 13 Division while either Dobry or Goubault will face the first place team. All playoffs are sudden-death encounters.

Heck assured himself of at least a tie for first place in Highway 13 when he edged Gibb 7-6 and got by Zarski 6-5.

Eckstrand remained in the running for first place when he stopped Enright 7-5.

Only one team has been eliminated from competing next year as Kalawsky ended in last place in Highway 14 competition. Tied for fifth place were Thompson and Albrecht and no decision has been made as to which team will not be allowed to return next winter.

Enright and Reese are facing elimination from next year's competition along Highway 13, but only trail Gibb, Miller and Zarski by two points.

Lamont stretches lead

Lamont is trying to run away and hide from the rest of the teams in the Beaverhill Hockey League.

At the end of the 1977 portion of the schedule, Lamont was eight points ahead in the race for first place after going undefeated in nine straight contests.

Clinched in a battle for second place are Ryley, Tofield, Mundare, Waskatenau and Smoky Lake. Slightly back after picking up their first two wins of the season is Holden while winless Andrew is in the basement.

A league meeting was held on Tuesday night to discuss various aspects of league operations. One of the major items on the agenda was approval of the schedule for the second half of the season. It is expected that this schedule should be available for publication next week.

A major exhibition contest is scheduled for the latter part of the month. At that time, an all star team from the league will host the CLC Vikings from Camrose with the game to be played in Tofield.

Details for the contest, planned for January 28th, will be announced later.

Lamont picked up two more wins during the latter part of 1977 when they walloped Andrew 15-2 and took an 8-5 decision over Tofield.

Ryley moved into sole possession of second place by whipping Smoky Lake 13-5 and holding Mundare to a 5-5 stalemate.

Tofield dropped into a tie for third place with Mundare, one point behind the Rebels from Ryley. Tofield whipped Holden 6-2 in their final outing of '77. Mundare picked up a 16-4 triumph over Smoky Lake.

Waskatenau and Smoky Lake are deadlocked for fifth place, trailing Tofield and Mundare by one point. Smoky Lake got its share of fifth

Area is quiet for local RCMP

The spirit of Christmas may have prevailed in the area served by the Tofield Detachment of the RCMP as complaints over the past few weeks decreased.

A small sum of money was taken from the till during a break and enter at Davy's Truck and Tractor in Tofield. The loss occurred a few days before Christmas and is under investigation.

Two Edmonton men, Steven Stanley Peaver and Randall Gordon Farquharson, were charged with theft under $200 after they were apprehended while apparently in possession of four empty beer kegs. It is alleged that two of the kegs were taken from behind the Tofield Hotel.

An attempted break and enter at Dykeman's Confectionery in Tofield on December 27 is under investigation. Thieves were unable to gain admittance to the premises.

Joe Perusini reported the theft of 200 feet of welding cable with assorted attachments. The loss occurred from his vehicle while it was

Holden woman supports pool

Mrs. Margaret Hallett of Holden feels that swimming is good recreation for people of all ages and appreciates having a pool near by so she can go swimming every week.

Recently Mrs. Hallett showed her appreciation in a very tangible way when she presented the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society, operator of the pool in Ryley a cheque for the proceeds she raised by swimming in the annual swim-a-thon.

Mrs. Hallett was sponsored by 65 companies and individuals in the local area for a total of $555.55 which includes the 10 per cent commission Mrs. Hallett donated to the pool.

When the pool opened in September 1976, Mrs. Hallett described herself as a "good floater". Now after three series of lessons she is ready to enter the intermediate class in the next session.

Mrs. Hallett believes very strongly in giving every child the opportunity of learning to swim.

She stated that swimming instruction should be part of the school curriculum so that every child has the chance to take lessons.

Proceeds from the annual swim-a-thon go towards the operation of the swimming pool. Financing of this facility is done through the swim-a-thon, annual lottery and money taken in at the door; there are no other financial sources.

To date, approximately 50 per cent of the swim-a-thon money has been received by the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society. Money still to be handed in can be mailed to Howard Berks at Ryley.

Messy

Sharon Kast's expression shows exactly what it feels like to work with finger paints. Grade two students in Ryley keep the paint strictly on their fingers, although that's not always easy to do.

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (BP) — The idea of Defence Minister Barney Danson to copy the West Germans and Israelis in preparing for terrorism is a good one - - but there are snags.

Danson has announced that a special squad of Armed Forces personnel will train for anti-terrorism operations, like those pulled off so successfully by the West Germans and the Israelis. These two countries will aid in the training of Canadian experts. The flying squad, Canadian style, will also include officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and that creates a potential difficulty.

Technically speaking, the Armed Forces have no jurisdiction inside Canada, and the RCMP have none outside Canada. That means that there should be no mixing of RCMP and soldiers when it comes down to constituting such an anti-terrorism strike force. The RCMP has been under considerable political fire, and because of the events which have been disclosed within the past six months, some of the force's internal security operations are under public suspicion.

The last thing we need is any mixing of the Armed Forces with the RCMP for purposes of internal security matters. The only time the Armed Forces should be used in domestic emergencies is, according to law, when the civil authorities ask for such help in a constitutional way. Things should stay that way.

There's no question that the RCMP as a whole has been unjustly hammered over recent internal security actions. It was the small internal security squad alone which was responsible, and that is led by a man politically appointed on the job. Realization of that fact may eventually undo much of the damage done to the force's reputation, but it would be dangerous politically in the extreme not to make a fine dividing line between RCMP and Armed Forces in the creation of an anti-terrorist squad. Maybe what we need are two squads - - one composed of RCMP officers for use within Canada, and the other of soldiers for use outside Canada.

It is for certain, though, that we need such an organization. There have been terrorist incidents in the past which have faced the nation, finding us ill-equipped to deal with them. In the present climate we can expect incidents involving terrorism to increase, rather than diminish, and the government should provide for an effective weapon as rapidly as possible.

Trouble for British steel

To mark the 10th anniversary of nationalization, British Steel Corp., the largest in Europe, is now losing more than 1 million pounds sterling a day, David Jones reports. Half-year figures published last week showed a deficit of 201 million pounds sterling for the six months ending Sept. 30. This has added fuel to the debate on how far taxpayers can be expected to subsidize the industry and whether Britain should be in the business of manufacturing bulk steels at all. BSC Chairman Sir Charles Villiers, a former merchant banker, says the corporation would be in liquidation if it were not in the public sector. At the heart of the problem is the size of the work force. BSC employs 208,000 people - according to the experts about 60,000 too many. British plants also tend to be older than those of their European competitors. BSC wants to cut 10,000 jobs. It has to some extent government backing for this, but both Prime Minister James Callaghan and Deputy Prime Minister Michael Foot represent steel constituencies and are not, therefore, overanxious to wield the axe too savagely. There is also the question of unemployment - currently running at 6 percent - and the possibility of a general election next year.

Who makes the pipe?

A behind-the-scenes battle between Ottawa and Washington has been building for some time over who will supply the pipe for the Alaska Highway gas pipeline. All through any discussions over the question, it had been tacitly assumed, at least on this side of the border, that the bulk of the line, more than ninety percent of the 2,000 miles needed for the Canadian portion, would come from Canadian mills, essentially Stelco and Interprovincial Pipe filling most of the order.

Since the signing of the agreement, however, there has been growing pressure from the powerful steel lobby in the United States capital to provide relief from the dismal economic picture for steel in the U.S. Steel is in world-wide recession, but the U.S. is suffering badly, plagued as it is by outdated installations and surging imports. Its industry lost more than 13,000 jobs last August along, when imports took over one fifth of the domestic market. And recently announced third quarter reports were little short of disastrous.

By contrast, Canadian steel companies have fared rather well, largely because they concentrated in recent years on updating equipment.

There has never been any thought in this country that the line was going to be supplied from any other source, and indeed there is every hope that Stelco's Camrose works should share in the massive development, shipping the skelp in from Central Canada economically rather than the higher priced finished pipe coming all the way from Welland.

Naturally, competition price, quality and capacity to supply all have to be taken into account, but there is no reason why Canadian companies should be deprived, simply to pull Uncle Sam's coals out of the fire. If Canadian companies can meet all those requirements, and we believe they can, they should be given the opportunity. The tariff walls that Uncle Sam insists on building should be just as high on their side as they are on our side.

Gov't stoops low with proposed tax

Recently in Taber, a person - or persons - unknown, was branded low-down, inconsiderate and lower than a snake's breast when he stole a crop of apples from a tree belonging to a long-time Taber resident recently widowed.

And well that person might be branded all these things and more.

Still, our own federal government is planning a similar caper, and we have heard practically no complaints at all.

In introducing his new budget last March 31, Finance Minister Donald Macdonald said it was the intention of his government to levy income tax on life insurance "policy gains" at the time of the policy owner's death.

In other words, when the head of the family dies, the surviving widow and children, who had been fortunate enough to have a breadwinner who provided for life insurance, will see part of that money taken by our federal government.

People do not insure their lives, generally, as a way of making money. Surely there are more practical ways. Life insurance is intended as protection for the surviving family members . . . a buffer to help them at least briefly, in their time of trouble and of need.

Any government contemplating the taxing of such monies has to be every bit as insensitive, cruel and mean as the sneak thief who takes candy from children . . . or robs blind people . . . or deprives a widow of a crop of apples.

But it is conceivable that Canada's present government would stoop so low.

Don't forget that this is the same government that allows its taxpayers to take, from their tax payable - right off the top - any amount of money they wish to contribute to a political party. A political party, yet!

If this government would allow the same sort of "off-the-top" deductions for supporters of such worthy and hard-working organizations as the churches, or the Red Cross or the Canadian Cancer Society or the many other worthy causes, our federal government might regain a small measure or respect, and possibly even some of the confidence it has been losing year after year.

Weed growth slowed

After heavy weed harvests a few years ago, weed growth at Kapasiwin Bay on Lake Wabamun has slowed this year.

Calgary Power Ltd. released Thursday the results of last summer's aquatic weed control program and, in a news release, said its weed harvesting program has shown a considerable drop from the high levels between 1972 and 1974.

Over a grid area covering 316 acres, 384 tons of weeds were harvested this year.

In comparison 259 tons were harvested in 1976 and 348 tons of weeds were taken from the lake in 1975.

The two highest years for harvests were 1972 and 1973, when 1,700 tons and 5,100 tons, respectively, were collected.

Mechanical harvesters concentrate on the grid area off Kapasiwin Bay, which is subject to the thermal discharge from Calgary Power Wabumun thermal plant. Only 161 acres of the grid actually required harvesting in 1977.

The weed harvesting fleet on Lake Wabamun consists of three harvesters and four transporters. Because of the low weed growth during the summer, only two harvesters and one transporter were put into service.

The harvesters are capable of cutting weeds at varying depths, up to 1.5 metres.

Following the cutting operation, the weeds are loaded on to a transporter, taken to shore and dumped in a worked out gravel pit.

A weed boom also was placed off Kapasiwin Beach to prevent uprooted rafts of weeds from being washed ashore.

The utility will harvest weeds next summer and again install the weed boom.

People travel cheaper than mail

With all the talk about postal rate increases and the cost of postal service it is heartening to note that Canada Post is still among the world's leaders in providing reasonably priced postal service.

Writing in the Toronto Star, Steve Veale notes that it is possible to travel in Europe for just over $10.00 a day. This includes the cost of meals, lodging, transportation, film and stationery. It even includes the odd bottle of french wine. Mr. Veale warns, however:

"But take heed. Don't think things are cheap. Ten post cards to family and friends from Austria or Switzerland could easily cost $7.00 in postage, plus the cost of each card."

Mr. Veale concludes that this adds up to an expensive hello.

Re Cooking Lake Moraine - Reply of November 24th

Dear Sir:

If I were less knowledgable, I would not find your return letter disturbing. Other residents of the Cooking Lake Study Area, upon asking specific questions regarding possible Department of Environment actions, have received replies stating any further discussion would be pointless at this time. Yet, you have the public relations sense of mind to state, "This is the type of informed feedback which the Department of Environment is seeking on this important subject."

Because of our love for the unique characteristics of the Moraine, we do not want to see it turned into a residential subdivision of Edmonton. But, to preserve our rights of land ownership we initiated a petition on October 6th requesting that an RDA not be established around Cooking Lake. It is evident now that what we have to fear is the enactment of a Special Planning Area under section 122 of Bill 15.

The Department of Environment (in its Environment Act) has laid out the procedures required for this. The first is the formulation of a "Conservation and Utilization Committee". The government agencies which must be represented on this committee coincide exactly with the members of the Management Committee preparing the Planning Report for the Moraine area. The presentation of their report to you was the second step. The final procedure is formal, in the form of a bill to the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

This is why you, Mr. Russell, are confident in saying in the Legislative Assembly "nothing would be done until it was done with the initiative and agreement of the local citizens". Before the final motions are begun, the local counties must present their own planning guidelines to the Department of Municipal Affairs. These guidelines must concur with those outlined in the planning report. Unfortunately the government has formed a large lever in the form of Bill 15, in that they can reject any local municipal planning proposals. Being the originator of Bill 15 Mr. Russell (while Minister of Municipal Affairs) you are aware of this fact.

I realise that the ball is now in the court of the local county officials, but I do not understand why the Department of Environment is unwilling to discuss, in depth, the possibilities available in the Cooking Lake Study Area.

Pardon my ignorance, but I forget at times the Lougheed governments questionable track record on matters dealing with the general public.

Awaiting your reply, I remain,

Yours truly,
Douglas Heuchert

LEARN FROM LABELS

What is your food labelling I.Q.? Try answering these questions and find out. Which ingredients must be listed on a food label? What is a "durable life date"? What does "Canada Fancy" mean? If these have you puzzled, read on. Food consultants at Agriculture Canada answer these and other questions for you.

Information found on labels of pre-packaged or processed foods is put there to help, not confuse the consumer. According to government regulations, a food label must include: 1) the common name of the food 2) the identity and principal place of business of the food manufacturer 3) a complete list of all ingredients by their acceptable common names in descending order of proportions. For example: the label on a can of kernel corn might list these ingredients: whole kernel corn, water, sugar and salt indicating that corn is the highest proportion of ingredients and salt is the lowest. Labels also now list all additives including mention of artificial flavoring and vitamins and minerals if they have been added e.g. "vitaminized" apple juice. 4) the grade of the food when applicable - Canada Fancy, is the top grade for canned product - other grades are Canada Choice and Canada Standard. The word "Canada" in the grade name means that it has complied with federal Department of Agriculture grade standards and 5) the net quantity in conventional and metric measures or in some products, metric only.

The series of lines and digits, known as the Canadian Grocery Product Code, may also appear on the label. These represent the code name for the manufacturer and each of his products. The symbol will be electronically decoded in the store at special automated check-out counters.

All information on labels must appear in the two official languages except for the manufacturer's name and place of business, which can be stated in one official language.

Food consultants at Agriculture Canada suggest you also check on the label for the phrase "best before" which indicates how long the food is expected to maintain its high quality if properly stored. All pre-packaged foods that should be used within 90 days or less must show this "durable life date", as it is called, on their label. This includes milk, cheese and most other dairy products, most pre-packaged baked goods and eggs.

This may answer some of your questions but food consultants at Agriculture Canada remind you that nothing is learned from a label that is not read!

Eggs of whooping crane still in one basket

Ashern, Manitoba -- In a figure of speech as literal as it is true, a renowned Canadian Wildlife Service biologist warns that all the eggs of the endangered whooping crane still are in one basket.

"In spite of recent and very encouraging developments, the only population of wild, breeding whoopers is the one which nests each year near Ft. Smith, N.W.T." Dr. Douglas Stephen said here in an interview.

"Many people have the idea it is the small number of birds which poses the greatest problem to the existence of the species. While this is true, it is secondary to the fact that all the birds winter in one small area of the Texas Gulf coast."

Possibilities for the destruction of all or much of this breeding population exist in the form of hurricanes and oil or toxic chemical spills on their wintering grounds.

The transplant of eggs from Ft. Smith to the nests of foster sandhill crane parents at Gray's Lake, Idaho, has been successful in producing nine young birds over the last three years in spite of a poor breeding season there this year. So far none of the Idaho birds, which winter in New Mexico, have nested. It is thought the birds do not reach sexual maturity until five years.

The latest in a series of moves designed to counteract the situation is headed by Dr. Stephen. This summer he marked a number of young sandhill cranes in Manitoba, 200 miles north of Winnipeg.

The marking process was simple enough, with the aid of a helicopter and, as Dr. Stephen put it, "young men, fleet of foot and long of wind."

Their job was to run down the flightless young sandhills on their own ground and fit them with bright orange collars on leg and throat.

"All along their expected migration route, trained biologists and naturalists are waiting to identify the birds' pattern of movement and final destination," Dr. Stephen said.

That destination is expected to be an area south and west of Gainesville in north-central Florida. Once the wintering area is established, its suitability for wintering whooping cranes will be examined in the hope the Manitoba sandhill crane flock can be used in the same way as the Idaho foster parents.

"Our primary objective is the redistribution of the whooping crane to as much of its former breeding and wintering habitat as possible," the C.W.S. biologist said. "If all goes well, it would be technically feasible to transplant eggs from the Fort Smith flock next year. This however, might be at the expense of other projects such as the Idaho experiment. I expect more probably that it would occur in 1980 or 1981 after sufficient birds have been established in Idaho."

Whooping cranes are large, snowy-white birds standing five feet tall when mature and weighing up to 15 pounds. Concern for their welfare became general in 1941 when only 15 birds were found wintering on the Texas Gulf coast.

Careful efforts to save the majestic birds have increased the number to a current wild population of almost 90.

Whooping cranes usually lay two large eggs on reed mounds in the middle of large marshy areas in Wood Buffalo National Park.

They are aggressive birds from the outset and the intense rivalry between chicks, along with other causes largely unknown, usually results in the death of one. It was for this reason that biologists of the Canadian Wildlife Service and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service established a second flock of captive birds at Patuxent, Md. using eggs taken from the Fort Smith flock in late stages of incubation.

A similar process was established three years ago to start the Idaho flock. Eggs from Ft. Smith this year were joined by a further 14 from the captive Patuxent flock for a total of 30.

Heavy snowfall, however, severely reduced the chances for survival of the young birds with resulting poor production. The problem was compounded by drought conditions which severely reduced the level of Gray's Lake, their adoptive home.

"The reduced lake levels made food less plentiful and made the young birds easier prey for roaming coyotes," Dr. Stephen said.

At least part of the urgency for finding yet another foster parent flock is the more recent success of the Ft. Smith flock, Dr. Stephen explained.

"We are beginning to suspect that the birds are becoming overcrowded on the Texas wintering grounds and at the very least we cannot expect to increase the size of that flock forever," he said.

"It bears repeating that our objectives are to establish both a diversity and number of birds that will ensure their survival well into the future."

Readin', Writin', N' Metric.

They've ruined my trip, I do declare I know not the kilometers from here to there. I can't figure out, although I have tried. The liters it took, should I add or divide? I was just getting on to the wind factor chill When up came this new measurement bill. They say on February 1 it will become law and I'll be clinging by only a straw To the weights and measures of other days For I cannot fathom that metric maze. To a class I went but confused I got The words came through but numbers did not. I have been told, but I'll never agree It's all very simple and that includes me!!

The Book of Life / Live it Superstar
Acts 4-13 "Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled and took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus."
I wonder if people can really tell by the way you live and behave that you are a child of the living God.
When Maxwell went to the land of India as a missionary and was determined to learn the Hindu language in order to help the people. He went to the only man he knew that had a knowledge of both the Hindu and English languages and asked him to teach him the Hindu language, but the man refused to do it. When Mr. Maxwell asked him why he had refused he said, "Sahib, it is because you will make me a christian" Mr. Maxwell said, "You misunderstand me, all I want you to do is to teach me your language, I promise that I will not talk to you about becoming a christian". The Hindu man said, "No Sahib, I will not do it, because in order to teach you my language I will have to live with you and no man can live with you without becoming a christian". What a testimony to this man of God, I wonder if people can say the same thing about you and me.

Dim the lights

Dim lighting can be as soothing to chickens as it is to clients at big-city bars.
Fred Proudfoot, head of the poultry section at Agriculture Canada's Kentville, N.S., Research Station, has found that dim lighting makes broiler chickens more subdued and less inclined to fight among themselves.
The low lighting is beneficial because the broilers perform better and require a lower-protein finishing diet. The system also saves on use of electricity.

Canadian sheep Mexico bound

A group of 247 purebred sheep have recently been exported from Canada to Mexico. These purebred sheep represent a cross section of some of Western Canada's best sheep flocks. Included in the shipment were Suffolks, Hampshires and North Country Cheviots, with a breakdown of 231 ewes and 16 rams.

This export to Mexico is one of the largest in recent years and comes as a result of some recent promotion being initiated by the Alberta Sheep Breeders through the Alberta Canada All Breeds Association.

During the selection the Mexican buying mission were very impressed with the overall quality of the flocks, particularly with the growth and size of the animals. Mexico has become a volume buyer of sheep in the past years, but has not looked beyond the United States until this time.

Tony Saretsky, General Manager of the Alberta Canada All Breeds Association was quite enthused with the recent shipment and comments "We are very pleased with the recent developments for our sheep and look confidently down the road with increased possibilities for future movements."

Animals sent in the shipment were primarily from a cross section of Alberta producers plus one group from Saskatchewan.

Weight watchers enjoy diet foods and other reducing agents made from wood cellulose.

Offer awards to aid culture

Alberta Culture invites applications to its 1978 Cultural Assistance Awards program. Any Alberta artist or arts administrator participating in dance, drama, music, creative writing or visual arts may apply under the program for financial assitance in improving his or her qualifications or skills.

Cultural Assistance Awards help individuals to pursue their studies at local, provincial, national or international institutions and universities, or to take independant studies under established artists.

Applicants are evaluated by an independent board of professionals in the artist's own field. Interviews or auditions will be arranged in March prior to final decisions.

Visual Arts applicants are asked to request the special Visual Arts Cultural Assistance form. Samples of work are not to be submitted with the form. Central judging areas will be set up throughout the province once applications have been received.

Alberta Culture offers Cultural Assistance Awards annually in amounts varying from $100 to $1000.

Deadline for receipt of application forms for this year's program is February 15, 1978.

For more information contact Alberta Culture Cultural Assistance Awards, 11th Floor, CN Tower, 10004-104 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 0K5.

Hastings Lake news

Lois Fenna

The Christmas concert at the hall on December 21st was a great success, thanks very largely to Joan Dunham's stage managership, although the stage itself was very kindly built by George Kleinschroth and Frank Dunham, and Al Chernick contributed some fine decor. Joan contrived to combine performance by the children (of all ages) with a nursery rhyme and a nativity play to make an unusual Christmas production.

The New Year was soundly ushered in by the traditional dance, which was attended by quite a good crowd, but enjoyed mainly by the younger generation.

Chanel No. 5 attracts wolves

It may seem that scientists of Canadian Wildlife Service have discovered the obvious. In this case, however, the wolf attracted by this internationally famous perfume is not the woman-chasing human variety, but Canis Lupus, a fur-bearing carnivore abundant in most parts of Canada.

As part of the Canadian government's contribution toward making the trapping industry more humane, biologists have studied ways of making traps more selective. If some specific scent or other lure could be developed to attract only one type of animal, the killing of non-commercial species might be reduced, thereby adding to the humaneness of trapping.

Through the testing of various scents it was discovered that Chanel No. 5 had a specific attraction for wolves.

The next problem is how to get the trapper's wife or girlfriend to let him use the expensive perfume on his trapline.

Confronting Your Faith

Rev. Len Nation of the Tofield Baptist Church is this week's representative of the Tofield and District Ministerial Association in the following article for the "Confronting Your Faith" column for the Mercury.

THE GREATEST POWER IN THE WORLD

What is the greatest power in the world? Is it the bionics of the six-million-dollar man?

Is it the power of an atom-splitting machine?

Is it a slicing laser beam?

Is it perhaps the power of positive thinking?

Is it social pressure?

Is it the power of political persuasion?

No, it is none of these. The Bible teaches that the greatest power in the world is the power of love. Love is the theme of the entire Bible, with every book containing something about its meaning and importance. Not only did God write about love, but He also demonstrated it in a very practical way.

The Bible tells us that there is no greater test, no greater measure, and no greater demonstration of love than that evinced when a man lays down his life for his friend. (John 15:13). Here we see a very high requirement for true love. In Romans 5:8, we discover that, "God demonstrated His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Also, John 3:16 states "In this way we can perceive the love of God, because He laid down his life for us." In these scriptures we see how God met the requirements of love, even beyond those expected. After all, Jesus did not lay down His life for close, loving appreciative friends, but for rejecting, hateful, unappreciative sinners such as you and I.

When Jesus Christ died in our place, it was the most powerful and complete act of love ever expressed by God for man. When man respond to that love and accept it as theirs personally, it becomes the most powerful tool for exchanging his nature to one of Christlike character.

"Above all, have fervent love among yourselves, for love will cover a multitude of sins" (I Peter 3:8). Above everything else in life should be love. God considered it. His priority; He proved it in sending His only Son to die for us. We, too, must make it our priority. Peter describes this love as "fervent love". This term implies love that is intense, unceasing, and stretches to cover every possible human inadequacy, every hurt a human heart can experience, and every need for comfort and compassion. If we put this type of God-given love "above all," it will transform relationships in every walk of life.

Peter also states that this type of love will cover a multitude of sins. Just as God loved us so much that He supplied a complete covering for the multitude of our sins through His Son, so too must we cover with forgiveness the sins and faults of others. Often we are so concerned with focusing on people's faults and differing lifestyles that we fail to really love them.

If you have not yet accepted God's love-gift of forgiveness of sin, do it now! Then God will give you the greatest power in the world. The power to love others!

While on patrol in Holden on January 1st, Constable Bill Warburton noticed that the two front tires were missing from a vehicle owned by Curtis Dean Cole of Vegreville.

The tires valued at $350, were Craiger Mags, silver in colour and may only be used with disc brakes. Anyone having any information about this theft should contact the RCMP.

Dane Rude lost his 1972 car when it was destroyed by fire while in his garage on his property, southeast of Tofield. It was thought that a lighted cigarette was the cause of the blaze.

Ryley fire chief retires from post

Ryley Village Council accepted two resignations when it held its regular mid-December meeting.

Stanley Kendrewski submitted his resignation as Chief of the Ryley Fire Department. Council accepted his resignation with regret, as councillors expressed appreciation for his many years of service.

Since Mr. Kozdrowski's resignation went into effect on December 31st, it was agreed that council should meet with members of the Fire Department as soon as possible to appoint a new chief.

Council accepted the resignation of M.A. McEachern as assessor for the village.

After some discussion, proposed new water rates were tabled to a special meeting scheduled for later in the month.

Councillors agreed to take out membership in the Battle River Tourist Association for the 1978 year.

Council decided to submit a proposed lease agreement to the village solicitor for his comments.

The lease covers space in the building owned by the Ryley Sunshine Club which is to be used as the Ryley Municipal Library.

Council decided to conduct an advertising campaign to alert snowmobile owners of regulations pertaining to the operation of such vehicles within the village limits.

Council was acting on complaints from owners who charged that snowmobiles were operating on private property and were creating interference with radio and television reception.

Council agreed to pay a fee of six dollars to the Water Rights Branch for water rights licensing.

Approval was given to the minutes of a meeting held on December 14th after a correction was made noting that the Library Board appointment was for three years.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held December 19th and a special meeting held on December 28th.

Tofield quartet wins senior ladies' crown

A Tofield team has emerged with a Zone championship and the Tofield Curling Club will host a Zone playoff.

Erma Francis' rink will represent the Zone in the Northern Alberta playoffs without having had to throw a rock.

The Tofield rink was the sole entry in senior ladies' competition and won the right to advance along the provincial playoff trail. They will be going to Edmonton for the N.A. playdowns which run from Friday to Monday, January 20-23.

Members of the Zone championship rink are Erma Francis, Marie Worton, Ruby Sears and Irene Bichon.

Zone men's championships will be hosted by the Tofield Curling Club on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the coming weekend.

By noon on Tuesday, twelve entries had been received by Andy Heiberg and more were expected. Mr. Heiberg will accept entries up to midnight tonight (Thursday).

A Bawlf rink skipped by Barb Jacobson won the junior ladies Zone championship when they were unopposed in their bid to advance to the Northern Alberta playoffs.

Four rinks entered the senior men's playoffs in Daysland which were supposed to have concluded on Tuesday night when Gord Hilker of Killam was to have faced Mel Froehler of Strome. Hilker needed one win to take the Zone crown while Froehler had to win twice.

Rosemarie Scheeler of Daysland won the Zone ladies' championship during a four-team playoff in New Norway. The Daysland rink stopped Mary Shields of Camrose in the "A-B" finals.

Junior men's playoffs will be held in Bawlf on January 27-29 while Zone mixed playdowns are scheduled for Holden on February 3-5. Entries in either category should be forwarded to Andy Heiberg.

Former minister passes suddenly

A former minister in Tofield, Reverend Canon Albert Wallis of Victoria, passed away in hospital on December 29th in his 86th year.

He is survived by his wife, Thelma, and relatives in England.

Funeral services were held in St. Paul's Anglican Church in Edmonton, conducted by Archdeacon G. H. Greenhalgh with cremation following. The services were conducted on January 2nd.

Rev. Wallis came to Tofield in 1931 to serve at Holy Trinity Church. He went to England for three months in 1933 before returning to Tofield where he married the former Thelma Noland. They remained in Tofield until 1938. While in the church he was quite active with Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs.

Following his retirement, he served in Edmonton where he was an honourary assistant at St. Paul's Esquimalt.

Lamont finally loses

Lamont finally lost a game, Mundare jumped into second place and Andrew picked up its first point of the season.

Those were the highlights in the Beaverhill Hockey League for the past week as the regular schedule reaches the half-way mark with games tonight in Tofield and Holden.

Tofield is hosting Smoky Lake tonight (Thursday) while Lamont is providing the opposition in Holden.

There were four games on Tuesday night. Holden played in Smoky Lake, Ryley hosted Waskatenau, Tofield played in Mundare, and Lamont travelled over to Andrew. Results of these games were not available in time for publication.

League directors were to have met last week with one of the major items on the agenda being approval of the schedule for the second half of the season.

No information has been received by The Mercury. As a result, information on forthcoming games is not available.

Despite appearbing its first loss of the season, Lamont is still solidly in first place, with a seven point lead over its nearest rival.

Mundare jumped over Ryley and Tofield to take possession of second place, one point ahead of Ryley with a game in hand.

Ryley dropped into third place, three points ahead of Tofield with the latter having three games in hand. Tofield's lead over Waskatenau is only one point, but Tofield has three games in hand.

Waskatenau leads Smoky Lake by a single point with Smoky Lake having an opportunity to move ahead as they have a game in hand.

Holden and Andrew are at the bottom of the league with Holden having only two wins to their credit while Andrew has managed only one tie in nine starts.

Mundare recorded a 7-4 victory over Lamont to give the latter squad its first loss of the season. Lamont bounced back to edge Ryley 4-3 and then went on to blank Smoky Lake 9-0.

In two other outings, Mundare posted lop-sided victories as they swamped Waskatenau 25-3 and trounced Holden 18-0.

In Ryley's two other contests, they edged Andrew 8-6 and walloped Tofield by a 9-1 score.

Tofield picked up a 5-1 victory over Waskatenau in their only other contest of the past week.

Andrew gained its first point of the season when they visited Smokey Lake last Thursday night and returned home with a 6-4 stalemate.

No details on any of the games were available.

An important exhibition game has been scheduled for the end of this month in the Tofield Arena.

On Saturday, January 28th, an all star team from the Beaverhill Hockey League will host the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings, leaders in the Alberta College Athletic Conference Hockey League.

Police renew efforts to solve farm murder

RCMP are undertaking renewed efforts to solve the murder of a victim found in a septic tank on a farm near Tofield, last year.

Information about the murder of a male victim will be released to all news media in an attempt to locate any person or persons who might be able to assist the police in solving the crime.

Attempts will be made to have all dentists in the province check their charts to see if they might be able to help to identify the victim. An attempt at such identification was made last year. However, only about five percent of all dentists in the province replied to police queries.

The Tofield Detachment are trying to locate the owners of two bicycles presently in their possession.

One of the bicycles is a white ten-speed while the second bicycle is medium blue in colour with a banana-type seat. RCMP indicate that if the owners do not claim their bicycles in the very near future, they will be sold.

Jack Tabak of Sherwood Park reported the theft of four new tires and a car stereo from his vehicle while it was parked at Jerry's Greenhouse in Tofield. RCMP are investigating.

Decontrol

One of the major problems of imposing controls and then lifing them can be seen in Alberta, where controls which have existed over rents now for more than three years are being allowed to come off. . . . the only reason being that the politicians feel it is time. In most areas, housing accommodation has not become more plentiful, prices haven't dropped, competition has not become keener.

And as a result, rents are reported skyrocketing, with a vengeance.

There may be some sympathy for the owner who was caught in a poor position when the controls were imposed, with his rents for one reason or another at an unreasonably low level having regard to construction prices. But in some instances, at least, the increases will simply amount to all the market will bear.

That has traditionally been the law of the marketplace, and on balance it has its virtues, because if the market becomes sufficiently lucrative, others will get into the market, and level things out.

But in boom communities, such as many in Alberta have become, it doesn't work, and the shortage rebounds against the renter. Add to that the situation faced in some major Alberta communities where the rental market is virtually controlled by a handful of major investors, and the situation worsens.

In Camrose, as it happens, almost the reverse is the case. Because of several builders all getting into the market at the same time there are a number of vacant suites, and rents here have not taken the dramatic surges evident in other centres, despite the fact many renters think of them as high enough.

The fact remains, it costs just as much to build in Camrose, if not more. Lumber costs as much as in Edmonton, plumbing fixtures, heating units, electrical outlets all cost Edmonton prices, plus freight.

Controls are easier to impose than they are to remove, a fact we're likely to see in every other field which has operated under controls, and which is facing a decontrol situation in the months ahead.

It's almost comparable to the situation faced by a diver coming out of deep water, who can suffer a severe case of the "bends" if he relieves the pressure too quickly.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (SP) — There's not much musical about the ride our politicians took on aboard this past fall concerning the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and other agencies dealing with Canada's internal security. It made great entertainment on television, but spoke ill of the state of Canadian democracy.

Leaving aside the performance in Parliament, it was alarming to see Canadian public opinion backing illegal acts committed by internal security forces. Murky acts must indeed be sometimes committed in the name of keeping a democracy safe but there must be limits to those actions. If not, those charged with the tasks submerge better judgment - something which obviously happened in Canada during the past 10 years.

There's a big difference between keeping secret files and going out to collect information which can be obtained only by breaking the law. In Canada, the practice is that the RCMP has files on individuals — some of them politicians — but that information is only brought to the attention of the government when it must be, in the interests of national security. The commissioner of the RCMP has direct access to the prime minister, the solicitor general and to the justice minister for precisely that purpose.

But no police force has the right to break the law in actively collecting information or in trying to incriminate someone who is suspected of a crime against national security. Yes, there are indeed some areas of national security where the law might be changed, but such changes should only be made in the open. If the government doesn't like the idea of partisan political control over police in the internal security matters, we could have a Parliamentary committee informed in secret of police needs and actions. That committee should be small and represent both government and opposition.

Where internal security is concerned, Canadians must to a large degree trust politicians, but the set of men in power right now have demonstrated that they are worthy of such trust. They didn't know what was going on.

Coupled with new national security regulations and a nonpartisan political supervision, we also need something to replace the War Measures Act. Prime Minister Trudeau promised us after the 1970 Quebec Crisis that he would present such legislation, but it never appeared.

We could also use a freedom of information act with some clout. That's something which might eventually restore a great deal of the badly sagging public faith in government.

FARM INCOME:

Up for Alberta Down in Canada

Alberta, along with British Columbia and Nova Scotia, will likely see higher 1977 farm earnings, compared with 1976.

On the national scene, however, Canadian net farm income in 1977 is expected to be 11 per cent lower than in 1976, and a further five per cent decline is predicted for 1978.

Statistics Canada estimates that Alberta's realized net farm income for 1977 will be $663.2 million. That's an increase from the $643.2 million of 1976, but down from the record-high $808 million in 1975. Payments under the federal government's Western Grain Stabilization Plan should help moderate the decline in income in the next two years. Realized net farm income to Alberta farmers in 1978 is forecast at $565 million.

Realized gross income in Alberta, which includes cash receipts and income in kind, will likely amount to $2.102 billion next year, a slight increase from 1977. Total operating costs and depreciation charges, however, are expected to be $1.5 billion in 1978, $106 million higher than the projection of 1977 expenses.

Nationally, Canadian realized net farm income is expected to decline to $2.3 billion for 1977, an 11 per cent drop compared with 1976. A further five per cent decline to $3.1 billion is forecast for 1978.

Agriculture Canada economists say there could be some improvement in prices for top grade bread wheat during the coming months, but there will probably be pressure on prices for lower grades. Both world stocks and Canadian supplies should be lower to start the next crop year. Wheat prices in 1978-1979 are expected to be a little higher, but not substantially above current levels. World feed grain prices will likely average lower in 1977-78 than last year, but there could be slight price improvement through the winter months.

World oilseed prices may stay at their current depressed levels for the remainder of the 1977-78 crop year, and Canadian rapeseed prices might decline below $240 per tonne. Some increase in Canadian wheat plantings next spring appears likely and the oilseed-cereal ratio will keep oilseed crops relatively attractive as well.

Recovery in the beef industry appears to be underway, and should continue through 1978. Feed cattle slaughter may be down by as much as five per cent next year, and prices should be above the 1977 levels. Hog slaughter in 1978 is expected to be 10 per cent or more above this year's level. Pork prices will drop due to the higher supply, but this trend will be partly offset by the lower level of beef supplies.

Back around 1918 Oscar Hough in Camrose developed his own patented Grub Breaker, but the advertisement above is very nearly the only information on this unusual implement. Tom Court, who is restoration supervisor with the Provincial Museum of Alberta, is looking for anyone with more information, possibly pictures, or almost impossibly, an actual plow itself. He would be keenly interested in hearing from members of the family, or anyone else who might have information, and who would contact him at 12845 - 102 Avenue, Edmonton, T5N 0M6, phone 482-2150, (through RITE Government Number 872-4411.) Mr. Court is also looking for information on a 1910 model Van Slyke breaking plow, of which he has two models, and more on the 1913 Hudkins Alliance plow, as part of a program to save the heritage of the early days in the province.

Workers may get half cost of metric tools

The Minister of State for Small Business, the Honourable Tony Abbott, announced that application forms and guides are available at Canada Manpower Centres for employers, who as a result of metric conversion are required to duplicate their non-metric tools with metric ones. A new Program entitled "Assistance Program Workers' Metric Tools" will pay 50 percent of the purchase cost of metric measurement sensitive tools such as sockets, non-adjustable wrenches, taps and dies, nut drivers, drills, bits and measuring instruments. Also eligible for compensation are tool chests and cabinets and reasonable delivery costs and carrying charges for credit purchases. Tools which are not measurement sensitive, e.g. ratchets, speed handles, U-joints or adaptors are not eligible for assistance.

To qualify for assistance employees must live and work in Canada and be required as a condition of employment to provide their own tools. Tools must be purchased in Canada by the employee for his or her own personal use on the job. The program is retroactive to April, 1, 1977, and will last until March 31, 1982.

A claimant may make only a single claim during each calendar year and may claim only once for an eligible tool. Replacement of used or worn out tools will not be accepted.

Claims must be made using the application form provided by Metric Commission Canada, and must be supported by complete invoices detailing purchaser, vendor, tool description and net amount paid.

Railway grades revert to province

Two railway grades in this district were declared part of the provincial government's domain for development, when the cabinet met in mid November.

Affected are the CPR lines from Tofield Junction to Kingman, and from Kingman to Barlee Junction.

The former was declared Public Works Development Area Number 14, by Order in Council 1195, while the latter was declared Public Works Development Area No. 15, by Order in Council Number 1198. Both Orders in Council were passed November 16.

Recreation Report

By: Colleen Walker
Program Supervisor

There are several new courses being offered this winter. The children's and sports program is aimed at children aged 8 to 13 years. This program will give children the opportunity to play games, develop certain skills, learn sportsmanship and most of all- we hope the children will really enjoy the program. A variety of exercises, games, tournaments and competitions will be included in the program.

The children's easy cooking course will teach children simple dishes while learning to safely use cooking equipment and utensils. Some dishes that will be "attempted"; cookies, muffins, cakes, chili-concarne, pizza. I'm sure any child will enjoy such a course.

Children's courses are all ran after school for parent's convenience. We figure one trip to pick them up is better than driving them in the evening, waiting . . . and driving them home again.

How to save for a happy retirement, even if you're not the saving type.

We're sure that your idea of retirement has nothing to do with sitting at home in a rocking chair; or wondering how, financially, you'll make it through the month. Once you're free to do what you want for a change, you'd like to do things you've never had time to do.

This takes money.

In order to do this, you'll need money. Something like 70% of what you're earning now. How do you put this away if you've never been a saver? At the Credit Union, we've a Registered Savings Plan that may help.

First, you can save on taxes.

If you plan ahead to save for your own retirement, the government lets you defer the tax you pay. Save up to $3,500 a year including your company pension plan. Or up to $5,500 if you're not in one. All this money comes off your taxable income, as long as you don't touch it. So you won't be quite so tempted to take it out.

And your money builds.

Leave your money in and the interest you earn is compounded. With the rate of interest we pay, this quickly builds up.

To arrange for your plan, talk to our Registered Savings Plan expert. We'll help you to save, while you're planning for future fun.

Of 20% of your income, whichever is less.

Have higher hopes with a Registered Savings Plan*

THE POST—SEASON BLAHS!

Days of excited preparation have calminated and faded. Guests are no longer dropping in. Tinsel and greenery have been stored away for another eleven months. The kids are back at school. The skys are grey, temperatures low and windchill makes it even worse. The big letdown in on!

Sound familiar? How often have you said, or heard it said, "January and February are so long, so cold, so blah! I can't let it happen this year. The cold we can't control, but the blah (and thus the long) we can. Some ideas:

— uplift your surroundings - bring out hidden ornaments and tuck away the present ones, uncover pillows with a cheerful color, rearrange the furniture.

— try a new craft, or take up an old favorite. ideas are everywhere friends, magazines, hobby shops, courses.

— gather three or four friends and start a weekly or biweekly get together to play cards, craft and chat, go cross country skiing or just have coffee.

— invite some of those people you've said "come over soon" to but who've never made it. Specific invitations are often needed. Have them for a meal, desert in the early evening or for coffee.

— give a party. Tobogganing, cards, games, birthday, house warming or just because you feel like seeing some friends.

— have no-one home at noon hour? Give a luncheon for friends in the same situation. A casserole, salad, buns and desert are all that's needed. Simpler than a dinner party. More than just over for coffee. And fun.

— take a course. There are countless given locally by Lakeland College, the Further Education Council, your Home Economist and others. Learn something new and meet new people at the same time.

— get involved in community activities - help selling hot dogs at the rink, work with the Winter Carnival committee, put your name in as a substitute bowler or curler.

Don't really feel like making the effort? It's worth it. Once you make yourself get started, the activity's almost guaranteed to be fun and a boon to beating the winter blahs!

The above column was written by Sharon Strudwick, D.H.E. at Vermilion. When I read it I felt it hit a nerve. P.S. I did re-arrange my furniture.

Attention!

If you are interested in the "Clothes for Kids" program January 24 and 25 from 1-10 p.m. please pre-register.

I like the Master Along the Way

John 1-29 "The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world."

In the ancient city of Freiberg, Germany near the Black Forest, there stands a very lovely cathedral, which houses, one of the world's most famous organs. Many years ago they had an old custodian who guarded the famous organ with jealous zeal. No one was allowed to play on the organ except the official designated organist. This was a strict rule they adhered to at all times. One day a strange man walked into the cathedral and asked that he might be allowed to play the organ, but the old custodian flatly refused.

However the man was very insistent and after some time the old man yielded and agreed to let him play just a little while. But, no sooner had the man begun to play then the cathedral was filled with such beautiful music that the old custodian was moved by it and in wonder he approached the organist and asked, "Tell sir, who are you?" The man smiled and said, "I am Felix Mendelsohn." The old custodian, knowing the name was filled with regret and remorse and as Mendelsohn left the cathedral, he was heard to say to himself, "Today, the Master was here and almost I did not let him play". Jesus meets you at every turn in life. Have you turned Him away?

Are you sometimes afraid to be real, honest about your deepest feelings of hostility, doubt and love toward those closest to you?

Have your relationships with some people - and even your faith itself - ever turned dull and gray for no apparent reason?

If any of these are the kind of questions you've asked yourself when no one else is around, you owe it to yourself to read Please Love Me.

Confronting Your Faith

John Unrau, pastor of the Tofield Mennonite Church is the author of the following contribution on "Confronting Your Faith."

A child asked a man to pick a flower for her. That was a simple enough, but when she said, "Now put it back", the man experienced a baffling helplessness he had never known before.

As we look back on the year 1977, we see opportunities that have been plucked with the passing of time and cannot be revived. This thought could cause us to become melancholy, but would not bring to life the "wilted flowers" of 1977.

Today we stand on the threshold of a new year. Many difficult and seemingly impossible events have come to pass and now we look forward to our perennial plant bursting into bloom once again. As we anticipate this year in its unknown entirety, it is well that we look beyond ourselves to the Who knows the future. We have just celebrated the birthday of God's Son, Jesus Christ whose birth on earth was an expression of love as God looked down on a people that had separated themselves from Him through disobedience. God thus demonstrated that He cares about us, that He is intensely interested in each person, and is desirous that our lives have purpose and meaning. We can respond to God's love in two ways; we can either reject Him and find ourselves broken, wilted flowers or believe in Him and have the reassurance of eternal life as promised in John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that he gave His only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him may not die but have eternal life."

As we look ahead to 1978, let us remember that our decisions, goals, disciplines, actions and hopes will have a big effect on how we cope with the year in preparation for eternity.

Parable of Tomorrow — Ruth Olden Jarol

I looked at the mountain. "It is too hard, Lord," I said. "I cannot climb it."

"Take my hand," he whispered, "I will be your strength."

I saw the road, "It is so long, Lord," I said. "So rough and long."

"Take my love, He answered, "I will guard your feet."

I looked at the sky. "But the sun has gone," I said. "Already it grows dark."

"Take the lantern of My Word," He whispered. "That will be light enough."

We climbed. The road was narrow and steep, but the way was bright and when the climb as reached out, they found His hand before they touched mine. And when the path grew rough, I knew it was His love that kept my feet from stumbling.

Then I grew tired. "I can go no further, Lord," I said. He answered, Night is gone. Look up, My child.

I looked and it was dawn. Green valleys stretched below.

"I can go on alone now." I said. And then I saw the marks!

"Lord, you are wounded. Your hands are bleeding; Your feet are bruised. Was it for me?"

He whispered, "I did it gladly."

Then I fell at His feet. "Lord, lead me on," I cried. "No road is too long, no valley too deep, if You are with me."

We walk together now and will forever.

GASOLINE TAX REBATE

Have you remembered to claim your gasoline tax rebate? Gordon Brown, a partner in the Edmonton chartered accountant firm, Dunwoody and Company, suggests doing it when you fill out your income tax form because you will have all your records out at that time.

He points out that farmers and other people who use gasoline for business purposes are allowed to claim a credit of 10 cents a gallon. In the case of a farmer, the rebate would apply to all the gasoline he uses for his farm machinery and to the gas he uses in his car for business purposes. "His claim for gasoline used in the car should be consistent with the depreciation and other expenses he claims on his income tax form", Mr. Brown says.

Although a person claiming a gasoline rebate does not have to submit any bills, he should retain them because Revenue Canada can ask to see them at any time. Under the gasoline tax rebate rules, a claim must be submitted within two years of the date on which the gasoline was purchased. Hence, people who have not claimed this rebate since the federal government imposed a 10 cent a gallon tax on all gasoline in June of 1975 should apply for it immediately. If they wait until April when they submit their tax return, they will have lost at least another three months of their claim period.

Gasoline tax rebate forms can be obtained from any taxation office or post office.

Working youth to get federal funds

Details of the Young Canada Works program, applications for which will be due February 17, were released yesterday (Tuesday) by Canada Employment Centre Manager Roger King.

Basically designed to reduce student summer unemployment by enabling established organizations to sponsor employment generating projects in areas of community need, the federal governments' program provides payment of $120 per week for students, for a maximum of 18 weeks.
funding of $156 per week is granted for Project Manager.

Any service oriented or capital project of a non-profit nature will be placed on a priority list based on the projects' benefit to the respective community and the rate of unemployment in that area. A screening committee comprised of the managers of Canada Employment Centers at Camrose, Stettler and Wainwright, and two people from the Job Creation Branch aid Member of Parliament Arnold Malone in determining which applications constitute top priority.

According to Camrose CEC Manager Roger King, response to the program was good last year and, he noted, all possible federal allocations will be disbursed in the coming year.

"We're just hoping that we get quite a few applications from Camrose because that's where the students are."

King is basically interested in stimulating the interest of local service clubs for initiation of projects. In the past Camrose has fallen down in applying for many areas of federal government funding but with the strong student population currently existing here this is one area in which he feels the city would be well qualified for grants.

Above is pictured the final design of the "Welcome Signs" to be erected on all major highways at the point where they enter Battle River Tourist Zone 5. The message will be in metallic letters on a brown background.

The project is a joint operation being put in place by Alberta Transportation and Battle River Tourist Association. The highway people are making the signs, and will erect them. The tourist association is paying for the cost of the signs, at $75.00 each, and will later pay for the cost of replacing them if they are damaged.

It will take thirty-three signs to surround the zone, and it is expected that they will all be up by the end of May, 1978.

Playoff teams decided in Super Curling Loop

The four teams earning playoff berths in the Super Curling League were determined last Wed. during games played in Ryley and Daysland.

Brian Schultz of Tofield and Armand Goubault of Ryley will represent the Highway 14 Division while George Heck of Daysland and Ean Eckstrand of Sedgewick will be the Highway 13 Division reps.

Heck was the only team in either division to complete the regular schedule with an undefeated record as his team posted a perfect 6-0 mark.

Although this is only the first season for the Super Curling League, interest is soaring as a number of clubs throughout the Zone have already expressed interest in entering teams next winter.

According to League Commission Andy Heiberg of Tofield, each division will be expanded to eight teams next winter.

With the exception of the final two teams in each division, the present teams will have the first right to return next winter. The bottom two teams may only play if enough new teams do not apply.

Tonight's semi-final playoffs will be held in Ryley with Heck facing Goubault while Schultz tangles with Eckstrand. The two finalists will meet in Daysland [redacted].

Two Camrose rinks were eliminated from next Year's competition when Roese and Enright finished in the Highway 13 basement.

Kalawsky of Round Hill has been eliminated from Highway 14. The second elimination berth was occupied by Albrecht of Ryley and Thompson of New Sarepta. If necessary, they will play next fall to see who gets to return to league competition.

In Ryley last Wednesday, Goubault faced Doug Debry of Viking in a sudden-death game to decide second place and the final playoff berth for Highway 14.

Goubault came up with a big four-ender in the eighth end to come from behind a 4-3 deficit and went on to record an 8-6 triumph to grab the playoff spot.

Heck [redacted] in Daysland [redacted] record, while Eckstrand [redacted] place, despite the loss.

[redacted] a tie for third place when both picked up [redacted] as Miller doubled Enright 8-4 while Zarski tripped Roese 6-3. A game between Roese and Gibb was not played.

The four teams making the playoffs have each guaranteed themselves $150. The league champion will receive $600 while the other team in the finals will obtain $300.

Milk price raised

The price of wholesale and retail homogenized milk was increased by one cent per litre on Jan. 1st., as a result of an approval by the Public Utilities Board for an increase in the minimum producer price for class 1 milk.

A litre package of milk went up from 51 cents to 52 cents, as an increase of 43 cents per hundredweight in the producer price was approved by [redacted].

The producer price [redacted] 1 milk is determined by a formula prepared by the Alberta Agriculture Department. The increase reflects a rise in various production costs. The last increase in the minimum price of milk was in January, 1977.

Pension payments rise

Effective January, 1978, Canada Pension Plan benefits currently paid to almost one million recipients will be increased by 7.5 percent.

The current retirement pensions, disability and survivors' benefits are paid to an estimated 985,000 persons. Approximately 692,000 of these are retirement pensioners, while 67 are disability pensioners and 153,300 are surviving spouses.

Another 125,300 payments are for children who receive benefits as orphans or children of disabled contributors. In addition, there are 17,000 combined benefits, such as for a surviving spouse who receives a retirement pension and a survivors' benefit.

For persons qualifying in 1978, the maximum retirement pension will be $194.44 a month. The maximum disability pension payable in 1978 will be $194.62 a month, while benefits for disabled contributors' children and orphans of deceased contributors will be $48.19. The maximum monthly surviving spouses' pensions will be $121.11 for persons under 65 years old and $116.66 for persons 65 or older.

Don't explode your battery

Exploding car batteries in Canada and the United States resulted in more than 6,000 eye injuries last year. Most cases occurred when jumper cables were attached the wrong way. Others happened when drivers held lighted matches close to batteries.

The Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs says that, in the interest of personal safety in addition to preventing property damage, when using jumper cables on conventional (negative ground) cars, connect the positive cable to the positive battery terminal and the negative cable to the car frame or bumper. This will provide a ground. When removing the cables, disconnect the ground connection first. This ensures that when breaking the circuit, there won't be any sparks around the battery, reducing the chance of a battery explosion.

A point not often realized is that many imported cars hook-up their electrical systems exactly opposite to American cars. . . that is, the positive terminal goes to ground. Naturally, this would affect cable hook-up.

The Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs is the National Public Service Organization representing in excess of 1000 Fire Chiefs and others in all the provinces and territories of Canada.

Batiuk talks grants with Ryley's council

Vegreville MLA John Batiuk was present to discuss various grants at a recent regular meeting of Village of Ryley Council.

Council told Mr Batiuk that some of the projects underway at the present time include a new water plant, a drainage program, and a street, sidewalk and gutter program.

Administration was told to prepare a by-law for the next council meeting covering a lease agreement with the Ryley Sunshine Club.

The by-law would allow the village to enter an agreement with the club to lease a room for use as the village library.

Councillor Brewers reported that an evaluation report on Rural Development Council No 4 as a pilot project had been completed, and it was decided that each member of council should have a copy of the report for study.

Councillors gave their support to the move of the Regional Recreation Office from its present location in the County Office to the Bruce School.

Councillor Andrukow told council that the master plan and regulations was in the final drafting stage while Councillor Kope passed along information about recreation workshops planned in conjunction with the local recreation board, which were scheduled for February. It was suggested that all councillors should attend these workshops.

Minutes of the meeting of December 19th and the special meeting on December 28th were approved, with a correction being made to each set of minutes.

Information for this story was obtained from the minutes of a regular meeting of village council held on January 5th.

Brown heads garden club

by Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club met at the home of Doris Brown on January 9th.

An election of officers was held with these results: President, Yvonne Brewer; vice-president, Marie Mitchel; secretary-treasurer, Gwen Peterson; correspondent, Irma Francis; historian, Barbara Peterson; and reporter, Doris Brown.

The tour of the Muttart Conservatory planned for January 8th had been postponed due to cold weather, so this trip was discussed. It was decided that the members would tour the Conservatory and Klondike Garden on March 12th, weather permitting.

The club display for the Provincial Show which will be held in August was discussed.

It was decided to obtain some books on the subject and further plans will be made concerning the display at the next meeting.

The next meeting will be held on February 13th at the home of Mary Rempel.

Manderson is elected

A Ryley man has been named as a vice-president in Alberta.

Dan Manderson was named as vice-president from the community dance at the annual Uniform convention which was held in Edmonton over the weekend. Mr. Manderson was elected to his new post by acclamation.

Elected as president was Howard Falkenberg of Camrose while a second vice-president will be Charles Arthabaska of Hardisty.

Named as delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture were Alec Graham of Spirit River, Eric Jarvis of Thorhild and Don Richmond of Edgerton. The convention will be held in Quebec City in February.

All Star team chosen for Beaverhill hockey

The all star team representing the Beaverhill Hockey League in an exhibition game with Camrose College Vikings has been announced.

Nineteen hockey players have been selected for the team (each center is represented) which will be coached by Leo Kurka of Tofield, assisted by Frank Swaab of Mundare.

The game will be played in the Tofield Arena on Sat., January 28th, starting at 8:15 p.m. Advance tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from representatives of all league teams.

Guarding the net for the BHL All Stars will be Dan O'Brien of Ryley, Doug Hawryluk of Mundare and Howard Schneider of Lamont.

The defence corps will consist of Carl King of Holden, Rick Neufeld of Tofield, Gary Sutter of Ryley, Gerry Iwaskow of Lamont, Brian Neckonchuny of Smoky Lake and Brad Tymchuk of Andrew.

The center ice positions will be occupied by Dan Daniels of Ryley, Josh Kolenc of Lamont, Dwayne Lucyk of Mundare and Ken Procinsky of Waskatenau.

Patrolling the wings will be Floyd Taylor of Tofield, Andy Chamberlain of Holden, Ken Baker of Andrew, Brian Chykerda of Waskatenau, Darryl Labusta of Mundare and Victor Michalchuk of Smoky Lake.

The CLC Vikings are expected to provide plenty of opposition for the All Stars as they currently hold down first place in the powerful Alberta Colleges Athletic Conference Hockey League.

During regular league play during the past week, Lamont extended its lead over the rest of the teams by picking up three more wins while Ryley moved into second place, one point ahead of Mundare.

Tonight's (Thursday's) action will see Tofield battle Mundare while Saturday games will have Ryley in Waskatenau and Holden in Andrew.

Games on Tuesday will see Tofield hosting Andrew while Holden will host Smoky Lake and Ryley plays in Lamont. A game next Thursday will have Lamont playing in Holden.

Lamont extended its record to 14-1 for the season by winning three more games during the past week when they whipped Andrew 7-3, outscored Holden 9-5 and topped Waskatenau 9-6.

After bowing 9-6 to Waskatenau, Ryley bounced back to edge Andrew 5-3 and get by Smoky Lake 8-7 to move into sole possession of second place.

Mundare only played one game during the past week and they made it a good one by swamping Tofield 11-3.

Tofield moved right back into contention by posting two straight wins, 6-4 over Smoky Lake and 7-3 over Holden.

In their only other appearance last week, Smoky Lake bombed Holden 9-3.

Tofield played in Lamont on Tuesday night while Mundare played host to Andrew. Results from these games were not available by press time.

Unexpected visitor calls at tire store

A Tofield business establishment had an unexpected visitor last Thursday when a motor vehicle drove through into the building.

The vehicle was operated by a Provost resident and drove right through the front of the building, taking off the door and breaking four large panes of glass at the front of Tofield Tire, before finally coming to a stop a mere six inches from the main counter.

No one was injured in the mishap in which damages were reported to be one thousand dollars.

Break-in and thefts kept members of the Tofield Detachment of the RCMP hopping in recent days.

Gerrit Tebak reported his home was entered last Thursday with a 18" by 13" piece of carpet cut from his living room floor.

Stewart Heltrich reported his farm home, south of Ryley, was entered with a quantity of welding equipment, a heater, battery charger, and other items missing.

John Karcha of Vegreville reported that an abandoned farm house was entered by thieves who took a meat grinder, electric motor and a quantity of furniture from the building, located north of Holden.

Linda Sea of Holden reported the loss of her driver's license and credit cards while Vernon Krueger reported the loss of his driver's license and vehicle registration.

A quantity of keys were picked up and have been turned over to the RCMP from whom the owner may claim them.

Holden council faces after midnight session

Council of the Village of Holden will be meeting tomorrow (Friday) night in an effort to complete the agenda of a session started last week.

After stating at its regular time, council finally decided to adjourn after midnight when members saw that it was becoming impossible to complete the lengthy agenda in one sitting.

Council decided that the service of a doctor were needed and a motion was passed calling for the Hospital Board to advertise for a doctor to serve Holden and Ryley with the two village to pay advertising costs.

Three readings were given to a dog control by-law which set out fees for the registration of all dogs in the village and which called for a higher redemption fee for any impounded dog.

A new set of rental fees for the Community Hall was approved.

Council decided to print the 1977 financial statement in the same 14-page booklet format that had been used in previous years.

Councillors agreed to hold a special meeting on February 2nd for the purpose of discussing a general development plan for the village with Marjorie Holder of the Planning Department.

N. Semotiuk, village representative, attended council to report on education in the county. Mr. Semotiuk told councillors that the annual ratepayers meeting had been set for Ryley on March 30th at 1:30 p.m.

Brenda McCloy was named to sit on the Holden Recreation Board. She is the seventh person to be named to the Board.

It was agreed that the village should take out membership in the Battle River Tourist Association.

A motion was passed approving the payment of the 1978 membership fees to the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties.

It was agreed that accounts amounting to $18,276.51 be paid.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on January 13th.

4-H Club

By Lori Olson

The first meeting of Kingman 4-H in the New Year was held at the Kingman School on January 9th.

There was no old business.

New business included the possibility of curling with all the other 4-H Clubs. This would be done at New Norway.

We will hold a skating party sometime in February. We are each allowed to bring a friend.

Both work groups studied salad making and storing of vegetables.

For the next meeting on January 23rd each girl will bring a salad. This meeting will take place at the home of Jean Heie.

Confronting Your Faith

Rev. David Meddle of the Tofield United Church has written this week's article for "Confronting Your Faith," the column sponsored by the Tofield and District Ministerial Association.

There is a current movie showing in Edmonton which promises to affect a lot of people one way or another. The movie "God" is going to offend many church people but some not-so-active church people may be encouraged not to give up totally on God.

This movie tries to answer the age-old question, "What would happen if God came to earth again?" Would He appear as He did to Adam and Eve as a voice stalking them in the Garden of Eden? Or would He come as the whirlwind that so intimidated Job?

Well, as it turns out in the movie, God comes first as a voice on an intercom or a radio and then appears as George Burns, the lovable old comedian. And instead of appearing to a famous person like the Pope or Billy Graham, He appears to a grocery store manager played by John Denver. You can imagine what fun George Burns and John Denver can have with such a plot.

It might be difficult to judge if there is anything good, from a Christian point of view, to be gained from such a movie. This movie raises many questions that are crucial to the way we view the world and God.

God's message in the movie is that everything we need to make our world work effectively has been given to us by God, and if we really want to, we can make a good world here. And, says God, it would help if we stopped hurting one another and started nourishing and cherishing each other. The other side of His message is that there will be no last minute floods or intervention of any kind to save the world. Either all will be saved or none will be saved. We are all in this together.

Well, that's quite a bit of moralizing, coming as it does from only a movie. At first glance, many church people may want to cry out against such sentiments being expressed by God, even in a movie. But if we stop to think, are the words "to cherish and nurture" very different from "Peace and goodwill to all mankind"? We must all ask ourselves if we truly live by the faith of a little baby born in a stable would we accept Him if He came as an old man, or an Indian or a Pakistani? Would we first insist that He read our Bible, say our creeds, or give to our church before we accept Him? That is what "O God" tells all of us today. God could come tomorrow, as we like to pray, but He could come in a manner totally unexpected. He might have come already, for all we know, and left because we, His churches, have failed to truly nourish and cherish one another. That's not a nice thought, but it's a possibility. Think about it!

TOFIELD COMMUNITY MASTER PLAN REVISION MEETING

Mon., Jan. 30

All interested individuals or groups please attend.

Gun Control.
Working together to save lives.

The majority of Canadian gun owners have traditionally supported gun control in Canada.

Many of these people are sports hunters, target shooters or collectors, and others use their guns to hunt or trap in order to support their families. Generally, they are Canada's responsible gun users.

There is a small but growing group of people in Canada, however, who make criminal use of guns. For example, armed robberies increased 30% from 1974 to 1976. It is this group that the new gun control legislation will deal with through longer, mandatory prison sentences and prohibition powers.

The misuse of guns is increasing as well. Last year approximately 300 people were victims of homicide with a gun. Many in an impulsive moment of violence among family members or friends. New court-ordered prohibitions, police search and seizure powers, and higher gun safety standards will reduce the needless toll of deaths and injuries.

With the continued support of Canadians for gun control, we will reduce the criminal and irresponsible use of guns.

In short, we'll be working together to save lives.

"I own my own guns. How does the new Gun Control legislation affect me?"

If you own only hunting rifles and you store them safely, it won't affect you at all. However, certain other guns will be either restricted or prohibited. Basically, all centre-fire semi-automatics with a barrel length of less than 18½" are now restricted and must be registered. Handguns have been restricted since 1934. Sawed-off rifles and shotguns, guns with silencers and fully automatic weapons, are now prohibited, except those fully automatics registered to collectors before January 1, 1978.

"I'm glad you're getting tougher with criminals using firearms. What happens to them?"

Anyone convicted of using a firearm while committing or attempting to commit a criminal offense will be sent to prison for not less than one year and not more than 14 years. This sentence cannot be suspended. As well, maximum prison sentences for other firearm offences have been doubled.

"Is it true that police officers have new, extended search and seizure powers?"

Yes. Police officers can now seize firearms without a search warrant if they consider them hazardous to the immediate safety of any individual. They will then have to justify the grounds for the search to a magistrate

"I own own a prohibited weapon. What do I do?"

It is against the law to be in possession of a prohibited weapon. You should contact your local police as soon as possible in order to turn the weapon over to them or to make other arrangements for its disposal. Failure to do so could result in your being prosecuted

"What does safe handling and storage of guns have to do with Gun Control?"

Last year in Canada, there were over 120 accidental deaths due to the careless use of firearms. Under the new legislation, gun owners are responsible for the safe storage of their weapons. For example, if your gun is used in a criminal action, you could be charged with careless storage if such is decided in court

"My rifle is now on the restricted list. How do I register it?"

Contact your local police immediately and register the gun with them. Failure to do so is punishable by a prison sentence of up to five years.

"How do you plan on keeping guns out of the hands of people who aren't able to use them safely?"

Through Firearms Acquisition Certificates and the courts' prohibition powers. The provincially administered F.A.C. system will come into effect January 1, 1979. It is designed to prevent unfit and incompetent persons from acquiring guns. The new prohibition power allows the courts to take guns away from dangerous persons.

"Why is Gun Control so important?"

Ultimately, to make Canadians safer from the misuse of firearms. Last year alone over 1,400 people were killed by guns.

Through tighter firearms control, safety education and the encouragement of responsible gun ownership and use, we will be able to reduce the level of firearm violence

"I would like to learn more about the safe and proper use of guns, and more detail on restricted and prohibited weapons. Who should I see?"

Contact your local police department. Chief Provincial Firearms Officer, or write:

Last rites are held for Mary Thomson

Mary Ellen Thomson passed away quietly on Dec. 19, 1977 in the Tofield Municipal Hospital. She was born May 1, 1903, the daughter of Scottish immigrant parents, William and Dolina Thomson on their homestead 3 miles south of Tofield.

The log cabin where Mary was born still stands and was used in later years as a workshop. The homestead still remains in the Thomson family.

In 1937, she married Earl Moore (who predeceased her in 1961). They had retired to Tofield in 1947 from the farm 2 miles east of Tofield and together supported many church and community affairs.

She leaves to mourn three daughters, Jean of May of Pembere, Ontario, Audrey Pedersen of Richmond, B.C., and Louise Schebel of Vancouver, B.C.; three sons, John and Wayne of Tofield, and Glen of Edmonton; fifteen grandchildren; and two sisters, Dolina Blake and Mabel Ferguson of Tofield.

Funeral services were held in the Tofield United Church on Dec. 22nd with Rev. D. Meddle officiating.

The pallbearers were, Dave Ragbir, Harry Mosby, Arnold Swift, Boyd Stauffer, Conrad Patterson and Bert Clark.

Ministik district news

After four days in Tofield Hospital, George Kleinschroth was able to return home. He suffered from a severe case of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Penrice were hosts to Mrs. Ed. Zirk and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Zerk and family of Alhambra as well as Alice, Bob and Kevin Barker, Gordon, Leanne, Laverne and Greg Thor, and Pat Penrice, all of Edmonton, Grant and Gloria Penrice of Ellerslie, and John Penrice of Olds.

Friends learned of the death on Saturday morning of Alec McSporran in Edmonton, uncle of Albert and Barbara Horricks. Alec spent many months out in this area years ago when his Dad owned the McSporran farm, where the Clifford Horricks now reside.

Jim and Bertha Moore of Whitecourt celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on Saturday. Bertha is a sister of the late Helen Hennessy.

The Ministik Ladies Club held their annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the hall.

A good financial report for the year was given by Betty Williams. Donations were to be sent to several charitable organizations as well as a generous donation to the hall. A new 100 cup coffee percolator will also be donated to the hall.

Barbara Horricks replaces Dolly Roddick as president, Betty Williams is treasurer, Gladys Swabey remains as vice-president, Dolly Roddick is secretary. Jean Ferguson remains as sick committee, Sarah Kleinschroth as lunch committee and Joyce Bowerman is roll call committee. These offices are for a two year period.

Lunch was served by hostesses M. George and Sarah Kleinschroth.

The second whist drive of the season is on Friday. Margaret Paterson is convenor. All are welcome and lunch will be served.

The Community League meeting for January was held Wednesday evening at the hall with Elwood Dekinder taking over his duties as president. Kay Grummett gave her financial statement for the past year it being a most rewarding one. She now retires as social convenor, and Margaret Paterson replaces her as spokesman. She is assisted by Olivine Sears and Truus Vandermeer.

John Benermeer volunteered to get the rink ready for use as soon as possible.

Lunch was served to all present.

Tickets are now available for the Valentine Dance on February 18th. Outlets are Olivine Sears, Margaret Paterson, Truus Vandermeer and Dolly Roddick.

The Golden Nuggets will supply the music. Supper will be served at 11 30 p.m.

Hastings Lake

There were many visitors to the area over the holidays, including Sharon and Bruce Telford, who stayed with the Rabbys over New Year's weekend, and Conrad and Janice Scott, who came down from Peace River and visited Sandy and Irene Scott during the Christmas holiday.

A new member of the Community Association arrived on January 2nd, when Jason Harold Frederickson was born, to parents, Sharon and Bob, and weighed in at 5 lb. 4 ozs., which is less than three kilograms.

The winners in the whist on Friday were Robert and Tini Scott, while the consolation prizes were carried off by Con and Dale Winder and Kathryn Peterson.

Cindy Rabby has decided to enter the Rodeo Queen contest at Camrose this year, the rodeo will be held on the first weekend in April, and the outcome of the contest is decided both on riding ability and on the total of draw tickets sold by the contestant and her supporters.

There will be a percentage bingo at the hall this Friday, starting at 8.00 p.m. at which the draw for the hall raffle will be held.

The annual general meeting of the Association was held last night, and the following officers were elected for 1978: president, Richard Koss; vice-president, Harold Jurgens; secretary-treasurer, Liz Hickling; buildings man, Paul Addison; social director, Muriel Rabby; recreation director, Dana Koss; pony club rep., Marie Jurgens.

Progressive Farming

Healthy beef cows, five years and older, can lose 100 to 200 pounds (30 per cent of their fall body weight) during the winter without affecting the weaning weight of their calves.

This is the conclusion reached by P. G. Hiley and J. Hedges of the University of British Columbia's department of animal science after three years of investigations involving eight commercial cow-calf ranches (1,200 cows) in the southern half of B.C. However, the data they collected indicate that it could be advantageous to preferentially feed young cows during the winter.

The cows in all but one of the eight herds studied consistently lost weight each winter and regained it the following summer. The research results showed no valid reason for reducing winter weight losses even in one herd where the average weight loss was 250 pounds per cow. The weaning weight of the calves from this herd averaged 450 pounds at 220 days of age. On the one ranch where the cows gained weight over the winter, the weaning weight of the calves at 220 days of age was only 430 pounds.

The research findings showed that, in general, calves were only six pounds heavier than the herd average at weaning time for each additional 100 pounds of weight gained during the winter by their dams. The research also showed that cows that lost 20 per cent of their body weight during the winter, compared with an average loss of 10 per cent, gained most of it back during the following summer.

Another important point that came out of the B.C. study was that the weight of a cow is very much determined by the herd she belongs to. Such things as general genetic makeup, management, feeding, quality of feed, location and climate all play a part in her weight.

Although cows of the exotic breeds have the potential for being bigger and heavier than the conventional breeds, the location and management of the herd was found to either enhance or inhibit this potential. For example, the crossbred cows of exotic breeds in one herd were no heavier than the straightbreds of the British breeds in the same herd; and the average cow weight (1,030 pounds) in one purebred Hereford was similar to that of the crossbred herds studied.

Even though the larger beef cows did wean slightly heavier calves, as mentioned above, the researchers felt that it was not worth either feeding or breeding heavier cows to increase weaning weights. Their reasoning is that good cows feed their calves well, and that cows that are well fed during the summer produce heavier calves without becoming heavy themselves.

The study also showed that two, three and four year-old cows weaned 9, 5 and 4 percent lighter calves respectively than the herd average, and that five to 10 year-old cows weaned calves that were remarkably similar in weight (average [illegible] pounds). The latter fact shows that cows would not be culled on the basis of age alone.

In one herd it was found that the two year-old heifers weaned average-sized calves, while the three and four year-olds in the same herd weaned smaller calves. Since it was also found that the three and four year-olds had gained more weight than the heifers over the summer, the researchers concluded that it could be advantageous to preferentially feed young cows during the winters following their first and second calves to prevent them from losing weight.

Curling finalists decided

The finalists in the Super Curling League have been decided following playoffs in Ryley last Wednesday night

George Heck of Daysland and Ean Eckstrand of Sedgewick, both entered in the Highway 13 Division, will meet tonight (Wednesday) in Daysland to determine the first champion of the newly organized league

Heck earned his berth in the championship game when he whipped Armand Goubault of Ryley 7-3 to pick up his seventh straight victory in league play

Eckstrand's berth in the finals was a bit more difficult to obtain as he was down by one rock going into the last end against Brian Schultz of Tofield He scored two to win the game 8-7 Eckstrand's record for the season is now 5-2

The winner of tonight's championship game will collect $600 while the losers get to take home $300 Both teams have already won $30 since there was an extra team entered in their division.

The two semi-final losers, Goubault and Schultz, each collected $150 for their playoff efforts

Although this is the first year that the Super Curling League has operated, its future seems assured

Most, if not all of the thirteen teams entered would likely be willing to return for the 1978-79 season.

A lot of interest has been generated by this winter's play and quite a number of curling clubs in the Zone have expressed a desire to submit entries for next winter's play

The league was organized to give teams in the Zone a chance for some competitive play prior to the Zone Consols playoffs

According to the original rules, the bottom two teams in each division (Highway 13 and Highway 14) are to be dropped next winter if enough entries are submitted.

Because of this rule, Reg Enright and Bob Rouse of Camrose may not be returning to the Highway 13 Division next winter while Jerome Kalawsky of Round Hill could be dropped from the Highway 14 Division If a second team is to be dropped, Darrel Albrecht of Ryley and Larry Thompson of New Sarepta will have to meet in a sudden-death encounter to decide who remains

This winter, the league did not begin until near of the end of November Play is expected to start nearly two months earlier next winter.

Viking sets mark

Viking Vixens set a new scoring record when they competed in the recent Manville high school girls' invitational basketball tournament.

In their first game in the two-day tournament, Viking went over the century mark in scoring when they buried a hapless Ashmont team 104-11

Andersen led the Vixens to victory when she hit for 36 points while Barber and Overle racked up 22 points each.

Viking then racked up a 47-34 triumph over Myrnam in the semi-finals with Andersen and Barber leading the way, scoring 14 points each

Vikings went on to win the tournament championship for the second year in a row when they dumped the host team from Manville by a 61-36 margin

Barber paced the team in the championship game when she heaped 23 points while Andersen aided the cause with 17 points

On January 4, the Viking basketball teams journeyed to Tofield where both the boys and the girls outscored, outjumped and outplayed the Tofield opposition on their own floors.

The girls, playing first, held the Tofield girls down to 17 points while they themselves racked up 37 The scoring this game was spaced out fairly even with Cheryl Anderson scoring 13 points.

The boys' game started out close with a 5-5 tie at the end of the first quarter but the Viking boys gradually built up their lead and kept it throughout the remainder of the game, finishing it off 33-17. Larry Baumgartner land the scoring with 16 points.

Next basketball action will take place when Tofield comes to Viking on February 1st and Viking goes to Ryley on the 8th of February.

All games will commence at 6:30 p.m.

Up in the air

Basketball is a good form of exercise and is one program that can be offered through your Regional Recreation Department One girl lets go a shot while a second attempts a block and the third player is a highly interested observer. One team is suitably well-named.

Everything is in readiness for the most important game of the season, to date, involving the Beaverhill Hockey League

The Beaverhill Hockey League All Stars will be hosting the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings in an exhibition game in Tofield on Saturday night starting at 8:15 p.m.

The All Stars are composed of most of the better players from each team in the league The Vikings are currently in first place in the Alberta Colleges Athletic Conference Hockey League

Mundare jumped back into second place in the league standings last week only seven points behind Lamont with two games in hand

Ryley dropped into third place, trailing Mundare by four points with Mundare having one game in hand.

Tofield continues to hold on to fourth place, although their lead over Smoky Lake and Waskatenau is only two points However, Tofield has two games in hand on both teams

Andrew picked up its first two wins of the season during the past week and vacated the cellar, dropping Holden into last place.

Holden is hosting Lamont tonight (Thursday) while Waskatenau is in Mundare and Smoky Lake plays in Andrew

On Tuesday night, Ryley will host Holden in Tofield while Tofield travels over to Waskatenau

Games next Thursday night will see Ryley host Tofield in Tofield while Holden will be playing in Mundare

Because of the All Star - Camrose contest in Tofield on Saturday, no league games have been scheduled

During the past week, most of the teams passed the halfway mark in the regular schedule which contucues until the end of February

Lamont stopped Tofield 7-3 last week and then absorbed their second loss of the season when they were upset 6-4 by Smoky Lake

Mundare made its move into second spot possible by picking up three straight victories, when they edged Tofield 9-7, whipped Andrew 5-2, and picked up an 8-3 triumph over Smoky Lake

Ryley had only one game scheduled and they were held to a 6-6 stalemate in a game at Waskatenau

Andrew made its move to get out of the basement by chalking up two successive victories. They stopped Waskatenau 7-4 and then moved ahead of Holden by doubling Holden 6-3 in a game played at Holden

There were three games on Tuesday night Holden bested Smoky Lake, Tofield bested Andrew, and Ryley played in Lamont. Reports on these games were not available by presstime and will be included in next week's report

"Me and My Shadows"

Throwing down the gauntlet

There's been a great deal of talk and speculation and criticism and praise over the action a couple of weeks ago of Sun Life Assurance's board of directors in recommending their company move to Toronto. The move was postponed following direct requests from Ottawa, but the recommendation will come again, despite the postponement.

At least, it will come again, barring only one very improbable development, and that will be some modification of the "business in French" law of the government of Quebec.

Sun's move has to be interpreted as corporate business throwing down the gauntlet to the provincial government. There's almost no other reasonable interpretation to put on it.

Sun, like many another firm, could have moved individual departments of its operations outside the province, slowly moving to the point where only a nominal head office was retained. Even the Bank of Montreal has 'decentralized', to some extent, while the Royal Bank has moved by far its larger operations from Montreal to Toronto.

The mail probably isn't any better in Toronto than it is in Montreal, nor is the climate any better, except from the point of political interference.

Sun's board of directors is an amazing cross section from some of the biggest corporations in the country, including senior executive officers from the Bank of Montreal, Royal Bank, Banque Provinciale du Canada, Steel Company of Canada, Wabasso, CPR, Credit Foncier, and several others.

Many represent firms which have already made the piecemeal switch, and knew its opportunities and potential. They cannot have been ignorant of what they were doing, or of its probable effects. Nor is it likely they acted without some discussion with their parent companies.

This being the case, the move must have been a carefully calculated step, one which the companies individually dared not make for fear of economic reprisals, but one they might all take in concert, with the precognition that its effect would be similar.

It has to be a case of this large group throwing down the gauntlet to the Levesque government. No other explanation seems to fit.

Food Bank

Are you planning to contribute to the "Food Bank"? The key to the success of this five-year trial plan depends upon the response it gets from Canadian farmers and others in a position to sell wheat.

Sponsored by the Mennonite Central Committee, in co-operation with the Canadian International Development Agency and the Canadian Wheat Board, the Food Bank is designed to facilitate the provision of food on short notice in the case of a natural or man-made disaster in a needy country. In essence, it is intended to bring together the needs of people in another part of the world and the abundance that we enjoy in Canada.

Farmers who wish to help make this worth-while scheme a success can do so by donating wheat through the wheat board. If you want to donate only part of a load of wheat, you simply ask your elevator agent to make out two tickets. Write on the one for the grain you wish to donate "For deposit to the Food Bank" print your name and address on the back of the ticket, sign it and send it to Food Bank, 303 - 167 Lombard Ave., 303 - 167 Pembina Highway, Winnipeg, Manitoba. Upon receipt of the ticket, the Food Bank will issue a tax deductible receipt for its cash value. All donations come out of a farmer's quota; they are not taken into quota.

The Canadian Wheat Board will collect, store and delivery wheat donated for the Food Bank to a Canadian port. The Canadian Industrial Development Association will provide substantial funds towards storage and administrative costs as well as for ocean freight costs. It will also provide funds to pay for grain required in excess of that received through donations.

The Mennonite Central Committee, which has had considerable experience in allocating food in countries less developed than Canada and its co-operating agencies will be greatly helped by the Food Bank to make their food aid programs even more effective than they have been in the past.

Farmers who participate in the scheme will receive periodic information on the progress and activities of the Food Bank.

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — Part of the reason Canada is in such rotten economic shape is the fact that our foreign trade in manufactured goods has slipped very badly in recent years, there was no need for [illegible]

A recent trip to Taiwan provided one or two examples. It's Canadian policy not to sell to Taiwan, for fear of offending the Communist Chinese in Peking and that's nothing but straight naivete.

In 1976 we sold $15 million in goods to Taiwan, while they sold $315 million to us. The Minister of the Economy, Mr. Y.S. Sun, said in an interview, that Taiwan was concerned over the disparity because unlike the Japanese, Taiwan was seeking near balanced trade, Mr. Sun's position was that Taiwan must trade to live, and if trading partners were not roughly in balance, then trade would not last very long.

He told us that in 1972 Taiwan sent the vice president of the energy authority to Canada, seeking to buy two CANDU nuclear reactors for $1.5 billion. The deal was turned down, although Taiwan meets all Canadian safeguard requirements, because Ottawa did not want to offend Peking. There is a standing order with Canada from Taiwan for 200 million in Uranium oxide, to be used as fuel in the U.S. reactors Taiwan bought, instead of Canadian reactors. We won't sell the uranium fuel.

Taiwan would also like to buy Canadian coal from B.C., to diversify supplies which currently come from Australia and the U.S. Canada isn't interested. Neither are we interested in seeking sales of railway cars and [illegible]

Taiwan is currently involved in a major expansion of its railway system, and Montreal, the capital of Canadian railway vehicle construction, could have an excellent chance at the order, but it isn't likely to happen, although Mr. Sun's visit to Ottawa [illegible] for such equipment to North American companies.

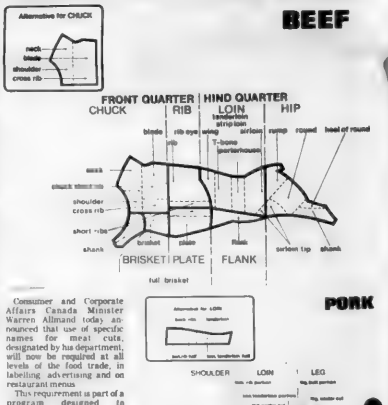
It's a case of Mr. Trudeau's office considering that relations with Peking come first, despite the fact that others enjoy good relations with Peking and still trade with Taiwan.

When Japan recognized Peking, the treaty signed "acknowledged" the fact that Peking claimed Taiwan Canada's treaty with Peking, merely "noted" the fact that Peking claimed the island.

Japan, with a much tougher accord signed with Peking, has a booming trade mission operating in Taiwan which even issues visas. It's an embassy in all but name. Britain and France also have their trade arrangements with Taiwan, while recognizing Peking.

Canada? No sir. Not us. We do everything we can to discourage sales to the fastest growing economic power in Asia, and that's just plain stupid.

Butchers change name of meat cuts



Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada Minister Warren Allmand today announced that use of specific names for meat cuts, designated by his department, will now be required at all levels of the food trade, in labeling advertising and on restaurant menus.

This requirement is part of a program designed to eliminate the confusion which has resulted from the profusion and, at times, misuse of names for meat cuts.

In order to provide consumers with more accurate and useful purchasing information, the department has developed a list of specific names for meat cuts, in consultation with representatives of consumers, industry and other government agencies. These terms are not to be used for stewing or ground meat, since these meats usually originate from many parts of the carcass.

Once meat has been cut and offered for sale, the name used to identify it on labels, in advertisements and on menus must include the name of the

Recreation Report

THINKING ABOUT RECREATION

Sport and leisure activities should be continued for all the what they can teach the individual himself. They can serve as valuable tools for expressing oneself in many dimensions and along the whole continuum of human emotion And, they provide the opportunity for the sheer, innate pleasure that the unfettered use of a healthy body can produce. I am convinced that human movement throught sports and games is an essential part of the full development of an individual

Everyone can be encouraged to participate at whatever level he chooses, to seek his own value meaning from involvement Anything worthwhile is worth doing at whatever level one can

Before the full demension of the potential can be reached, one has to be turned on, to have the opportunity to experiment, to sample, to explore, to discover, so he can find the situation that allows him to experience what is meaningful, significant and gratifying in the whole process of being

So, have you considered [illegible]?

Vixons extend streak

On Jan. 11, Viking Senior basketball teams hosted Ryley teams for the second league games this season

The Vixons, so far undefeated in 7 games, chalked up another win to make it 8 consecutive wins It took the girls a little longer to get things rolling in this game as the half time score was only 18-6 in their favor Then, in the second half, they got things under control and extended their lead to wrap up the game 40-11

Karen Barber led the team with 14 points, followed by Cheryl Anderson with 12

The boys' game was much closer but, the Viking team finally had to let it go to the Ryley opposition 39-30

Perry Runicka and Larry Baumgartner shared high point honors with 9 points each

On Feb 1, Tofield comes to Viking with games time at 4:30 p.m

must (except when the name of the cut is specific to only one animal), the appropriate specific term prescribed by the retail meat cuts program and, whenever necessary, a meaningful modifier

The specific names give precise information about which part of the animal each cut comes from, thus enabling better price and quality comparisons, and making it easier to select the appropriate cooking method. For example, the term "veal cutlet," when used by itself, applies to a piece of meat taken only from the hind leg If it comes from any other part, such as the shoulder, it must be labelled accordingly, i.e. veal shoulder cutlet.

Colined names and modifiers may be used in conjunction with these specific names, provided they are informative and not misleading For example, the colined name "Delmonico" may be applied to a "rib eye" cut as long as they are accompanied by the term "rib eye", i.e. "Delmonico rib eye steak."

"This program is not designed to change cutting methods in the meat industry," said the Minister "It's aim is to protect consumers by controlling terms used by all levels of the trade in marketing meat.

"When consumers purchased all their meat at the local butcher, there were few who did not know what they were buying But with the advent of modern merchandising practices, new names, which are often more fanciful than informative, have been introduced These have made meat shopping somewhat confusing," added Mr. Almond

During the transition period, the Minister urges consumers to buy meat cuts by the specific names prescribed by Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada.

Meat retailers, restaurateurs and meat packers have been given until May 1, 1978 to comply fully with the new requirements.

Eckstrand wins title

Ean Eckstrand of Sedgewick has won the championship of the Super Curling League in the league's first winter of operation.

In winning the championship, the Eckstrand entry stopped George Heck of Daysland in the finals, administering the first loss of the season for the Daysland entry.

The end was never in doubt Wednesday night in Daysland with the Eckstrand quartet taking an early lead and going on to post a relatively easy 10-4 win.

Eckstrand's rink was skipped by former schoolboy champion, John Anderson, with Eckstrand as third. The other two members of the championship rink were John Cheram and Bob Roggensack.

Winning the championship gives the Eckstrand rink top prize money of $600 while Heck's rink had to settle for $350.

Heck had gone through the regular schedule and semi-finals with seven straight victories. During the schedule, in a game that decided first place in the Highway 13 Division, Heck edged Eckstrand 5-4.

Eckstrand posted a 4-3 mark during the regular schedule and eliminated Brian Schultz of Torfield in the semi-finals.

This was the first winter of operation for the Super Curling League which was organized to give curlers good competition to help them to prepare fo. Zone and Provincial playoffs.

Thirteen teams were entered in two divisions with the bottom two teams from each division to be dropped next winter if enough new entries were obtained.

Early indications are that the league will expand next winter as interest has already been expressed by a number of other clubs in the Zone in putting in entries.

Another change planned for next winter is an earlier start to the schedule This winter's schedule did not start until late in November and officials are hoping to start by the first of October when action resumes.

Confronting Your Faith

This week, "Confronting Your Faith" presents an article by the pastor of Salem Mennonite Church, H. R. Boettger.

Speaking to His Disciples, Jesus asks the question, "And whom say ye that I am?" Himself. "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me, should not abide in darkness He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken shall judge him in the last day." John 12: 46, 48

In light of these and other scriptures, is it not reasonable to conclude that life patterns which do not harmonize with the Life and Teaching of Jesus are wrong and call for a re-evaluation of our understanding of the meaning of His Lordship, the sincerity of our commitment to Him and of the system we use to interpret scripture. Why call Him Lord if we do not follow Him?

McTAGGART'S PROMISE by Bernard Palmer
A tempestuous storm . . . a fatal accident at sea . . . and Duncan McTaggart, captain of The Enterprise, is left wondering whether he's man enough to navigate the turbulent waters of James Bay in northern Canada.
And DeeAnn, his wife . . . a stranger to this land of rain, ice and snow caught between his ambition, transplanted from a Christian Grandmother, and immorality of the so-age North.
The fury of nature engulfs human emotion in this novel of suspense, love and faith.
Mail and phone orders gladly accepted.

SMOKE DETECTORS

I'm sure you all read the newspaper story about the family who was saved from a fire by the smoke detector they had received at Christmas. It was not even installed when it did its good deed. My dad and I were looking at some smoke detectors over the Christmas season. If you are as confused by the choices as we were, perhaps this article by Betty Birch, D.H.E. at Stettler might help.

Much of the new interest in smoke detectors has arisen from two factors. One is that research has proven that [illegible] monoxide and other deadly gases) is the major cause of fire related deaths. People who have the ability to think clearly and make proper efforts to escape and thus a smoke detector may help arouse a person before killer fumes take effect. Secondly, Alberta has past regulations requiring that new homes, whose construction began after July 5, 1977 must have smoke detectors included in the buildings electrical system. Also, that by January 1979 all residential buildings EXCEPT single family homes and duplexes must also have a [illegible].

Although your home may not be lawfully required to install a smoke detector, it is a wise choice towards preventing a death in your family. There are different fire detectors on the market, but a basic smoke alarm is something worthy of serious con[illegible].

The smoke detectors usually ideal for residential use are either the ionization type or photo-electric current. If they are electric they are best installed by a qualified electrical contractor.

[illegible] best between the bedroom area and the rest of the house. This is because fires usually occur in some part of the dwelling outside the bedroom. If you smoke it may be desirable to place a smoke detector in the bedroom to increase the chance of escape from fire in the bedroom. The kitchen, bathroom and furnace room or garage are poor places for a smoke alarm because of the presence of steam or combustion by-products which could trigger false alarms. These detectors are best mounted on the ceiling in or near the center of the room, hall or stairway. Avoid placing them in locations where temperatures are less than 5 degree C or greater than 40 degree C; close to doors, windows or any forced air movement.

Smoke detectors need to be cleaned approximately every six months by removing the cover and gently vacuuming [illegible] approximately the same time [illegible].

If a smoke alarm is battery operated, replace the battery when it is low with a dead or unreplaced battery; a smoke detector is totally unable to warn you!

There is some excellent information obtainable in the Pamphlet "Fire and Smoke Detectors in Residential Buildings" available from: General Safety Services Divison, 10808 - 99 Ave. Edmonton, Alta. or phone: 427-8265

It has been recommended that every dwelling place [illegible] smoke alarm, and for those places who have them, remember to use that extra warning it gives to get out and do not re-enter until the fire is out and the smoke has cleared.

How to get a home of your own on $1,000 a year.

You know all the reasons why you'd like one. So you can paint and paper to make it look the way you want it. So you can enjoy a yard and garden, a family, a pet - maybe even a blossoming fruit-bearing crabapple tree.

The problem is (or was until now) getting that down payment. The solution comes from your Credit Union in the form of a Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan or an "RHOSP".

Trusteed by the Co-operative Trust Company of Canada, the Credit Union plan can change you from a spender into a saver. (Picture the house you'd like to live in. By saving a thousand a year on this tax-deductible savings plan, you can even see yourself moving in, in a really short time.)

The deadline is March 1st.

To get in on the plan for 1977 tax savings, get your money in by the first of March. After that we'll help you save a little, gradually, until you reach your $1,000 goal.

Save up to $10,000 at a thousand a year or less. As soon as you've got what you need, you can draw it out, buy your home, and that'll be it.

For full details on the plan that has won a name for itself on past performance, talk to the Registered Savings Plan expert at your Credit Union. We'll help you get that home of your own. How you paint and paper it is up to you!

Have higher hopes with a Registered Savings Plan*

Progressive Farming

Moisture Prospects For 1978 and 1977 Weather Highlights

Alberta's soil moisture and spring run-off prospects for agriculture are considerably brighter than they were at this time last year.

Alberta Agriculture's agrometeorologist, Conrad Gietz, reports that last fall's rains went a long way towards restoring soil moisture levels in the southern part of the province and that most fall seeded crops got off to a good start. He adds that this winter's heavy snow fall, compared with that of last year in the southern half of the province should further improve soil moisture conditions and spring run-off in those areas that were deficient in 1977.

In general, the 1977 growing season was cooler than normal in central Alberta, but the mean temperature in the Peace River region and in the eastern part of the province was near or above normal.

From April through August precipitation was generally above normal in all agricultural areas north of Red Deer. However, it was generally drier than normal further south, especially in areas south of Calgary and west of Medicine Hat. Last year's open winter contributed to the lack of moisture in central and [illegible]ern areas.

Substantial rainfalls in May helped to normalize the soil moisture situation in Alberta except in the southwest where it remained dry. Both pastures and the overall forage supply situation improved greatly as a result of the May rainfall.

Some general frost damage was recorded in east-central Alberta on August 22 and in the Peace River region and some central areas in early September.

When farmers started harvesting their crops many were pleasantly surprised at their yields. "It was probably the cool weather," says Mr Gietz, "during the time heads were filling that prevented the dry condition from greatly reducing yields."

Harvesting operations were interrupted by wet weather in most areas of the province at one time or another, but the rain was not entirely unwelcome in southern Alberta. Prior to it, soil moisture levels had been so low that pastures were threatened and in many cases hopes were fast fading that fall seeded crops would even germinate.

The exceptionally warm dry weather in October and early November of 1977 allowed the harvest to be completed in nearly all areas of Alberta.

NADP asked to keep Holden creamery open

Chamber President, Margaret Hallett, and Mayor, Oleh Shykora, joined forces with Peter Hrabec, Northern Alberta Dairy Pool Delegate, and cooperative members in an effort to reverse the [illegible] which calls for the closure of the Holden Creamery.

At a meeting of cooperative members and businessmen, reasons for closure were outlined by William McBride, General Manager, and John Killoran, Vice-President of the Dairy Pool.

Thes reasons were countered by strong alternatives ably presented by several farmers from the Holden and Ryley districts.

The meeting closed on a motion of Donald MacGregor and George Hunchak, calling for continuation of creamery operation for at least another four years. This was unanimously supported by members and received by Dairy Pool executives who agreed to re-consider the [illegible] meeting.

Students get sleigh ride

By Grace Phillips

The two grade three classes in the Tofield School, with their teachers, Mrs M Astley and Mrs. J Fairweather, enjoyed an outing at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rabby on Wednesday, Jan. 25, as guests of Cindy Rabby, a grade three student.

Driven by Ben Thiessen, the forty-seven students left the school shortly after 10 o'clock. At the Rabby farm, they were divided into three groups for the promised sleighride. Those whose turn to ride was over, or had not yet come, played on toboggans and swings.

A weiner roast with hot chocolate supplied by Mrs. Rabby was a highlight of the day before the students and teachers were driven back to the school by Mr. Thiessen.

Beaverhill Hockey League has plenty of excitement

Lamont has extended its hold on first place, Mundare is safely in second spot, there's a pile-up in a third place fight, and Camrose Lutheran College Vikings got a bad scare.

Those were the highlights from action last week in the Beaverhill Hockey League.

With the regular schedule in its last month, Lamont now holds a nine point lead over Mundare who, in turn, are seven points ahead of Ryley.

Ryley is in third place, one point ahead of Tofield who are only two points up on Smoky Lake and Waskatenau.

While Holden and Andrew are at the bottom of the pile, both still have a chance to make a playoff spot if they could go on a winning streak.

CLC Vikings were in Tofield on Saturday night and were hard-pressed to come up with a win before a crowd of over 700 fans, in a very exciting exhibition hockey contest.

Ryley is hosting Tofield tonight (Thursday) in Tofield while Holden is playing in Mundare.

Games on Saturday night will see Tofield host Smoky Lake while Ryley travels to Andrew.

On Tuesday night Tofield is again at home with Holden providing the opposition, while Ryley plays in Smoky Lake.

Next Thursday night's action will see Holden host Andrew while Ryley will host [illegible]

Lamont picked up three wins during the past week when they doubled Ryley 8-4, blanked Holden 6-0 and walloped Andrew 10-3.

Mundare had only one game scheduled and it was a goaltenders' nightmare as Mundare managed to edge Waskatenau 11-10.

Ryley managed to hold onto third place when they fought Holden to a 7-7 stalemate.

Tofield had a split when they whipped Andrew 8-3 and were edged 5-4 by Waskatenau.

Smoky Lake got into the thick of things by picking up two victories, walloping Holden 14-6 and edging Andrew 4-3.

The regular schedule ends on the last day of this month.

Vikings went to Tofield on Saturday night for an exhibition game with the Beaverhill Hockey League All Stars.

Vikings almost had a major shock as they were held to a 1-1 stalemate after one period with the game being tied 2-2 late in the second period before the Vikings managed to cut loose and go on to a 6-3 victory.

Scoring for CLC were Sawchuk, Ward, Gotaas, Hammond, Espe and Masters while the All Star scoring was handled by Lakusta, Baker [illegible]

It was a cleanly played contest with the Vikings getting five penalties to only three for the All Stars. Shots on goal [illegible].

Ryley to host meeting

The Village of Ryley has been selected as the site for the annual meeting of the Provincial Development Council.

The meeting will be a daytime and evening affair and will be held on Thursday, February 23rd.

Announcement of the annual session, (in Ryley) was made to Village Council by Councillor Brown who requested his fellow councillors' approval for the use of the council chambers for the meeting. Approval was granted.

Councillor Brown, reporting on another matter, told councillors that assessment of the development of the Regional Development Committee will be discussed at a meeting which is to be held in Holden.

Councillors were told, in a letter from the County of Beaver, that a meeting to discuss fire fighting and fire-fighting agreements, scheduled for February 2nd, had to be postponed and a new date for the session would be announced soon.

Council was told that the audit of the village's books had to be deferred until the middle of the month after a member of the auditing firm had to be admitted to hospital.

Council accepted a new quotation from Calgary Power which indicated that the cost of construction of street lighting would have to be increased to $1,785 from the former quote of $1,633.

Council agreed to try and find a person to assume the position of Disaster Services Director for the village. As well, councillors agreed to try and locate sixteen people to serve on the local Disaster Services Unit.

It was agreed that the next regular meeting of the village council would be held on February 13th, starting at 7.30 p.m.

Accounts were approved for payment.

Approval was given to the minutes of a regular meeting held on January 9th and a special meeting held on January 16th.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on January 23rd.

"QUESTIONS UNANSWERED"

Doug Heuchert

Honorable D.J. Russell
Minister of the Environment
222 Legislative Building
Edmonton, Alta.

Dear Sir:

RE: COOKING LAKE MORAINE

Upon reading your letter it is noted which areas of contention are consistently mentioned in press releases from your office. These are being brought to your attention to demonstrate the viewpoint of 'the other side of the fence.'

You state "any further discussion is academic until local authorities take some action on the question of land use". (Following is spoken from experience within the county of Strathcona only). Asking for the counties guidelines on land use practices is one matter, but first one [illegible] in relation to what is currently [illegible] of jurisdiction for subdivision approvals, forming a ladder of authority. The planning council of the county is at the bottom rung on that ladder, and it has been common practice for individuals seeking approval to subdivide to go to a higher authority. Because these practices have and will continue unabated, how can someone say that the county can really take "action on the question of land use."

Their general plan for the area is altered constantly. What will prevent the government from altering it to suit requirements for a recreation area. The $222,000 dollars that has already been committed in reports and studies are not to be forgotten. The two governments of Alberta have been studying this area for nine years. It will not be forgotten as easily as you say. I appreciate the fact that the Department of [illegible] wishes comment on the [illegible] Lake Study. You state that "Department personel [illegible] public meetings to explain the report." Representatives of the Dep't. of Environment were definitely in attendance at these meetings, however, stating that they were explaining the report is overstepping the truth. Statements and figures from the Planning report were reitterated. They refused to respond to questions from the floor that required more than an extraction of available data; questions that requested explanations of possible Department of Environment actions in the area.

Mr. Russell, I have read the planning report, and have spent one month studying the six volumes of appended literature to that report, and I find that the [illegible] position has been very carefully worded. There are still questions that are left unanswered, that can only be resolved by discussion between you and the concerned members of these communities.

Awaiting your reply, I remain,

Yours truly,
Douglas Heuchert

So soon we forget

For various reasons, [illegible] New York City school board is introducing a course for 11 and 12 year olds dealing with the Nazi genocide plan of World War II and pre-war days, documenting Hitler's plan to get rid of the Jews, using books, filmstrips, and actual film footage of the horrors of the death camps which grew so notorious during those days.

The object of the course, interestingly, is to expose the irrational roots of racial prejudice.

But a most interesting aspect developed as some of the children previewed the course. They went home and told their parents of what they had seen, and the parents refused to believe the truth of the lessons being taught. Not until they had checked in an encyclopedia and found the entire story would they credit the truth of the lessons their children were being given.

For older people it seems incredible that this portion of history is not well known, but then a little simple arithmetic points out the reason. The parents of today's 11 and 12 year olds were themselves born either during the war, or shortly after. And by the time they were old enough to be learning anything of the war, we were all trying to forget things like that, to tell ourselves it couldn't really have happened. Nor could it ever happen again.

But the rising tide of intolerance proves it could. And we need to be reminded of how incredibly intolerant we can become, in order to prepare ouselves to counter such intolerance. Dwelling on the grisly details can be morbid, possibly, but surely not nearly so unhealthy as to neither know nor believe such things can happen.

The course should spread from New York to other school systems, [illegible]

"Are we like those people?"

He is an Edmonton lawyer of Polish-Jewish descent. He has a series of numerals tattooed on one of his wrists.

He keeps the numerals on his wrist in memory of the time he spent in Auschwitz.

When people ask him about them he explains, they represent an identity number given him by the Nazi wardens of the Auschwitz concentration camp.

To the lawyer's dismay, most people interpret his answer to mean that he was once a criminal and had spent some time in jail.

They may have even wondered why a criminal chose to be a lawyer.

On hearing this true story, a perceptive listener may be appalled at the ignorance exhib[illegible].

The New York City school board is introducing a course on the Nazi genocide plan. In books, filmstrips and actual film footage of the horrors of the death camps, the school board is presenting 11 and 12-year-olds with the story.

A textbook, called The Holocaust, was written for the course. The two authors say it is an attempt to bring the lesson of the extermination camps to bear on contemporary problems. Specifically, it is designed to expose the irrational roots of racial prejudice.

Some of the children who previewed the course went home and told their parents what they saw. Many of the parents did not believe their children until the story had been checked in an encyclopedia.

The people who mistook the Polish lawyer for a criminal might benefit from such a course. And maybe such words as "nigger," "paki" and "frog" may lose the popularity they now enjoy. American historian Santayana said people who are ignorant of history are condemned to repeat it.

[illegible] we like those people?

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA—(SF)—The cheers were somewhat muted when Defence Minister Barney Danson made his announcement that we are going to get six new ships for the Armed Forces, to be in service by 1989. It was the price tag of $1.5 billion, the 11-year delay before commissioning of the new ships and the fact there are only to be six of them [illegible]

A small exercise in long division reveals the fact that each of the new ships is to cost $250 million. The Defence Department warns that the total figure includes a multitude of things like design costs, training and weapons, but to me the unit price arrived at by dividing number [illegible]

By comparison, the British are currently bringing a series of Type 21 Frigate into service, built and designed by Vosper-Thorney-croft in the U-K, and coming into commission for slightly more than $30 million per ship. It makes a sickening comparison. Sure the British ship is slightly smaller than the one we are aiming to build, but it's faster, and has very nearly the weapons capability. I'm not suggesting we should buy new ships off the shelf and deprive Canadians of badly needed jobs, but surely a license to build in Canada could be arranged. Do we have to re-invent the wheel at enormous expense?

Currently there are 20 serviceable destroyers in the Canadian Navy, but all — with the exception of four DDH-280 super ships — are reaching [illegible]. A warship is expected to last 25 years. When it reaches that age the equipment breaks down repeatedly and repairs start to become uneconomic. The weapons by that stage of life are obsolete. Canada's 4 DDH-280 ships were built in 1972-3. Every other destroyer we have was built prior to 1964, and that means that by 1989, when the six new ships [illegible] be in service we'll have 10 useful ships the six new ones and the four [illegible] instead of the 20 we have today.

It doesn't say much for government planning, and it doesn't speak very highly of the Trudeau vows to protect Canadian sovereignty. We've vastly expanded the amount of sea area we claim, and yet we've got a diminishing amount of muscle to enforce our claims. If you think that's stupid, you're on the right [illegible].

History sought

Another group has decided to undertake a history writing project.

Eight women from Bawlf have banded together to write a history which would cover a [illegible], and they are seeking assitance from people who might have [illegible].

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mr Cyril Hoover wish to thank all relatives, friends and neighbours who were so kind during our recent bereavement. We would like to thank those who sent flowers, brought food, sent cards, made personal calls and telephoned.

A special thank-you to Rev. David Moddle; the organist, Heather Rudnicki; to the Ladies who served lunch at the Legion; to Owen Jones for taking care of Legion details; and to Joan Williams for helping in so many ways.

Your kindness and thoughtfulness at this time was appreciated more than words can say.

Many many Thanks.
Gloria Hoover and Family.

Recreation Report

By Colleen Walker
Program Supervisor

Recreation should be readily available to each and everyone of us, disabled or otherwise One of the greatest problems of a Regional Recreation Board is determining the recreation requirements of the general public We cannot fulfill your needs if we do not hear from you.

Everyone has a different interpretation of recreation, some see it as sports, team efforts, physical exertion and preparation for competition, while others see it as activity that meets indivudual needs I think we can do both, but, first there must be a need and secondly a desire

If your community is doing a survey, for a Master Plan, which they are, make sure your needs are included This is of great assistance to Recreation Boards, particularly, if there is a rapid turnover of board members [illegible]

Urge the Recreation Board to hold public meetings so complaints can be aired, the Master Plan reviewed, and so that the public can have the opportunity to provide added input. Not only do these meetings provide a forum for the exchange of ideas, but also offers of assistance come up making it a good source of resource people

The Recreation Department can be of assistance if you wish to obtain information about grants, materials and resource people They know [illegible] ment Departments and are knowledgeable about the location and availability of community facilities

Do you know who your recreation board representatives are? Find out. It's your [illegible]

A DAY DEDICATED TO PANCAKES

Most people love the taste of pancakes. And so can't it nice to know that there is one day in the year dedicated especially to them. Shrove Tuesday. It's the day before Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. The name came from the old custom of confessing (being "shriven") on that day. The English began the tradition of eating pancakes on that Tuesday to use up the milk, butter and eggs forbidden during the Lenten fast.

Great pancakes must always be light, and thoroughly cooked. The lightness comes from the batter, the cooking know how is acquired with care and practice. Pancakes should be cooked over medium heat. The frying pan or griddle must be of heavy metal, greased with just enough oil or fat to evenly cover the bottom.

Another plus for pancakes is their price. They can make an economical meal and also of fer food value because of the milk and eggs used in the batter. Remember also, when fruit, cheese or other ingredients are included, or served with them the food value is further upgraded! Food consultants Agriculture Canada suggest you try these "Cheese Pancakes" for supper Tuesday. They cost about $0.15 per serving and because of the addition of cheese provide you with a good source of protein and calcium. Notice that skim milk powder has been used to replace fluid milk. This change helps lower the cost but not the food value!

CHEESE PANCAKES

500 mL all purpose flour
15 mL baking powder
5 mL salt
175 mL skim milk powder
250 mL (about 100 g) grated cheddar cheese
2 beaten eggs
300 mL water
25 mL melted margarine

Mix dry ingredients and cheese. Combine eggs, water and melted margarine. Add to dry ingredients and mix quickly until just combined. For each pancake, drop 50 mL batter on well greased hot fry pan. Cook till bubbles form on surface (2 to 3 mins.) Turn and brown other side (2 to 3 minutes). Makes about 20 pancakes. Serve with syrup and butter if desired. Another variation is apple pancakes. Add ¼ cup finely diced peeled apples to your favorite pancake batter.

Holden will repair community hall roof

Holden Village Council has taken the first steps towards needed repairs to the Community Hall.

At a recent meeting, councillors authorized the secretary-treasurer to obtain cost estimates for repairs to the old roof on the building. It had earlier been agreed among councillors that other repairs would have to wait because of limited finances.

Paving on some streets in the village is being considered. Council decided to invite a representative of an engineering firm to attend the next regular meeting to discuss the situation.

A letter from the Holden Teen Club informed council that the club was in the process of re-organizing and was calling for moral and physical support from all organizations within the community. Council agreed to give the club its backing.

Councillors were told that February 11th would be "Salute to Holden" day on CFCW and agreed to forward all of the needed information to the radio station.

Councillors Mackay, Geibelhaus and Danilak reported on the recently held recreation workshop in Holden. They suggested that council and the local recreation board should meet at least once a year and that the existing recreation by-law should be revised.

Mayor Shykora and Councillors Mackay and Geibelhaus were appointed to sit on the Court of Revision.

After some discussion, it was decided that the village would continue to levy a business tax, as has been the case in previous years.

Mayor Shykora requested that all councillors prepare the 1978 budget requests for all of the village departments and committees.

Consideration of a snow removal by-law was tabled until the next regular meeting of council.

It was agreed that all excess dirt that becomes available should be placed on the lots immediately behind the Community Hall.

Councillors were told that new furniture for the village office had been ordered and that, with a few minor repairs, office facilities should be adequate for the immediate future.

At the beginning of the meeting, councillors passed a motion authorizing that all necessary business be conducted. The motion was necessary because the session convened was a special meeting.

Information for this news story was obtained from unapproved minutes of a special meeting on January 20th.

Confronting Your Faith

with Curtis Johnson, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Ryley.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

Has anyone ever asked you why, if God exists, He does not show Himself? If only God would show Himself there would be no doubters! There would be neither atheists nor agnostics! Everyone would believe (though some might tremble)!

Unbelievers ask such questions. What does a Christian answer?

Does he tell us that faith, being a virtue, must be exercised because the Bible says so? But is faith a requirement for salvation just because faith is a requirement for salvation?

Faith became a requirement for salvation, not for the sake of faithless, but because of the way in which it was necessary for God to deal with the sin problem. When Lucifer claimed that the law of selfless service to others was an unnecessary restriction on holy beings, and so persuaded one third of the angels, God purposed to let his philosophy of self-serving have its day. By this demonstration of what God declared to be a threat to the peace and stability of the entire universe, intelligent beings everywhere could then see the truth of it for themselves.

It was therefore imperative that God and His agents (the angels) remain essentially hidden. The visible presence of these agencies would render man incapable of choosing or rejecting the good or evil side without overwhelming coercion on the one hand or inordinate fear on the other. But with God unseen, Satan's way of life could fully operate and display its inevitable result. And then all throughout the vast universe, could compare it with God's way and decide for themselves which law, which way of life, is better. And so, because He must remain unseen, our belief in His existence must be by faith. And while angels and unfallen worlds are able to compare the way of this same contrast will be evident to the world, as well.

Some say that seeing is believing. But believing by faith is seeing more clearly. Those who believe without seeing, believe more ardently, for it takes a greater intellectual, emotional, and spiritual commitment. And then by believing, they do see! The presence and power of God become apparent all around. The beauties of verdant vale and hill, the tender scent of spring, the glory of the heavens, the selfless life of a disciple all reveal to the eye of flesh what the vision of faith had already disclosed.

And Jesus said "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed." John 20:29

WATER AND LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION
by Dr Frank Baker
Alberta Agriculture
Extension Veterinarian

In an age when we talk knowingly about the lack of various nutrients, such as vitamins and minerals, and warn against the dangers of energy and protein deficiencies, we often tend to forget the importance of the most vital nutrient of all - water! It is second only to air as a basic requirement for life, and yet, because of its usually abundant supply, it often does not receive the attention that it warrants.

Water should be available to cattle at all times. Consumption varies with the age and type of animal. Beef cattle, for example, drink five to six times every 24 hours while dairy cattle drink 10 times every 24 hours. Studies at the University of Guelph in Ontario showed the water consumption of beef cattle on a maintenance and fattening ration to be as follows:

Total Daily Water Intake By Beef Cattle (in lbs.)

Animal Wt. (lbs.)	Air Temperature 10°C	21°C	32°C
400	20-36	25-48	40-80
600	25-48	32-65	50-100
800	30-63	40-85	64-140
1000	36-80	50-110	80-120

Dairy cattle which were allowed free access to water drank mostly between 7 and 9 a.m. and between 6 and 8 p.m. Cows with a continuous supply of water drank 18 per cent more water and produced 3.5 per cent more milk and 10.7 per cent more butterfat than cows which had access to water only twice a day. With a 6°C rise in temperature, water consumption increased 75 per cent. Dry Holstein cows drank nine gallons of water per day compared with 19 gallons per day for milking cows. Calves drank one to five gallons per day.

The National Research Council recommends that water allowances for cattle be increased by 50 per cent during the last four months of pregnancy.

Despite the fact that it is generally considered to be of little consequence to the average producer, water quality is important too. Water with a high saline content is probably of greatest concern. Dr P. J. Martin, Alberta Agriculture's animal nutritionist, says that water should not be a limiting factor in ruminant production as long as

- It contains less than 7,000 p p m (parts per million) of total salts. Animals on maintenance rations or older animals on production rations can likely cope with much higher levels (10,000 p p m)
- It contains less than 100 p p m nitrate
- It does not contain fecal contaminants or algal toxins
- It is readily available

The water requirements of cattle, particularly beef cattle, are often neglected during the winter. While it is true that cattle can, and obviously do, survive on the range with only snow to sustain their water requirements, there is no doubt that they are in much better health and more efficient producers when they are supplied with a good source of water. The considerable effort required to obtain enough snow to meet an animal's water requirements reduces the energy available for food gathering efforts. Also, much body heat is required to melt the snow in the animal's stomach, and this heat must come from the animal's food. Again, this energy is not available for meat or milk production.

If the source of water is a slough or creek, an ice-free area should be maintained. If water is supplied in tanks or waterers, heaters should be provided to make the water available. It is not necessary to heat the water further.

While water sources under range conditions should be located far enough apart to provide sufficient daily exercise for the cattle, these sources should not be located so far apart that the amount of walking the cattle must do will use up energy that would otherwise be available for the production of meat or milk. In fact, cattle should not have to travel more than two miles to water, and this distance should be reduced if the terrain is rough.

A good water supply, freely available at all times, is essential for efficient livestock production.

Calorie Counters set provincial convention

Women from all over the province who are members of the Canadian Calorie Counter organization will meet in Stettler, from April 21-23. This will be their third annual provincial convention.

Mrs. Merle Keith of Holden, who is the National Board Member for the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, attended planning meetings this past weekend in Stettler.

Efforts are being made to increase the size of the organization in the western provinces, in order to bring the members closer together to avoid the travel expense involved. All leads into Calorie Counters are followed up immediately by the provincial executive.

Group therapy and sound nutrition are the aims of the program, and then to teach good eating habits and methods of calorie counting to prevent over eating.

The three-day convention will bring together women and girls of all ages who have one common problem — obesity. many of them with a much better future health wise, because of the loss of unwanted pounds.

February has been set aside in Alberta as membership and promotion month. Calorie Counters is an all Canadian non-profit organization and all work at local levels is done by volunteers.

Library has 'story hour'

by Grace Phillips

Something new has been added to the services offered to the community by the Tofield Municipal Library, says Mrs. Dorothea Freebury, library [illegible].

The new service is provided by Story Ladies who, each Saturday from 1-3 p.m., read or tell stories to pre-schoolers 4-6 years and to children in grades 1-3. This story hour precedes the regular library opening at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Judy Hastings, Mrs. Moffat, Mrs. Dorothea Freebury and Mrs. Grace Phillips were the story ladies in January. A volunteer for the third Saturday of each month would be welcome so that Mrs Freebury could be free to attend to her librarian's duties exclusively. Anyone who would read or tell stories to the children for an hour on the third Saturday of each month is asked to contact Mrs Freebury.

The library has a good collection of books for very young children. Parents are invited to browse through the Easy Books section when they call for their children at the close of the story hour.

Official opening

That Place will build in spring

That Place in Tofield is planning on buying two lots on Main Street to build a 2,000 square foot building at an approximate cost of $100,000.

That Place was started by the Vision Society of Tofield five years ago and are now experiencing a space problem and are looking to expansion to a larger facility to handle [illegible].

The society is turning to the public for support, accepting [illegible] donations, memorials and groups with $10,000 already having been contributed to the building fund.

The proposed new structure will contain a Christian book centre, a coffee shop and a teen drop-in centre.

In an effort to make the public aware of the building program, a "family night" has been planned for the Community Centre on Friday, February 24th.

That Place was started by a group of women who decided their time to the operation of the book store and coffee shop, using whatever profits were made to purchase new supplies of books.

The present executive of the Vision Society of Tofield are president Frieda Regehr; vice-president Diane Reil; secretary Gladys Severson, and treasurer Jona Collins.

A four-man building committee has been organized, consisting of Don Litwin, Bob Jones, Glen Reil, and Dave Schmidt.

Work on the construction of the building is pending. That Place will commence in the spring.

Donations for the building fund may be left at That Place where receipts for income tax purposes may be obtained.

Bruce REA has meeting

The annual meeting of the Bruce REA was held on Jan 31, in the Legion Hall in Holden.

Guests included Tom Gagni, Supervisor of REA's of the Department of Utilities and Telephones; and Bill Routledge of Lougheed, area director of the Alberta Union of REA's.

Nick Laskoski of Holden was re-elected to the Board for a three-year term. Milton MacGregor, also of Holden, was elected to take the place of Lyle Grosland, who [illegible] retirement reasons.

The president, Nick Laskoski, expressed appreciation to Mr. Grosland for his years of service to the REA.

Local manager, Bill Hallett, and his assistant, Mel Haas, were given a vote of thanks by the entire meeting for their continuing good service during the past year.

Ryley Sunshine Club opens

Official ceremonies before a full house marked the opening of the Ryley Sunshine Club (senior citizens) and the Ryley Public Library on Friday afternoon.

Don Mazankowski M.P., cut a ribbon to officially open the senior citizens' drop-in center while John Batiuk, MLA, cut a second ribbon to officially open the new library.

Ole Hagen, president of the Sunshine Club, opened the ceremonies with a welcome and introduced the executive of the club which George Knudsen, master of ceremonies, introduced the special guests present for the occasion.

Deputy Mayor Ernest Brown brought greetings and congratulations from the village and was followed by Harriett Ruddy, chairman of the Library Board, who introduced the other members of the board.

Geo.ge Knudsen Reeve of the County of Beaver, outlined the history of the building now being used by the senior citizens, pointing out that it had, at one time, been used to publish the Ryley Times.

Mr Knudsen said that the club had purchased the building early in 1977 and had it completely paid for by the end of the year. He was especially delighted when they had offered space to set up a library.

Ron Williams, on behalf of New Horizons, presented the club with a "certificate of achievement", pointing out that his group and provided $13,000 for renovations and furnishings for the centre.

Don Mazankowski then presented Mr Hagen with a Canadian flag, offered words of congratulations and suggested that a good project for the members might be to record the history of the area, since most of them had lived it. He then proceeded to cut the ribbon to officially open the centre.

John Batiuk then presented Mr. Hagen with an Alberta flag, offered his congratulations and cut a ribbon to officially open the library.

Mrs. Ruddy, described as the general contractor to oversee the renovations to the building, then presented the club with a clock as her thanks for the co-operation she had received. She noted that a women's group was already in the process of compiling a history of the area.

Mr Hagen then outlined the history of the club, noting jashingly that when he hesitated, the members pushed him to one side so as to be able to get on with the work that had to be done.

Rev. Gary Barr brought the formal program to a close by asking God's blessing for the centre and the library.

Lunch was then served by the ladies of the Sunshine Club.

Heiberg is elected to head recreation

Andy Heiberg of Tofield is the new chairman of the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board.

Mr. Heiberg was elected to his new position at a meeting of the Board held in late January. Named to the position of vice-chairman is Robert Evans of Viking.

Representatives of agricultural societies in Viking, Tofield and Holden attended the meeting to present briefs requesting financial assistance in operating major recreational facilities within the county.

It was decided that the societies' representatives should meet with the management committee to discuss the situation, after the committee had reviewed the budget proposed for 1978.

It was decided that the committee looking for office space for the recreation department should continue their search. This decision was made after the committee gave its report on their investigation into the possibility of Bruce School being used as an office.

Board members decided to pay cos-half of the costs of printing br...ures for Further Education after hearing a report from co-ordinator Jean [illegible].

The administrator's report, presented by George Baker and the program supervisor's report, given by Colleen Walker, were both accepted as presented.

Area representatives gave verbal reports on programs operating in their communities, and other routine matters were handled.

It was decided that the board should meet in Ryley on February 28th to discuss the Regional Five-Year Master Plan.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on January 26th.

Benefit game planned

A benefit hockey game will be played in Tofield Arena on Saturday night to help a young man who lost an eye while playing Canada's national sport.

Eighteen year old Lionel Williams was struck by a puck while practising with his team, the Medicine Hat Tigers.

The Tofield youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Williams, was rushed to hospital where doctors tried for over a week to save his eye. Finally, they were forced to operate and remove his left eye.

Williams was in his second

year with the Tigers and was showing a great deal of promise and could have been a high draft chance in his final year of junior hockey, and might have gone on to a professional career in the sport.

On Saturday night, Tofield Satellites will host the Lamont Nuggets in a regularly scheduled Beaverhills Hockey League game. All proceeds from Saturday's game will be given to Lionel Williams as the Tofield Agricultural Society, Tofield Satellites, AAHA referees and everyone connected with the game are donating their efforts so that all monies received might be given to the young man.

Saturday's game will start at eight o'clock and all local hockey promoters are urging fans to fill the arena.

Mundare and Tofield moved up in the standings in last week's Beaverhills Hockey League action with Mundare now only five points out of first place while Tofield has jumped into sole possession of third place.

Mundare swamped Holden 25-6 and then doubled Lamont 4-1 to close the gap and create a race for first place.

Tofield stunned Ryley 8-5 and then doubled Smoky Lake 6-3 as they moved ahead of Ryley to take over third spot. In Ryley's only other game, they were beaten 7-5 by An-[illegible].

In the only other game played, Smoky Lake edged Waskatenau 5-4 to cause a good three-way race for fourth place.

Ryley leads Smoky Lake by two points with Smoky Lake ahead of Waskatenau by only two points with all three teams having played the same number of games.

Ryley is hosting Mundare tonight (Thursday) while Andrew is playing in Holden and Lamont goes to Waskatenau.

Saturday's action sees Lamont in Tofield (benefit game) while Waskatenau plays to Holden.

On Tuesday, Ryley will host Andrew in Tofield while the Satellites will be playing in Mundare.

Next Thursday night's game will see Holden travel to Smoky Lake while Tofield will be going to Andrew.

The regular schedule ends with the end of this month.

The standings do not include Tuesday night's games (if they were played):

"Watch Out For This Fellow"

Not competing

We were surprised at the message on a billboard we read recently advising that Greyhound buses make runs between Calgary and Edmonton every hour during the business day. And the thought occurred, it's no wonder the trains can't compete in this kind of league . . . they didn't really even try, not with one train daily on the CNR run, and three on the CPR.

Admittedly, the coaches used by the railway would carry more passengers, so that fewer cars would carry the same load, but surely the frequency of the runs has something to do with the popularity of the bus. We don't know if the railway might have developed a smaller, bus-like unit, manned by just one operator, but then, there are obvious disadvantages to something like that, too. For instance, it couldn't suddenly swing out and pass a freight train on the track, for instance. And if there were several such cars on the rails, going in both directions, either there would have to be a great deal more double track, or a great deal more switching, or a large number of increased lay-overs. The first two would be highly costly, the last would be discouraging to the customers being sought.

Even more discouraging is the price ticket attached to rail travel. Recent would-be rail travellers have found themselves in the position of double checking the prices in astonishment, and then deciding there must be an alternative means of getting there. Which is probably one more reason the buses are winning the business, hands down.

Equal treatment

Clear evidence of discrimination in the way the government treats people who owe it money, and those to whom it owes money showed up a few days ago. A supplier who had only a small bill invoiced the government immediately after it was incurred on September 14.

The bill was received promptly and accepted promptly, as acknowledged by a letter mailed to the business firm, declaring that payment was requisitioned on September 21. However, the advice was not provided until November 7, after a second statement had been mailed, and carried the additional information "you should be receiving a cheque within the next few weeks."

Can you imagine the kind of response a taxpayer might get if he wrote the income tax branch to say he acknowledged he owed them money, and would be sending it along in about sixty days or so?

We can understand some bills taking a lengthy period to gain approval, for one reason or another, but surely, when a bill is approved and gets into the government's main stream for payment, it shouldn't take two months to get it into the hands of the creditor

Report from your M.L.A.

by John S. Batiuk

VEGREVILLE M.L.A. ADDRESSES MEETING

At a recent 38th Annual Meeting of the Alberta Association of Co-op Seed Cleaning Plants held at the MacDonald Hotel, John Batiuk, M.L.A. for the Vegreville Constituency addressed approximately 410 delegates and guests.

In bringing greetings from the Premier, the Provincial Government and the people of Alberta, Mr. Batiuk also expressed regret at Mr. Moore, the Minister of Agriculture who was not able to address the gathering because of his absence from the province at that time.

Mr. Batiuk, who himself has previously served on the Board of Directors of a seed cleaning plant for eleven years, was no stranger to the Association in congratulating the Association on their twenty-fifth anniversary, Mr. Batiuk also commended the seed cleaning plants of the province for their contribution in providing good services to the farmers in the province.

He also recognized Mr. George Crampton, a guest at the convention, who had contributed more effort than anyone else in organizing the Association, at a time when there were only a few cleaning plants in Alberta. Mr. Batiuk also cited that there were 35 Co-op seed cleaning plants in Western Canada and 50 of these are in Alberta, which are capable of serving all the farmers in the province.

Mr. Batiuk expressed concern that only 80 to 85 percent of the farmers use the service of these seed cleaning plants, yet 4 percent of all grain shipments consists of dockage costing the farmers $2 million annually.

Mr. Batiuk also spoke on the accomplishments of the decentralization programs of government which has helped stabilize and provide a balanced growth in rural Alberta.

He also gave an outline on what the Alberta Heritage Trust Fund was intended for and some of the benefits it will provide in agriculture and for future generations.

On behalf of the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Batiuk announced changes in the Seed Cleaning Plant Program regarding replacement of plants.

The replacement program will enable those seed cleaning plants who must rebuild a facility to be eligible to receive financial assistance.

The assistance will be limited to one third of the difference in cost between the new plant to a maximum of $100,000.00.

Since some plants are thirty years old and replacement will be inevitable, the new program was welcomed by the Association.

In concluding, Mr. Batiuk expressed his best wishes for a successful meeting.

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA–(CP) — We're a week away from the big economic conference here in the capital between Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and the provincial premiers. Facts, figures and predictions which will face our political leaders are not very comforting.

There's almost universal agreement that Canada's economy is in the dangerous doldrums, with inflation back at us again, and the unemployed numbering themselves at closer to a million. It also appears pretty obvious that the federal government must shoulder a lion's share of the blame for our present state, no matter how hard the PM tries to spread it around at his conference next week. He certainly can't appear in public to be at fault particularly with an election expected within the next year

The line we've been getting from the PM and from Finance Minister Jean Chretien is that things will get better if only we'll stop being so down in the dumps. Optimism will get us out of the slumps, they say.

No question that a change of attitude would help, but surely there must be reasons for any change of attitude. There aren't enough jobs in Canada because the private sector of our economy has been nervous about investing money for the past five or six years. That case of nervousness can be traced straight back to the mercurial taxation policies practiced in Ottawa, which left businessmen not knowing where they would be six months hence. Not only have taxes shot out of sight for business, but there has been an ever-increasing requirement from all levels of government for business to fill out forms and report every action to government at all levels. It uses up an awful lot of energy finding your way through the red tape.

In addition, the Trudeau government has behaved as though the tax resources of Canada were a bottomless pit and has spent tremendous resources on redistributing income in Canada at the cost of productive people. In many cases we've wasted our resources, and we are now paying the penalty. it's all very well to have the world's most generous unemployment insurance system to provide grants for ethnic dancing and to finance with tax payers' dollars the activities of dissenting groups, but there are prices which must be paid for that sort of activity, and we're paying them.

You can only take out of the bank what you put into it, and we're badly overdrawn.

Dear Sir,

Through no fault of ours a county road beginning at the east gates of the Blackfoot Grazing Reserve bisects our farmyard and land.

In the interests of the life and good health of our children and dogs, it would be appreciated if snowmobilers, hunters, sightseers, cattle trucks, schoolbus, etc. using this road would be so kind as to slow to 5 m.p.h. when travelling this section of roadway (approximately two city blocks).

It is also illegal to ride snowmobiles on county roads, and if our children, or as happened last winter, our dog, ever are hurt or worse, you will wish you had been more considerate and responsible.

Thank you for your attention, and anticipating your co-operation.

Police issue 2 warnings

RCMP have issued a reminder to cattle owners that allowing livestock to roam uncontrolled on the highway is illegal.

The warning was issued after RCMP in Tofield investigated a number of accidents involving roaming cattle and as well, received complaints from a number of motorists.

With the bad weather that has prevailed recently, RCMP are urging motorists to drive with extreme caution as there has been a rash of accidents during the past week.

Dennis Valliere reported the theft of his snowmobile on Saturday. It was recovered five blocks from his home. The theft is being investigated by the RCMP.

Falkenberg criticizes proposal for farm strike

Unifarm President Howard Falkenberg said Friday that the Alberta general farm organization does not support the proposal for a nation-wide farm strike advocated by segments of the newly-formed Canadian Agricultural Coalition.

Unifarm is well acquainted with problems facing the agricultural industry and is in sympathy with farmers' need to resolve them. However, he said, he fails to see how a strike will bring the solution of those problems any closer.

By withholding produce farmers will undoubtedly disrupt the entire marketing system, but mainly at their own expense, Mr. Falkenberg thought. Produce that is ready for market becomes an added cost while held on the farm, and if there is anything farmers don't need at this time, it is more expense, the Unifarm president said.

Although disrupting the market structure may help to publicize farmers' problems, it will not contribute to a solution, he said. Denied their usual source of supply, processors will turn to other domestic and foreign sources, adding to producers' and consumers' costs.

A withholding action will lead to lay-offs in the processing industry which is geared to accept an established weekly volume. This would likely be followed by overtime costs or excessive transportation expenses when produce is turned away by the industry if forced to cope with a flood of food products when the strike ends.

Following a strike, farmers would also be faced with the necessity of re-establishing markets taken over by other producers, Mr. Falkenberg said.

Publicizing the farmers' plight to a generally uncaring public will be negated by uncertain supplies and increased costs to food buyers and will probably place the agricultural community in a less favorable light in the eyes of consumers and consumer groups.

A reasoned approach, favored by Unifarm and its allied producer groups, is more likely to bring long-term solutions to agricultural problems, than will the disruption of a producers' strike, Mr. Falkenberg felt.

FEBRUARY IS HEART MONTH

Heart disease kills more North Americans than any other disease. Are you a member of the coronary club? According to the Alberta Heart Foundation, members with the following habits may be prone to heart attacks

Your job comes first; personal considerations are secondary

Go to the office evenings, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays

Take the briefcase home on the evenings when you do not go to the office

This offers a chance to review completely all the troubles and worries of the day

Never say no to a request - always say yes.

Accept all invitations to meetings, banquets, committees.

Do not eat a restful, relaxing meal - always plan a conference for the meal hour

Fishing and hunting are a waste of time and money - you never brag back enough fish or game to justify the expense

Golf, bowling, pool, cards, billiards, gardening and other activities are a waste of time

Never delegate responsibility to others - carry the load at all times.

If your work calls for travelling - work all day and drive all night to make your appointment for the next morning

It has been suggested that we alter our food habits. Jan Warren, D.H.E. at Stettler suggests these alterations to the Basic Four Food Groups:

Milk and Milk Products - Choose low-fat milk, cheeses and all other dairy products. Ice milk and sherbet are your best alternatives on a hot day!

Meats and Alternates - Choose lean meats, preferably cheese from poultry, fish or veals Oilseeds are suitable in limited amounts and should be broiled, roasted, baked or stewed and not fried or doughnut fried.

Fruits and Vegetables - Eat plenty of celery, carrots, lettuce, tomatoes and fresh fruits Reducing your risk by eating less canned fruit or calorie rich pastries is an asset to your health

Breads and Cereals - Include bran muffins, whole wheat breads and cereals with natural roughage Buy margarines and oils which are high in polyunsaturated fats and low in saturated fats.

Beaver reeve asks City's aid on road

George Knudsalen, Reeve of the County of Beaver, attended Monday's meeting to seek support of aldermen in having a through road built from Highway 14 to the Intersection Line Road

Mr Knudsalen told aldermen that farmers from the Tofield-Holden-Ryley areas looked to Camrose for their agricultural supplies and needed a good road leading to the city

The Beaver County Reeve indicated that construction of the Ryley Road (Secondary Road 854) had started last year from Highway 14 south and would be completed to the County of Camrose this spring

He urged aldermen to contact the council of the County of Camrose to try to have that body complete construction of the road leading to the Correction Line

Mr Knudsalen told aldermen he had attended a County of Camrose Council meeting and had received verbal support from that body although he has not received anything from them, in writing

After a short discussion, aldermen agreed to ask the county to complete construction of the road

Kingman-Tofield line comes out

Canadian National Railways has been granted permission to abandon 13 miles of railway line between Tofield and Kingman, Alberta. The line is part of the 2,105 miles of branch lines that the Hall Commission recommended be abandoned by 1981

The Canadian Transport Commission said that CNR was given 30 days to remove tracks and other facilities on the line, which has not been used for hauling grain for more than a year. Grain elevators in Kingman were shut down in October 1975.

The Transport Commission has no authority over settlement of the right-of-way of the property after CNR abandons the line. Both the federal and Alberta governments have an interest in obtaining the right-of-way It is up to the CNR to dispose of the property, the Commission stated

CAPITALS GAINS

A farmer who sells property, whether it is machinery, equipment, land or buildings has to pay tax on half of any profit in excess of the property's original cost or in excess of its value on December 31, 1971, which was Valuation Day. "Such profits must be reported as profit in the year of the sale unless the owner avails himself of certain options", says Gordon Brown, a partner in the Dunwoody firm of chartered accountants in Edmonton.

If, for example, a farmer sells a piece of land for a higher price than he paid for it, he can do one of the following things.

He can pay the tax on one half of the capital gain if the gain exceeds any losses he may have incurred from other operations on the farm or if it exceeds the capital losses he is eligible to carry forward from the previous year or losses he suffered during the year of the sale from the disposal of other capital property.

He can elect to buy property of a similar nature with the proceeds that he obtained from the original sale, and, thereby, temporarily postpone his capital gain. If he chooses this option, he must invest the total proceeds from the land in another piece of land before the end of the following year.

He can purchase an income averaging annuity contract before the end of February of the year following his sale. An annuity is treated as a deduction from the capital gain, and a person who purchases one can choose to have it paid back to him over any number of years.

The advantage of an annuity is that it tends to average the capital gain over a period of years as opposed to having it all come into income in one year. The latter situation could put the recipient into a higher tax bracket than would be the case if the income were spread over a number of years.

Mr Brown says all capital gains and losses sustained during the taxation year should be offset against each other before an income averaging annuity is contemplated. He also advises farmers to be sure that they have calculated their capital gains accurately before applying for an annuity. A person who has calculated an excessive capital gain and then invests the money in an income averaging annuity may find himself paying more tax than he needs to pay in subsequent years.

In the case of the sale of a piece of land on which the owner's residence is located, there are two methods that can be used to calculate the capital gain. One is to take the total proceeds from the sale and to deduct the 1971 value of the property plus $1,000 a year for every year that the property has been owned since 1971.

The other method is to subtract the value of the residence and one acre of land from the proceeds from the sale of the whole piece of land. Then subtract the December 31, 1971 value of the land (minus the house and the one acre) from the sale proceeds to arrive at the capital gain on the sale of the land. Mr. Brown says it is much more difficult to use the second method to calculate capital gains because of the problems that can arise if the federal Department of National Revenue decides to challenge the value the farmer put on his residence and one acre of land on Dec. 31, 1971 and at the time of the sale.

Capital Cost Allowance Recaptured

A farmer who disposes of machinery and equipment, buildings or livestock in a dispersal sale, either because he is phasing out his farming operation or because he is selling off a class of assets (e.g. all his self-propelled machines) on which there is recaptured capital cost allowance, can postpone paying tax on the income he gets from the sale by purchasing an income averaging annuity. Mr. Brown points out that capital cost allowance recaptured only applies to those assets that have been depreciated by the diminishing balance method, as opposed to the straight-line method, since 1971 or which were depreciated at this higher diminishing rate prior to 1972.

Trade-in Value of Machines and Equipment

Under today's inflationary values, it often happens that the trade-in value of a piece of equipment is higher than its original cost or its worth at the end of 1971. One way of minimizing the resultant capital gain on the piece of machinery being traded in is to arrange to take a lower trade-in value, which will naturally reduce the purchase price of the new piece of machinery. Such a procedure will not effect the dealer's profit, but it will minimize the buyer's capital gain on his trade-in. However, Mr. Brown cautions that the trade-in value should never be reduced to below the cash value of the machine in an outright sale.

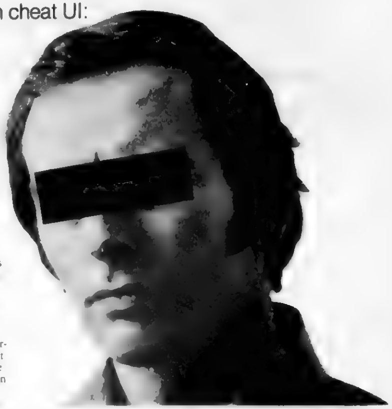
A message about those who think they can cheat UI:

"I got caught with my hand in your pocket."



What a shame.

He thought it was some sort of a game to claim a little more Unemployment Insurance than the law allowed.

Now he's in trouble. He didn't report earnings and work while getting UI.

"I mean, it was only a few bucks. You've got millions."

We don't have any money.

It all belongs to the people of Canada. And when you deliberately claim more than you're allowed by law, you're stealing from your neighbours, friends, fellow employees, employers and the Government of Canada.

It's our job to pay UI benefits fairly, efficiently and according to law. It's also our job to make sure the program is not abused by those who have little concern for their fellow citizens or the law of the land.

Getting UI when you're not available for work is abuse, pure and simple.

"Lots of people rip off UI. Why are you picking on me, and how'd you find out?"

Not so fast.

The vast majority of our claimants are completely honest. They use UI as it was intended — as a financial bridge between jobs.

And no one's picking on you. Anyone we find abusing Unemployment Insurance will be dealt with under the law.

If you're caught, money improperly claimed must be paid back in full. It could mean you pay an administrative penalty. Or you could face prosecution under the Unemployment Insurance Act, or the Criminal Code of Canada. Conviction means a criminal record.

UI employs almost 500 full-time trained claims investigators and, like any modern organization, we use new data-handling techniques to their best advantage. We match up Records of Employment with claim records to find the cheaters who don't report earnings while they're on UI.

We don't like to prosecute. We'd rather avoid that painful process by telling people that if they cheat, they'll probably be caught.

"I never really believed it was criminal."

Some people's attitudes toward Unemployment Insurance have been hard to explain.

People who would never consider shoplifting or outright robbery have been willing to hide earnings from us to get more UI benefits than the law allows. Almost as if it were socially acceptable or even fun.

Everyone knows this goes on. No one knows better than we do.

Suppose you lose your job. If you've been paying into Unemployment Insurance and you qualify, you have a right to benefits. And we will respect that right as long as you remember your obligations, too.

Your obligation is to play it straight with us. And as long as you do that, we're proud to help you.

The Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Department of Manpower and Immigration have become the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission. For a time, you'll still see our local offices identified as Unemployment Insurance offices or Canada Manpower Centres. When they're together in one location, they'll be called Canada Employment Centres.

Bible Society provides scriptures to millions

Every day in 1977, the Canadian Bible Society gave $3,000 to translate, publish and distribute the Scriptures outside Canada. This month's Bible Socity Newsletter reports that, among many other accomplishments, 42,000 copies of the newly published Today's Indonesian Version of the New Testament was distributed in Indonesia. The translation of the Bible into Somali was completed after 20 years' work. Somali is spoken by four million people, one quarter of whom are living in Ethiopia.

When the Bible Society in Kenya inserted Scripture passages in local newspapers last April and May, over 1,100 requests for additional Scriptures were received. Paper was given to print 150,000 New Testaments in Romania. In addition, 500 Bibles were sent into Romania for the Hungarian people living there. Albania is the only country in Europe where all religion is constitutionally forbidden, but the newly published Gospel of Matthew is being distributed among Albanians living in Yugoslavia.

Inside our own country in 1977, the Canadian Bible Society distributed over six million Scriptures in some 60 languages. A special Scripture selection was prepared for the Canada Summer Games in Newfoundland, and 400,000 of these were distributed in English and French. In April this year, a three-week seminar will be held on Baffin Island to help Eskimoes to revise the Scriptures into the Eskimo languages as they are spoken today.

CAMROSE CONTRIBUTION

Last Dec. 4th, in spite of the minus 40 degree temperature, Rev. Robert Grey, District Secretary for Northern Alberta presented to the Camrose rally the very interesting film, "Green Jade", telling about the Bible translation into Today's Chinese Version. The amount of $[illegible] was collected, and Rev. Grey acknowledged the receipt of this as follows:

"I personally appreciate very much all the hard work which the Camrose Branch puts forth into the work of the Canadian Bible Society, and the Camrose people and churches give fine support to the Bible cause.

"There is much that is encouraging in the way the work of the Bible Society is progressing. While many areas of the world are closed or semi-closed to missionaries today, one of the most effective ways of reaching and helping the people who live in these lands is by sending them the Word of God in their native tongue.

"In Uganda for example, despite much persecution, the Christian faith is growing and the demand for the Bible is increasing. Accordingly the Bible Society recently shipped $100,000 worth of Scriptures into that troubled country, and we have just received a request for a second shipment of the same size of God's Word. Our big problem is that of finding the money to produce the Scriptures that people want, and hence you will understand how grateful we are for the support and hard work of the people involved in the Camrose Branch."

Next week, on Feb. 13th, the 68th annual meeting of the North Alberta District will convene at McKernan Baptist Church in South Edmonton. "Green Jade" will be shown in the afternoon. Rev. David Cole of British Columbia will be the featured evening speaker as he reports on his recent tour of the Bible Society work in Africa. Everyone is welcome to attend to receive renewed inspiration and enlightenment for continued world work with God's Word.

Government in business

Governments should avoid owning businesses. If crown companies already exist, they should be either disposed of or placed at strict arms-length from government. The practice of making the government a partner in business enterprises should be curtailed, and each arrangement terminated as early as practical. A very serious view should be taken of the tendency to leave wide judicial powers in the hands of government Ministers or Cabinet, especially the power to invest large sums of money.

The reason for these views is simple. In a democracy the government should always remain as a place of appeal for the people. Government should be a sort of referee to which request for investigation, redress or modification can be made. If the government is an owner, especially an owner-manager, the chance of fair hearings is diminished. It is then too much like an appeal to a hockey referee who happens to own one of the teams involved in the game.

Canada has suddenly provided itself with a lot of impatient politicians. They seem to believe that time-tried processes are too slow; that the government itself must create the production. To manage the economy and to oversee various mandates, our governments have accumulated increasing shares of the country's wealth through taxes. Perhaps seeing an opportunity, perhaps through honorable misjudgement, governments at all levels have seen the need to manage business; then be business. Already the government of this country is the largest single employer and must bargain with the country's largest labor union.

Stimulation of enterprise through grants, even loans are one thing. State partnership and state ownership constitute something much different.

This is not to say that governments cannot run a business very well. It is to say that if and when they don't some day in the future, who is to find it out? Who is to generate the management changes? Who is to punish the wrongdoer? To whom can the people appeal?

Said in the simplest terms, government ownership and government management of business tends to anarchy at some date in future. The responsible government in Ottawa, Edmonton and elsewhere will recognize this fact and change the trend. Safeguards to provide public scrutiny, curtail Ministerial and Cabinet powers and retain government aloofness are still available. Let our leaders enunciate their determination to put them in place. Please, Mr. Referee, give the puck back to the players and get out of the game yourself.

THE GIANTS OF GOD ARE JUST ORDINARY MEN

Romans 13-13 "When God's children are in need, you be the one to help them out" (Living New Testament)

A number of years ago a large group of prominent business men met at the railway station in Chicago, Illinois to welcome a great man who was coming in by train that day. He was a giant of a man, six feet, four inches tall, bushy hair and eyebrows, he wore a walrus mustache. He spoke three languages fluently and was renowned all over the world as a statesman and a lecturer. They were greatly honored with his coming. When he came down the steps of the train photographers surrounded him and camera bulbs flashed everywhere

Suddenly, the man saw an old woman struggling hopelessly with two large suitcases and in an instant he was gone Leaving the photographers and welcoming committee behind he scooped up the woman's suitcases, found her a comfortable seat on the train, put her baggage away and then he returned to the welcoming committee That man was none else than the world famous, Albert Schweitzer, who though he was famous would not overlook a poor woman who was in need The lesson ought to be clear to all of us. Never get so famous that you do not see the needs of those round about you

This week's column Confronting Your Faith has been contributed by the Rev David Meddle of the Tofield United Church

"And love your neighbor as yourself", Matt 19:19. How often have we spoken or read these words in pride and haughtiness from our lofty, too comfortable chairs? Very few of us actually take time to think about the changes that would be necessary in our lives if we were to talk such a statement seriously

To love someone as ourselves is a highly improbable feat in a world of such rugged individualism as ours In a culture that holds up movies like "Walking Tall" as examples of the free man, it is highly unlikely that we love even ourselves.

"We are free!" we like to keep saying as we praise our system of non-government But what, exactly, are we free of" May I suggest that the freedom many value so highly is freedom to ignore our need for one another, the freedom to be lonely and prideful, the freedom to turn our backs in the name of free trade, competitiveness and initiative, the freedom to ride off into the sunset, lonely but right!

The example of John Wayne, the rugged cowboy, proud, unyielding and lonely, is probably the worst stereotype possible. Clint Eastwood is not much better No child, watching these silent, violent stars of the silver screen will learn anything about trust or emotions, or learning to live with others.

Instead our children are taught to remain detached and cool, never to betray any weakness or the enemy will move in and knife them in the back.

Well, the message of the gospel is, in the words of the cartoon character "Pogo", that, "we have seen the enemy and the enemy is us" Until we learn to love ourselves, we can never love our brother or sister We need to learn that every time we turn our backs on others, we are also turning our backs on ourselves Every hurt suffered by any people should hurt each one of us Just because acts of injustice don't affect us is not an excuse to ignore them

It is time that we stopped demanding, from ourselves, independence, control, and endurance, and started caring enough about ourselves enough to lean on one another, trust one another and understand one another As long as we remain fiercely proud and distant, we will never love ourselves, let alone anyone else

Surely it hurts if we reach out in love and get kicked in the teeth whether by spouse, parent or boss but nobody promised us a rose garden. Even though He didn't say it, Jesus might well have, if He had thought of it, "It is better to love and lose than never to have loved at all".

Amen.

MOTHERS ARE PEOPLE, TOO

Linda Howard's heart sank a little as she set the pages aside. Her son, Mark had written his "Autobiography" for his Junior High class - and although he had mentioned others in the family, he had failed to mention his mother, even once. "After all" he explained, "you're only a mother." Sound familiar?

THANKS LORD, I NEEDED THAT!

Who says that Christianity has to be dull to be authentic? Not Charlene Potterbaum, that's for sure! The book is filled with the living and hilarious testimonies of a family that has learned to see that God is in control in every circumstance, even those that seem most "out-of-it".

Tofield asks Holden to delay application

The Town of Tofield has asked the Village of Holden to delay submitting its bid to have a senior citizens home constructed in Holden.

Tofield Town Council decided to ask Holden to delay its submission until operational costs for Tofield Lodge, and the deficit of Vialta Lodge in Viking for '77 were known.

Council was responding to a request from Holden seeking support from the Town of Tofield, in its application to have a home built in the village.

Councillors named Ron Taylor as chairman of the Library Board with Mrs. Battersby as secretary and Robert Jones as treasurer and directors are Mrs J Hastings, David Moddle, R Pittet and Mrs. J Hutchinson.

Councillors agreed to a contract with Pat McAdoo for Mr McAdoo to act as caretaker of the Community Centre

Council directed the fire committee to arrange for a fire-fighting agreement with the Village of Ryley

A letter from the County of Beaver informed council that the county would pay 50 percent of the costs of operating the fire telephones.

Councillors discussed the possibility of the area south of Tofield Lodge being used as a site for a municipal complex. However, they agreed to continue to leave the property on the market.

Council agreed to the construction of a line from the underground to the existing pumphouse at a cost of $2,696. The bid was received from Servold and Podmore. Counciller Watson abstained from voting on this motion

Accounts amounting to $20,847 59 were approved for payment

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting of Tofield Town Council held on January 9th.

Mazankowski reviews graintrains, controls and unemployment

REPORT FROM PARLIAMENT HILL
From the Office of DON MAZANKOWSKI, M.P.

Parliament resumed sitting last week for what could be the final session before the next election. The government started by finally coming forward with its employment tax credit legislation after having promised it since last spring's budget. If and when it becomes law, the program will provide for a tax credit of $1.50 an hour for each new employee that a business adds to its payroll. This general $1.50 rate increases to $1.75 in designated areas of the country with higher unemployment.

In Alberta the northern portion of the province will be eligible for this higher credit with the boundary line being just south of St. Paul in our area For an exact description of where the boundary line lies contact myself or the Department of Regional Economic Expansion in Edmonton

For most of Vegreville constituency where the $1.50 rate applies, the law provides for a maximum of $2,340 claimed over a nine-month period.

However, the tax credit itself will be taxable under the proposed program. Also, the employer must assert that the job or jobs being created would not have been possible without the incentive of the tax credit The government will audit participating business to determine whether they abused the rules and heavy penalties will be imposed on any business convicted of providing false information

The jobs must be full-time and last for at least three months and all persons hired must have been referred to the employer by a Canada Employment Centre (the new name for Canada Manpower Centres) In addition to these conditions all referrals will go only to persons who have been out of work for eight weeks or more The government estimates 50,000 new jobs will be created by the program at a cost of $100 million Given the multitude of conditions and regulations attached on the incentives, however, we will have to wait and see

The other important piece of legislation introduced last week was the Government's bill dealing with the Anti-Inflation Act The government has previously announced that the controls program will be phased out starting April 14 of this year. However, the provisions in the new bill are one to prevent the use of clauses in collective agreements which call for higher pay as soon as controls no longer restrict a particular group and one ensuring that past orders of the Anti-Inflation Board remain in force after controls cease to apply.

The Minister of Finance expresses confidence that the controls program has been a success

When controls were set up in 1975 the inflation rate for 1976 was targetted at 4 percent. Our current annual rate of inflation is 9.5 percent and the controls have not been removed yet

A issue of major importance to grain producers in this ice-up is handling grain into ships at the Port of Vancouver

Earlier this month a number of factors combined to create a bottleneck in operations. At one point, at least 16 ships were line up waiting to be loaded, 10 were at the elevators, and 6 were expected to arrive at the port soon.

The situation was worsened by cold weather on the Prairies delaying grain shipments and by a strike of 13 operators of a swing bridge across the Fraser River which created a significant block in rail traffic

Now it has been revealed that on top of all this the Department of Labour is enforcing what have been called unreasonable regulations requiring unattainable standards of cleanliness.

The result is the closing of some terminals and the threat of further closures.

The matter was raised twice by Conservative M.P.'s in the House of Commons last week questioned the Minister about the under-utilization of the Prince Rupert terminal and he replied only that he was examining ways to improve it

In the meantime demurrage charges incurred by the [illegible] [illegible] These charges, which are payments made to shipping companies due to delays in delivery of grain, will, of course, be charged directly to prairie farmers A potentially even greater effect of these delays over the long run is that Canada's poor reputation for reliability in grain delivery will suffer further Major buyers such as Japan, who has many of the ships now waiting in Vancouver, may well look to the U.S., Australia, or Argentina for future purchases.

The Minister did not seem concerned that the tie-up was anything more than a temporary one. I further but the government refused to debate it either time. I questioned the Minister of Transport about the problem and asked what he was doing to see that grain movements are speeded up, especially with respect to the Department of Labour's practices

The Minister did not seem concerned that the tie-up was anything more than a temporary one. I further

Holden lodge application is receiving consideration

The Village of Holden is being considered for a senior citizens' lodge by the Alberta Housing Corporation.

Village Council was informed that AHC has received the village's application and that it will be considered in the corporation's 1978-79 budget.

Village officials were told that a decision could be expected in late March.

A decision for paving 50th Avenue was deferred by council until after the amount of the Street Improvement Grant Program could be ascertained.

Council was told that it cost approximately $30 per lineal foot for a cold mix asphalt surface along with a curb and gutter. It was estimated that the 3,800 feet on 50th Avenue would cost about $114,000.

Mayor Shykora told council that a meeting had been arranged with representatives of the College of Physicians, County of Beaver Reeve George Kaudahsen, Ryley Mayor Albrecht and himself had been arranged in an attempt to obtain the services of a doctor to serve Holden and Ryley. The meeting was held on Monday.

Councillor Mackay was authorized to attend a provincial workshop for recreation board members, to be held in Calgary in March.

Mayor Shykora and a representative of the Chamber of Commerce were authorized to attend a meeting of Town Council in Tofield on Monday to try and obtain support for the construction of the senior citizens' lodge.

Councillor Mackay reported that a meeting had been arranged with representatives of the Department of Recreation, Parks and Wildlife and the Holden Recreation Board re. the development of the Sports Grounds. The meeting is scheduled for this coming Thursday.

A request to keep livestock within the village limits was [illegible].

A bid of $200 from Wayne Schuller was accepted by councillors. The bid was for the old building located behind the Fire Hall. Four other tenders [illegible] were submitted.

Council decided to advertise the fact that dog license fees were now due with the aid to carry the amount of said fees.

Accounts amounting to $8,648.82 were approved for payment.

Minutes of meetings held on January 12 and 26, along with a February 2nd session were approved.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting of Holden Village Council held on February 6th.

Bruce quartet wins in farmers' 'spiel

Twenty-seven rinks participated in the annual Farmers' Bonspiel at the Tofield Curling Club despite adverse weather conditions.

Originally scheduled to start on Feb. 6th, the bonspiel had to be delayed until Friday because of storms and poor road conditions.

Ernie Dorin of Bruce proved to be the big winner when his rink went undefeated to win the 1st Event and the Bank of Montreal Trophy.

The other three members on the winning rink included Lorne Maxwell, Harvey Christian and Jim Tkaczyk.

Finishing second in the 1st Event was Ron Googlaen and his rink was followed by M. Shackleton and Doug Walker.

Winning the 2nd Event was the Morris Paterson foursome from Tofield. Other members of this rink included Mel Loch, Ralph Leach and S. Lauri[illegible].

By winning the second event, the Paterson rink earned the Tofield Building Supplies Trophy.

Runner-up in the 2nd Event was Jim Kallal followed by Vern Walker and Owen Sears.

Top honours in the 3rd Event and the Dr. W.H. Freebury Trophy went to the Harry Shyba quartet from [illegible].

The other three members of this team had the same last name as the skip as they were Billy, Roger and Eddie Shyba.

Holden seeks support for new seniors home

Despite the inclement weather 21 people attended the regular meeting of the Holden and District Chamber of Commerce held last week.

It was decided that a committee of three would present a brief to the Towns of Tofield and Viking as well as to the Village of Ryley requesting their support for a senior citizens lodge to be constructed in Holden.

It was further decided that a committee of six, headed by Mrs. Helen Teudemann, attend a Thursday planning exercise for Home Care, sponsored by the Vegreville Health Unit, in Vegreville from February [illegible] to July.

The Chamber of Commerce [illegible] committee presented a winning logo design which was submitted by Mrs. Mary [illegible]ck. The logo should be displayed in the near future.

The Chamber President, Mrs. Marg Hallett, stressed the need for total involvement by all interested people in promoting Holden.

In keeping with this thought, there will be a one-day workshop for all of the County of Beaver on boat decorating and parade organizing to be held in Holden on March 11th, sponsored by the Further Education Council.

Tofield rinks win in Holden

Three Ladies rinks from Tofield entered in the Holden Bonspiel on the weekend were successful in winning prizes.

The rink skipped by Gail Proctor with Ruby Bunka, Sheila Worton and Ruby Sears, won the grand challenge event, defeating a rink from Vegreville in an extra end.

Darlene Gallinger and Verna Watson opposed each other in the finals of the third event with Watson emerging the winner. Curling with her were her daughters, Collette and Wendy and Tana Shaw.

The Gallinger rink members were Linda Sears, Christine Ferguson and Pat [illegible].

Tofield girls are champions

A team from Tofield High School has earned the right to advance to Zone girls' curling playdowns.

Skipped by Melody Henriksen, the Tofield foursome defeated teams from Holden and Viking during county playoffs held recently in Tofield.

The other three members of the county championship team are Sheila Worton, Breeda Williams and Deb Price.

In addition to the teams from Tofield, Viking and Holden, a fourth entry from Ryley also competed in the single knockout competition.

Message to the Queen

Elementary school children in Alberta are each receiving copies of the province's message to Queen Elizabeth on her 25th year on the throne. Little Katherine Bos of Ryley received her copy from vice-principal Donald Kondrat.

Canada burns while Trudeau fiddles

We haven't been so shocked, nor so indignant, in a long time as when it was revealed that the Liberal party is planning its annual convention in the Parliament Buildings, with three bands and 26 bars to help make it "a convention they'll remember when they return to Moosonee."

Many of our friends missed the story buried on the eighth page of a daily newspaper last week, and it would be a shame not to give it wider exposure, so it's reprinted below.

The Hill to flow in booze, disco for convention

By DOUG SMALL

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals will turn the Parliament Buildings into a mammoth discotheque and tavern Feb. 24, for an estimated 4,000 party-goers attending a pre-election convention.

Organizers say they plan to set up 26 bars in a West Block building cafeteria, a ball room, a parliamentary meeting room and the stately Hall of Honor that separates the Commons and Senate chambers in the main Hill edifice.

"Who wants to drink and dance in some hotel basement room when you can use Parliament?" one planner quipped.

To keep delegates entertained, Liberals organizing the bash have hired three bands, and they're arranged for signs to direct party-goers through a tunnel connecting buildings on the Hill.

"We want them to remember this when they return to Moosonee," one organizer said.

The Liberal party will pay the costs of bartenders and security personnel for the Parliament Hill bash. But, as in the case of others who have used the facilities for social events, there will be no charge for overhead.

Drinks will be sold for 75 cents each, and organizers enthusiastically predict they'll make a profit on the evening.

Some Liberals involved in planning the Feb. 24-26 convention — described at a news conference last week by Senator Al Graham, party president, as "perhaps the most critical" in the party's history — have expressed concern about crowd control at the Friday night social. But rather than make it overly strict, the party has decided to turn a blind eye to gate-crashers.

There is no cover charge.

MPs are relatively free to use the Parliament Buildings as they wish, provided they ask permission of Commons Speaker James Jerome. Annual Christmas parties are given for children of politicians, the Speaker himself holds receptions at the beginning and end of parliamentary sessions, state dinners are put on for visiting dignitaries and once a year the Parliamentary Press Gallery uses the main building for a dinner, reception and show.

Still, there are apparently no precedents for a political convention social function of the size and scale planned by the Liberals. In the past, political parties have held their conventions and parties in downtown hotels.

"We wanted to give delegates something to remember," a Liberal said.

A Liberal party official said it is wrong to describe the event as "a mammoth bash." But he conceded that, with between 3,000 and 4,000 people expected, "we will be straining the facilities a bit."

Organizers of the party have been trying to convince regional delegates to the convention to delay any other party-going until Saturday night. They want the Friday night event to draw delegates together and help whip up election enthusiasm.

The social is scheduled to follow a nationally-televised convention session where Prime Minister Trudeau will answer questions from delegates.

Cost of the convention is $175 a delegate. But many of those attending will be subsidized by local riding associations. There are travel subsidies for delegates coming from remote regions. And convention fees are tax deductible.

A building is only a building is only a building, it might be argued, but most of us have different feelings about different kinds of buildings. There's a certain feeling among most people about the decorum which should be observed in their church. People have special feelings about their club rooms, their lodges, court rooms, and other areas.

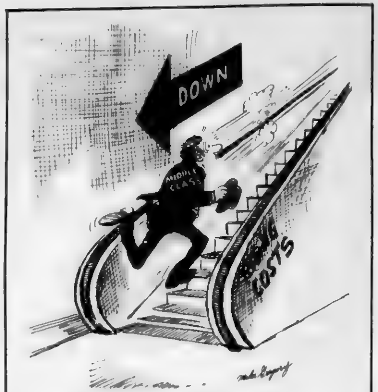
And we can't be anything but incensed over the Grit hierarchy turning Parliament Hill into the biggest bar in town. Nor do we think the Canadian people really felt they were building a convention centre for the Liberals when the magnificent Peace Tower, with its stately Hall of Honor was built. The idea then was to commemorate thousands of dead soldiers, but not of the February 24 variety.

Everybody else in the country rents convention centres; why not the Liberals?

It can only be regarded as one more indication of how out-of-touch the Liberal party has grown, how insensitive their committees are, or possibly, how utterly secure they feel.

"Something to remember" said one planner. We'll bet it won't be only the delegates, but thousands of voters who will remember one of these days. There are many Liberal supporters, as there are members of other camps, who frown on drinking in the first place, and the thought of the Parliamentary corridors running with booze will turn many of them off.

Still, maybe they're smart. Who knows? It could be their last chance.



Not Getting Anywhere

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (OF) — Frankly, I'm sick of being lectured by the Prime Minister about the need for restraint and discipline from Canadians. He talks as though it's all our fault - the state of the national unity and the economy - by the sweet Harry, it isn't

We're bound to get more of [illegible] on the economy of Mr Trudeau and the provincial Premiers, and it's beginning to turn off a lot of people, particularly when they look closely at the record.

If there's any restraint needed in Canada, the Federal government should lead the way, and that it certainly hasn't been doing.

For example, we're going to be looking at a federal deficit of close to $10 billion at the end of this fiscal year, with total [illegible]. Five years ago the federal budget was $21 billion. Annual interest payments on the federal debt will reach $5.5 billion this year, and they were $2.3 billion five years ago.

Admittedly most of the federal increase in spending goes to the provinces and to individuals for medicare, family allowances, welfare and unemployment insurance payments, but these costs have been sky-rocketing, too. This year payments to the provinces will be close to $10 billion; five years ago they were $4.6 billion. This year payouts to individuals will be $13.3 billion; five years ago those payments were $6.6 billion, and so it goes.

All this spending has given Canadians things like medicare and the most generous unemployment insurance scheme in the world, but is that really what Canadians want, or is it part of the design for a new Canadian society? All these benefits are desirable, but they have been accomplished by diverting national resources, and the result is an economy in such bad health that recovery is very much in question.

And in addition to the things Canadians have grown to expect as a right - baby bonuses, medicare, UIC payments and the like - we've spent considerable resources on bilingualism which has not only been expensive, but has also lowered the effectiveness of the federal civil service.

It's going to take far more than a few summit meetings under the glare of the television cameras to turn the economy around, and if the Prime Minister wants [illegible] pulling together, he'd better start setting an example which is designed for something more than instant public reaction just before an election.

Final rites are held for Round Hill pioneer

John Johnson, a resident of Berwyn for the past 25 years, passed away at the Berwyn Municipal Hospital on February 3, 1978, at the age of 77.

John was born June 6, 1900 at New Effington, South Dakota. In 1902, the family moved to Round Hill, where they homesteaded.

In 1927 he married Lise Pederson. They continued to live and farm in the Round Hill area until 1952, at which time they sold the family farm and moved to Berwyn where John became involved in the garage business with his sons.

In April 1976 he retired from the garage business. During his life he had served a term on the Council for the Village of Berwyn, enjoyed curling and he had been very active in the Golden Age Club since its formation. On December 6, 1977 John and Lise celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, Lise; three sons, Ken of Peace River, Dennis of Berwyn, Jerry of Florida; one daughter, Jean Harris of Beaverlodge; ten grandchildren; five great grandchildren, and seven sisters. He was predeceased by his parents, three sisters, and one brother.

Funeral services were held February 6, from the Bissell United Church in Berwyn with Rev. Warren McDougall officiating.

Honorary Pallbearers were Elmer Greff, Harry Hansen, Ron Longtin, Harlen Olson, Jim Vinson and Frank Wald Sr.

Active pallbearers were his four grandsons, Rick, Bob, Randy, and Bradley Johnson, Neil Sandboe and Tom McCorkle.

Interment took place in the Berwyn W.I. Cemetery.

The nutrient-dense potato

The potato is a fine example of a nutrient-dense food. It provides good nutritional return for the calories. Why is nutrient density important? Our need for calories has decreased by one-third since the turn of the century because we aren't as active. But in general we still need almost the same nutrients from our food as we did then. This means that in order to get all the nutrition we need without consuming too many calories, we must include many nutrient-dense foods like potatoes in our diets.

A medium-size potato (one-third pound or 150 grams) has only about 110 to 115 calories, four to five percent of the average adult's total daily intake of calories, and provides good nutritional return for these calories. For a real potato lover, a medium-size potato may not be enough of a good thing. But even a 250-gram potato (a little over one-half pound) has only about 190 calories and the larger size gives you a real nutritional bonus, too.

For a small expenditure of calories, the potato gives us a wise spectrum of valuable nutrients. The potato is one of our most important sources of complex carbohydrates. Experts say these complex carbohydrate foods are often lacking in the Canadian dietary. One reason they are desirable is that they provide good amounts of other nutrients including hard-to-get vitamins and trace minerals.

The potato, for example is an excellent source of vitamin C and furnishes several B vitamins including thiamin, niacin, and hard-to-get B6, such essential trace minerals as copper and magnesium and small amounts of iron and vegetable protein.

Arts festival plans are made

W.H. Kaasa, assistant deputy minister of Alberta Culture will present awards at the annual Beaver regional arts festival.

This information was given at a regular meeting of the Beaver Regional Arts Society which was held in Bruce.

Seven people were named to act as adjudicators, pending their acceptance. Named were Jim Wesley, F.D. Jensen, Albi Calman, Mrs. McCready, Mrs. B. Ivany, Mrs. Lena Helgerson and Jim Mc[illegible].

It was agreed that the syllabus for this year's festival had to be mailed out to county residents by Feb. 15th.

Certificates for winners in various competitions was discarded because of costs and members agreed to look at lapel badges as well as ribbons.

An offer from Bruce Senior Citizens to serve coffee during the festival was accepted.

Information for this news story was taken from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on January 17th.

William Dunham of Canoe, B.C., formerly of R.R. 2, Tofield, passed away Feb. 8, 1978 in hospital at Salmon Arm, B.C. He was born June 17, 1883 and was in his 95th year.

He is survived by his wife, Edna; one son, Donald of Chilliwack, B.C.; two daughers, Mrs. Dorothy Hamelock of Barriere B.C., and Mrs Hazel Bath of Celista B.C. One daughter, Dovena, predeceased him in 1969. He also had many nephews and nieces in the Tofield and Kingman districts.

The next 18 years were spent at Edgewood, B.C. He was forced to move on account of the flooding of the Columbia River for the High Arrow Dam power project so was assisted by B.C. Hydro in securing a home at Canoe, B.C. where he lived until his death.

CANDLE RAPESEED

Breeder seed of the rapeseed variety Candle is available from the Alberta Seed Distribution Committee to select seed growers

This is a change from last year when it could only be obtained by those eligible to grow it under contract from a rapeseed crushing plant. At that level, the crushing plant forwarded the application to the stock seed distribution committee for allocation.

Foundation and certified seed is available only under contract with a crushing plant as was the case last year.

Licensed last year, Candle is the only double zero Polish rapeseed variety available in Canada. The other double zero varieties, Tower and Regent, are both Argentine types. Double zero means that the variety has a low erucic acid and a low glucosinolate content. According to Phil Thomas, supervisor of oilseed crops with Alberta Agriculture, the crushing plants are planning to crush only double zero rapeseed this year. This means that Torch, Span and Midas will have to be sold on the export market.

The protein content of Canola is about one per cent higher than that of Torch, the fibre content is about 3 per cent lower than that of Torch and the oil content is about one per cent higher than that of Torch

In federal tests, carried out over a four year period in Western Canada, Candle rapeseed yields in Alberta were lower than those of Torch. However, according to Mr. Thomas, the majority of Alberta farmers who grew Candle under contract last year reported that it yielded as well as, if not better than, Torch

Preliminary research conducted under the Rapeseed Utilization Assistance Program indicates that Candle meal is equal to Tower meal in feeding trials Although general recommendations from the researchers show that livestock and poultry rations can be supplemented by as much as 10 per cent with Candle meal, the feed industry is still using only 5 per cent. The research findings also show that the only detrimental effect when Candle meal is used at the rate of 15 per cent in livestock and poultry rations (except laying hen rations) is a slightly lower feed efficiency

Mr. Thomas points out that anyone who grew Candle rapeseed under contract with a crushing plant last year is under a legal obligation to deliver his full production to that plant He warned that a rapeseed grower who sells Candle seed to anyone else is breaking his contract and could find himself in conflict with the law

THE CROWD MAY BE WRONG!

I Cor. 1:18 "For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness" Adam Thompson of Cincinnati Ohio invented the bath. The crowds were against it, in fact many persons seemed to be against it. Doctors predicted that it would only result in rheumatism and inflammation of the lungs. The City of Philadelphia ordered a ban on its use between November 1st and March 1st. But when all the facts were in the records proved that the crowd was wrong.

When Alexander Graham Bell invented and exhibited the telephone he was branded by many people as a fool, but again the crowd was wrong. What would we do in our present day and age without the telephone? Many other examples could be given to show how the crowd has often times been wrong.

We might well say the same thing about christianity today. Many people would have you to think that it is outdated and old fashioned But, the crowd maybe wrong and even though to them it seems to be foolishness, yet in reality it is the power of God unto salvation.

The foolish crowd never seems to be able to understand what God can do with a human life that is yielded to Him.

Confronting Your Faith

Faster Len Nation of the Tofield Baptist Church has written this week's contribution to "Confronting Your Faith", a weekly column in The Mercury sponsored by the Tofield and District Ministerial Association

Barabbas' Account of the Crucifixion

Barabbas was condemned to die No one would even question the justice of his sentence. He was a rebel against the law, a robber and a murderer And now the outraged law had laid strong hands on him and he lay bound, under the sentence of death Just before him was his only prospect, the awful death of crucifixion. He passed long hours of unspeakable agony, the hands and feet torn by great spikes, the wrists and shoulder joints dislocated by the dragging weight of his body, each quivering nerve tortured separately by unbearable tension, a burning unquenchable thirst, and all around, a jeering, taunting mob The entire horizon of his life was narrowed to that prospect

After a long night of disturbed sleep, it was daylight, the light of his last day. Now footsteps were heard, a key ground in the lock, his prison door swung open But, just as Barabbas was summoning all his brute fortitude for the ordeal which awaited him, he heard the joyous words, "Go free, go free, Barabbas; another takes your place, another is to die for you"

As Barabbas emerged into the free, glorious sunshine, the crowd was already surging to the Place of the Skull One can picture Barabbas following the crowd, striving earnestly to see the Man who was to die for him He pressed through the howling mob until he stood looking up into the face of Jesus

Barabbas knew Him. He was was the new Teacher out of Galilee, the Man whose life had been absolutely without sin, the Man who had healed the leper, the leper by a touch or a word, the Man who had fed five thousand with only five loaves and a few small fishes.

Barabbas was no theologian but he had a good understanding of the theory of atonement First, he knew that he was a guilty sinner and therefore under the righteous condemnation of the Law Second, Barabbas knew that his Substitute before him had committed no sin Third, he knew that this man was, for him, a true substitute Jesus, the innocent and holy Son of God, was bearing the very penalty which the law had decreed for him, Barabbas. Fourth, he knew that he had done nothing whatsoever to merit such love Fifth, he knew that Jesus' death for him was fully effective and complete There was, therefore, nothing for him to add to it Because Jesus was dying for, Barabbas, was living. The assurance of his living was complete the very instant that his Substitute said, "It is finished", and gave up the ghost

John MacNeill, the great Scotch preacher, well says, "My brothers, let me commend to you Barabbas' account of the atonement It is a good truth to preach on, pray on, sing on, die on In there any other account that will stand these tests"

In the same way that Jesus took Barabbas' place, He took your place Why not get down on your knees and thank Him for the life He has given you as a result of His death?

How busy are you, really?

Every person I talk to complains about being busy. Have you ever thought of what an average adult really does in 24 hours — your heart beats 103,689 times; your blood travels 168,000,000 miles, you breathe 23,040 times, you inhale 438 cubic feet of air; you eat 3.25 pounds of food; you drink 2.9 quarts of liquids, you lose seven eighth pound of waste; you speak 4,800 words, including some unnecessary ones; you move 750 muscles; your nails grow .01714 inch and you exercise 7,200,000 brain cells.

And all this activity can be stopped, never to start again, by one split-second accident!

Final rites are held for Lakeshore pioneer

Rachel Alice Schultz was born in Madrid, Boone County, on November 27, 1888.

At the age of 14 years she came north to Alberta with her parents, Nathaniel and Lenora Noland, and two younger brothers to start pioneering on a homestead in what was known later as the Lakeshore District.

In 1907, she married Walter Schultz who died in 1914, the father of her two children She was remarried in 1917 to Thomas Schultz who passed away in 1963

Always a lover of music she learned to play the organ at an early age, was organist in the little country church near the homestead.

During the last years, with her failing memory, she was still able to play and sing some of her favorite old hymns After her marriage, her life was spent in the Tofield, Ryley area until 1938 when she moved to Grande Prairie remaining there until 1948 at which time she came to Edmonton where she resided until a few months ago when she went into the Sherwood Park nursing home She became ill a month ago and passed away on January 26, 1978 at the age of 89 years

Surviving are one son, Walter of Edmonton; one daughter, Ruth Jacobson of Ryley, one brother, Lester Noland of Chilliwack, B.C.; two grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held February 1 at the Tofield United Church with Rev David Moddle officiating. Interment followed in the Tofield Cemetery Pallbearers were Darrell Ball, Henry Taciuk, Ivan Jacobson, Marvin Jacobson, Albert Kathan and Russell Schultz.

There's an open gate
At the end of the road
Through which each must go alone,
And there is a light we cannot see
Our Father claims his own;
Beyond the gate our loved one
Finds happiness and rest
And there is comfort
In the thought
That a loving God knows best.

What To Consider When Ordering From Garden Catalogues

By now many of you will have received your garden catalogues and will be wondering what flowers and vegetables to choose for this year's garden

In case you are wondering what some of the horticultural terms mean, here are some definitions:

Annuals are plants that are started from seed, either indoors or outdoors, and that complete their lifespan in one season Since annuals bloom continually, they provide a colorful display throughout the summer Their short lifespan makes them useful for filling in portions of the landscape while more permanent plantings are still immature

Biennials are plants that take two years to complete their lifespan They usually produce only foliage during their first year Often they can be made to act like annuals if the seeds are started early in the greenhouse

Perennials have varying lifespans, but most can be expected to remain in the garden for at least three years Because perennials, unlike annuals, have a limited period of bloom, a perennial flowerbed or border must include varieties that bloom at different times Only in this way can continual color throughout the growing season be ensured

Other terms frequently referred to in seed catalogues are hardy, half-hardy and tender. Hardy plants can withstand extremes of cold and drought to varying degrees during the winter and produce flowers the following summer Half-hardy plants are not able to withstand low temperatures and are often injured by late spring and early fall frosts Hence, they have to be protected in the spring and fall Tender plants are very susceptible to low temperature damage In fact, some can even be badly damaged by temperatures that are still above freezing They sho[...] fre[...]

Gun Control.
Working together to save lives.

The majority of Canadian gun owners have traditionally supported gun control in Canada.

Many of these people are sports hunters, target shooters or collectors, and others use their guns to hunt or trap in order to support their families. Generally, they are Canada's responsible gun users.

There is a small but growing group of people in Canada, however, who make criminal use of guns. For example, armed robberies increased 38% from 1974 to 1976. It is this group that the new gun control legislation will deal with through longer, mandatory prison sentences and prohibition powers.

The misuse of guns is increasing as well. Last year approximately 300 people were victims of homicide with a gun. Many in an impulsive moment of violence among family members or friends. New court-ordered prohibitions, police search and seizure powers, and higher gun safety standards will reduce the needless toll of deaths and injuries.

With the continued support of Canadians for gun control, we will reduce the criminal and irresponsible use of guns.

In short, we'll be working together to save lives.

"I own my own guns. How does the new Gun Control legislation affect me?"

If you own only hunting rifles and you store them safely, it won't affect you at all. However, certain other guns will be either restricted or prohibited. Basically, all centre-fire semi-automatics with a barrel length of less than 18½" are now restricted and must be registered. Handguns have been restricted since 1934 Sawed-off rifles and shotguns, guns with silencers and fully automatic weapons, are now prohibited, except those fully automatics registered to collectors before January 1, 1978.

"I'm glad you're getting tougher with criminals using firearms. What happens to them?"

Anyone convicted of using a firearm while committing or attempting to commit a criminal offense will be sent to prison for not less than one year and not more than 14 years. This sentence cannot be suspended. As well, maximum prison sentences for other firearm offences have been doubled.

"Is it true that police officers have new, extended search and seizure powers?"

Yes Police officers can now seize firearms without a search warrant if they consider them hazardous to the immediate safety of any individual They will then have to justify the grounds for the search to a magistrate

"I now own a prohibited weapon. What do I do?"

It is against the law to be in possession of a prohibited weapon You should contact your local police as soon as possible in order to turn the weapon over to them or to make other arrangements for its disposal Failure to do so could result in your being prosecuted

"What does safe handling and storage of guns have to do with Gun Control?"

Last year in Canada, there were over 120 accidental deaths due to the careless use of firearms. Under the new legislation, gun owners are responsible for the safe storage of their weapons. For example, if your gun is used in a criminal action, you could be charged with careless storage if such is decided in court

"My rifle is now on the restricted list. How do I register it?"

Contact your local police immediately and register the gun with them. Failure to do so is punishable by a prison sentence of up to five years

"How do you plan on keeping guns out of the hands of people who aren't able to use them safely?"

Through Firearms Acquisition Certificates and the courts' prohibition powers. The provincially administered F.A.C. system will come into effect January 1, 1979. It is designed to prevent unfit and incompetent persons from acquiring guns. The new prohibition power allows the courts to take guns away from dangerous persons.

"Why is Gun Control so important?"

Ultimately, to make Canadians safer from the misuse of firearms. Last year alone over 1,400 people were killed by guns.

Through tighter firearms control, safety education and the encouragement of responsible gun ownership and use, we will be able to reduce the level of firearm violence

"I would like to learn more about the safe and proper use of guns, and more detail on restricted and prohibited weapons. Who should I see?"

Claims Tory win for small plane owners

"A victory was won on behalf of the light aircraft owners and operators of Canada last night in Transport Committee", declared Vegreville MP Don Mazakowski "as the government finally accepted the P C Party's proposal to eliminate owners and operators of small aircraft weighing 12,500 lbs or less from the bureaucratic red tape of Bill C-4 - Amendments to the Aeronautics Act regarding user charges" Mr Mazankowski is chairman of the P C Caucus committee on transportation

"The new amendment" he continued, "means that the small aircraft owners will not have to annually deposit to the Department of Transportation a bond or letter of credit The government also accepted our demand to extend this exemption to liens and interest rates This means that the government will not be able to place a lien or seize or sell any small aircraft Also the government will not be able to charge owners and operators of small aircraft interest at an annual rate of 18 per cent as they tried to do when this bill was introduced Now they will not be allowed to charge any interest

"Virtually every aviation association who appeared before us in Transport Committee complained of being "nickeled and dimed to death" by the Department of Transport", declared Mr Mazankowski, "wihout having any say in the charges being levied against them The government does not understand the true meaning of consultation since the Minister of Transport did not even want to hear witnesses on Bill C-4 before the Transport Committee During second reading he tried to ram the bill through the House of Commons in all stages which of course would have eliminated the need for Committee hearings The P C Party denied him the necessary unanimous consent We intend to introduce amendments to the bill to guarantee a mechanism whereby the Department of Transport will automatically consult with the aviation community before any user charges are to be increased"

What To Consider When Ordering From Garden Catalogues

Chris Campbell, horticultural specialist with Alberta Agriculture, advises anyone who chooses flower or vegetable varieties from seed catalogues to check to see whether they are in the "Alberta Horticultural Guide" before submitting an order Among many other things the guide lists flower, vegetable, fruit, shrub and tree varieties that will do well in specific areas of the province It gives the height, spread and colors of the ornamentals and tells which of the recommended vegetable varieties are suitable for freezing

Ms Campbell also recommends planning a vegetable or flower garden on paper before ordering plants and seeds She says the plan should be well thought out and drawn to scale on a piece of graph paper Such things as the mature height and spread of the plants and their flowering dates (or maturing dates in the case of vegetables) should be taken into consideration when placing the various plants on the plan

Copies of the "Alberta Horticulture Guide" can be obtained from our office

Holden Sea Cadet gets 2-week cruise

A sixteen year old Holden sea cadet left Friday on a two-week training cruise to Pacific coastal waters aboard a [illegible] destroyer

Neil Shihinski, son of Mr and Mrs Nick Shihinski of Holden, has been with the Holden Sea Cadet Corps for the past three years, and was one of eight other Albertans chosen for winter training [illegible]

The opportunity to participate in Canadian Armed Forces training cruises is made available to all senior sea cadets in good standing, and is one of the highlights of the sea cadet program The cadets are taught to perform many of the routine tasks of operating the ships, and work side by side with the regular Armed Forces personnel on these cruises

Presently, there are thirty-three cadets from the Viking, Ryley, and Holden areas enrolled at R.C.S.C.C Nootka, under the leadership of Capt D Cooper of Holden, assisted by Lt Wm Taylor of Viking

Liason with the regular Armed Forces is maintained through the enthusiastic efforts of Lt B McIntosh, of the 400 Rescue Squadron at Namao, who is presently on duty at the Russian satellite search site in the N W T

Keeping Alberta switched on is no light task.
As Alberta's economy grows, so does the demand for electricity Residential customers use twice as much energy as they did in 1961 In the same time, farm use has tripled — and the population has grown by nearly half a million people To build new generating plants costs millions of dollars — about five times what it did in the 1960's
At Calgary Power, keeping pace with your needs is a commitment we take seriously Why? To ensure that Albertans and Alberta businesses light up when they switch on.

The Tofield Ryley Hwy 14 Holden Mercury

Final rites are held for Abram J. Kope

Abram Jacob Kope was born in Russia June 10, 1897.

He emigrated to Canada in 1925 and after a year in Herschel, Sask. moved to Sedalia where he homesteaded until 1934. It was in Sedalia that he was baptized by Elder Wiens and became a member of the Geneva Conference Mennonite Church.

The hungry thirties forced him to move to greener pastures at Tofield. In 1942 he moved to a farm at Ryley and a year later was married to Mary Wall. They lived on this farm until July, 1977 when the family moved to Tofield to retire.

Five years ago Abe suffered several heart attacks from which he was fortunate to recover. On Jan. 15, 1978 Abe was taken to the Tofield Hospital and the day after was transferred to the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton where he underwent the first operation, without success and two days later had to operate the second time; and on Jan. 24th Abe quietly passed away.

Abe was predeceased by his parents, Jacob and Anna (Wiens) Kosp; two brothers, Isbrandt and Henry; and one sister, Susan.

He leaves to mourn his wife, Mary; four daughters, Lynda Clausen of Calgary, Edna Lebirk of Tofield, Ethel Lenio of Edmonton, Connie of Tofield; five sons, Richard of Ryley, Carl of Ardrossan, Bernie of Ryley, Dean and Brent of Tofield; seven grandchildren; and three brothers, Jacob of Leamington, Ont. John and Peter of Tofield.

He had reached the age of 79 years.

Funeral services were held on Jan. 28 at Tofield Mennonite Church with Rev. John Unrau officiating.

Pallbearers were six nephews, Douglas Pulford, Ernest Kosp, Robert Kosp, Dave Kirk, Rodney Baergen and Arnold Wiens.

Interment took place in the Tofield Cemetery with Andrew - McLaughlin Funeral Directors in charge.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Abram Jacob Kope wish to thank all relatives and friends for their prayer support during the trying time when Abe was in the hospital. Then during our recent bereavement we would like to thank those who sent flowers, brought food, sent cards, made personal calls, telephoned, and for all the prayers for us.

A special thank you to Rev. John Unrau, the organist Bernie Baergin, the pianist Francis Baergen, to Marlene Unrau and the ladies choir and the pallbearers. Also a very special thank you to all who baked and served lunch.

Your kindness and prayers at this time was appreciated more than words can say.

God Bless you all.

Mary Kope and family.

Vikettes on 'spot'

CLC Vikettes will be placing their entire season on the line when they host Red Deer on Saturday afternoon in ACAC Basketball League action.

The winner of Saturday's game will advance to ACAC playoffs while the losers will hang up their uniforms for the balance of the winter

Vikettes and Red Deer are deadlocked in a battle for the final playoff berth in the ACAC and have split in the two games they have already played against each other this season.

For the Vikings, the season will end on Saturday as they did not make a playoff spot in the men's division.

Vikettes went to Edmonton last Wednesday night and swamped the host NAIT team by a score of 66-17.

Graftass scored enough points to single-handedly beat NAIT when she struck for 30 points while Boetger aided the cause with 14 points. Draguniok of the losers scored 10 points.

In the men's game, Vikings were walloped 103-57 with Johnson being their big gun with 13 points. Sekander of the winners hit for 20 points.

Tofield seeks housing for its senior citizens

The Town of Tofield has decided to try and obtain self-contained housing for senior citizens

At a recent meeting of town council, members agreed to apply to the Alberta Housing Corporation for a number of [illegible]

Councillor Pittet made the suggestion that council should consider establishing a main arterial roads plan to serve as a guide for future development with the town limits

First reading was given to a by-law authorizing the issuance of debentures for the purpose of extending the present sewerage lagoon

Councillors agreed to prepare a by-law for the rezoning on an area of land for use as a ready-mix concrete plant, after agreeing in principle to such a use for the land

One condition of rezoning would be that the necessary development agreement be signed

The land in question is on the east side of 51 Street, immediately south of the railway property. Making the proposal is construct the plant were Sandy Suchy and Rennie Jensen

Council tabled, to the next regular meeting, a request presented in brief form, by the Village of Holden

Representatives from Holden attended the meeting and asked council to support a Holden bid for a senior citizens lodge

Councillors were told that a benefit hockey game held for Lionel Williams had realized the sum of $725. It was decided that the Medicine Hat hockey club should be notified Mr. Williams was a member of that club and lost an eye after being injured during a prac [illegible]

Bantams advance

Tofield was an easy winner in the opening round of bantam 'C' provincial hockey playoffs

In the first game of a two-game total-goal quarter final series in Zone 2, Tofield travelled over to Vegreville where they swamped the home team 13-2

As a result of Tofield's lopsided victory Vegreville decided not to play the second game in Tofield and forfeited the series.

The local team must now wait until this coming weekend to find out who their opponents will be in the Zone semi finals

Two Hills met Lac La Biche in one elimination round series with the winner advancing to meet Athabasca in the quarter-finals. It is the winner of that latter series that will oppose Tofield in the [illegible]

The Zone champions will go on to compete in a provincial finals' tournament in Vauxhall during the latter part of March

Vikettes will be going to Calgary this weekend where they will go against Mount Royal on Friday night in a semi-final contest. The winner advances to play for the championship while the loser drops into a consolation pla yoff

Hockey league goes to wire

The Beaverhill Hockey League is going to go right down to the wire before final decisions are made

About the only two things that seem certain to this point in time are that Lamont and Mundare have both earned playoff berths while Holden and Andrew have been eliminated

Lamont leads Mundare by only one point in the fight for first place which could be decided when the two teams play in Lamont on Saturday night

Holden and Andrew are tied for seventh place and who will end up all alone in the basement won't be decided (maybe) until the two teams play in Holden in a postponed contest

Third and fourth places are still not decided although Tofield has third place by four points over Waskatenau and Smoky Lake, and have two games in hand on Smoky Lake Ryley trails both Waskatenau and Smoky Lake by only one point and have one game in hand on Waskatenau and three games in hand on Smoky Lake

Tofield is hosting Waskatenau tonight (Thursday) while Ryley is playing in Bluffton

On Saturday night, Ryley plays in Tofield while Holden travels over to Waskatenau

Games on Tuesday night will see Tofield in Smoky Lake, while Ryley plays in Mundare, and Holden goes to [illegible]

Games for two nights earlier in the month had to be postponed because of storm conditions Playing dates for these games have not been released by the league although it is expected they will be played next week to bring the regular schedule to a [illegible]

Lamont won its only game of the past week when they picked up a close 5-3 victory over Ryley

Mundare picked up three successive victories during the past week when they walloped Waskatenau 20-8 and then beat Holden twice by scores of 8-7 and 12-5

Tofield garnered two victories as they stopped Andrew twice in close contests by scores of 6-5 and 7-5

Waskatenau added two wins to the loss already reported when they edged Ryley 7-6 and got by Smoky Lake 9-7

Smoky Lake managed one victory when they trounced Holden 10-1 in a game played last Thursday night

If the league decides to play postponed games next week it is possible that Thursday night's contests will see Holden play in Tofield while Ryley would travel to Smoky Lake and Mundare would play in Andrew.

The other postponed games are as follows: Mundare at Ryley in Tofield, Andrew at Holden, and Lamont at Waskatenau

STANDINGS	GP	W	L	T	GF	GA	Pts
Lamont	21	16	5	0	170	73	32

Back on track

Last week we were highly critical of the Liberal hierarchy for planning to use the Parliament Building for their annual convention this weekend, and their plan to make it "the biggest bar in town". Three bands and twenty-six bars were planned, to minister to the varying needs of the delegates.

Even as The Canadian was being distributed, the overall plan was being reviewed by senior members of the planning committee, and we're happy to report they had sufficient sense of the fitness of things to drop this portion of the program, and to reschedule it in different, commercial, premises.

Certainly those behind the decision deserve credit for recognizing the needless problems it would generate, and for having the courage to reverse the program, after it was well publicized. We were told by one Member of Parliament there is ample precedent for such a meeting, although he agreed none had ever reached such major proportions before. On the other hand, we haven't talked to one voter who expressed anything but the gravest concern.

Not hard to take

Can anyone recall when we had such unseasonably warm weather before in mid-February? With water running down the streets and searching out drains which are covered over with snow?

The last two winters were recognized as unusually warm ones, but we can't recall temperature levels so warm. On the other hand, of course, the North-Am races in Wetaskiwin, as we recall, were practically thawed out, and had to resort to trucking in some snow, and then trying to freeze a track that would hold.

But how local it can be. Monday morning's report recorded temperatures of Plus 9 at Edson, and Minus 11 at Vermilion. That's a spread of fully 20 degrees, Celsius at that, in only a relatively few miles.

What was it they used to say about predicting the weather in Alberta? That only fools would try!

Worth saving

Those piles of old newspapers, or magazines we've been saving for all these years may just be worth while these days, at least, if you can be persuaded to add them to the scrap pile.

It used to be that scrap metals were prized by industry, and assiduously sought by buyers who collected loads and loads of it, then forwarded it for reprocessing. But a world-wide slump in the steel market is resulting in record low prices, even lay-offs.

Far, far different is the market for scrap paper, especially old newsprint. Demand has been heightened by the dramatic increase in demand for newsprint in the production of home insulation, causing the highest market prices ever for scrap newsprint, at $70 a ton, according to Outdoors Unlittered, a provincial government program.

Imagine, $70! For scrap! It's not so many years ago that you could buy the brand new newsprint for that price. But like everything else, it's a far cry from that level now.

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — The announcement of the Candidacy of Claude Ryan for leadership of the Quebec Liberal Party has been greeted with mixed emotions by the Trudeau government, because should Ryan win the Quebec Party leadership it could damage the chances of the Trudeau Liberals in the federal election expected this year.

Ryan is so well known as a federalist in Quebec by all of English-speaking Canada, and so well thought of, that he would be the ideal man in many views to move into the vacuum in Quebec as the obvious leader of federalist sentiment and thereby a rallying point for dissent with the Levesque government.

That doesn't mean that Ryan will be a shoo-in for the Quebec Liberal leadership, because he has Raymond Garneau, former Finance Minister in The Bourassa Government, and an extremely sharp politician. Garneau is highly thought of within the party, and in the membership of the party which chooses a leader, Garneau has promised that he will personally campaign in the East end of Montreal against Levesque's Parti Quebecois if he wins the leadership and he's a persuasive man

He is, on the other hand, tainted by being part of the Bourassa administration which was defeated by the PQ because of corruption and poor management of the province - whether or not he deserves such condemnation by association Garneau's appeal could be much more popular at the grass roots level in Quebec than Ryan's, but Ryan would be much preferred by English-speaking Canada, something which could well work against Ryan in Quebec.

Ryan is a man who appeals to the Quebec intelligencia, not to the man on the street. You won't find many copies of Ryan's paper, Le Devoir, sold in the East end of Montreal, and that's where the ultimate battle for the hearts and minds of Quebeckers must be fought.

Ryan's integrity is totally unblemished, for the record and through any innuendo, and that's a powerful plus. His experience in politics, though, is limited to that of being an extremely able critic - with some involvement at the upper levels because of his journalistic influence.

It's going to be a close race in Quebec for that Liberal leadership, and it still hasn't been decided which way the federal Liberals will throw their weight. If I had to bet, I'd suggest they'll favour Garneau over Ryan, simply because of the danger Ryan's win would pose to Prime Minister Trudeau in the coming federal election.

"STRANGE LANGUAGE"
Tofield, Alta.

Dear Editor:

A good crowd attended the meeting on Thursday, Feb. 16th, at the Community Hall, concerning the Cooking Lake Moraine study but, it all added up to a lot of wasted gasoline and people-hours.

The following exchange may illustrate my point:

I commented to my son, "it sounded like English they were talking until you listened."

He replied, "They weren't talking English, they were talking Government."

"CEREBRAL PALSY NAMES WANTED"

Dear Sir,

The Cerebral Palsy Association in Alberta is conducting a search for missing persons - over two thousand of them.

There are an estimated 2,700 cerebral palsied individuals in Alberta, but there is no existing record of the exact number. The CPAA wants to know who and where these people are, in order to ensure they are aware of existing services to the physically disabled, and to meet the needs of those who require services which are not available.

The CPAA feels that many cerebral palsied citizens of Alberta are unaware of the existing services that are already provided by government funded agencies. The association also believes there are further needs which are not being met in the areas of employment, transportation, education and medicine.

The Cerebral Palsy Association in Alberta conducted a preliminary survey in late 1977 and the results which are now being tabulated, indicate a wide variety of needs, particularly in the rural areas. They range from a call for more qualified teachers and an official training school to improved housing, transportation and recreational facilities.

Some of those surveyed also expressed a need for help for older persons with cerebral palsy, while others require assistance for maintaining a home. Improved facilities in rural areas and more clinics outside Calgary and Edmonton were also recommended.

In order to facilitate the Cerebral Palsy Association's search for cerebral palsied in Alberta, please urge your readers who have a cerebral palsied person in the family or who know someone with the condition to contact us.

"ENJOYING THE DESERT"

In November of 1977 Monica and Mona Knudsen left for Europe and The Holy Land to join their brother Rod who has spent the past year and a half there. About half of that time he spent on a Kibbutz (farm) in Israel.

George and Audrey Knudsen of Ryley would like to publish the following letter for friends and relatives to read. Seems as the hitch-hiking in Europe can be an educational and rewarding experience and that weather wise, it is also at this time of year, a pleasant place to be.

This is one of the many interesting letters they have received from their children. This particular one was written by Mona and she does not know it is being published

Jan 29, 1978
Kibbutz Metzer

Dear Everyone,

Mom, we just received your letter today and it was so fantastic to hear all the good news from home. You're letters mean so much to all of us, so thank you for taking the time to write them. We know how busy life can get. You said it would be your last letter to Israel but Monica and I have decided to stay on here until perhaps the end of February now. We both have made such close friends here and am really enjoying working and seeing a country as interesting and beautiful as Israel. We had planned to leave Feb 11 (when Rod plans to leave for London) but we were both so depressed with the decision as it stands now it will be a couple weeks later than that. Monica, Rod, and I just spent 7 glorious days soaking up the sun in the Sinai desert. I couldn't believe the beautiful beaches that we camped on along the Red Sea. Close your eyes and picture this: miles of white sand, palm trees swaying gently in the breeze, across the Red Sea one can see the dubious shore and mountainside of Saudi Arabia, and as far as the eye can see the landscape is that of sand, sand dunes, and mountains on the horizon.

The weather was very pleasant - about 75-80 degrees F all the time we were there. Naturally Monica turned into a brown Indian in no time at all, Rod is very brown, and I of course burnt red. We didn't do much of anything but lay in the sun all day, (which Monica of course loved) although one day we got ambitious and went on an all-day mountain climbing expedition. We managed to climb to the top of this one small mountain which gave us the most fantastic view of our camping spot. We lived in a thatched hut (rented to us by the Bedouins) for approximately 70 cents a day. We bought Pita bread from the native Beouins which we watched them make in their houses (thatched huts with sand floors). Its an interesting process as the Bedouin women usually hold a kid in one hand, mixing the Pita with the other then frying it on a piece of flat iron over a small fire. Looks somewhat like tortillas, but tastes like heaven and I bought a couple night shirts (long) from one of the Bedouins who came by selling his goods from his travelling camel store. I really could not believe that people actually live like these people do but I guess each to their own. Even though we are not sure if we'll be here till end of February you can write letters here and they will forward them if we have left.

We just had a going away party for a girl from Sweden who we were all very close to. Monica and I will probably see her while in Sweden, but its very hard to say good-bye.

Don't worry about us, we're doing fine and once again it was great to hear from you.

Love
Mona, Monica and Rod.

Safety in airport areas, used by both visual and instrument flight traffic, is the objective behind the design of a new series of more detailed aeronautical charts produced by the Surveys and Mapping Branch, the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. The additional detail deals with air traffic control of visual flying. The Vancouver chart, the first of the series of ten at a scale of 1:250,000, is available and will soon be followed by charts of Toronto and Winnipeg.

Nominations open at Olds College

Nominations for either the "Hall of Fame" or "Recognition" Honorary Awards are being accepted by the Olds College Alumni Association

The purpose of the Hall of Fame is to give recognition to and perpetuate the names of former students, staff and others, who have distinguished themselves by significantly contributing to the college and/or their chosen vocation. The purpose of the Recognition Award is to identify persons who have brought honor to the College by rendering special and significant service to it Requirements for the former are for long term broad achievements while for the latter they are normally short term and rather specific.

Since the Honorary Awards policy was established in 1969, fifteen people have been named to the Hall of Fame and six have received the Recognition Award

Deadline for nominations is April 30, 1978, in order to be considered for the awards that will be made at the Annual Alumni Reunion late in July

Mazankowski seeks rail service back

Vegreville M.P. Don Mazankowski has taken his case to restore rail passenger service on the Edmonton North Battleford and Edmonton-Grande Centre routes to the federal Cabinet Using a clause in the National Transportation Act, Mazankowski has asked the Cabinet to rescind the Canadian Transport Commission orders issued last April which resulted in the termination of the services

The request is based on the need for transportation services to meet the demand which the rapidly developing heavy oil industry in the Lloydminster and Cold Lake regions will create Also cited as the inadequate bus service currently being provided in the City of Lloydminster and other communities, and the government's policy of improving rail passenger service through the creation of VIA rail Mr Mazankowski has pursued the matter since CN originally applied to terminate the services, and feels that its importance to the future of the area more than justifies it being brought before the federal Cabinet

CULTURE SHOCK

by Margaret Joint

Left in a primitive valley to win a warring tribe of Indians to Christ Wally and Margaret Joint were plunged into a bewildering culture that both frightened and intrigued them. The Yora natives were extreme in both friendliness and fierceness.

"I am a handful of Indians embraced the Gospel and with typical enthusiasm began to scamper it among other villages.

TOO BUSY

I Kings 20-40 "As thy servant was busy here and there, he was gone" The context to these verses tells about a man who was given the duty of guarding a man in custody of the army However, he was so busy with so many other things, that the man slipped away from him

This sounds very much like the situation that so many of us find ourselves in today We are so busy that we often overlook the important things, the things for which we are responsible. Let us set up a typical scene.

The television is on in the front room, the stereo is blasting away with full volume in the far room. There are so many things I would like to listen to that I cannot keep up with them all. I know I should take the time to read my Bible and pray, but I am much too busy. I love to take my car and drive around to do some sight seeing, but when it comes to going to church I am just too busy. I love to play tennis and golf in the summer, ice curl and ski in the winter, but when the Lord calls me to do something for Him, I am just too busy. Oh yes, I love to sing to praise and shout, but when it comes to giving the gospel out, I am just too busy Someday God may say to you "I would love to let you into this heavenly home that I have prepared, but I am JUST TOO BUSY.

Confronting Your Faith

This article for "Confronting Your Faith" is written by the Rev. Leonard O. Sogge, pastor of the Kingman Lutheran Parish which consists of the Salem Lutheran Church in Kingman, the Bardo Lutheran Church in Tofield, and the Trondheim Lutheran Church in Round Hill

FEAR KILLED THE BEST

There is an ancient legend from the East that tells of Cholera riding high upon his camel. He met an inquiring Bedouin, who asked where he was going. Cholera answered "I am going to Baghdad to kill 20,000 people." The legend states that the two met again later and the Bedouin chided Cholera, saying, "You lied to me. Not 20,000 died in Baghdad but 100,000" Cholera's reply was, "I killed 20,000; fear killed the rest."

Fear, like a great octopus, is wrapping its tentacles of worry, anger and hatred around the lives of many today

The earliest fear recorded in the scriptures is that of Adam and Eve who, having disobeyed God, heard the voice in the garden saying "Adam, where are you?" and the reply was, "I hid myself because I was afraid."

Fear drives people to do strange things when they try to deny their fear and become ill. Some try to drown it by following the motto, "Eat, drink and be merry." Some try to quiet the storm of fear with drugs or liquor. Some just try to work it off

Fear comes from many sources Some of us fear being known or discovered. We fear rejection, we fear responsibility, we fear the future, we fear the known and the unknown, we fear insecurity, we fear war, we fear old age, we fear death. What a ghastly tribe to haunt our little journey here on earth!

Fear is the opposite of faith. To each fear God has directed a "Fear not." "Fear thou not for I am with thee; be not dismayed for I am Thy God", is his word for a trembling soul Someone claims to have counted and found that there are 365 "fear not's" in the Bible, one for every day of the year

A transcontinental plane was making its way from San Francisco to Kansas City. It had been an extremely rough trip and nearly every passenger on the plane had been sick. At Kansas City a mature looking lady boarded the plane. The turbulence continued but she did not become ill. A fellow passenger commented to her, "I am surprised that you do not get sick. Tell us your secret." She replied confidently, "I keep my eyes on the sunrise"

What do you do when fear knocks on your door? The Psalmist said "What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee." Face your fear; your this is a necessity Replacing your fear with faith in God is

Rev. L.O. Sogge.

The Mutual Life of Canada

How to get a home of your own on $1,000 a year.

You know all the reasons why you'd like one. So you can paint and paper to make it look the way you want it. So you can enjoy a yard and garden, a family, a pet - maybe even a blossoming fruit-bearing crabapple tree.

The problem is (or was until now) getting that down payment. The solution comes from your Credit Union in the form of a Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan or an "RHOSP".

Trusteed by the Co-operative Trust Company of Canada, the Credit Union plan can change you from a spender into a saver. (Picture the house you'd like to live in. By saving a thousand a year on this tax-deductible savings plan, you can even see yourself moving in, in a really short time.)

The deadline is March 1st.

To get in on the plan for 1977 tax savings, get your money in by the first of March. After that we'll help you save a little, gradually, until you reach your $1,000 goal.

Save up to $10,000 at a thousand a year or less. As soon as you've got what you need, you can draw it out, buy your home, and that'll be it.

For full details on the plan that has won a name for itself on past performance, talk to the Registered Savings Plan expert at your Credit Union. We'll help you get that home of your own. How you paint and paper it is up to you!

Have higher hopes with a ct Registered Savings Plan*

Sharp comparison

Several sharp comparisons were made between relative living standards in various parts of the world when the United Church joined with Messiah Lutheran and St Francis Xavier in focussing attention on the plight of underprivileged countries The display above of the United Church emphasizes that one jumbo cheeseburger in our country is enought to provide fifty pounds of peanut seed for a farmer in the Sudan Similar displays showed how a warm woollen blanket could be provided for the price of a prizza, or seven innoculations against measles for African children could be provided for the price of a plain hamburger

Sulphur, a not so secondary element

Decreased sulphur content in many commercial fertilizers may eventually cause sulphur deficiency and decreased yields in Quebec and some other parts of Canada where the soils are naturally low in sulphur

Canada's research station at Ste-Foy, Que., are cultivating alfalfa and barley in two soil types found in Quebec farming areas The researchers are adding sulphur-enriched fertilizers to the soils

Generally speaking, the sulphur has increased yields in the tests and has improved the ability of the plants to use nitrogen, potassium and phosphorous

Hitschmanova reaches target

On January 25 Executive Director Dr Lotta Hitschmanova announced the USC of Canada exceeded its campaign target by almost $200,000 in funds and gifts-in-kind. "On Christmas Day it seemed impossible to reach our $2,200,000 objective" said Dr Hitschmanova, "and then on December 26, USC miracles began to happen."

Seventy-five percent of all contributions came from the public, with the largest number of donors in Ontario and British Columbia. Returns from USC Gift Cards, designed by Montreal artist, Eva Prager, topped $47,000, the highest during the past 14 years. Grants from federal and provincial sources totalled a little over $300,000 in funds and nearly $300,000 in gifts-in-kind.

During her fall fund raising tour, covering the country from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island, Dr Hitschmanova spoke 112 times in 32 communities over a period of 67 days.

Dr. Hitschmanova paid tribute to those who had helped to bring USC overhead down by a full one percent in 1977 to a low 16.7 percent on total income. "Since 1945 we have never paid a cent for advertising, all our publicity is earned free"; said Dr Hitschmanova; "my travel expenses in the Atlantic Provinces are waived by Eastern Provincial Airways; a growing number of hotels and motels welcome me as a non-paying friend; volunteers at USC headquarters give 116 hours of their time every week; our 15 clothing export centres across the country are staffed entirely by volunteers and hundreds of thousands of envelopes are donated to the USC every year, among other gifts."

The USC is completely, or in part, responsible for over 130 projects in 12 countries. In the fall of 1977, the USC of Korea was officially registered as the Han Kuk Social Service Committee, on December 31st, 1978 all USC assets in the country will pass over to the agency's partner organization. Since 1955 the USC has invested $16 million in Korea in funds and gifts-in-kind.

"New challenges for pioneering work are constantly opening up for the USC" said Dr Hitschmanova, "and our greatest responsibility at the moment lies in the training field - to show our indigenous partners overseas how they can help themselves so that in time they will become completely independent of outside assistance. This is our immense task ahead - how to create new, basic priorities which will bring about more work, more food, better health, greater inner happiness."

Tradition lost down the rails

Prairie grain elevators, delapidated farm machinery, the clacking of telegraph keys, a family gathering in a small railway station All are a tradition evident only on the Edmonton to Drumheller railliner, which is one of two remaining passenger rail services for rural communities in Alberta

Engineer Victor Rizzuto looks back on the second longest service to Canadian National Railways (CNR) of all employees in the western district, from Wainwright to Vancouver For 35 years, February 1, 1943) he has worked out of Edmonton, mostly on the run south to Drumheller which passes Camrose each day at 6:30 p.m returning each morning at 10:30 a m

This used to be a busy line, according to Rizzuto, who can remember the first time he fired up a boiler. First built by the Canadian Northern Railroad in 1907, it is said parts of the original 65 pound steel track still remain in the Big Valley area Tested steel has [illegible] as Carnegie, built by a Scotchman after whom London's famed Carnegie Hall was named A second CNR line from Edmonton to Calgary, which has been discontinued, was built by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad.

Perhaps there is a bit of flavor in the engineer's jargon, as compared to the [illegible] dayliner Vic Rizzuto called it a railliner, which first appeared on the Edmonton to Drumheller line in 1965 after the steam engines were taken off

"We had a lot of passengers here at one time "

Mixed trains, consisting of freight and passengers used to travel the line with two or three coaches and four or five baggage cars Stops were made at every station to unload baggage and express The 181 mile trip between Edmonton and Drumheller at one time required two crews, which traded off at Big Valley, itself a terminal in the old days where the skyline was graced by three grain elevators Now just two men accompany the entire four hour trip. An even three dozen passengers on the train today [illegible]

The tradition has been replaced, for youth at any rate Rizzuto says, by the automobile. "You're young, you want to get there fast." [illegible] mit that although they get free travel on the railway, some prefer driving as it takes less time and delivers you straight to the door of one's destination The added expense is worth the added convenience

In the estimation of Conductor Fred Laschuk, many hours could be shaved off the travelling time on most runs From a mere 15 minutes off the Edmonton to Drumheller run to as much as seven hours off the continental route from Edmonton to Vancouver, which currently is a scheduled 24 hour run How is this accountable? Although the track speed of today's passenger trains averages 65 mph, with the shorter runs slowing to 50 mph, the trains were built to travel 85 While people won't tolerate the roughness at that speed, costly track maintenance is said to be the primary reason for the [illegible]

'The romance of the railroad' as Rizzuto knows it is fast becoming perhaps a horror The worst hazards of the job have to be the level crossings, according to the veteran engineer

"You really have to be on the bit when going through towns . . the drivers are bad They see this little thing coming along, they think 'I'm not going to stop for him'."

There have been a lot of changes of the route since Rizzuto started At one time a lonely trek through next to wilderness country, where not a light appeared, "now there are lights every few miles " Even the deer population has decreased Last year the engineer noticed more tracks than now

Few occurrences remain on the trip to bolster Rizzuto's memories At mile 60, near Fern, he looks for one elderly passenger who waits beside the level crossing to be picked up. The train is her only access to shopping in Camrose A flashing light is pointed out by the engineer to be a porch light signal from a familiar person who acknowledges the trains' passing every evening.

On a recent Friday night, five passengers boarded at Camrose, including one-way travellers to Donalda, Stettler and Drumheller One woman from Donalda had been up for the day shopping in Camrose. Rail provides the only access other than by car Ever heard of Scollard, Rowley or Rosy? All of three houses, a farm and a church in Scollard Apart from a dirt road, the train affords the only means of access to these communities also That night, there were seven stops between Edmonton and Drumheller Sometimes the train stops at all stations, sometimes only four or five. It all depends on how many people are travelling, to what [illegible]

This run at one time was part of a network in the area, including runs east from Edmonton to North Battleford and Grand Centre. Bus service replaced these

"I can see the east runs being taken off since there are two buses going in both directions anyway," said Rizzuto although in his estimation the east runs had been financially more successful than the now last existing CNR run

A lot of people would miss the service if any action were allowed to remove it. It's convenience is the prime advantage for most who use it, although the railliner is only maintained as a public service It certainly isn't making any money. In fact the revenue may not even cover the cost of fuel But opposition arises to every application filed to the Canadian Transport Commission CTC It is said the line is kept open by the CNR due to the lack of bus service to the connecting rural communities, despite attempts to negotiate a connecting route

The Edmonton to Drumheller line is one of the last rural lines in Alberta, second only to the Canadian Pacific Railroad (CPR) between the two major cities. Rumor has the latter to come off in April of this year Currently there is only one rural line in Saskatchewan, between Prince Albert and Regina, and none in our neighbouring province to the west, British Columbia

Will the routes ever be started again? Rizzuto thinks not. "Once they get these lines off, they never start them again."

Should the service come off, "it's the people that use it that I feel sorry for," said the engineer. [illegible] opposition to a CTC decision usually comes fast and furiously from people he's never seen use the service.

[illegible] MENT
RESEARCH RESULTS

Because of the lack of response to magnetic seed treatment that has been reported from some areas outside Alberta, Agriculture Canada's research scientists at Lethbridge have been studying the interaction of magnetic seed treatment with applied fertilizers and available soil moisture

According to Urban Pittman, who is in charge of this work, the tests showed that adequate soil moisture must be available to plants, particularly during head-filling, to enable them to respond positively to magnetic seed treatment He says that under carefully controlled conditions on the research plots, barley yields were increased from 104 to 126 bushels per acre or 21 per cent by magnetic seed treatment when both fer- [illegible] plentiful throughout the [illegible]

He reports that the average yield of barley in 70 per cent of all field tests conducted by the Lethbridge research station from 1972 to 1977 was increased by 5.4 bushels per acre In 83 per cent of the tests conducted on hard red winter wheat The average yield was increased by 2 7 bushels per acre, and in 61 per cent of all tests carried out on hard red spring wheat, yields were increased by 2.5 bushels per acre. Mr Pittman says 27 tests were carried out on barley, six on winter wheat and 24 on spring wheat, and that each test included several different magnetic treatments.

He points out that although average yields of durum and utility wheats, sunflowers and rapeseed were slightly increased by magnetic seed treatment at least 50 per cent of the time, those of fall rye, flax and oats were relatively unaffected In only two tests carried out on dryland barley and in two carried out on dryland sorghum were yields seriously depressed. According to Mr. Pittman, these situations occurred when drought conditions were severe during head-filling [illegible]

Last spring nine county seed-cleaning plants in southern Alberta magnetically treated enough barley to seed about 0.4 million acres and enough hard red spring wheat to plant about 1.3 million acres "Significant and highly profitable yield increases occurred in these and other crops as a direct result of magnetic seed treatment," Mr Pittman says

Assuming yield increases similar to those quoted above and gross returns of $1.50 and $2.50 per bushel for barley and spring wheat respectively, an additional $2 3 million worth of barley and $5 3 million worth of hard spring wheat was produced in 1977 as a direct result of magnetic seed treatment at country seed-cleaning plants in Southern Alberta "These figures", Mr Pittman explains, "do not include the additional grain production on the thousands of acres of land planted with seed that was magnetically treated by private seed-cleaning plants or individual farmers.

Big 3's Valentine Tea described as success

Once again the Tofield Big Threes' Valentine Tea was a great success. The elegant decorations, the efficiently served lunch, the interesting program, and the enjoyable background music were all evidence that a great deal of time and care had been expended on the tea.

Upon their arrival, guests signed the exquisite guest book designed and created by Connie Ray and Cindy Baker.

Everitt Norris, Ray Pittet and Shawn Sinclair opened the program with a variety of musical selections. Mrs Norris, who had graciously op- led from her work in Camrose in order to perform for the Big Three, sang "It's The Evening of the Day" and "Sunny".

Mr. Lampitt warmly welcomed everyone and called upon Carl Molengraaf who as president welcomed the guests and introduced the 1977-78 Big Three executive. Carl then thanked Mrs Fay Dodds for her patience and cooperation through the years and particularly during the students' preparation for their Valentine Tea.

Mrs Dodds, after being escorted to the stage by Social Convener Carol Erickson, was presented with a gift of appreciation by Carl and Carol, on behalf of the Big Three.

The charmingly gowned and coiffed 1977-78 princesses made impressive entrances guided by their escorts under a pink and white flowered trellis and through a simulated park scene complete with valentine trees, birdbath, and fountains. The drama of their promenades was heightened by drum rolls and other musical effects from the stage band.

Vice-president, Jo-Anne Neufeld introduced the Princesses and their escorts. They were Laura McCartney escorted by David Williams; Trudy Williams escorted by Rick Kortzman, Carmen Reimer escorted by Troy Robillard, Diane Tiedemann escorted by Doug Blakey, Dianna Stauffer escorted by Greg McLeod, and Gayle Hurlburt escorted by Ron Epp.

The 1976-77 Valentine Queen Rhonda Williams, was escorted to the stage by Carl Molengraaf.

Mr Lampitt very ably introduced Mrs. Fred Reinholt the wife of the new School Superintendent, who also was a guest of honor at the tea.

He then made a very special address announcing that this year's tea was dedicated as Big Threes Fantasy Valentine to Mrs. Grace Phillips, the lady responsible for the local tradition of a Valentine Tea.

Mrs Phillips, in a pink suit which prettily complimented the valentine theme, was escorted to the stage by Victor Roth. Janet Nahernıak presented Mrs Phillips with a valentine bouquet of red and white carnations in honor of her outstanding contribution to the Junior High School. Mrs. Phillips warmly expressed her appreciation for the dedication and the bouquet.

Next came the moment everyone had been waiting for, the crowning of the new queen.

In a hushed atmosphere Mr Lampitt handed the sealed envelope to Carl Molengraaf who, opened it, then escorted Miss Kelly Paull to her throne of honor.

As retiring Queen Rhonda placed the tiara on Queen Kelly's head and declared her 1977-78 Valentine Queen, the band played "Fanfare".

Queen Kelly expressed her sincere thanks and appreciation of those who chose to vote in her support.

She was then presented with a box of red silk roses, a rose necklace, and valentine chocolates by Carol Erickson.

A box of valentine chocolates was also presented to each of the Princesses.

Queen Kelly, summoning the ticket box drew Marvin Warkentine's name as winner of a valentine box of chocolates.

At this point, Carl Molengraaf and Carol Erickson thanked Mr Lampitt for his contributions to the Big Three and to the Valentine Tea, and presented him with a token of the Big Three's esteem.

Carl Molengraaf then introduced Mrs Gayle Munro to the guests. Mrs Munro expressed the fact that the most important group of people, the students, had not yet been thanked.

She stressed the long hard hours many of them spent after school and often extending into late evenings, which the students had expended on the tea. Mrs Munro concluded by stating her gratefulness to the students for their fantastic efforts.

Mr Lampitt expressed appreciation to Mrs. Munro for her many efforts towards the tea. Carl Molengraaf demonstrated the appreciation of the Big Three by presenting Mrs Munro with an enormous beautifully wrapped box of chocolates and a lovely handmade valentine signed by each of the Junior High students. In acceptance, Mrs. Munro again gave credit to the deserving students.

The valentine cakes rested on a beautifully decorated table done by Linda Jensen, Jeannette Jensen and Carol Erickson.

The guests of honor were called upon by Mr Lampitt to cut the cakes. Mrs. Fred Reinholt escorted by Ted Reinholt and Mrs. Grace Phillips, escorted by Victor Roth, deftly cut and served the cake.

While the cake was being passed out the band played a number of selections.

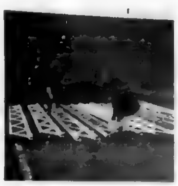
All the Griffins needed was the opportunity!



When Al and Joan Griffin saw a need for building rental space in the industrial section of their bustling home town of Cochrane, they also saw an investment opportunity for themselves and their young family. Regular lending sources couldn't help, but the Alberta Opportunity Company saw the potential in their idea. An equal partner in the venture, Joan hauled all the materials to the site in the family truck. Al erected the tubular steel frame purchased earlier from a dismantled pipe mill. The children helped with coating, painting and cleaning. Today the Griffins' idea has become a profitable reality, and a statement of their faith in the future of Cochrane. Alberta Opportunity Company loans are available to Albertans who are unable to obtain business financing from the usual lending sources to supplement their own investment. Our loans are not based on the value of your collateral or security, but rather on a careful scrutiny of your total business plan, your ability to earn a profit, and to repay your loan from that profit. If you've got a good idea, we'd like to help you to turn it into a profitable business opportunity.

Frey foursome wins Tofield ladies spiel

The Tofield Ladies' Curling Club has hosted another successful bonspiel, with 11 local and 15 outside rinks competing for trophies and prizes in the event.

In the final draws Sunday evening, Sheryl Frey's foursome from Fort Saskatchewan beat Mary Lysing from Edmonton to win the First Event. Frey's teammates were Donna Lundberg, Chris Shackleton, and Marg Luckyfasel.

Stella Komarnisky from Holden and Ruth Giroux from Edmonton placed third and fourth respectively.

Third and fourth went to Marie Wertan (Tofield) and Ben Fredricks (Bruce).

The rink skipped by Stella Brey with Mary Lazuski, Eleanor McNeill and Dorothy Newell won the Third Event, their final game being played against Ann Adamson.

Two Tofield rinks, skipped by Gloria Berg and Ellen Reinbold, were third and fourth-place winners.

Tofield gets new school

At a recent meeting of the School Buildings Board of Alberta Education, recognition of need was given for a new elementary school at Tofield.

This favorable consideration was given for a 225-student core school to include a library, gymnasium, science classroom, general classrooms and large ancillary classrooms.

The school is to be designed for the addition of portable classrooms should the need arise.

Although this is only the first of many sequential steps in the planning and construction of the school, it is a major milestone.

During the next few months, many tasks such as community meetings, architects, developing building plans, arranging for debentures, passing by-laws, obtaining approval for plans, etc will need to be attended to prior to calling for tenders.

Tofield to host playoffs

Tofield Bantams are meeting Lac La Biche this coming weekend in Zone 2 semi-final hockey playoff action.

The first game will be played in Lac La Biche on Friday night with the second game in the Tofield Arena on Saturday evening, starting at five o'clock.

Admission will be charged for this game to help defray the team's expenses and club officials are hoping for a good turnout of fans to support the team's efforts to advance along the playoff trail.

Tofield eliminated Vegreville in the opening round of the Zone playoffs when they won the first game of a total-goal series 13-3 and Vegreville forfeited the series.

Holden has big 'spiel

Art Wiebe of Vegreville emerged as the winner when the Holden Curling Club held its annual men's "open" bonspiel.

Other members of the winning rink were Duane Michaelchuk, Terry Sarafinchan and Sandy Ehaik.

The 2nd Event was won by Dave Sears of Tofield whose team consisted of Doug Walker, Randy Erickson and Mark Jones.

Lorne Maxwell of Viking topped the 3rd Event with his teammates being Gene Hill, Mike Hafso and Dan Arndt.

Beaverhill's standings are still undetermined

Postponed games are going to decide the final standings in the Beaverhill Hockey League, following receipt of results of games played during the past week.

Lamont has surged back into a five-point lead in the fight for first place, but could still be caught by Mundare. However, no one is going to catch these two teams for the top two positions.

Tofield presently holds third place but, that spot isn't clinched yet and Waskatenau has fourth place but still could be caught by Ryley.

Although eliminated from playoff contention, Smoky Lake could still manage to finish in fifth place.

Last place, which no one wants, hasn't been determined although a game between Holden and Andrew likely will decide who ends up in the basement.

Tonight (Thursday), Holden is playing in Tofield while Ryley goes to Smoky Lake and Mundare is in Andrew.

Games on Saturday will see Ryley host Mundare in Tofield, while Andrew plays in Holden and Lamont is in Waskatenau.

Ryley and Tofield will face each other in Tofield on Sunday night.

A game between Ryley and Mundare and a contest between Lamont and Andrew were postponed while a match between Mundare and Lamont was not reported and may have been postponed as well.

It is expected that playoffs will get underway some time next week.

Lamont whipped Holden 13-6 in its only outing of the past week to solidify their grip on first place.

Tofield had a split in last week's action when they whipped Waskatenau 8-3 and dropped a 3-1 decision to Smoky Lake.

Waskatenau picked up two wins against the cellar dwellers when they walloped Holden 11-3 and edged Andrew 8-7.

Ryley trounced Holden 10-4 in the only game they played.

An earlier victory by Smoky Lake over Lamont was awarded to Lamont because Smoky Lake used an ineligible player.

Court of Revision planned for Ryley

The Village of Ryley will be holding a Court of Revision next week following receipt of ten complaints from the general assessment.

Village Council decided to hold the Court of Revision in the Village Office on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and named Councillors Kope, Andrukow and Kerlee to sit on the Board for the hearing.

At a recent meeting of council members decided to return approximately $60,000 to the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation. The money was the unused portion of funds received for the new ground storage reservoir.

Councillors were told that measurements taken on January 27th indicated that the reservoir held six feet of water.

Council decided to notify Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation that the village may require an estimated sum of $175,000 by way of debentures for capital expenditures during 1978.

Equalized assessment figures were presented and councillors advised the Finance Committee to draft a proposed budget in time for the next meeting.

Council approved an increase of $50 in their contribution to Development Council 3 to 4, bringing the total to $350. Approval was given after hearing a report from Councillor Kerlee.

Council accepted a plan for the subdivisional outline for the northeast portion of the village. The plan had been submitted by the Alberta Municipal Planning Board.

Accounts due were approved for payment.

The minutes of a regular meeting held on January 23rd were approved.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting of village council held on February 13th.

Devaluation can kill us

Spokesmen for the Liberal Government at Ottawa have been trying to reassure Canadians that, on balance, devaluation of the dollar in terms of other nations' currencies may not be all that bad.

While agreeing that it will reduce the amount of money we receive for goods sold to other nations, they point out it will tend to open markets which hitherto have resisted our high-labor cost goods, and that it will also tend to discourage imports from other countries, whose currencies are higher priced than ours. By doing this, they point out, production in this country will be encouraged, since goods from other countries will come in at higher prices.

Undoubtedly devaluation was necessary because high wages for labor, low productivity and high transportation costs joined forces to make our Canadian products high priced in the world markets. But dropping the number of dollars received for them isn't going to help the producer in any way.

The most salient factor, however, and one we haven't heard mentioned by the politicians yet, is the effect it will have on the payments for all that foreign borrowing, and all that foreign investment money here. Interest payments owed by federal and provincial governments to foreign bankers will almost all have to be paid at par in the currency of the lending country, which will have the effect of dramatically increasing the interest rate we pay. Not to mention the capital repayments.

to be borrowed all the time, for our governments are living so far beyond our ability to pay that now they're even borrowing money to pay the interest. Last year, for instance, the Canadian government had a deficit of over eight billion dollars, and this year is budgetting for a deficit of ten billion.

Even as we get more and more used to larger figures, it's hard to comprehend a billion dollars . . . most of us at least think we know what a million is, even if we're really not sure, but ten billion represents ten thousand million.

It's only a score or so of years ago that the late C. D. Howe drew scathing abuse (unfair) over his derisive comment "What's a million dollars?" when in fact, they were hunting for ways to cut a hundred million from appropriations.

Today, poor Mr. Howe would probably draw sympathy if he plaintively wondered what gain there'd be in bothering to save even the hundred million. After all, when you balance that in the light of ten thousand million, it's pretty small change.

And mind you, that's just the deficit . . . not the whole budget.

Laud the BRTA

A good deal of credit is deserved by the Battle River Tourist Association, which continues, month after month, year after year, to promote tourism throughout the entire zone.

Now in its eleventh year, the group started with only a prayer of a chance to succeed, or do anything, or to build any interest in tourism. Back in those days most people looked at the situation, and wondered, "What, tourism? In Battle River country? Who'd want to come here? And what for?"

Well, over the years the group has built up several pretty impressive promotions, showing why people would want to come here, and what there is to attract them. It's promoted thousands of dollars of extra business throughout the area, admittedly by spending some, too.

Now their latest is an addition to the tee shirt craze. The new zone symbol, a Canada Goose, will be printed in bright colors on the front of the tee shirt, and stores throughout the zone will be displaying them, so that every wearer is a promoter. They'll also carry the words "Let's Do It. Stamp Around Battle River Country" tying in with Tourism Minister Bob Dowling's new idea of Stamp Around Alberta.

Most of their work is done unostentatiously, but the results are obvious to thousands of visitors to and within our zone. We need their good work for a long time ahead.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (CP) — It's strange that relations between Canada and the United States can be used so directly opposite ways for political purposes in Canadian election campaigns.

During the last couple of decades anti-Americanism has played a fairly major part in several elections — the 1963 campaign run by former-Prime Minister John Diefenbaker comes quickly to mind, so does the 1972 Trudeau campaign, which if not based on anti-Americanism, certainly employed the promise of seeking to diversify Canadian trade to lessen the U.S. influence.

So here we are on the verge of yet another election campaign, and there's nothing the government wants more than good relations with Washington to use as a string to the platform siren song-maker. Early in the year Vice President Walter Mondale spent a day in Ottawa, and the Prime Minister milked it for all he was worth.

Mondale called Mr. Trudeau "a precious asset to the industrialized democracies" and he offered several other unsolicited endorsements which would have been sufficient to make a modest man blush. Not only was Mondale photographed repeatedly with the PM and his cabinet ministers, but the gala reception held for Mondale and his wife Joan virtually turned into a Liberal party meeting.

There were a few Conservative MPs in attendance with their wives, but you could see Liberals by the score who hadn't seen Ottawa for several years. Defeated candidates in elections passed came, so did newly nominated neophytes, getting ready to carry Liberal banners in an election for the first time Mr Trudeau and the Mondales strolled through the ballroom of the Chanteau Laurier Hotel down a cleared aisle, stopping to chat and smile with the lucky few who were able to press their way to it.

Object of the exercise, and the whole visit, primarily to demonstrate that relations between the Carter administration and the Trudeau government simply couldn't be better. There's no question that cooperation between Ottawa and Washington is vital to Canadian economic interests, and the message from Ottawa in this pre-election period has clearly been that the Trudeau administration gets along best with the U.S.

Relations between our two countries have indeed been excellent during the past few years, but it hasn't always been that way between Trudeau governments and Washington. It's not too long ago that official Liberal policy was to diversify Canadian interests so we would be less dependent on the U.S. particularly in the economic field.

Don't make the mistake of concluding that just because things are warm and friendly between Ottawa and Washington right now, they'd be in worse shape if there was a change of government

Heavy oil, freight rates cited by Don Mazankowski

The Conference of First Ministers was the most prominent event to take place in Ottawa last week While nothing of substance emerged from the three day event, it was encouraging to see the general commitment of the Premiers to less government and an increased role for the private sector Energy projects were a major topic of discussion with a general agreement being reached that large-scale energy development must be initiated soon in order to meet Canada's energy needs of the next decade Of the many projects examined, development of the heavy oil reserves in the Lloydminster area was thought to be among the most promising Hopefully, the governments involved will now realize the importance of heavy oil upgrading plants not only to our region, but to Canada as a whole, and get together soon to remove the obstacles currently in the way of getting these plants built

The First Ministers Conference may have been getting the most attention but many other significant events took place in Ottawa last week On February 15th Progressive Conservative M P's conducted a concentrated question period on the subject of transportation The Minister of Transport was repeatedly questioned on the government's failure to deal with the freight rate issue promised back in 1971 The issue passionately which Mr Lang adheres so strongly was soundly attacked and the multitude of government promises for transportation made in the 1974 election which have failed to materialize were once again brought to the attention of the House

One question put to the Minister dealt with the fact that of 42 recommendations made in the Hall Report last spring, only six have been fully implemented to date In light of this less than adequate response and the fact that the Western premiers unanimously agree with Mr Justice Hall's findings some 15 Western Progressive Conservative Members have arranged to meet with Mr Justice Hall in Saskatoon to discuss his report on February 27th The significance of this meeting is underlined by the fact that not once since the Hall Report was presented has Otto Lang, or any of his officials, been in contact with Mr Justice Hall for his views on implementation of the recommendations

On the question of the delay in loading grain at the port of Vancouver which I discussed in my last Report from Parliament Hill, I seconded a motion in the House of Commons last week seeking to correct the situation The motion called for the government to take immediate steps to increase efficiency in the grain handling system by implementing the recommendations of the Hall Commission It also demanded that the government bear the costs of demurrage now being built up by so many ships waiting to be loaded in Vancouver As of February 21 there were 14 waiting with 16 more expected within a week The motion pointed-out that the cost of the government's inept performance in administering the grain handling system should not be charged to the producer Unfortunately, Liberal M P.'s refused to allow the motion to be brought before the House

As a final note, I have taken the issue of the termination of rail passenger service on the Edmonton-Grande Centre and Edmonton-North Battleford runs to the federal cabinet I have already taken the issue up with the Minister of Transport on an informal basis and also with the Canadian Transport Commission In fact, the Canadian Transport Commission agreed to re-open the case last summer but subsequently upheld their original decision Under a specific clause in the National Transportation Act any person may make a formal appeal to the Governor-in-Council, meaning the federal cabinet, to rescind a decision made by the Canadian Transport Commission. I have filed such an appeal, citing the expected development and growth of the heavy oil industry in our region, the inadequate alternative transportation available, and the government's avowed policy of restoring rail passenger service through VIA rail as reasons for reinstating service on these two runs I would be pleased to provide a copy of this appeal to anyone wishing one

SNOW JOB AND LAND FREEZE

Dear Editor:

The Cooking Lake Moraine, a dead ice glacial area twenty miles east of Edmonton is a unique region to the prairies. The Moraine itself is twenty five miles wide, with an elevation of 2540 ft. at Miquelon Lake. From Miquelon the Moraine rolls progressively north east for forty miles to an elevation of 2200 ft. at Beaverhill Lake

History records extreme fluctuation of levels in the seven major lakes of the Moraine. Their decline and restoration was a natural process.

1927 saw Calgary Power Corporation puncture the south rim of Miquelon Lake with a twenty ft. canal. The water that was released was to provide domestic and recreational support for the city of Camrose. 1929 records application by the corporation to the Irrigation Authority, approval was never granted. A letter in 1932 by Water Resources Dept ordered the canal filled.

This inexcusable action and delay left an irriversible scar on the Moraine. The water level of this fragile lake never recuperated. When the lake was deep and cool, the subsoil saturated. Miquelon. The Mother Lake was able to sustain it's self, and the Moraine. 1969 shows Miquelon 47 percent less by area and 15 ft lower than in 1927. This ever larger single body of water now exposes three depressions, which were the deepest holes, and contained 54 percent of the water she once held

Our Government reportedly shies away from natural conservation and rehabilitation of the Moraine, with minimum resistance from the North Saskatchewan River Material inconvivences along with silting and nutrient mixing are the reasons given for rejection. One pipeline of filtered water pumped to the mother lake, from which - Larry, Joseph Oliver, Minaik, Cooking, Hastings and Beaverhill Lakes were sustained, appears natural, more logical and less costly then the governments conceptual proposal of a seperate pipeline to each of the seven lakes.

The Alberta Government has centered it's concerns on the recreation potential of the area, using the possibility of a water importation scheme as a means to acquisition at this time of 12,000 acres of privitly owned land, sighting, government investment requires governmenl ownership

The Governing body will ultimatly say, "It's what they want" The 420 sq mile of deeded land in the Moraine will be frozen - is that what we want" In 1970 a number of concerned people signed a petition headed SAVE OUR LAKES They believed responsibility for the condition - Alberta's lakes was a moral obligation of Government The erosion of basic rights and livelihoods are a sacrifice to great to comprehend by landowners of the area. Government should concentrate it's efforts on the rehabilitation and not the expitation of the Beaver Hills Moraine

FRED
FRED RUSSELL OF NORTHWESTERN UTILITIES HAS SOME USEFUL HINTS ON HOW YOU CAN SAVE MONEY AND INCREASE YOUR HOME HEATING EFFICIENCY

Fred Russell, Superintendent of Customer Service.
Forced-air heating system filters are designed to trap dust and lint from the air. When they become clogged, the flow of air is restricted, reducing heating efficiency, thus costing you money.
If your furnace filter is of the disposable glass fibre type, it should be cleaned monthly and replaced at least twice a year. Permanent type filters should be cleaned and the proper commercial spray should be applied If in doubt, check with your furnace contractor, particularly before the onslaught of winter.
Besides checking your filter, be sure your furnace motor and fan bearings are lubricated according to manufacturer's instructions. Registers should be cleaned of dust and other objects. Furniture and rugs should not obstruct hot and cold air registers.
For more information pick up the free pamphlet, "Waste Watcher's Guide to Energy" at your nearby gas company office. When it comes to the wise use of energy, if you have the will, we have the ways.

Confronting Your Faith

With Co-pastor of the Salem Mennonite Church, Carl Hansen

As Jesus stood before the seat of Roman Justice to answer Pontius Pilate's questions, he declared: "My Kingdom is not of this world, if my Kingdom were of this world, my servants would fight. . . ." (John 18:36)

What kind of kingdom is Jesus talking about, and what is the nature of His kingship?

Early in the Gospels we hear both John the Baptist and Jesus announcing, "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand!" (Matt 3 2, 17) That this was a very real and a very present kingdom is demonstrated by the fact that Jesus immediately recruited a band of followers and taught them the ethics of His kingdom. (Matt 5-7). These followers were then sent out to announce that the "Kingdom of Heaven" has arrived. (Matt 10 7).

In this way Jesus started a new movement The kingdom He offered was not intended to replace the political structures of society He told Pilate "My Kingdom is not of this world" Instead, it is a kind of "counter culture" within the normal structures of society Sometimes it doesn't fit these structures It offers alternatives to the status quo that society ought find threatening. It offers a new way of living in the world, a new outlook on life, a new sense of purpose, a new motivation, and a new power for living

Jesus further explained to Pilate his purpose for coming "I have come into the world to bear witness to the truth" (John 18.37) The truth that Jesus brought is simply the truth of the Kingdom way, an alternate way to live here and now

The truth of the kingdom way is that men can again live in relationship with God This also means that through forgiveness and acceptance, man's broken relationships with his fellowmen can be restored. Kingdom citizens live at peace with God and at peace with one another, and offer peace and acceptance toward the world, though [illegible] rejected

Instead of being self-centered, Kingdom citizens' lives are centered in Christ and His truth His Kingdom becomes their purpose for living His teaching and example shape their conduct. His love becomes their motivation, and His spirit becomes their power until they become like Jesus in their character and conduct, and together with Jesus bear witness to the truth in the world

As Kingdom citizens center their lives around Jesus, they find they are drawn closer to each other as well They share their lives with each other, encouraging, correcting, advising and helping one another. Their exemplary lives demonstrate to the world that Jesus is indeed King among them His Kingdom is not styled after the world's political model, but it is just as visible and real, and much more effective

The heart of a child

Flora Macdonald delighted the heart of a seven-year-old, Colin Peters of Rosalind, at the conclusion of the program Monday night in the Viking Cultural Centre, when she autographed a book which had been presented to Colin by MP Arnold Malone in appreciation for his having played the violin during the evening's program. Conservative caucus chairman for federal-provincial relations, Miss Macdonald, who is MP for Kingston, thoroughly impressed a full house attending the fund-raising dinner as she expanded on the need for more influence in government from the regions across the country.

"Echoes along the Ribstone"

Dear Editor

"Echoes Along The Ribstone" is a book about the settling of the area surrounding and including the town of Czar, Alberta. Family histories from no fewer than 20 school districts are included. It is not only the families' vital statistics that are put in print-but the day-to-day happenings - funny, sad and full of laughter. They tell of the spirit and endevours, the wit and wisdom of people who lived there from the late 1800's until to day. The poignancy of remembering is so vividly written that it will fill the reader's eyes with tears of joy and sorrow.

The book also includes a complete account of "The Hills That Were Raised In A Day", the story of the Neutral Hills from the pen of Ivon Inmon, a talented writer who was raised in "The Hills."

A list of brands used in the area from early days to present time is in the back.

One chapter is devoted to the history of stampedes in the area and the cowboys who rode in them. The area has one of the highest per capita of rodeo participants in the world, and many of their personal stories and pictures are included.

The Czar Book Committee is responsible for compiling "Echoes Along The Ribstone" which contains 1064 pages and 2000 pictures. It is currently pre-selling for $27.50 but the price will be $30 after April 1, 1978.

"Echoes Along The Ribstone" will be unveiled at the Mammoth Czar Homecoming '78 to be held August 4, 5, and 6. Inquiring may be directed to Box 128, Czar, Alberta.

Church would accept, not endorse homosexuals

Homosexuals who intend to practice homosexuality should not be ordained as ministers of the Christian church, the United Church Observer says editorially in its current issue.

The editorial adds that a heterosexual intending to practice sex outside marriage should not be ordained either.

"The ideal for the Christian is fidelity within marriage and celibacy without," it says, "and while we do not condemn those who do not attain the ideal, persons seeking ordination should be committed to it."

The United Church has not made an official statement on homosexuality since 1962, although a division of the church has recently called for equal rights for homosexuals to jobs, opportunities and services.

The Observer says it supports that position. "Discrimination against (homosexuals) is un-Christian," it says. But it adds, "Christian ethics cannot sanction sex acts even between affectionate, committed homosexuals. And homosexual recruitment should be condemned, outright, by Church and society."

AUDITOR'S CERTIFICATE

TO: The Members of the Council

Town of Tofield

We have examined the balance sheets of the various funds of Town of Tofield as at December 31, 1977 and the related statements of Revenue and Expenditure, Surplus (Deficit), Capital Financing, and Equity in Fixed Assets for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the municipality as at December 31, 1977 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the previous year, subject to any qualifications mentioned in the Auditor's Special Report herewith.

Further, in our opinion, the additional statements and reports, when considered in relation to the aforementioned statements, presents fairly the supplemental information shown.

Dated at Sherwood Park this 13th day of February, 1978.

Ralph Manning heads regional 4-H

The annual meeting of the East Central 4-H Regional Council was held on Nov 28, 1977 at Coronation. A fairly large representation of leaders from the six districts in the Region attended. Doug Norman, 4-H Specialist, Stettler, and two D.H.E.'s, Betty Birch of Stettler and Helen Deakes of Drumheller were also in attendance.

Reports were given by the various Project Chairmen for the past year. These reports showed the year to be quite successful, culminating in Regional Days which were held July 22-23 at Hughenden.

Veronica Probst and Carol Arntzen, Provincial Council Representatives, had a busy year with the 4-H Centre, Leadership Seminar at Seebee, Battle Lake Rally and formation of the 4-H Foundation which will be handling the 4-H Centre project at Battle Lake.

Due to lack of attendance the Multi-Project Seminar at Olds for members and the Leaders' Siminar at Seebee have been cancelled this year. Nevertheless, interest in 4-H is accelerating with a lot of new clubs and new members, especially in the Hanna-Oyen area. Multi clubs seem to be gaining favor.

The Department of Agriculture has been considering dissolving the East Central 4-H Region and dividing this area among adjoining regions, to have the boundaries of the 4-H Regions coincide with the Agricultural divisions of the province. Due to considerable opposition from this Region the idea has been abandoned and the Region will remain intact.

Debbie Quast of Lougheed gave an interesting account of her experiences at the judging competitions at Agribition, where, though Horse Club representative, she won the sheep judging competition. Another Alberta representative at this event was also from the Region, Dave Longshore of Byemoor.

A Leader's Workshop will be held at Forestburg, date to be decided later. Annual Fun Days will be held as usual with the time and place to be decided. After considerable discussion it was decided the Region would participate in the Provincial Public Speaking Competition and Seminar to be held in Calgary on March 18. This will require moving Regional Speakoffs ahead and the date was set for March 12. Regional winners will also compete at Red Deer in ...

Treasury Branches to act for Alberta Home Mortgage plan

Treasury Branches will be acting as agents for Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation's Direct Lending Program and Starter Home Ownership Program (SHOP), announced W.J. Yurko, Minister of Housing and Public Works, today.

The programs, which provide financing to first home buyers, are aimed at low and middle income Albertans who would not usually qualify for mortgage monies through conventional lenders.

The Treasury Branches will work as a liaison between the applicant and A.H.M.C., from initial application, which can be made at a local office of the Treasury Branch, to final approval which comes from A.H.M.C directly.

The co-operation of the two government agencies will give rural residents more efficient service, in that the time interval between application and funding will be shorter in areas where an A.H.M.C office is not nearby.

A.H.M.C offices are located in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Red Deer and Grande Prairie, while there are approximately 105 Treasury Branch locations in Alberta.

The program also includes provision for a change to metric measures. Imperial measurements will still be accepted, but effective September 1st, AHMC would prefer to receive all documents in metric.

TIME FOR A CHECKUP

It seems to be the time of year when we visit the doctor, dentist, etc I thought you might enjoy these helpful hints from Sharon Stredwick D.H.E. at Vermilion

Children seem to spend many hours in the waiting rooms of doctors offices for a variety of usually minor ailments Despite frequency, many children still balk at the idea of going to a dentist, doctor, optometrist or even taking their dog to the veterinarian

Even well children can benefit from checkups - to the dentist at age three, to the optometrist before starting school

The child's calm or fear is partially because they are in a totally new situation (Aren't you apprehensive at times like this?) So prepare your little one Tell him/her what to expect — and make it the truth Needles nearly always hurt! You know that and so does your child So, yes, you have to get a needle, it'll hurt for a minute, but then it'll be okay

Try to be calm yourself So, when you go to the dentist you grip the arms of his chair hard enough to leave fingerprints (I do anyway) Don't grip your child's hand that hard! They'll know something's wrong for sure

Many dentists are trying novel techniques for stamping out, or preventing fear in young patients The one our five year old went to last summer told her she'd feel a little pinch (the needle) and that would put the bad bugs to sleep so he could get them out and fill her cavity To this day she says he didn't give her a needle! While the freezing took place, the dental assistant showed her the drills, etc., turning each one on so she could hear the sounds A traumatic event! No way! She's ready to go back anytime!

So prepare your child, trust his reaction, calm yourself and make that appointment if [illegible] is needed

The Commonwealth Games is having a Craft Fair July 23 - August 12 at the Centennial Library Plaza. A message about those who think they can cheat UI:

"We're not really dishonest."

Unfortunately that's not true.

It seems that some people like you think there's nothing wrong with ripping off Canada's Unemployment Insurance program.

"All we did was fail to report a little extra income while getting UI."

With that sort of behaviour you could be charged with a criminal offence. Isn't it just like shoplifting or theft?

Cheating on Unemployment Insurance is stealing from your neighbours, friends, fellow employees, employers, and the Government of Canada, all at the same time. And not being available for work when you're getting UI is abuse, pure and simple.

"How did you ever find out?"

Unemployment Insurance has almost 500 full-time trained claims investigators on staff. And, like any modern organization, we're using new data-handling techniques to their best advantage. We match up Records of Employment with claim records.

The claims investigator may be alerted by an agent at the Unemployment Insurance office, or by our central fact-finding computer system.

If there's evidence of abuse or fraud, the investigators will make a recommendation for action to either the UI agent or legal counsel.

"Well, what ar : you going to do with us?"

Depending on the seriousness of your offence, you may have to pay an administrative penalty. Or, you could be charged in a court of law under the Unemployment Insurance Act or the Criminal Code of Canada. Conviction means a criminal record. And benefits wrongly obtained must be paid back in full.

In any case, it's not very pleasant. We're not in business to prosecute people. Avoid this by dealing with us as fairly as we try to deal with you.

The people of Canada should not be cheated by an irresponsible few.

For your sake, please play it straight with us.

The Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Department of Manpower and Immigration have become the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission, for a time, you'll still see our local offices identified as Unemployment Insurance offices or Canada Manpower Centres. When they're together in one location, then they're called Canada Employment Centres.

Vikings waiting

The future of the CLC Vikings as far as the 1977-78 hockey season was still uncertain at presstime

Vikings have to await the outcome of the Red Deer SAIT series to see if they will get a chance to compete in the 4-West playoffs

At presstime, SAIT was leading the ACAC finals with Red Deer and, if they go on to win, they and Red Deer would represent the ACAC in 4-West playdowns

If Red Deer bounces back to win the series, reports are that the Vikings would be awarded the wild card berth in the playoffs

BATHING YOUR HOUSE PLANT

Do you wash the leaves of your house plants?

Alberta Agriculture horticultural specialist, Chris Campbell, says it is a good idea to wash the leaves of house plants periodically, but not those with hairy leaves like African violets, because many indoor plants retain the same leaves for several years. These leaves, like everything else in the house, collect dust. In the case of plants the dust cuts down the amount of light that can penetrate their leaves thereby reducing the light energy they absorb.

You can use various commercial products that will make the leaves of your house plant shine, but they can damage the leaves and are difficult to apply uniformly. These coatings also cut down the amount of light which can enter the leaf because the shine reflects light instead of absorbing it.

Ms Campbell suggests washing the leaves of house plants with a warm (25 degree) C weak, non-detergent soap solution. "Gently wipe the leaves with a soft cloth or sponge, and be sure to rinse the leaves well to remove all the soap," she adds. If the leaves are small, you can swish them around in the solution instead of wiping them.

The above procedure will bring out the natural lustre of the waxes on plant leaves and increase the penetration of light into the leaves, even when the plants are in a relatively dark area of the room.

The theme EDUCATION WEEK — EVERY WEEK serves to remind us that we should be involved in, and concerned with the education of four future adults every week of the year. However, the school makes only a small contribution to the total education of our children, as suggested by the following quotation -

Education commences at the mother's knee, and every word spoken within the hearsay of little children tends to the formation of character.

IN MEMORIAM

WESLAKE In loving memory of our dear Dad and Grandpa, George Weslake who passed away February 20 1961.
There is a road called remembrance
Where thoughts and wishes meet,
We take that road in thought today
To the one we cannot meet.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by his loving family.
29p-682

In memory of my husband, Helge, who passed away December 20th, 1973.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger everyday
Remembrance keeps him near.
Sadly missed, Emma.

HELGELAND In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather Berge Helgeland, who passed away March 2, 1977.
Gone from us, but leaving memories
Death can never take away
Memories that will always linger,
While upon this earth we stay.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by his loving wife Margaret, Signor, Martin and Betty, Gladys and Bill and grandchildren.

Friendly greeting

Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhauer was in Holden School on Monday as a special guest for Education Week. The youngster was typical of all of the students who had a chance to greet Alberta's representative of the Queen.

Steinhauer addresses Holden School pupils

The Honorable Ralph Steinhauer, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, was guest of honor at Holden School on Monday afternoon as part of the Education Week activities.

Guests, parents, teachers and students rose as the Honorable Ralph Steinhauer, flanked on the left by the principal, Joe Formal, and on the right by the vice-principal, John Emerson, followed by the mayor, Ole Skytora and the County of Beaver Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Keith Robson, entered the gymnasium and strode to the tables at the front.

The audience welcomed these people enthusiastically when Lyle Andrusky (the master of ceremonies) introduced each separately.

Joe Formal greeted the Lieutenant-Governor on behalf of the school, noting that as far as he knew, this was Holden's first official visit by a representative of the crown and Ole Skytora greeted him on behalf of the Village of Holden, also noting what a pleasure it was to have him join us during Education Week.

The Honorable Ralph Steinhauer is a humble man who is pleased to represent the Queen a woman "as nice as any farm or small town lady we know", and is proud of his farm background. Most of his

That Place plans nite

That Place in Tofield has planned a "promotion night" for St. Patrick's Day. The program will be held in the Tofield Community Centre with Freida Regehr as mistress of ceremonies for the evening.

Musical groups from the community and local churches will perform and a skit written by Joan Dunham will be presented. As well, a song composed by Pat Litwin will be sung.

The evening could be regarded as an opportunity for people of the community to get better acquainted with the purposes and intentions of That Place.

Memberships in the Vision Society will be available and finish will be extended to the end of the program.

Tofield backs Holden's bid for seniors' lodge

The Town of Tofield will give its support to the Village of Holden in its efforts to obtain a senior citizens' lodge.

Backing of Tofield for the village application was given at a recent regular meeting of town council.

Council decided to hold a Court of Revision in the Town Council Chambers on March 20th at 7:00 p.m. with all members of council, excepting Mayor Prescesky and Councillor Regehr, to sit as court members.

Three readings to a by-law which amended the manner of repayment on debentures, were given at the meeting.

First reading was given to a by-law to rezone certain lands for use as a mobile home subdivision.

First reading of a by-law to permit a ready-mix concrete business to locate east of 51 Street and south of the railway tracks was tabled for further information.

The matter of licensing businesses was referred to the By-Laws Committee and the Town Administrator for a recommendation.

Council decided to oppose the appointments of representatives from Beaver Regional Recreation Board to the Beaver Regional Recreation Board.

The administrator was authorized to arrange to have a census conducted in the town during 1978.

Councillor Watson was authorized to obtain prices for hydraulic compressor and for repairs to cracks in the pavement.

Mike Znak of Alberta Environment attended the meeting and outlined the Edmonton Regional Utility Study. He did not offer any recommendations regarding future water supply other than to continue with off-stream storage.

Councillors agreed to continue membership in the Rural Development Project and authorized payment of the $250 membership fee.

Fritz Van Der Kley was appointed as booking agent for the Community Hall.

The Parks Committee was asked to look into prices for a riding tractor and to bring in a recommendation at a future meeting.

The minutes of the previous meeting, held on February 13th, were approved with a few corrections. Information for this story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on February 27th.

Holden seniors plan fund drive

George Glebelhaus, president of the Holden Senior Citizens' Club, announced today that a drive for funds to build a new drop-in center will be held in the near future.

Plans are to demolish the present old store building owned by the club on Main Street and replace it with a new structure. This will require a considerable amount of money.

Senior citizens find it impossible to shoulder the burden alone and will seek donations from individuals as well as applying for government grants.

The project will give the citizens of the club an adequate facility.

Cooperation from residents is solicited in this undertaking which will also give Holden a new improved look.

Beaverhill playoffs opened on Tuesday

The playoffs are underway. Ryley bounced back to take a playoff berth, and Holden vacated the basement.

Those were the highlights of the past week in the Beaverhill Hockey League.

The playoffs opened on two fronts on Tuesday night and will resume with games tonight (Thursday) in Holden and Tofield. Both semi-final series are best of seven affairs.

In the opening games on Tuesday night, Lamont whipped Ryley 8-3 while Mundare edged Tofield 5-3.

Tofield is hosting Mundare tonight with the series returning to Mundare on Saturday, coming back to Tofield on Tuesday if a fifth game is needed, it will be played in Mundare next Thursday.

Ryley played all of its home games in Tofield during the regular schedule, but has moved to Holden for the semi-finals because of a conflict in home games with Tofield. Tonight's game is in Holden. The teams meet in Lamont on Saturday and return to Holden on Tuesday with a fifth game, if needed, set for Lamont one week from tonight.

Ryley won two of its final three games to edge Waskatenau by one point for the fourth and final playoff berth.

Ryley defeated Smoky Lake 8-3, bowed 13-9 to Mundare and then dumped Tofield 9-6 to gain a berth in the playoffs.

Holden lost 8-5 to Tofield but came up with a big 6-5 victory over Andrew to leave Andrew in sole possession of the league basement.

Lamont walloped Waskatenau 16-3 while Mundare whipped Andrew 13-4 in the only other games reported.

Results of three games were never received and it was not known if they were just cancelled or played but not reported. The games were: Ryley at Mundare, Mundare at Lamont, and Lamont at Andrew.

The final (unofficial) standings follow. No individual scoring or goal-tending statistics have ever been received by The Mercury.

Tougher times

Three aspects of our judicial system came home recently, in surveying current trends in dealing with cases before the courts.

First off, a number of judges seem slowly to be responding to society's concern over unreasonably or unwarrantably light sentencing, and are handing down verdicts which are more stern than has been the case for some time. Especially does this seem to be so in the case of some of the more brutal and physically abusive crimes.

Secondly, we were struck recently by the concern of some members of the bench for at least one of the problems caused by jails that are too full, this being the desire of the authorities to get rid, as quickly as possible, of prisoners who are causing no trouble, in order to make room. This, it was pointed out, often results in the remission of as much as two thirds of a sentence, simply by reason of good behavior, and causing no problems around the jail.

The judge, then, is left in the unhappy position of wondering whether to increase the sentence, so that the time spent incarcerated may approximate what he really had in mind, or to ignore the whole thing. In the final analysis, he can really do neither. Even though not served, the longer sentence remains on the record, to affect some future judge's judgment. On the other hand, he can't accept the picture of someone sentenced to a month being out in a week or ten days. And we don't blame him. The judge himself tends to appear ludicrous, (and relatively harmless) to the person sentenced, and the whole of society tends to lose out in building even less respect for the law.

The obvious solution, of course, would be to build more jails, to reduce the overcrowding, and to make it possible for sentences to be served out. Another would be to forbid the commutation of a sentence without reference to the judge who imposed sentence, if, of course, he is still serving. It seems almost a mockery for a jailer, or parole committee, who have not heard all the evidence, nor taken all the testimony, to override the judgment of the judge who did.

But still another way might be possible, that being to make more room in our jails. If our information is correct, Canada is one of the "jailingest" nations in the world, for some reason, although we don't think we have one of the highest rates of crime. We're also persuaded that large proportions of those serving time are some of the native people, who are "in" for nothing more criminal than overdrinking. If this is the case, and if we're facing trouble over our jails being full, why not relieve the pressure somewhat by releasing the Indians a little earlier, and retaining the whites who are in for more serious crimes to finish out their sentences.

It might do more to build respect for making the punishment fit the crime than the somewhat unsatisfactory 'system' of today does.

Expropriation

Delegates to the recent annual meeting of Unifarm took a long look at recompense offered landowners whose operations are disrupted by construction of dams for any reason.

The disruption could involve complete relocation, they pointed out, fragmentation of land, or even the need to retrain in another field of endeavor.

The general principle evolved by the delegates was that bare market value should not be the prime consideration in arriving at compensation for landowners affected, but that consideration should be extended to other variables, such as the cost of relocating, in the case of farmers completely displaced, the extra expense incurred by fragmentation, and other disruptions or the cost of training.

Monetary compensation for land taken for dam construction should be in excess of the going rate for similar land, the delegates agreed, and we heartily concur. We have long felt that other considerations should be added into the calculations needed for a dam, a roadway, a development, or whatever, the mere comparative market value is rarely adequate compensation for being forced to vacate privately held property, and there should be a formula taking into account some of the factors of relocating.

Peter Ward's Ottawa Viewpoint...

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA—(SP)—Within the next month, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau will reach his first deadline for decision on the coming election. His tactic has been to keep all his election options open, but the first option of 1978—for a spring election—will be closed to him after mid-April.

The PM deserves credit for not playing the blatant political game last fall and calling an election when the polls showed he would win. He decided then that there were things which should be accomplished before another election, and that there was little justification for sending the country to the polls nearly two years before necessary.

Now he's watching those polls with extreme care, and his party isn't nearly as cheerly a winner as it was last fall.

We can count on the budget late this winter being an election document, with tax cuts to sweeten the Liberal image, and we can count on a keener sensitivity on the part of cabinet ministers to the desires of the public.

If the economy shows some improvement by the end of the month — or if there is a demonstrated lack of public concern about the economy — then that will heighten the chances for a spring election. If national unity stays high in the minds of Canadians, it will also portend an early election.

What happens in Parliament in the last few weeks before Easter and the traditional recess will also be important. Should the government be seen as trying to paint the opposition as obstructionists then that, too, will be an indicator.

The key period will be while MPs are home for Easter holidays. They'll be assessing the mood of the people and reporting back to the Prime Minister from all across Canada. On the basis of his feed-back from Liberal MPs, and from the party leadership out there in the grass roots, Mr. Trudeau will then examine the most recent Gallup Polls, and make his decision.

He'd be a fool to call an election if the polls show Liberal fortunes still on the wane, and Pierre Trudeau is no fool.

If the conditions are right he could call an election any time after the beginning of April, but the impression here in the capital is that unless that call to the polls comes in April, we'll be wasting until this fall, or even next spring before we are asked to call the government into judgement for its per formance.

Fatalities reflect impaired drivers

A recommendation that existing impaired-driving countermeasure programs be critically reassessed and evaluated was one conclusion of a report issued recently by the Traffic Injury Research Foundation of Canada (TIRF), showing a substantial frequency of alcohol consumption among fatally injured drivers across Canada in 1976.

Among fatally injured operators of snowmobiles, at least 60 percent had been drinking and at least 52 percent of all the drivers killed were impaired.

On the basis of these data, which show the prevalence of alcohol among snowmobile fatalities, the report recommends more public information programs in this area.

Among fatally injured drivers of tractor trailers, at least 25 percent had been drinking, and all of these were impaired. It is recognized that operators of large vehicles have an excellent safety record but the implications of the current findings are serious and the report recommends further research into alcohol problems on the part of professional drivers.

Among fatally injured operators of motorcycles, at least 40 percent had been drinking and at least 29 per cent of all the driver fatalities were impaired. Unlike previous years there was a very low frequency of alcohol involvement among young motorcycle victims in 1976, suggesting that recent countermeasures may be having a beneficial impact. As suggested in a previous report, operation of a motorcycle may require considerably different levels and types of skills than driving a car, and such skills may be deteriorated more readily by even a blood alcohol concentrations. It was recommended that research be conducted into the extent to which low blood alcohol concentrations inflate disproportionately the risk of collision for drivers of motorcycles.

Among fatally injured drivers of trucks and vans, at least 40 percent had been drinking and at least 42 per cent were impaired.

Among fatally injured drivers of automobiles, at least 47 percent had been drinking and at least 36 percent were impaired.

As in previous years, males were impaired considerably more frequently than were female drivers, with only 18 percent of the females being impaired, as opposed to 43 percent of the males. One interesting finding was that over the years females have begun to account for an increasing proportion of all driver deaths. Females accounted for 15 percent of the total driver deaths in 1974, 16 percent in 1975 and 17 percent during 1976.

Younger victims were again found to have been impaired more often than were those from the older age categories.

The results of the current report showed that in 1976, at least 28 percent of the automobile drivers who died in traffic crashes were impaired by alcohol. To the extent that this statistic reflects the magnitude of the impaired driving problem, there has been little change in the past four years.

Batiuk addresses rapeseed growers

February 1, 1978

On January 26th The Alberta Rapeseed Growers' Association held their annual meeting at the MacDonald Hotel with approximately 125 members attending.

Mr. John Channon, Chairman of the Alberta Grain Commission, who had accepted the address the meeting, was called to Winnipeg to join Federal Grain officials in market negotiations. In his absence, John Batiuk, M.L.A for Vegreville, brought greetings from the Commission and spoke to the gathering.

Realizing that many people are not aware of the function of the Alberta Grain Commission, Mr. Batiuk outlined that the Commission is comprised of Mr. Channon, the Chairman, and eight farmers and himself, the sole M.L.A.

The Alberta Grain Commission was established in 1972 by Dr. Horner, the former Minister of Agriculture and given the responsibility of reviewing the aspects of the grain industry in Alberta in order to make policy recommendations to the Minister aimed at increasing the net farm income.

Mr. Batiuk spoke on the trade mission of the Premier to the U.S.S.R. and to the Middle East. Since the trip, Iran has already requested to pay the cost of transporting such samples - consisting of approximately twelve tonnes.

In the near future, the government of Iran will be sending a technician to Alberta for the purpose of learning bread baking techniques in our province.

Mr. Batiuk also informed the gathering of the various activities and his optimistic views of the Commission. The group seemed very appreciative of the involvement of the Alberta Grain Commission.

"THANK YOU"

The Editor,

Dear Sir,

1977 was a banner year for The Arthritis Society. For the first time in its 28 year history, The Arthritis Society received contributions in excess of $300,000 from the general public of Alberta.

This outstanding achievement is a sharable one. Part of the success belong to thousands of volunteers who canvassed their communities. Another part belongs to the contributors themselves. But a goodly part of the success belongs to your newspaper and other members of the print media in this province.

Because your newspaper carried our news releases and articles, Albertans on your circulation list became aware of three things: a) The Arthritis Society and its programs; b) the need for money to continue these programs; and c) how they could make their donations to support the work of the Society. Please accept our sincere thanks for the role your newspaper played in our success.

With your continued interest in and support of The Arthritis Society, we will find the answers we need to defeat the world's most insidious disease.

Gratefully yours,
Barbara Carey, (Mrs)
Director of Fund Raising.

Pink card law being abused

February 22, 1978

Dear Sir;

As Director of Student Legal Services, Campus Project, I have noted the substantial number of persons charged under the Motor Vehicle Administration Act's "no insurance" section which demands that you have a minimum of $50,000.00 public liability and property damage coverage on your car. (This is being raised to $100,000.00, as of July 1st.) This situation particularly troubles me because it is a very expensive proposition for those caught:

— $600.00 minimum fine.
— plus, the cost of towing and storage, if you want your car back.
— Plus, the cost of buying the insurance that you have to have proof of, before the police will release your car to you.

This "no insurance" section makes it illegal to own, drive or use an inadequate vehicle, positioned on a "highway". Basically, a "highway" is defined as everywhere but private property.

Although one doesn't have too much sympathy for those that flagrantly disregard the law, one's sense of justice may be outraged when these same unbending laws have to be applied to people who are only technically guilty. Such cases may arise when people who move to Alberta from B.C. or Saskatchewan are stopped and charged, because unbeknownst to them, their policies are voided because they moved out of their respective provinces.

Another situation which is potentially unfair is the situation where the person pushes his uninsured car out into the alley while he cleans his garage; along comes a policeman and tickets him. These situations and ones akin to them do not form the bulk of the "no insurance" cases, but they are by no means rare.

In short, I wish to bring to your attention, and that of your readers, that the law exists, so that perhaps they will avoid this situation in the first place by ensuring that they have the proper insurance and secondly, that this law is very arbitrary and can work considerable injustice.

Yours truly,
Pat Yeurweed

Recreation Report

Disking – A fun game of old fame

Disking is played with wooden disks on ordinary floors, in community and church halls, lodge rooms, gymnasiums, corridors, etc., without interfering with the use of the floor for regular purposes

As a social activity, disking is unsurpassed. The game has been played in some places for over twenty years

Disking is similar to curling and lawn bowling, but like those games it has its own specially interesting features. The equipment for the games is inexpensive, disks can be made anywhere a lathe is available. The game can be played at any time of the year and always in a comfortable environment. More ends can be played at disking than in curling or lawn bowls in the same time, which means more games and accommodation. The first cost for disks is the last cost and players usually buy their own or make them.

Men and women play the game together with enjoyment, though games and leagues played by the sexes separately are also successful for young and old.

In our community we are fortunate to have a community which does a lot of disking. Kinsella has disking evenings twice a week and it has become a popular activity in Ryley.

On Tuesday, March 21 a bus will be travelling down to Kinsella to observe and try out the sport of disking. There will be jack-up points at each corner and a small fee will be charged for the bus ride. If you are interested in going, it's essential you let me know by March 17 by phoning Colleen at 663-3736. If there are not at least fifteen people interested, the bus will be cancelled.

TEEN CLUB – RYLEY!!

If you are interested in becoming part of a teen club, now's your chance! A teen club is being organized in Ryley by and for activities as teen dances, slave auctions, movies and other teen activities.

For more information contact Jean Kast at 663-3531. A meeting will be held March 13 8:00 p.m. at the Viking School.

Holden school . . .

talk was devoted to the duties of the Lieutenant-Governor but he often found it time to praise the rural people, their schools and their way of life.

All the elementary children received scrolls to commemorate the silver Jubilee of Queen Elizabeth II and had a chance to shake hands with [illegible] Lieutenant-Governor.

Russell Gerbelhaus, a grade six student whose essay was chosen as the best entry from Holden School for the Education Week Essay Contest, presented the Lieutenant-Governor with a plaque commemorating his visit to Holden School.

Before assembling in the gymnasium, classes were conducted as usual from 12:40 to 1:30 p.m. but, enrollment increased as some parents slipped in to observe the lessons. Which room to visit was a problem as most parents have more than one child attending.

The grade nine band, under the able leadership of Eileen Hartman, opened the program in the gymnasium by playing "O Canada" and later provided a varied program of musical selections. "Royal March"; "The Mc Kangaroo Down, Sport", and five others were among their repertoire. This is the third year these young people have been working as a group and their music was enjoyed by guests of all ages.

Lunch was served at the close of the program. Many students had to rush to catch their busses but those students and adults who stayed, were able to chat with the Lieutenant Governor.

Changes in Diet Urged

By improving your eating habits, you can help reduce the chances of having a heart attack.

According to Food and Your Heart, a pamphlet developed by Health and Welfare Canada, diet may be a crucial element in the prevention of heart disease. Based on the recommendations of the federal Committee on Diet and Cardiovascular disease, the pamphlet urges Canadians to decrease their consumption of foods high in calories, sugar and salt and to increase their consumption of fruits, vegetables and whole grain cereals.

Heart disease now accounts for half of all the deaths in this country, it is the major cause of death in middle aged males and costs the Canadian economy two billion dollars each year.

Although such risk factors as increasing age and heredity cannot be changed, many factors contributing to heart disease are linked to the individual's lifestyle. For example, inappropriate dietary habits, smoking, immoderate alcohol consumption and lack of physical fitness all increase the chance of heart attack.

Food and Your Heart outlines a number of ways that you can change your diet to reduce the risks associated with heart disease. In general it suggests that you should:

– Eat less fat, but be sure to include polyunsaturated vegetable oils. Fat intake should be reduced to 35 per cent of your calories, with a corresponding increased intake in carbohydrates. (The average Canadian man can lower his calories from fat to this level, simply by trimming all the fat off a pork chop.)

Polyunsaturated fats tend to lower blood cholesterol, and are made up of polyunsaturated fatty acids, the most important of which is linoleic acid. Good sources of linoleic acid include salad oils from corn, safflower, sunflower and soy and some margarines containing these oils. Only those margarines having a label declaration of polyunsaturated fatty acid content are reliable sources of linoleic acid.

– Eat more vegetables, fruits and whole grain breads.

– Balance your calories with physical activity to maintain ideal weight. Obesity is another risk factor contributing to heart disease, middle-aged men who are slightly over-weight have about three times the risk of a fatal heart attack as those of normal weight.

– Eat more fish or poultry in place of meat.

– Watch your salt intake. Limit the use of foods that are obviously highly salted and reduce the salt in cooking and at the table.

– Use alcohol in moderation. Alcoholic beverages are high in calories, may be high in sugar, and often displace more nutritious food.

These guidelines apply to all people over two years of age, but are not intended to replace specific or therapeutic diets prescribed by a physician for treatment of a particular disease or condition. Follow your physician's advice if you have heart disease or if your family has a history of heart disease.

The pamphlet Food and Your Heart is available from your local health unit or the provincial health department.

A film "Circus Boy", started the evening off.

Many slight of hand tricks were performed by Prof Reigdad nom de plume of a good friend of the John Vandermeer family. He kept his audience in suspense and each is still wondering how a glass of milk for instance can be the source of a lovely bouquet of flowers, after being poured into a newspaper cone.

Next on the program shown and much enjoyed followed by lunch, served by the ladies.

Tickets are going well for the St. Patrick's Dance to be on Saturday. Supper will be served at 11 p.m.

Marie Williams of Edmonton spent the weekend with her parents, Betty and Keith and brothers, David and Kevin. She also attended the Family Night.

Theresa Rogner is at home from work for awhile suffering from a back ailment.

Norma Hughes of Wetaskiwin spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kleinschroth.

There were eight tables at the whist drive held at the hall on Friday evening. Winners were, ladies first, Wayne Kleinschroth, playing as a lady; second, Louise Kyle, consolation, Jean Kleinschroth.

Gents first, Dale Winder; second, Buddy Winder; consolation, Kevin O'Neill.

Betty Williams and Margaret Paterson were convenors. Lunch was enjoyed by all.

The last whist drive will be held on March 17th.

The February meeting of the Crafts Centre was held on February 27th. Frank Dunham was welcomed back after a long absence. Glenn Ferguson, president, reported that he had fired three kiln loads of pottery recently. Classes continue each Tuesday evening.

A spring clean-up was proposed. Plans are going ahead for the spring bazaar on April 22nd. Lillian Berreckoh was lunch hostess.

Margaret Williams of Edmonton was a visitor last Tuesday with Connie and Chester Leach.

Jean Ferguson, Margaret Paterson, Jean Kleinschroth, Betty Williams and Dolly Roddick attended the World Day of Prayer in the Bardo Lutheran Church in Tofield on Friday afternoon.

Tofield hosts Viking in Zone bantam finals

Tofield Bantams have advanced to the Zone 2 bantam "C" hockey finals

Tofield played in Viking last night (Wednesday) in the opening game of the Zone finals with the second game scheduled for the Tofield Arena on Monday night, starting at eight o'clock

The winner of this series not only wins the Zone championship, but also earns the right to play in the provincial championship tournament which is scheduled to be held in Vauxhall on March 24-26.

Eight teams, representing different Zones throughout the province will compete in the provincial tournament. There are seven Zones competing for playoff berths and Vauxhall is an automatic entry

Tofield had to come from behind to win its total-goal semi-final series with Lac La Biche

The two teams tangled in Lac La Biche on Friday night and, when the game ended, the home team had won 4-2. Scoring details of this game were not available

Before a good crowd on Saturday night, Tofield rebounded to score a 5-1 victory to take the total goal scores 7-5 to advance to the Zone finals

Schacher scored twice to pace the Tofield attack while single markers were added by Blakey, Henriksen and Olson

Earlier in the playoffs, Tofield had whipped Vegreville in the opening round, beating Vegreville so bad that only one game was needed

Team officials are urging fans to visit the arena on Monday night to support the squad in its efforts to advance to the provincial playoff tournament.

Tractor pulls to be expanded

Bob Lees and Allan Zimmerman attended the U.S. National Tractor Pull in February, held in Indianapolis, Indiana, and upon their return reported to a meeting of the Camrose Agricultural Society's tractor pull committee on Feb 28th.

The national meet included all of the top modified tractor pullers from the U.S. and Canada, they said, and although strictly modified competed, much knowledge was gained which can be applied to the local championships at the Camrose Fair

At the local fair, several interesting events will take place this year, including the return of the old-style horse pulling contests which were revived last year, and the addition of four wheel drive truck competitions.

There will also be antique tractor demonstrations, and the modified tractors will be back with regular weight class competitions

The stock tractors and modifieds will run in six weight categories, with the additions of a 6,000 pound class in stock tractors this year

Prize money has been raised for 1978 as well, says the committee, and the local championships will run much more smoothly this year, as much knowledge has been gained in running past competitions.

Machines monitor Souris River quality

Two automatic monitors that incorporate the latest technology for detecting water pollution are now standing guard at border points on the Souris River in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The $25,000 monitors, the first of their kind in North America, have been installed by the federal Inland Waters Directorate to detect any effects on water quality that may be caused by the proposed Garrison Diversion project.

The project would divert water from the Missouri River system to irrigate about 250,000 acres of agricultural land in North Dakota.

According to a report by the International Joint Commission, the project would pollute Canadian waters by discharging agricultural run-off containing heavy loads of salts into the Souris and Red rivers.

The project was halted in February by U.S. President Jimmy Carter, pending a review of its economic value by his administration.

Ken Reid, Chief of Water Quality for Environment Canada's Inland Waters Directorate in the prairie provinces, said one of the automatic monitors is located near Coutts, Manitoba, where the Souris returns to Canada. The other has been installed near Glen Ewen, Saskatchewan to monitor the river before it enters the United States.

Cleaning down-filled jackets

If you do not have a dry cleaner that you know does a good job, you would probably be wise to launder your family's down-filled jackets rather than have them cleaned.

Charlene Lesson, Alberta Agriculture's district home economist at Red Deer, says that if the wrong solvent is used on down-filled jackets it could strip the natural lanolin from the down, leaving it dry and brittle. The wrong solvent could also fill up the stems of the feathers which would make it impossible to dry the jacket.

If you decide to launder your down-filled jacket, first check the seams to make sure there are no small holes or rips because you could end up with a wash-tub full of feathers. Then turn the jacket inside out. If it has a belt put it in a zippered pocket.

According to Ms. Lesson, many dealers and manufacturers recommended Woolite for cleaning down-filled garments. Since it is a cold water wash, and not a soap, it will not leave a film.

Ms. Lesson recommends using a quarter of a cup of Woolite in a washing machine or a capful if you are washing a small child's jacket by hand. If the jacket is very soiled, you can spot clean the soiled area by dampening it with water and then spotting it with Woolite or you can presoak the garment in Woolite and water for about 30 minutes before you wash it.

You can dry the jacket by hanging it up for a couple of days. Then put it in the dryer for a short time to fluff up the down or you can put the jacket directly into the dryer which should be set at a low to medium heat. It will probably take an hour or more before the jacket is completely dry. To keep the down from matting, Ms. Lesson suggests putting a clean running shoe into the dryer. She says the tumbling action of the shoe in the dryer will fluff up the down in the jacket. However, the zipper should be done up or the bouncing action of the shoe will cause the zipper to cut the fabric.

On March 1, County of Beaver No. 9 Science Fair was held in Viking School gymnasium. They welcomed the students to the first County of Beaver Science Fair. It delighted everyone to see so much work being done by the students. The ten best projects from categories A B C D , and E may be chosen to represent the County of Beaver. No. 9 at the Edmonton Regional Science Fair to be held at M.E. Laserie School on April 17.

Borghild Sundlie's sister, Elsa and husband from Saskatchewan, packed her up on their way to visit her sister, Clara and husband at Greencourt, and brother Martin at Mayerthorpe, and she arrived back home Friday and reports a lovely holiday.

Mr and Mrs Darryl Hisabeck (nee Marva Maaren) are the proud parents of a baby girl, born March 2 in the Royal Alexandra Hospital at 6 lbs. 12 oz. Darryl and Marva have named her Peggy Ann.

The Ryley 4-H Busy Beavers Clothing Club held their regular meeting on March 1. The members worked on their projects. During the business meeting, the members decided to have a pancake supper on St. Patrick's Day at the Legion Hall at 4:30. It was also noted that Carol Jensen and Cheryl Andriukow had attended county public speaking in Viking on Feb. 28.

Antoni Podruzny is a patient in Tofield Hospital as is his granddaughter, Dianne Kozdrowski.

Henry and Laura Podruzny and boys of Camrose visited their parents over the weekend.

Mrs. Mina Moen is a patient in an Edmonton hospital.

The Ryley Knights Lafe Band play at the dance held for the hockey teams in Viking Saturday night.

The school children will be enjoying another holiday as teachers can attend the convention.

Children enjoy their free swimming on Sunday afternoons.

While out in the country driving one sees many deer running across roads into trees and bush.

NHL Oldtimers coming for game

The NHL Oldtimers are coming to Camrose.

The stars of professional hockey from just a few short years ago will be playing an exhibition game in the city a bit later in the month.

The game will be played in the Recreation Centre on Sunday afternoon, March 19th, starting at 2:30 p.m.

The opposition for the NHL Oldtimers has not yet been determined. It is expected that the Camrose team will be a composite squad made up of representatives from the Maroons, CLC Vikings and the Goodtimers.

The exhibition contest is being sponsored by the Camrose Kinsmen and all proceeds will go to the swimming pool committee.

It should be noted that this team is the real NHL Oldtimers. There has been some confusion in the past regarding a team which plays out of Edmonton and does have some ex-NHL players in its line-up.

Some of the stars who will be coming to Camrose include Bobby Baun, Pete Conacher, Ike Hildebrand, Wally Stanowski, Harry Watson, Andy Bathgate, and Eddie Shack.

Ex-Toronto-Chicago-Detroit star Harry Watson is on certain about making the trip, but could be one of the stars who will be coming west for the game.

Kinsmen are finalizing all arrangements for the game and are expected to release complete information within the next few days.

Infected sausage costs Billion $

A new federally funded task force has been established to contain and eliminate outbreaks of exotic livestock diseases in Canada.

The Emergency Disease Eradication Organization will be headed up by D.J. Skinner of Agriculture Canada's Health of Animals Branch. The force will consist of veterinarians, logistics experts, environmentalists and epidemiologists from the federal and provincial governments and from universities.

The force is being set up to ensure there is no repeat of such outbreaks as the 1952 foot and mouth epidemic in Western Canada. In that year an Eastern European immigrant arrived for work on a Saskatchewan farm. He brought with him a sausage that contained foot and mouth virus. The sausage was discarded into the livestock feed.

The damage from the one sausage totalled about $1 billion. Agriculture Canada had to destroy 1,362 head of cattle as well as hundreds of swine, sheep, and goats. Canada suffered huge export losses.

In the event that a disease such as foot and mouth breaks out again, Dr. Skinner's group will immediately set up a 5-mile quarantine. All livestock and poultry in the area will be tested and infected animals will be destroyed.

There will be four emergency task forces trained by Dr. Skinner's group in Western Canada. Each will operate as a reserve unit, similar to the militia. Dr. Skinner will be the only full-time member. All others will work on a part-time or emergency basis.

The Ottawa-based organization will also monitor disease abroad through liaison with international organizations. It will maintain close contact with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's disease centre in Washington.

In addition to foot and mouth the main diseases the force will be watching for are hog cholera, swine vesicular disease, rinderpest and Newcastle disease.

In 1974 someone smuggled a pet bird with Newcastle disease into California. The bird spread the virus to a poultry farm and an epidemic resulted. That outbreak cost $56 million.

Past experience has shown, however, that the hazard cannot be eliminated entirely. There is a need for a task force to act quickly when outbreak occurs.

Agriculture Canada has inspectors at all major air, road and sea terminals in Canada to ensure that any possible carriers of animals diseases do not enter the country.

Talking schools

Talking over Tofield's proposed new elementary school are, left to right, Dr. John Kulba of the School Buildings Board, Charlie Sears, Fred Reinholt and Ron Pennica. The school is to contain four general classrooms, a library, gym, lunchroom facilities and will hold 225 students. Six portable classrooms could be added later, if needed. Construction of the school is expected to take about 12 to 14 months.

The government has rehashed its old promises reborn again in the 1978 edition of the Speech from the Throne, opening the spring Legislative session.

It's interesting that the government appears to have suddenly realized that there are people in Alberta that do not share in the "good life". That's something we've known for a long time! Although the Speech talks about these unfortunate individuals, it offers no definite programs to strengthen their position and improve their situation.

Also, there is a restatement about the government's open and responsive attitude, and sensitivity to individuals and groups. If see talks to municipal officials, native groups, farm organizations and citizens at large, you will find that government claims to open and responsive acceptance of citizens participation is not as open and responsive as one might be led to believe.

The Speech from the Throne offers little to ease the problems in agriculture, or the issue of social concerns among our citizens.

FARM INSURANCE
by Andy Birch

Alberta Agriculture district agriculturist at Stettler

"How much and what kind of insurance do I need? How much will it cost? Is my present level of insurance coverage adequate? What changes need to be made?"

These are just a few questions that need to be expressed when a person contemplates taking out an insurance policy. As circumstances and conditions change, it is a good idea to review your insurance, because what was adequate and suitable coverage a few years ago may not be relevant or adequate today.

Why Have Insurance At All?

The need to carry insurance of any kind results from risk - the risk of injury to others and to their property; the risk of injury to yourself and to your property, the risk of crop failure and the risks of fire, accident and death. Although it is impossible to avoid risk, it can be shared. This is precisely what you are doing when you take out an insurance policy. You are essentially spreading or sharing the risk with the insurance company and are, therefore, buying protection.

There is no doubt farming is a very risky business. A farmer probably encounters more risks than most people because of the nature of his business. For instance, weather (drought, hail, flood, frost, snow, and wind) disease, insects and predators are just some of the risks he faces. In addition, the farmer shares risks common to other people such as fire, accident, sickness and death.

Determining Insurance Coverage

The type and amount of insurance coverage necessary will vary with the type and level of risk as well as with what is being insured. For example, if you are mainly a grain farmer with only a few head of feeder cattle and pigs, then crop insurance is the form of protection indicated. If you employ hired labor, either full-time or part-time, then some form of liability insurance is suggested. Consider the probability of certain hazards in your life. Ask yourself - "How serious would a particular loss be if it happened to me?" Try to get coverage for the more serious risks and budget for small risks. Remember, the higher the risk the greater the need for insurance protection.

Financial position can also influence the need for protection. A farm business with a high degree of indebtedness and little equity is in a particularly vulnerable position. The question that arises is "How much risk can the business afford?" Insurance should be part of a total program to build financial security.

Horner misleading says NDP candidate

NDP candidate for Crowfoot, Roger Milbrandt, has chided federal Trade and Commerce Minister Jack Horner for his "ill-tempered and misleading complaints" about the New Democratic Party's criticism of the Alaska-Yukon pipeline proposal

Milbrant was reacting to Horner's statements in the House of Commons on February 20 to the effect that the NDP was creating a climate of uncertainty and instability in the Canadian steel industry by insisting on legislative guarantees for Canadian steel content in the pipeline

Milbrant explains that it was the federal government, not the New Democratic Party, which unsettled the Canadian steel industry in the first place by making bold promises about Canadian content in the pipeline in September, 1977 and then refusing to back them up with legislative action in 1978. "The NDP did not create this scandal," Milbrandt asserts, "they simply brought it to the attention of the Canadian people" Milbrant comments "Mr Horner evidently believes that if you do not like the news that the messenger boy brings you should kill the messenger."

Milbrandt concludes "I find it alarming that a minister who aspires to represent a constituency which includes the city of Camrose should take so casual an attitude towards a question which could have a considerable effect on the Stelco plant in that city

Milk Production Too high

The average Canadian consumes about 11 pounds of butter annually The amount of industrial milk required to produce this amount of butter yields 22 pounds of powdered skim milk, 16 pounds more than most Canadians want

The problem. what to do with all that unwanted skim milk powder? The solution is for the Canadian Dairy Commission (CDC) to sell it on the international market as animal feed but the going price causes a loss of approximately 50 cents per pound These losses have to be covered by levies against dairy farmers' milk payments. The CDC estimates the 1977-78 loss at $140 million, of which $125 million will be collected from farmers' levies. The balance will come from the federal government.

"Where the antelope play . . ."

This herd of antelope is not in the mood for play, because the animals are starving. A combination of a dry summer and fall together with severe cold and unusually heavy snowfalls has resulted in a lack of feed for the antelope, and many of them have already died from starvation, while wildlife officials fear many more are beyond recovery. Though efforts are being made to haul feed to several acres to help the animals, it is thought their systems may not be able to adopt to the change in feed. This picture is of part of a group of about 100 which are moving from farm to farm just east of Taber.

Plastics save wheel weight

Some car manufacturers are turning to plastics as one element in their strategy of decreasing vehicle weight in order to achieve better fuel efficiency. Chrome-plated plastic wheel hub covers will be available on some models equipped with rally wheels, as a deluxe option. The hub cover, sporting simulated lug nuts, gives a deluxe appearance to the rally wheel which is gaining increasing favor among buyers.

Pensioners Must Apply For G.I.S.

Old Age Pensioners entitled to the federal Guaranteed Income Supplement are now being reminded to make their 1978 applications as soon as possible.

The applications, mailed last month to 80,000 pensioners, must be completed and returned before March 31 to ensure that payments are not discontinued.

Unlike the basic Old Age Pension, which is paid to most Canadians aged 65 or older, the Guaranteed Income Supplement is based on income and is restricted to pensioners who have little or no income supplementing their basic pension. The amount of the supplement varies according to the pensioner's annual income.

Effective Jan. 1, the basic Old Age Pension was increased to $153.44. Single individuals receiving both the basic Old Age Pension and the maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement receive $261.06. For a married couple, both pensioners, a combination of the basic pension and maximum supplement provides a monthly payment of $498.

In addition, people who are between 60 and 65 years old and are married to an old age pensioner may be eligible for a federal Spouse's Allowance. Because eligibility depends on a couple's combined annual income, people receiving this allowance must also reapply each year before March 31.

The maximum monthly Spouse's Allowance is now $240.

Pensioners who require assistance in completing forms are advised to contact or visit the nearest Old Age Security office. In addition to the main offices in Calgary and Edmonton, satellite offices have been established in Camrose, Grande Prairie, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, St. Paul, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin and Drumheller.

To extend services to smaller communities, pension advisors from Health and Welfare Canada's Income Maintenance Branch will visit many centres that do not have Old Age Security offices. The advisors will be available to answer questions about the Guaranteed Income Supplement and to provide assistance in completing forms.

Full details on the program and individual counselling for senior citizens can be obtained at the following locations:

CHRIST DIED TO SAVE US

Romans 5-8 "God commendeth His love towards us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us"

A wealthy family in England, many years ago, took their children for a holiday into the country. Their host, a gardener, turned over his estate for the weekend to the visitors. The children went swimming in the pool. One of the boys began to drown and the other boys screamed for help. The son of the gardener jumped into the pool and rescued the helpless one. Later, the grateful parents asked the gardener what they could do for the youthful hero. The gardener said, "My son wants to go to college and become a doctor." The visitors shook his hand and said," We will be glad to pay his way through college"

When Winston Churchill was stricken with pneumonia, after the Teheran Conference, the King of England instructed the best doctor that could be found to save the Prime Minister's life. The Doctor was Alexander Fleming, the developer of penicillin

Churchill said later, "Rarely, has one man owed his life twice to the same man" It was Sir Alexander Fleming who saved Churchill in the pool years before. In the same way, Christ died for you, while you were yet in your sins, so that you might have eternal life a the ages to come

With the Rev David Meddle of the Tofield United Church.

This is the season of Lent, the time of year when all Christians take time to think about the events leading up to the death and resurrection of their Lord, Jesus of Nazareth.

Traditionally, many churches have encouraged people to fast during Lent and to give up many of their luxuries so that they might feel some of the hurt that Jesus experienced on His way to the cross. In the last few years, though, the major churches of Canada have worked together to ask Christians to think of the pain of their brothers and sisters who live in the underdeveloped parts of the world. Giving up something for Lent has now become giving something to someone else for Lent. The "Ten Days for World Development" program, sponsored by the Anglican, Catholic, Presbyterian, Lutheran and United Churches, tries every year to raise people's awareness of the way in which we in Canada can help correct many of the injustices of the world.

Many people are puzzled by such interest in economics, agricultural production, and multi-national corporations. To them the concern of the church is to save souls so that more people may find Jesus Christ as Lord. However, Jesus Himself was concerned not only with showing people the truth about God, but also with healing their wounds and feeding them when they were hungry. Jesus even broke the laws of the Hebrew Sabbath when He and His disciples picked corn to eat, thereby telling us that food for our bodies is as important as food for our souls.

Now, many of us who have grown up in Canada find it hard to imagine how hard it can be to obtain food and a livelihood in some other countries of the world. We feel that people deserve to starve who won't kill a cow for food because it is sacred to them. We fail to realize how we contribute to their poverty by outbidding them for food. Why don't we grow enough food for ourselves? We haven't produced enough beef to feed ourselves for ten years now. We pay higher prices for coffee, tea, cotton, and rubber. Thus, very poor people cannot afford the land to grow food for themselves, and they are paid next to nothing if they try to work for the large landowners.

Many people ask, "How can I help? It's too big a problem." Well, you can help by giving generously to the relief arm of your church Groups like the Mennonite Central Committee or the World Development and Relief funds of the Anglican, United, and other churches try to use their funds to help people in the Third World to start their own markets to learn to farm properly or to use the credit to buy the fertilizer which will increase their yields.

If you would be told by the Lord, "You gave Me food when I was hungry," then support the world outreach of your church for, "If you gave unto one of these, the least of My brethren, then you gave unto Me."

STIR-FRY THE CHINESE WAY

Lots of us are trying our hand at Chinese cooking so I thought you might be interested in this information from Agriculture Canada.

Chinese cooking employs a number of techniques. The most well known to Canadians is stir-frying, a form of rapid saute' cooking that quickly blends limitless combinations of meat, poultry, seafood and vegetables (ingredients are sliced, diced or shredded, then tossed in a small amount of oil over high heat. The "wok", a special curved-bottom cooking pan, with a supporting ring is ideal for this rapid heating. A skillet, however, about twelve inches in diameter, can be used instead, providing its sides slope somewhat and it is sufficiently wide and deep to accommodate all the stir-frying ingredients Mrs. Aileen Durand, food consultant at Agriculture Canada who directed tests on stir-frying says that "the intense heat used in wok cookery locks in juices and nutrients" Because of this, meats retain their distinctive flavor and vegetables their bright color and crunchy texture. Stir-frying involves a number of simple steps. Try it and see! Heat the wok or skillet, grease with oil and add the various ingredients to the pan at various times depending on their cooking requirement. Stir-fry meats and vegetables separately and then combine them in the last stage of cooking.

A final reminder - it is better that a man wait for his meal than the meal wait for the man. This ancient Chinese proverb certainly holds true for stir-frying. Serve the dish the moment it's cooked!

To test your Chinese cooking skills, food consultants at Agriculture Canada encourage you to try this recipe for "Stir-Fried Beef and Peas". The frozen green peas can be replaced by frozen green beans, if you wish. A dab of large and small metric measures should be part of your kitchen equipment now.

STIR—FRIED BEEF AND PEAS

500 g 1 cm thick, top round steak
1 clove garlic, crushed
25 mL soy sauce
75 mL beef bouillon
5 mL Worcestershire sauce
2 mL salt
25 mL oil
250 mL sliced onions
250 mL thickly sliced mushrooms
25 mL cornstarch
25 mL beef bouillon
1 package (340 mL) frozen green peas

Trim all fat from meat and cut across grain in very thin strips (3 mm thick and 3 cm long). Combine garlic, soy sauce, 75 mL bouillon, Worcestershire sauce and salt. Add meat and stir to coat with mixture. Allow to stand 1 hour at room temperature, stirring occasionally. Heat wok or heavy fry pan until hot. Add oil and continue heating until oil shimmers. Add meat mixture and stir-fry until meat begins to brown (about 4 minutes). Remove meat from pan. Add onions and mushrooms and stir-fry until mushrooms are slightly soft (about 3 minutes). Combine cornstarch and 50 mL bouillon; add to vegetables. Add peas and stir-fry until sauce is thickened and peas are heated through (about 3 minutes). Return meat to pan to reheat and blend flavors (about 3 minutes) 6 servings

Miller champion

A curling team from Stroome will be representing the Province of Alberta in a national championship.

Pat Miller of Stroome went undefeated during a provincial playdown which was held in Fairview, during the past weekend.

The other members of the provincial championship rink are Don Hayes, Dennis Loasch and Ron Bergel

The foursome will be going to Estevan, Saskatchewan next week for the Dominion playoffs which open on Wednesday and end on Saturday.

Hereford show coming to Camrose

The Alberta Junior Hereford Show will be held in Camrose this summer in conjunction with the annual Camrose Fair.

Entries for the competition are expected from all over the province with organizers suggesting that the show will attract many out-of-province visitors.

According to a spokesman for the Camrose Agricultural Society, the Alberta Junior Hereford Show could easily be one of the main attractions for the 70th anniversary of the Camrose Fair.

This year's Fair will be held on August 6, 7, 8 and 9.

In a second announcement, late last month, local Society spokesmen were delighted to learn that secretary-treasurer Jerry Ash has been elected to sit on the Board of Directors for the Alberta Association of Agricultural Societies.

Mr. Ash was elected to the post during the association's annual meeting which was held on Thursday in Edmonton. He was selected to the Board to represent the A and B class fairs.

The Alberta Association of Agricultural Societies was formerly known as the Rural-Urban Community Association, which served the agricultural societies within the Province of Alberta

Also attending Thursday's meeting in Edmonton were Doug Noden and Ben Hirtz, president and director respectively, of the Camrose Agricultural Society.

REA people could face hike in fees

The 26th annual meeting of the Tofield Rural Electrification Association was held in the meeting room of the Community Hall on March 7th.

The time was changed to an evening meeting in the hope of increased attendance but, the move was only moderately successful.

It appears that the Board has entered the unused business - unused services and unused meter cards.

There are a number of unused services in the R.E.A. and the owners or executors of estates must now make a choice of keeping them or having them salvaged.

In the past, unused services have contributed nothing toward maintainance even though they remain part of the system and have to be kept in good condition.

The R.E.A. has reached the stage where line rebuilding and maintainance have been costly - over $117,000.00 in the past two years. If an owner with an eye to the future, decides to keep his unused service, he must agree to pay the same toward maintainance as anyone else.

The matter of unused meter cards presents a bigger problem but one which can be easily solved with a little co-operation. Meters must be read, and, in the past year, failure of some members to do this resulted in it being done by Calgary Power - at an estimated cost to the R.E.A. of

If the practice persists, it leaves the Board with little alternative but to seriously consider having $10.00 added to the power bill of anyone who refuses to use his card.

Area teams trailing in hockey playdowns

Tofield and Ryley have their backs to the wall in Beaverhill Hockey League semi-finals.

Tofield is behind three games to one in a series with Mundare while Ryley is winless in three starts against Lamont.

Lamont whipped Ryley 8-2 last Thursday night and then picked up an easy 11-2 triumph on Saturday night to take a 3-0 lead in their best of seven series as they had won the opener 8-3.

The fourth game of the series was to have been played last night (Wednesday) in Tofield.

If Lamont won that contest, they would advance to the league finals. If Ryley won, a fifth game would have to be played in Lamont, likely Saturday night. No dates had been set beyond the fourth game.

Mundare doubled Tofield 8-4 on Thursday night with Tofield bouncing back to score an 11-7 victory on Saturday night. Mundare themselves staged a comeback to wallop Tofield 10-4 on Tuesday night.

Similar-run results left the best of seven series three games to one with the fifth game in the series going tonight (Thursday) in Mundare. If a sixth game is necessary, it will likely be played in Tofield on Saturday night.

Organization gets started

A new organization, Calorie Counters, was formed in Tofield on March 7th.

The first meeting was held in the meeting room of the Tofield Arena with guest speaker being Mrs. Merle Smith of Elnkar.

An executive was formed and is as follows: Stella Cormier is president, Phyllis McKinnon is vice-president, Norma Sears is secretary, Liz Schacher is treasurer, Elsie Newfield is weight recorder, and Myrtle Norman is club reporter.

The second meeting was held on Monday at the home of Mrs. Norman.

For further information, or anyone interested can call Tofield at 662-3012 or 662 3210.

Kelly Morris is crowned as Tofield Carnival Queen

by Grace Phillips

Miss Kelly Morris was crowned Queen of the '78 Tofield Skating Club Carnival at the Saturday evening performance in the Tofield Arena of "Disneyland on Ice."

Capacity crowds both Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon watched the ninety-one skaters present the program for which they were trained by Miss Becky Taciuk, professional instructor from Edmonton. The impact of the program was heightened by the Disney cartoon characters on the fence.

Those were made by the mothers of the Ryley students. A Disneyland castle wall completed the decorations.

Highlights of both the Saturday and Sunday performances were the solos by Miss Taciuk and guest skater her brother, Tom, and by the club's most advanced skaters: Marlene Whillans, Kelly Morris, Judy Rudacki, Barbara Barton, Nancy Neufeld, Elaine McMann and Linda Jensen. These solos were enthusiastically received by the audience.

After the presentation of the club banner by Vanita Eglauer and Kathy Coombes, and of the Canadian flag by Laurie McCartney, commentator David Moddle introduced the various groups of skaters each of whom represented a Disney production. All groups were in appropriate costumes.

Snow White (Judy Rudacki) and her seven dwarfs were the first group. The dwarfs were: Valerie Adrian, Rami Hastings, Jackie McLeod, Lane Bloom, Sandra Porisky, Tracy Reil, Monica Chapman.

Linda Jensen and Dianne Tiedemann were the leaders of the Babes in Toyland group who were Valerie Neufeld, Michelle Whillans, Tracy Williams, Lisa Voltner, Dale Peters, Rodney Tiedemann, Brian Warner, Kathy Brown, Brenda Kenner, Cindy Kubbernus, Laura Mashinter.

Elaine McMann and Rhonda Williams were Cinderella and the Fairy Godmother; they were accompanied by the Bluebirds, Bridget Fleming, Lori Brown, Corinne Peters, Kathleen Peters, Angela Zilkie, Kathy Aubrey, Jennifer Johnson, and by the Mice, Tracy Warner, Ann Tiedemann and Yvonne Van der Kley.

LeeAnne Price, as Mary Poppins, led a group of black-costumed chimney sweeps consisting of Vanita Eglauer, Kelly Fleull, Sharon Porisky, Lois Purves, Lorna Voltner, Christy Wall, Sharlene Weiss, Kathy Coombes.

Heather Williams and Susan McLeod, as Peter Pan and Wendy, were accompanied by other characters from the Disney story: Tracy Thompson, Dean Sadowyk, Connie Thompson, Danny Gates, Randy Brairud, Annette Adams, Corinna Kozoway, Bonnie Hillickson, Cheryl Winder, Juanita Adrian, Roger Brairud, Darren Winmill.

Led by Valerie Baergen and Kelly Morris, the very youngest skaters of the club presented a routine as Disney Cartoon characters. These were Cherie Schuman, Michael Baker, Cordell Zilkie, Krstin Blades, Errol Hastings, Lindsay Battersby, Brenda Winder, Lisa Ness, Katherine Brix, Leanne Unlau, Jonathon Unrau, Steven Gates, Thomas Baker.

Davey Crockett, skated by Alan Miskew, was accompanied by Indians: Donovon Aubrey, Lyle Voltner, Jason Lammerts, Reggie Kozoway, Scott McCartney, Nolan Chapman, and Mountain Men, Kevin Voltner, Darren Lammerts, Colin Sadowyk, Ronnie Williams, Chris Strong, Paul Strong.

In the ensuing battle, the Bantams lose out

The road to a provincial championship came to an abrupt end for Tofield Bantams on Monday after they absorbed two straight losses from Viking.

Viking won the first game of the series 5-0 in Viking and then, in Tofield on Monday night, whipped the home team 13-3 to win the two-game total-goal series by a 21-3 margin.

Viking will now go to Vauxhall on March 24-26 to compete in a provincial championship tournament.

Tofield had advanced to the Zone 2 finals by eliminating Vegreville 1 in only one game and Lac La Biche.

Ryley sets minimum development standards

The Village of Ryley will be setting minimum standards for future sub-division development following a special meeting with the village engineers.

Proposed standards were explained to council with the engineer suggesting that brochures be printed for distribution to any future developers.

The preliminary plan for a design for the northeast portion of the village was discussed with the engineer suggesting that a start be made on preliminary plans for elevations, designs and plans giving lots and blocks be drafted, approvals for grants be obtained if possible, develop certain areas and development of water, sewer, roads and sidewalks be registered survey plans.

First reading was given to a by-law to allow rezoning of a parcel of land to permit location of a transi-mix firm in the area involved.

During regular council action, the secretary-treasurer was authorized to prepare a by-law which would allow the Ryley Municipal Library to hold their budget meeting on the third Monday in January instead of the first Monday in February.

The finance committee presented the drafted budget for the coming year, pointing out it was not the final budget as firm figures had not been received from various government departments.

Council was told that Radio CFCW would be saluting Ryley District on March 16th.

Council authorized the digging of a new garbage disposal pit in the coming summer or sooner, if possible.

Accounts presented were approved for payment.

Minutes of the previous meeting of council, held on February 13th, were approved.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a special meeting held on March 3rd and a regular meeting held on February 27th

Should ease off

A spokesman for the Human Rights Commissi... recently commented on the discrimination facing East Indians and although he had few actual incidents to relate, he cited the number of "Paki" jokes circulating as typical.

It makes us wonder if we're not taking ourselves too seriously when we can't even use a national origin as a basis of a joke, because probably nothing is really intended by it.

For years we've heard stories that start with "There was an Englishman, a Scotsman, and a . . ." and we don't think anyone ever seriously considered their origin was being denigrated. Nor did many people worry when the story revolved around Pat and Mike. We've had jokes on the Newfies, the Poles, and the Ukrainians, the Germans, the Americans and the Jews, the Chinese, the Russians, and the Swedes. We've had elephant jokes and Little Audrey jokes.

And we don't recall that all the Audreys in the country rose up in high dudgeon and protested discrimination.

We've heard jokes about Roman Catholics and Protestants, Anglicans, Baptists, and United, Jews and Gentiles, Christian Science and Confucian. The fad of the moment is short-lived, and one of these days the craze over Paki jokes will have disappeared and be almost as forgotten as the tall stories the Texans used to tell.

In the meantime, we shouldn't get so upset at jokes about a particular ethnic group, just because it's their particular turn in the spotlight. Let's see if we can't learn to laugh at ourselves. Life's a lot easier.

Lesson learned

After many years in the business, Parks Canada has finally learned that delaying sales of the annual vehicle entry sticker for parks until April 1st does nothing but cause tremendous irritation, as visitors queue up sometimes for miles outside the park gates waiting to get in.

This year, arrangements were made to put the tickets on sale as early as February 20, six weeks ahead of the normal time.

Valid from the date of purchase, they may even constitute a small bonus for some purchasers, who might in earlier years have had to buy their entry ticket in the dying weeks of one year, only to find they needed another in a month or so. The main thing, however, is the reduction in waiting time which will be of tremendous benefit to motorists, as the purchase is staggered over a period.

There'll always be the last minute buyers, naturally, but at least this year they have the privilege of buying early. Heretofore, all drivers were forced into the same class, the late buyers, since there wasn't any other class.

By the way, it's not a buffalo, this year, or an elk, or some of the other familiar animals on the license. It's a return to an old friend, the beaver, but a highly stylized one that will be quite different.

Dear Sir,

Parents often feel at a loss when they are frustrated with a school situation. Usually we go and discuss it with a friend over coffee who can also relate several more disturbing situations to add to our own frustrations. Of course with discussion, no change occurs.

There is another method open to us as parents.

Are you disturbed about methods of punishment, such as strapping and mindless line-writing and all such negative non-solutions? Are your children being frustrated to the point of using vandalism as an outlet?

Does an administrator who chooses to swear to a teacher within student earshot disgust you? Are you angry with being approached in a public place, in a negative manner, regarding something your child has done in school?

Are you upset about getting notices when you phone the school? Are you appalled by an administrator who tells us our children are stupid . . . that they'll just be dilchiggers anyway? Do you sometimes wonder if there aren't too many frustrated teachers, and what the cause might be?

If any of these situations has bothered you, you can do something meaningful and worthwhile. You can phone the Alberta Teachers' Association and talk to a staff officer in the member services department (453-3411).

The staff officer is willing to advise regarding the proper method of handling any concern. He is also able to initiate discussions which would hopefully lead to a solution to the problem.

As a parent I found this method most helpful. If the A.T.A. considers the complaint we register to be of a serious nature, they will investigate further. The A.T.A. assured me that full confidentiality would be maintained which is totally reassuring.

Are your child's problems significant? If so, "coffee sharing" doesn't work and there is definite help available . . . as near as your telephone.

No Coffee Thanks

Canadian comment

OTTAWA (SF) — One of the real recent trouble spots for Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and his cabinet has been the Economic Council of Canada, with its regular prodding of the government over the reasons for Canada's economic travails.

That annoyance may soon be ended, though, with the appointment of Sylvia Ostry to head the Council. Mrs. Ostry and her husband Bernard are long-time big guns on the Ottawa circuit and strong proponents of the Trudeau Way. They are not only extremely bright people, but also people who are committed to ideas very much in tune with Trudeau's thinking. Neither one would be very comfortable in hoisting a beer with the boys at the corner hotel.

Communications was another hot spot for the Prime Minister, and that's why he switched his close friend Pierre Juneau from being Chairman of the Canadian Radio Television Commission into the portfolio of Minister of Communications, even before Mr. Juneau had stood the test in a by-election. When Mr Juneau didn't find approval with the voters of Hochelga and has to leave the cabinet, he didn't lose favor with the PM. He moved right into Mr. Trudeau's office, and some say he virtually continued to exercise the power of a minister, or more.

Mr. Juneau then became head of the National Capital Commission, a job which he is leaving after 11 months, to take charge of the Prime Minister's pet project in the Secretary of State's department - protecting the rights of minority language groups. If you think that's a low-profile job, wait until you see the constitutional changes the PM has planned.

Into Juneau's old slot at the National Capital Commission moves C.M. "Bud" Drury, long-time civil servant, long-time cabinet minister and Trudeau loyalist to the core. Drury's appointment has angered some municipal critics in Ottawa, but the PM waves aside charges of patronage, saying that Drury is highly equipped to do the job.

That may have been true at one time, but Mr. Drury has a lot on his plate relaunching responsibility for constitutional development in the north, and the native groups up there don't like it. It shows, they say, that the PM isn't really serious about dealing with them, and is merely trying to remove some of the political heat.

Those are just a few of the political appointments we'll be seeing and have already seen. There's a legion of good liberals out there waiting for important jobs in the molding of the country's future, and many of them will be installed in key positions before we get a federal election called. Most key slots are already filled by those committed to Trudeau.

Voters and tax payers can be forgiven if they grind their teeth in anger over the repeated paying off of political debts by a Prime Minister who uses patronage like a holy water blessing rod and arranges good jobs for the people who come to the aid of the Party at cushy federal salaries.

Carnival . . .

Mountain Men vanquished the Indians, dragging them off the ice by their heels to the amusement of the audience.

"Fantasia" featured Laurie McCartney, Cheryl Peters, Roxanna Wiens, Valerie Saergen, Dianne Tiedemann, Rhonda Williams skating to classical music.

Following the intermission, Mrs Grace Phillips paid tribute to the skaters and to the members of the executive of the Skating Club before introducing Mrs Josie Aubrey president of the skating club. Mrs Aubrey introduced the amateur coaches Elaine McMann, Linda Jensen, Kelly Morris, Judy Rudzicki, Rhonda Williams, Valerie Baergen, Susan McLeod, Dianne Tiedemann, Judy Rudzicki, Heather Williams Gifts were then presented to these amateur coaches and to Miss Becky Taciuk, and to her brother, Tom, by Mrs. Aubrey in appreciation of their work for the carnival. She also thanked the many people who had helped with the carnival.

The 1977 Carnival Queen, Vanda Jones, and her father Earl Jones were introduced by Mrs Phillips. Vanda won her Queen status as a representative of the Beaverhills Light Horse Association. Earl Jones is a member of that group.

The 1978 Queen candidates and their escorts were introduced. Kim Fleck, representing the Tofield Minor Hockey Association, was escorted by Guy Fraser, president of the Association. Keiterina Hokanson, sponsored by the Hastings Lake Pony Club, was escorted by her father, Rod Hokanson, a member of the club. Kelly Morris, representing the Tofield Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, was escorted by Owen Jones, president of the Branch. Tiola Van der Kley, sponsored by the Tofield Lions' Club, was escorted by her father, Fritz Van der Kley, director of the club. Lynda Wall representing the Beaver Hills Light Horse Association, was escorted by her father Dave Wall, a member of the Association.

Mrs Phillips explained that a unique situation had arisen this year because both the Legion and the Lions Club had sold all their tickets for the Queen, thus a tie for the Queen's office was in effect. Vanda Jones was asked to draw a ticket to break the tie between Tiola and Kelly. On the draw, Kelly Morris was found to be the winner and Queen for 1978. She thanked all who had bought tickets for the Queen title. Mrs Aubrey presented Kelly with a bouquet of roses after Vanda had crowned her as the 1978 Carnival Queen.

Kelly drew the lucky ticket for the winner of the transistor radio, Marilyn Lysons, and then with her escort led the Queen candidates off the ice.

The executive of the Tofield Skating Club in 1978 consists of Josie Aubrey, Dorothy McCartney, Lynn Tiedemann, Margaret Jensen, Fern McMann, Jeannette Fleming, Kay Coombes, Grace Williams. Those in charge of various committees for the Carnival were: David Moddle, Lynn Tiedemann, Joan Dunham, Josie Aubrey, Barbara Morris, Grace Whillans, Margaret Jensen, Gloria Sadowayk and Peggy Kozoway.

Confronting Your Faith

With Rev. John Unrau, pastor of the Tofield Mennonite Church

"They're just a bunch of hypocrits," is an accusation that is sometimes directed towards members of the church. A person making this kind of remark has decided in his own mind that he is as good as those who attend church, and thus feels justified I don't know of a society or organization that doesn't have those who attempt to cover their vices and gain credit for virtues by giving a false impression. The church is no exception. It too is made up of flesh and blood men and women who have their shortcomings and problems.

In spite of these inconsistencies, many positive things are happening in the life of the Christian church, for instance, believers acknowledge Jesus as the One who can give purpose and meaning for being; they themselves recognize that they are prone to failing. Believers experience a commonality in Jesus Christ with whom they have a personal relationship. Jesus Christ has forgiven their sins and therefore there is a freedom from guilt, bringing about liberty and peace of mind. The Christian church also becomes a caring community desiring involvement in the lives of those who are hurting. Gathering together to worship gives one a sense of belonging — an identity. Support is also gained from the encouragement received from one another. Believers can look forward with confidence to Christ's second coming, they can live each day in the hope of that reality.

The Christian church can provide you with the resources which will give the church a try? Attend one of the churches in your area and together with others learn to find God's purpose and plan for your life.

AND A HAPPY ST. PAT'S TO YOU

I really enjoy St. Patrick's day! Perhaps it's because green is one of my favorite colors. Maybe it's because it's almost spring. I know it brings to mind a happy visit to southern Ireland. The hospitality of the Irish people was tremendous. . . and who can resist their music?

Tea time is a custom I came to enjoy. What could be nicer than a cup of tea and a hot scone dripping with churned butter? Scones aren't commonly prepared in Canada but our tea biscuits are a variation of them. This is a good basic recipe with some variations you can use.

TEA BISCUITS

2 c flour
4 tsp baking powder
½ tsp salt
One-third c. hard shortening
Two-third c. milk (approximately)

1. Sift flour, baking powder and salt.
2. Cut in the shortening with a knife or cookie cutter until very fine.
3. Using a fork, stir in milk, adding only enough to make a mixture form one large ball or mass which will stick together. (Excess liquid makes a sticky dough which is hard to handle and too little makes dough crumble and crack)
4. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead lightly about 4-6 times, roll ¼ inch thick.
5. Cut with floured biscuit cutter or drinking glass; place in greased or floured pan; bake 15 to 20 minutes at 425 degree to 450 degree Avoid overcooking.

Variations of Tea Biscuits -

Wheat Germ Tea Biscuits - Add ¼ cup wheat germ to dry ingredients.

Whole Wheat Tea Biscuits - Substitute an equal quantity of whole wheat flour for half of the flour.

Fruit Tea Biscuits - Add raisins or currents to the dry ingredients.

Cheese Tea Biscuits - Add 1 cup of grated cheddar cheese to flour mixture, reducing shortening by 1 tablespoon.

Fruit Shortcake - Add 2 tbsp sugar to dry ingredients. Roll ¼ inch thick and cut out circles with a 3-inch cutter; butter circles lightly and bake in two's, one on top of another. When baked split apart, cool, and spread lightly with butter. Fill with sweetened fruit and top with fruit and whipped cream.

Butterscotch Pinwheels - Roll out biscuit dough into a rectangle; butter it lightly and sprinkle with brown sugar. Cinnamon and raisins may be added. Roll up dough as for a jelly roll. Cut in half-inch slices and bake each in greased muffin pans.

As I see it

by Dr Walt Buck, MLA

The government of the day again demonstrated its disdain for the legislative process this week when government members refused to allow concerned Albertans to appear before their elected representatives. Last Thursday, Opposition Leader Bob Clark moved that the Committee on Public Affairs hear concerns surrounding the controversial Site 6 Dam on the Red Deer River. Unwarranted members did not allow the resolution to come to a vote, which means that the people of Alberta cannot come before their own Legislature and talk directly to their representatives.

Because we feel strongly about this situation, all four Social Credit M.L.A.s walked out of the Legislature, boycotting the last hour of sittings on Thursday. It was obvious that government did not want the issue of legislative public hearings to come to a vote. That is an ironic name when you consider the government's claim of being "open and responsive".

Public hearings are not new in the Legislature. The former government, in 1969, held such hearings prior to construction of the Big Horn Dam, and there were similar hearings in 1972 dealing with oil and natural gas royalties.

In the case of the Red Deer River dam, the government made the decision in spite of public protest and direct recommendations against the proposal by the Environment Conservation Authority.

Sunnyville Constituency Meeting

I attended a constituency meeting in Sunnyville last week to hear the concerns from that region of the province. Agricultural problems were highlighted, dealing principally with increasing costs of operation, coupled with decreasing returns. Constituents are also much concerned about the rapidly increasing costs of electrical power, natural gas and gasoline. They are also apprehensive about the social issues surrounding the proposed Imperial Oil energy project in their area. They want to be involved in the planning for such a project.

South Cooking Lake Scouts and Guides

For the 8th consecutive year, I was privileged to attend the South Cooking Lake annual Scouts and Guides jamboree and winter games. They were again an enjoyable experience.

Buck celebrates 10 elected years

People first, province and country second, and parties third is the philosophy of Walter Buck, Social Credit MLA for Clover Bar, he told the audience at the celebration of his tenth year in elected office.

Well over 200 people turned out to the anniversary banquet in the Meyer Recreation Centre, Josephburg, on March 1. In introducing Buck, Calgary alderman Brian Lee concurred with Buck's statement of his philosophy.

"He does his homework on issues, keeps the government on its toes and puts people first," Lee said.

Buck was first elected in 1967 in the two subsequent elections, 1971 and 1975, which Lee described as "the Tory massacre." Buck was one of the few in opposition parties to win a seat.

Initially his involvement in politics came through the urging of friends and the influence of his father, Buck said.

"Alberta has been good to us, the community does a lot for you. We should do something for the community," was his father's philosophy. In his remarks, Buck said it has been a privilege to follow his father's philosophy in serving the community for the past 10 years.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Julian Kinisky, of the Environment Conservation Authority. His speech, he said, would give Buck a rest from digging into the Government. He took that task on himself, comparing performance to promise.

Kinisky cited the issues of the Red Deer dam, the invitation of Walter Mondale to Alberta, and the Heritage Trust Fund in respect to quotes from the premier regarding protection of individual rights and freedoms, support of a strong central government and unnecessary hoarding of surplus funds.

"This is a dangerous man (Peter Lougheed)," he said. "It is incumbent on you to see that he doesn't have any more victories."

A telegram of congratulations from Peter Elzinga, Conservative MP for Pembina, was read at the banquet. Several people in elected office, both municipal and provincial, attended the banquet.

Entertainment was provided by the Klondike Dixieland Band from Fort Saskatchewan, a trio of Spanish dancers and The Unbalanced Four, a barbershop quartet.

SPRING WARBLE CONTROL

Fall warble control practices are employed by most Alberta stockmen. Unfortunately, many stockmen don't realize that a complete warble control program does not end with the fall treatment since the best fall program of systemic warble control can still leave some animals with a few grubs which will survive the winter. With this in mind, cattlemen should watch all cattle in the spring for signs of grubs and then treat any infested animals. This will ensure herds have the least chance of being re-infested during the summer.

The warble fly continues to cost the Alberta cattle industry many dollars although the situation has improved over the last 10 years. In 1968 a survey showed nearly 36 per cent of the cattle slaughtered from February to June had signs of warble infestation. By 1977 that figure was reduced to just under 16 per cent. Yet, despite this improvement, it's estimated warble fly losses still amounted to more than $4 3 million last year.

Most good cattle in the province recognize the value of controlling these pests. Warbles are like weeds in many ways. They multiply quickly, and if steps are not taken to control them, they will increase to the point where they will rob the producer of many more dollars than control measures would ever cost. The typical owner of a small herd of 80 cows with another 100 steers on summer pasture could lose hundreds of dollars in reduced summer gadding, reduced feedlot performance, and devalued carcasses. These losses could be all but eliminated by an annual fall treatment with a systemic insecticide, at a probable cost of less than $1 per head.

Systemic insecticides are just like any other product used to control insects or disease. However, they are rarely 100 percent effective. Research results show that properly applied systemics will kill from 95 to 98 percent of the grubs in a herd. Carelessly applied chemicals will kill a lot less than that! Knowing that systemics won't totally eliminate warbles explains why the good livestock manager will watch his cattle for signs of any fugitive warbles in the spring season, and take steps to kill them before they have a chance to mature into egg-laying flies to re-infest the herd.

Early Spring Systemics

Many systemic pesticides such as Neguvon, Neguvon, Grubex and Epco Trichlorafon can be effectively used for early spring treatment of infested cattle. However, once grubs have become well established in warble lumps in the back, they are harder to kill with systemics. Recent tests conducted by Alberta Agriculture entomologists suggest systemics used between March 1 and April 15 will give good warble control.

A contact insecticide, such as rotenone, can be scrubbed into the open warble holes or applied as a high pressure spray any time warbles are present in the animals' backs. Grubs mature into warbles at various times during the spring, so a contact insecticide application should be repeated about every three weeks as long as new grubs continue to appear. This type of treatment is especially important in dairy herds where milking cows cannot be treated with a systemic pesticide.

Dale Monte Lunk was fined $250 or 25 days, on a charge of dangerous driving.

The reason and most effective way to prevent losses caused by warble flies is to apply a systemic insecticide in the fall. To ensure that a minimum number of flies survive to re-infest the herd, the careful producer will follow the fall treatments with a systemic contact insecticide in the spring on any grub infested animal. In a well managed herd the two-phase control program should eliminate nearly all losses caused by warble flies and produce more profits for the owner.

SPECIALTY CHEESE

Canadian cheesemakers are stepping up their production of specialty cheeses to meet a growing demand for these non-cheddar varieties.

Last year they produced 105 million pounds of specialty cheeses, up 16 per cent from the 1975 level. The 64 different kinds of cheeses ranged from soft camembert to pungent limburgers, with mozzarella accounting for more than half the total specialty cheese production.

Agriculture Canada's dairy division is currently conducting a fact-finding survey of all specialty cheese manufacturers across the country as part of its responsibility to advise on programs affecting the industry.

Dale Monte Lunk was fined $250 or 25 days, on a charge of dangerous driving.

Darrell Mellick was fined $100 or ten days on a charge of false pretences and was fined $50 or five days on a charge of illegal possession.

Robert Adam Schmidt was fined $75 or seven days on a charge of illegal possession and an additional fine of $75 or seven days for failing to appear in court. If time is served, sentences are to run concurrently.

On a charge of littering, Darrell Mellick was fined $100 or ten days.

Illegal possession charges brought $75 fines or seven-day sentences to Douglas Michael Lupino, Wayne Allan Banack, Perry Richard and Neil Norman Sorken.

Paula Hokanson and Fred Lee McKinnon were each fined $30 or seven days on charges of shoplifting.

Report from your M.L.A.

by John S. Batiuk

After a three and one half month lapse since the Fall session, many activities have taken place.

During these months, I had the privilege of attending and participating in numerous functions.

As time goes by I have noticed that activities in the constituency have been increasing, which is a good sign even though they are very time consuming.

I have attended meetings with County and Town Councils, Chambers of Commerce, Agriculture Development Committees, Agriculture Societies, Senior Citizens group, etc.

During this time, I dressed the Two Hills Chamber of Commerce, the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Co-op Seed Cleaning Plant Association and the annual meeting of the Alberta Rapeseed Growers Association.

Earlier this year the Senior Citizens Sunshine Club of Ryley celebrated the official opening of their very fine facility, which I enjoyed attending. On the same day, the Ryley Public Library was officially opened.

In addition, I attended several golden wedding anniversaries and one diamond (60th) wedding anniversary.

During the middle of December, I attended an Agricultural Outlook Conference in Ottawa which I found very interesting and plan to follow up the remarks of the conference to see how effective it would be to agriculture in our province.

In January of this year, I, as the sole M.L.A. on the Alberta Grain Commission, and the entire Commission met with the Canadian Wheat Board, the Canada Grain Commission and several other commodity groups in order to help promote the increasing and markets of certain grains.

These meetings were very receptive and fruitful and I am optimistic about improved marketing.

On March 2nd the Honourable Lieutenant Governor presented the Throne Speech. Numerous commitments, programs and policies were announced which will be beneficial to Albertans.

The percentage of Alberta's work force is larger than anywhere in Canada, which keeps our unemployment rate the lowest and continues to provide a good Alberta economy. With the lowest tax rates and the Natural Gas Price Protection Plan sheltering Alberta homeowners from 75 per cent increase in gas rates, Albertans enjoy more disposable income than other Canadians.

Over the past year I had many requests from constituents for an Expanded Home Care Program and I am glad that such a commitment has been announced in the Throne Speech.

Our government will continue to invest more in education on a per capita basis than any other province.

The Minister of Agriculture has announced additional assistance to Agriculture Societies in this province.

Four years ago a program of $50,000 grants was initiated. The Minister of Agriculture announced that this grant would be raised to $75,000.

Societies who have received $50,000 grants previously may qualify for an additional $25,000. I know that the announcement will be a real shot in the arm, particularly for those that are experiencing financial difficulties. This will be very much appreciated by quite a few societies in the province and by a couple in the constituency.

The Minister of Hospitals announced that effective July 1, 1978 approximately 169,000 additional Albertans on low incomes will benefit from total elimination or reduction of Alberta Health Care premiums.

Effective July 1st, single Albertans with taxable incomes of up to $5,000 will pay no premiums. Albertan family registrants with a taxable income of $5,000 will pay no premium, saving $169.20. Families of four persons earning $11,000 will not be required to pay Health Care premiums.

These changes allow Albertans to pay less for health services while preserving the Health Insurance principle for those who can afford to pay.

The Throne Speech debate continued through the week and a valuable contribution has been made by a number of members of the Legislature.

As usual, the Leader of the Opposition along with the member from Spirit River-Fairview, spent most of their allotted time in criticizing the government and its programs.

Listening, one would assume that the government has done nothing during it's tenure. Unfortunately, the former government had thirty-six years to practice what they are now demanding of the present government.

As the session proceeds, I will again continue to inform my constituents, through the local papers, of items which would concern them.

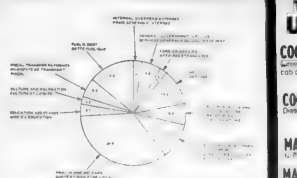
Report from Parliament Hill

by Don Mazankowski, M.P.

Last week, the federal government announced is spending plans for the 1978-79 fiscal year These plans known as the Estimates, call for expenditures of $48.8 billion next year. This will be an increase of nearly 10 percent from this year's federal spending Since Pierre Trudeau became Prime Minister ten years ago, the level of the federal government's yearly spending has risen about 250 percent

How is all this money spent? Next to Health and Welfare, the biggest outlay of funds next year will go to paying interest on the public debt In the coming year, interest costs for the federal government will be $6.5 billion This is up 21 per cent over last one year It means that an average of $650 in income tax is needed from each employed Canadian just to meet Ottawa's interest bills

The reason for this enormous debt and its resulting interest cost is the huge deficits which the federal government has been running up in recent years For the current year, the government is expected to be $9.2 billion in the red While next year's deficit has not yet been announced, estimates are that it will exceed $11.5 billion The government is forced to cover this deficit by borrowing more and more Some of the specific components of next year's spending will be the official languages or bilingualism program, $303 million, family allowance payments $2.236 billion, old age security $6.375 billion, Crown corporations, $1.380 billion, unemployment insurance $1.761 billion, the CBC $522 million and foreign aid $1.21 billion A general breakdown of where our tax money goes is provided by the table below



I would now like to turn from a general look at government spending to the examination of one particular item This is the Canada Council, which will receive $55 million next year for supporting the arts and social sciences research in Canada

The idea of an agency to carry out this role is basically sound. However, the way this government has implemented it has raised serious concerns

At the end of the current fiscal year, the Canada Council will have been given $430 million in taxpayers money without question a massive sum and warrants a closer look into where the funds are being spent. Listed below are a few examples of grants from a recent Annual Report of the Canada Council. The report contains pages and pages full of similar grants

$15,325 for an evaluation of interviews, techniques and data of the 1971 Census of the Kingdom of Morocco

$135,012 for researching a systematic study of the French language spoken in Montreal

$121,014 for a systematic study of the French language spoken in Montreal

$170,000 to study air-breathing fish of the Amazon Basin

$47,270 to study the bureaucratic elite in developing countries of West Africa

$60,718 to study the fertility of families in Quebec

$4,280 to study what people do with themselves when they don't have anything to do

2,500 to conduct a scientific enquiry on the social characteristics and the attitudes of women engaged in prostitution

The Canada Council's grants to the arts are equally questionable A number of so-called poems have been brought to my attention which are so obscene that I could not include them in this report No newspaper in Canada would dare publish this trash yet the federal government gives vast sums of our tax monies to someone to write it The so-called poets responsible have received at least $10,000 from you and me

In terms of the overall level of government spending, and in terms of what the federal government spends that money on, the taxpayers of Canada deserve much better treatment.

Should there be any area of government spending which you might wish further information, please contact me by writing the House of Commons, Ottawa, or contacting my constituency office in Vegreville.

ANOTHER EX PRESENTATION

NHL Oldtimers play in Camrose on Sun.

A hockey team composed of players from three city clubs and a service club will provide the opposition for the NHL Oldtimers during an exhibition contest in Camrose on Sunday.

Joe Voytechek of the CLC Vikings will coach the Camrose All Stars while Earl Berry of the Kinsmen will be the team manager.

Goaltending will be looked after by Svend Green and Craig Gunther of the Maroons while the defence will be composed of Len Gumpinger of the Maroons and Vikings' stalwarts Terry Mereniuk, Curtis Jans and Dennis Connelly.

The Camrose team will use four forward lines. A line from the Maroons will consist of Ellard Dilworth, Jim Ofrim and Andy Crenshaw while a Vikings' line will be made up of Bob Daum, Larry Espe and Garth Ward

Max McLean and Stu Bailey of the Goodtimers will line up with Earle Berry of the Kinsmen while a fourth line will go with four players, Brent Sawchuk and Don French of the Vikings, Joe Millar of the Maroons and Wynn McLean of the Kinsmen

The game will be played at the Recreation Centre on Sunday afternoon starting at 2:30 p.m. with proceeds to be used towards construction of an indoor swimming pool complex in the city

Goalie for the NHL Oldtimers will be Wayne Moulton. A second goalie had not been named by presstime.

Defence for the visitors will be made up of Hugh Bolton (Toronto), Ivan Irwin (New York), Bob Robertson (Detroit), Murray Henderson (Boston) and Bob Baun (Toronto).

Listed as forwards are Pete Conacher (Chicago), Ike Hildebrand (Chicago), Keith McCreary (Atlanta), Aggie Kukulowicz (Detroit), Wally Stanowski (New York), Jackie Hamilton (Toronto), Harry Pidhirny (Boston), Andy Bathgate (new York) and Eddie Shack (Toronto) .

Harry Watson, formerly with Detroit, Toronto and Chicago, was still a question mark at presstime.

Other changes could be made, either additions or deletions, when the team arrives in Camrose, although the basic line-up will remain unchanged.

Local promoters point out that this team is the real NHL Oldtimers, and not the oldtimers' team which plays out of Edmonton.

It is expected that this game should attract the largest crowd of recent years as it is expected to be a sellout.

Employment for youth

Forty-one applications for funding under the Federal government's Young Canada Works program have been received for the Battle River Constituency.

Wayne Lowther, Manager of the Job Creation Branch in Camrose announced last Tuesday that the submissions are "evenly distributed" and consist of projects to staff tourist booths, painting and repairing recreation centres and senior citizens' help projects.

The total federal grant allotment of $50,000 for this constituency was said by Lowther to be less than one-third of the cumulative amount applied for, judging from past years in his previous experience, an average of ten applications have been approved.

Being positive, Lowther said "it's encouraging to see the number of applications. This is an indication that the community is trying to help the young people."

Recreation Report

by Colleen Walker
Program Supervisor
PAYING PROJECTS FOR CLUBS

How many clubs do you belong to? How many are forever searching for the answer to their question, "How can we make money?" In our regional recreation office we have a book entitled "Paying Projects for Clubs" that is available to all clubs on loan. It contains many new and different suggestions such as the following:

1. Hateful Housework
Every woman writes down her most hated household task along with a price she'll pay to have it done. Eg. $3.00 for ironing, $1.00 frost the next cake. You'll be surprised how one woman's hate will be grabbed by another!

2. Bargain Basement Supper - Instead of the usual community meal to make money, sell a 9 cent sale meal. Items of food you would expect to see for 10 cents, label 9 cents; 50 cents - 49 cents. Keep all prices uneven numbers to seem like a bigger bargain.

3. Swap Shop - Organize a clothing loaning service for children. Pay for each garment brought in and sell for a slight profit.

Did you get some worthwhile ideas? Remember, SOMEBODY has to work, so don't be afraid to take on a project.

FLYCASTING COURSE

Is anyone interested in taking a short fly-casting course in time for those spring and summer fishing expeditions? We have an instructor within our County, so if you are interested why not let me know and a course will be organized. Give me a call at 663-3730 and I'll get on it.

1978 BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

Don't forget the Hanmen badminton tournament which is coming up March 19th hosted by the Viking Badminton Club. You must be active in one club within the county to be eligible to play in the tournament. Registrations are available through your local club contacts - Tofield and Ryley, Roy Farrwether, 662-2157, Holden, Dean Jeffrey, 688-3887, Viking, Ruth Likeness, 336-3411.

SURVIVAL SKILLS

This short six week course is being offered in Tofield commencing April 3, 7:00-9:30 p.m. at the school. This course will teach a variety of skills, cooking, living off the land, weather conditions etc. A weekend campout at the conclusion of the course will give students an opportunity to practise acquired skills. The campout is planned for May 13 and 14.

The fee for this course is $12.00. Register with Regional Recreation at 663-3730. If a minimum of 10 are not registered by April 1st, course will be cancelled.

ARTS AND MUSIC FESTIVAL

Sy Rabas is are all set for the Beaver Regional Arts, Crafts and Music Festival happening April 21-23 hosted by Bruce. If you did not receive yours in the mail, give us a call at 663-3730 and a syllabus will be in the mail immediately.

The schedule for events for the weekend are as follows:
Friday, 7:30 p.m. - Choirs, Choruses, Voice, Drama.
Saturday 9:00 p.m. - Piano, other music events, 1:00 p.m. Bands.
Sunday 2:00 p.m. - Concert of finalists. Display of Arts and Crafts.

Entry deadline April 13.

COMMONWEALTH GAMES

A trip has been planned on August 6 for annual winners to go to the Commonwealth Games. There are three activities that we will be going to: athletics, boxing and gymnastics.

If you are interested in going, contact Colleen at 663-3730. The first 64 applications will be accepted.

Around the town

Kingman 4-H Foods Club met in the school on March 6th and discussed bowling, roller skating and attendance at figure skating and a rodeo. Plans were made for a "family dinner" on April 3rd. The next meeting will be on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Kingman School.

A Tofield rink skipped by Betsy-Ann Gallinger won the Grand Challenge during a curling bonspiel in Hay Lakes on Sunday, when they defeated Evelyn Buss of Leduc in an extra end. Other members of the winning team were Gayle Proctor, Ann Hall-Gerrard and Sheila Worton.

The RETU met at the home of Pauline Rude on Thursday night with seven members present and a new member was welcomed. Mrs Myrtle Bjornson was elected as president while Mrs Bernice Heiberg was elected to head the literary department. Other officers remained unchanged.

Tofield Ministerial Association is extending an open invitation to all to attend an Easter Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. on March 26th at Dorothy Gallanger's hill, weather and ground conditions permitting. If unsuitable, the service will be held in Tofield Gospel Church. Breakfast will be served at the church following the service.

A GRAVE ERROR

Luke 15:20 "But God said to him, then fool this night shall thy soul be required to thee, Then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?"

We work and plan, we save and build as though we were going to stay here for all eternity. Let me illustrate it in this way.

He brushed his teeth twice each day.
He went to see his doctor twice a year.
He wore rubber when it rained.
He slept with his window open all the time.
He relaxed and his tennis & trained in some were out glands.
He golfed, but never more than 18 holes at one time.
He got eight hours of sleep everynight.
He never smoked, drank or lost his temper.
He was all set to live to be a hundred years old.

WE BURIED HIM LAST WEDNESDAY

He left behind 10 specialists . . . four health institutes . . . six gymnasiums . . . numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics

HE MADE ONE GRAVE ERROR . . . HE FORGOT GOD.

Your soul is the property of the Almighty God.

Magneson sets mark

A former Ryley resident, Wade Magneson, has just established a new scoring record in the NWHL.

Playing with the Edson Colts, Magneson scored seven goals (last one coming with only two seconds left in the game) to establish a new single game record for goals which had formerly been held by at least two other players.

Magneson established the new record during the game in Edson on January 28th with Mayerthorpe providing the opposition.

Despite the fact that professional hockey contends that hockey players cannot do well enough with only one eye, Magneson refutes this edict as he has only one eye.

4-H Club Corner

by Carol Brom

The March meeting of the Tofield 4-H Beef Club was held on March 6th.

It was decided that the club would tour a slaughterhouse and go to the steer judging at the Stock Show in Edmonton on March 27.

The 4-H'ers will have their calf tour on April 29, commencing at 10:00 at Glenn Hanmen.

4-H members are reminded of the practice judging on Saturday at Heiberga, at 2:00 p.m.

Heather Rudzeki won her way to the Northern Alberta speaking finals this past weekend. She is going to attend the provincial's in Calgary on Saturday.

Ryley history book comes off the press

On Sunday, the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ryley Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held a "Birth of the Book" tea at the Ryley Legion Hall to introduce "Beaver Tales", a history of Ryley and District.

About 375 guests attended and spent the afternoon in meeting old friends and renewing acquaintances

George Knudslien was chairman for the short program

Tenders on the first book off the press were opened, and the highest bid for $178 78 was received from Mr and Mrs William Davison of Tofield

Holden cadets attend winter survival camp

Twenty sea cadets from R C S C C Nootka in Holden recently took part in a weekend winter survival camp at the Canadian Armed Forces Base in Wainwright

They were joined in the exercise by sea cadets from the Wainwright Corps

Captain D Cooper of Holden, the corps' commanding officer, and Lt B McIntosh of Namao, the corps' liason officer, were also in attendance.

The first night was spent in relative luxury in the barracks at Camp Wainwright However, following survival training lectures early the next morning, cadets and their leaders were taken by truck several kilometers out into a bush area and left there to fend for themselves for the next twenty-four hours

The cadets did some hiking in the bush area, where they learned about edible and non-edible vegetation cooked their field rations over open fires, built lean-to shelters, and slept under the stars in warm "army - issue" sleeping bags

The weather cooperated and helped to make the weekend a very enjoyable and educational experience

The following weekend, several members of the Holden Sea Cadet Corps also participated in the Ice Show at the Viking Carena, where they paraded the colors for all of the countries represented in the show

Men's champs

The Ryley-Tofield Badminton Club produced the county men's doubles championship during a day-long tournament in Viking on Sunday. The men's winners were George Price and [illegible] Shewchuk

More belt tightening

One way or another, we're convinced, Canadians are in for a period of belt tightening in the days ahead, before we get our economic house back in order.

On a recent visit outside this country, we talked with representatives of a number of businesses in the United States and Mexico, and found all of them keenly interested in what is happening within Canada, especially as regards the Quebec situation and the continuation of our country as a whole.

We talked with building contractors, businessmen, bankers, even a wholesale banker, professors and journalists, and came away with a mixture of information which is dismaying and troubling.

Reports came in both from Vermont, from Houston, and California where Canadian investment dollars are flowing in literally huge amounts. Small Vermont communities are enjoying a relative boom as many Quebec-based companies establish branch operations across the border, rather than expand in Canada. The move is entirely logical for many, and would have taken place anyway in the course of time, because a small American-based plant can take advantage of many situations not available to the non U.S. corporation. Only short miles away from the parent plant, administration is very easy. Costs of materials are lower, wages are lower, and productivity is higher.

The moves would have been made in time in any case, but have been speeded up by two circumstances. One, predictably, is the difficulty of continuing business in Quebec today. But we were surprised to learn another reason, out an important one, is the increasing militancy of Canadian labor unions, and the difficulty of dealing with them.

Even worse, money which should be available for expansion of businesses in Canada is being siphoned off, to savings accounts in Vermont, just to be on the safe side, and to major real estate investments in Houston, and in Mexico. Probably every state is enjoying some of this diversion of Canadian capital, but Houston currently is being looked on as the darling of the real estate world. . . a safe economy, in a rapidly expanding market, with a rate of return acceptable to Canadian businessmen, though less than the level sought by more ambitious American investors.

Growing concern with both the interference of government, and the unsympathetic climate established by government, are two more factors rounding out the concern of the business world in Canada, not just in Quebec, but elsewhere as well.

It becomes obvious that there can be no health in the Canadian economy until the causes of the malady are treated. Our reaction to these treatment imperatives become government action designed to produce a healthier atmosphere in which Canadian business can be competitive, and at the same time an attitude on the part of the larger and highly organized unions which sees the cost-per-unit component for labor in Canada at least as attractive as it is elsewhere, and preferably better because of our acknowledged problems of higher transportation, and higher weather costs.

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA—(SF)—The runaway Soviet satellite which left a fire trail in the Northern Canadian skies in late January and a million dollar legacy in search costs for the remains, has set many governments in the world thinking hard about their own vulnerability.

If a nuclear-powered satellite can plunge down in the barren Canadian Arctic and create so much trouble, what would happen if radio active debris from another such satellite came down in a populated area?

We were told at the outset of the search for the Soviet Cosmos which hit Canada, that large fragments of the fuel cell could be dangerous for up to five miles. That's not an insurmountable problem when you're dealing with vacant tundra, but imagine the havoc if such a fragment were to hit even a populated rural area. In a city, there could be deaths by the [illegible]

Both the U.S. and the Soviets have other nuclear powered satellites spinning around up there, decaying and getting ready to plunge into the atmosphere. Now that we know the assurances of scientists aren't 100 percent valid when they tell us debris will be burnt up on entry, protective measures must be taken.

The situation writes new rules for national security. It doesn't matter whether a nation is involved in the East-West confrontation, the danger of nuclear contamination is now universal, even if it is slight. The Soviet Cosmos criss-crossed the entire earth with its varying orbit, and literally it could have come down anywhere.

Only one fourth of the earth's surface is land, so the chances of it hitting an ocean were pretty good. If you consider the percentage of the earth's surface which is settled — about one percent — then the odds of a satellite coming down where a nuclear powered satellite spinning around up there, decaying and getting ready to plunge into the atmosphere. Now that we know the assurances of scientists aren't 100 percent valid when they tell us debris will be burnt up on entry, protective measures must be taken.

The situation writes new rules for national security. It doesn't matter whether a nation is involved in the East-West confrontation, the danger of nuclear contamination is now universal, even if it is slight. The Soviet Cosmos criss-crossed the entire earth with its varying orbit, and literally it could have come down anywhere.

Report from your M.L.A.

by John B. Buhler

As the session progresses, several very important statements have been made by Ministers; the Throne Speech debate continues - and will until Friday, March 17, when the Budget will be brought down. Since I was first elected, I have made it a point to participate in the yearly debates, even though the limit allows only a portion of the M.L.A.'s to participate.

Some of the issues I referred to in my address were as follows: The concern expressed by lease holders around Beaver Lake. I am satisfied that the Minister of the Environment committed himself that no action will be taken in the foreseeable future. I am sure the leaseholders, who have had the privilege of using Crown land for pasture, and thereby supplementing their income, will appreciate this.

Since the inception of decentralization of government services when our government took office, it is obvious that the program is working and is helping to stabilize the basic growth in the province. We know that the two metropolitan areas will continue to grow, but at a slower pace. Even when the two cities do grow, they will not grow at the expense of rural Alberta. Even though the Leader of the Opposition stated in the Throne Speech Debate that three farmers are moving from Edmonton each day. This statement is misleading, as Statistics Canada and the Minister of Agriculture revealed, that since 1971 to 1976, the number of farmers increased from 62,000 to 67,310, an increase of 7.7 per cent. Likewise, in the first time since 1940 that the trend has changed. The population in Alberta is increasing by about 5,000 monthly. Also, about 50 per cent are people coming in from outside the Province.

Since the Premier's trade mission to Iran last Spring, I was pleased to inform the House that Iran has requested samples of Canadian grains. I also read a letter from the Canadian Embassy in Iran that they are ready and will send their research chemist to learn the bread baking techniques of Alberta. This is definitely a concrete result from the trade mission.

The Alberta Grain Commission, of which I am a Member, has been advised that several matters in Germany are prepared to buy Klegaa barley from Canada. This is the result of the Alberta Grain Commission pressuring the Canada Grain Commission to license Klegas barley, which is a good yielder, and suitable for malting.

Despite these successes, the Leader of the Opposition and the N.D.P. member are severely critical of the Premier for "interfering" in the federal jurisdiction. Alberta is producing a high percentage of the Canadian agricultural produce, and the Premier must be interested and concerned about the marketing of these products.

I also informed the House about the concern of several

Dear Sir

Last week's Mercury carried a letter to the editor entitled: INFORMATION, PLEASE!!!! signed by No Coffee Thanks'

If the writer of that letter is unhappy with particular teachers or administrators, the most effective method of coming out any problems is to confront these same people at the school concerned. It is sheer nonsense to phone the remote Alberta Teachers' Association regarding a purely local problem. Any staff officer with any experience should refer the problem right back to the local level. The A.T.A. is a professional organization and not a labor union that will direct a local steward to 'crack the whip'.

If the writer does not get satisfaction, from teacher and/or administrator, the next step is to contact the Superintendent of Schools. He is the chief executive officer of the Board of Education and is empowered to hire and fire teachers as well as give individual parents satisfaction regarding school matters.

Failing at this level, an appeal may be made to the Board of Education itself. Although individual members hold no power, sitting as a Board of Education they are the policy-making and governing body for the county school system - the highest local authority.

Surely in the interests of the children in our schools, local problems can be solved locally.

Yours truly,
"Problem Solver"

Dear Sir,

At a recent meeting in the Jubilee Auditorium the "Professor" and "Jack In The Box" assured the faithful that our Country is not going down the drain. With the G.N.P. rising you can forget about the National Debt. What Nonsense.

Translated this means that if your income has increased don't pay your debts. Definetly Not. Instead rush to your nearest friendly loan shark de pole, use your influence, if necessary, and take him for a bundle. Your little swindle adds to the Gross National Production but does not affect the National Debt.

The "professor" works on a different formula. A small swindle won't keep the National Debt ahead of the G.N.P. (A few more deals like the Pickering Airport should do it.)

Genie has the same Magic for farmers. . . . If you don't produce anything I can get you a good price for it.

It will not be too far in the future when the "Professor" tells us that when the Canadian Dollar reaches 50 cents for a shovelful that the G.N.P. has increased sufficiently that the National Debt will have been forgotten.

Friend. . could you spare a [illegible]

St. Patrick's Day tea attracts 200 people

by Grace Phillips

Nearly two hundred guests overflowed the spacious lounge of the Tofield Lodge as they attended the St. Patrick's tea, sale of handicrafts and baked goods on Friday.

The lodge was decorated with shamrocks, emblematic of St. Patrick. Baked goods prepared by the staff of the Lodge and a variety of handcrafted articles made by the residents were on display - as long as any were unsold. Lunch was prepared and served by the staff.

The money raised by admissions to the tea and that realized from the sale of baking, $130.75 and $170.55 respectively, will be used to buy a large meat grinder for the kitchen and coal racks for the entrance hall. The money from the sale of handicrafts, $215.00, will be used for further supplies for handicrafts. Mrs. Myrna Huebert and Mrs. Mary Lammerts who instruct the handicraft groups, were also active in preparing and pricing the handicrafts for the sale.

J.B. Baergen, manager of the Tofield Lodge says that the residents are planning to make the St. Patrick's Tea an annual event. He had high praise for the hard work of the staff and residents in preparation for the tea.

Another event, a bazaar will be held at the Lodge in the fall, probably in October to mark the coming of the first residents to the Lodge.

CREATION WAITS — Agnes Sanford

The earth has been given to us as a trust, and the Lord of the harvest has placed it in our care until He returns. That trust involves more than mere passive occupation. We are to reign with Christ, and our rule is to begin here and now. Elijah, a man much like us, prayed for the heavens to be shut, and so no rain fell for over 3 yrs. He then prayed for rain and it came.
Likewise, Mrs. Sanford writes that believers have privileges and responsibilities for the care and redemption of the universe. Her message is simple: by the power of prayer let us bring the world to the fullness that God created it to have.

Seventh Day Adventists aid South Pacific people

Christian Missionary activity in the South Pacific will benefit from an offering at the Ryley Seventh-day Adventist Church on Saturday

The Australasian Division of the Seventh-day Adventist Church encompasses Australia, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea and many of the smaller islands of the South Pacific.

One of the 10 world divisions of the Adventist Church, Australasia will receive the "special projects" offering, a quarterly donation by church members that goes to a different division every three months. During the first quarter of 1978, the Ryley Church studied the culture and needs of people in this part of the world. The Seventh-day Adventist Church is the fourth largest denomination in Papua New Guinea with nearly 70,000 Sabbath School members in 604 locations. The population of this developing nation is heavily weighted toward young people and the Adventist Church operates 105 elementary schools and three high schools

The Ryley Church donation will be pooled with money donated by other worldwide Adventist Churches to aid in three projects in the area - classroom and library facilities at Sonoma College on New British Island, youth centers in Papua New Guinea and the purchase of small aircraft to aid in travel in the mountainous areas of New Guinea and between scattered island in the area.

Glenbow treasurehouse

Gifts valued in excess of $100,000 were made to the collections of the Glenbow-Alberta Institute of Calgary during 1977

Duncan Cameron, newly-appointed Director of the institute said that among the highlights are one of Canada's first cameras struck by the government of Prussia in 1859, for use in the Prusch colonies along the St. Lawrence and a collection of 23 antique Persian rugs including three matched pairs of finished pieces in their original fitted boxes.

"A significant acquisition for the archives was a series of slides related to the historical re-enactment of the signing of Treaty No. 7 at Blackfoot Crossing in July, 1977, and donated by the Calgary Herald. Since the 60's the paper has been contributing negatives which cover the major events of the period to our files."

The year 1978 has the potential for being a vintage year for Glenbow because of the Cultural Property Export and Import Act which was proclaimed in September of 1977 to protect Canada's heritage.

Cameron said, "The bill permits importers of donations to be certified as Canadian cultural property when being made to designated institutions such as Glenbow. The donors can then claim for income tax purposes, a full 100 percent of the value of the gift taken over two years and the donor is also exempt from tax on taxable capital gains related to the gift

"Until this year donors to Glenbow were only eligible for 50 deductions up to 20 percent of their taxable income."

Many more Glenbow collections were expanded in the course of last year. A petit point chair used in the home of the Reverend John Macdonnal passed to Glenbow through an estate and a collection of Canadiana was once covering an ammunition cart together with a uniform of a Colonel John Thompson supplemented the Riel Rebellion collection.

Typical of the unique material given to Glenbow's archives are papers received in 1977 relating to Dutch immigration following World War II. These are original papers of Reverend P.J. Hoekstra, President of the Immigration Committee for Canada of the Christian Reformed Church, headquartered at Nobleford, Alberta. No other copies are known to exist.

Glenbow also added to its painting collections during 1977 A watercolour by Roland Gissing, was among the works acquired. It is of "great historical interest" because, as the story goes, he sold it to provide himself with sufficient money to get married. The painting came to Glenbow through an estate donation.

So, you think drunk driving is funny.

There's nothing funny about a person who drinks too much and then drives. But there is something funny about how surprised such drivers are when they're caught. In fact, you should see the look on their faces after we charge them with impaired driving. Because after we charge anyone with impaired driving, we take them back to the station. And like everyone else charged under the criminal code, they have to arrange their own release. One more thing. Under the law licence suspensions are mandated for impaired drivers. There are no exceptions, no special licences for drivers who've had too much to drink. Absolutely. Straight. Not really. Not even. CHECK STOP isn't aimed at people who've had a couple of drinks, while enjoying themselves. CHECK STOP is aimed at people who've had much too much. And those people who get behind the wheel of their car. You know who we mean. And, you know how they act.

Please CHECK STOP can catch fools who drink too much and drive. But only you can stop them before they turn the key.

Think twice.

CHECK STOP
It's really up to you.

Again last week, the government clearly demonstrated its desire to remain unresponsive to the citizens of Alberta. Last Wednesday, a huge delegation of students from several universities and colleges converged on the Legislative Building to indicate their concern about accessibility to secondary education facilities in our province, and financing of our universities and colleges.

A debate in the Legislature respecting university financing followed, with the government defending its position on advanced education funding. The Official Opposition pointed out that a short-fall in university funding during the past several years has resulted in quotas being imposed on some faculties, and proposed fee reductions.

It's true that the infusion of money does not guarantee quality education, but it's also true that inadequate funding can reduce the quality of education. I tend to agree with university officials who are convinced that the quality of service will suffer if funding of universities continues to fall behind the inflation rate. Increasing tuition fees of students to make up for deficits will mean that less students from lower income ranks will be able to take advantage of education opportunities.

Red Deer Dam Debate

The government has refused to allow those individuals directly affected by the construction of the dam at Site Six on the Red Deer River to appear before the Legislature to plead their case. Some 12 farm families will lose their homes as a result of an ill-advised Cabinet decision of last year.

The fact that the situation warrants a hearing before the Legislature in answer questions about the government decision, reached despite public opposition and direct recommendations from the Environment Conservation Authority against the dam at Site Six, has had no affect on the government. The huge majority of the present government was used to flatly refuse any opportunity to allow those individuals a hearing before their elected representatives. I'm sure the government will regret that action sooner or later.

1,400 fans watch the NHL Oldtimers

Nearly 1,400 fans were in the Recreation Centre on Sunday afternoon to watch an exhibition hockey game between the NHL Oldtimers and an all star team from Camrose.

According to the scoreboard, the game ended in a 4-4 deadlock. If only official goals were counted, Camrose won 4-1

But, the score was incidental.

Hockey fans had come out to be entertained by NHL stars of a few years ago, and entertained they were

They watched Andy Bathgate give an exhibition of stick-handling skills, witnessed Eddie Shack's famous rushes, saw Bobby Baun play expert defence despite the fact he couldn't throw a check, and heard Ivan "The Terrible" Irwin intimidate opposing forwards with his growling "Aghrrrrr"

There was comedy galore when the Oldtimers started the game with a two-bladed stick, pulled the old puck on a rubber band trick, faked an injury routine (twice) doused the All Stars with water, chased their own goalie to the other end of the rink, and bribed the referee to move the faceoff to the other end of the rink and then tried to get him with a cream pie

Eddie Shack lived up to his name as "The Entertainer" He was colorful throughout the contest and his antics and loudly spoken comments kept the fans in stitches He was easily the most sought after player by the younger fans in attendance for autographs

Following a beautiful rendition of 'O Canada' by young Tracy Gunderson, Mayor Rudy Swanson made his first public appearance since recovering from a heart attack over a month ago, when he dropped the puck for the official face-off

Sunday's game was sponsored by the Camrose Kinsmen who will put the proceeds towards construction of an indoor swimming pool complex Arrangements for the game had been made by Jack Horner, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce

Larry Espe (CLC) was named as the Most Valuable member of the Camrose team and was presented with an award, on behalf of the NHL Oldtimers, by Eddie Shack

Shack scored the only legitimate goal for the NHL Oldtimers He also scored one other goal and the other two tallies were netted by Jackie Hamilton and goaltender Wayne Moulton (when he was playing for Camrose)

Camrose's goals were scored by Jim Ofrim, Garth Ward, Curtis Jans and Len Gampingar

Moulton was easily the star of the game as Camrose had a definite edge in play and he was called upon to stop 43 shots!

Svend Green played the first one-half of the game as goalie for Camrose while Craig Gunther played the second half. Green stopped 14 shots and didn't allow a legal goal while [illegible] shots

Green made the save of the game in the first period after Bathgate had stick-handled through the entire Camrose team while Gunther robbed Bathgate twice in the final period

Camrose outshot the visitors 47-38 and neither team packed up a penalty although Shack obviously tried to get at least one

From Donalda, the cavalcade will move to Big Knife Provincial Park, en route stops will be made at the Forestburg Collieries coal mine and power plant Besides the fun of a weiner roast and various other activities to be laid on, a tour of the choice "badlands, in the vicinity" will take place in the evening

Sunday morning, the cavalcade will proceed through scenic country to a camp site near Battle Bend for a lunch stop, and then on past Brownfield and Talbot to the sulphure plant at Duhamel for a conducted tour

At this point the tour will break up, and people will go their own way Alternatives include a museum at Sherridcliffe Lake; various industrial tours in the Hardisty area, museums at Hughenden or Lougheed, golf at Hughenden, Sedgewick or Daysland, or swimming at Killam

Cement dust helps cattle?

Why do steers put on weight after eating cement dust? That is what the scientists are trying to find out

A recent United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) report states that feedlot steers fed cement dust [illegible] had a 28 per cent faster rate of gain than those fed a diet without cement dust, and that the steers on the dust produced higher grade beef than those on a regular diet

A report issued in late 1977 by the USDA's research centre at Beltsville, Maryland, also suggests that the addition of cement dust improves rates of gain and overall efficiency in feedlot steers

The possibility of cement dust improving the gains of feedlot cattle first came to light when some farmers in Georgia reported improved feedlot gains after they had fed the dust to their cattle. When Drs. W.E. Wheeler and R.R. Oltjen, both animal scientists at the Runnimeat Nutrition Laboratory at Beltsville, conducted a 112-day preliminary trial on 14 feedlot steers, they too recorded significant improvements in both rate of gain and feed to gain ratio.

In an attempt to find out why steers put on weight after eating cement dust, and whether the dust adversely affects the digestion of the animals when fed over a prolonged period of time, the Beltsville scientists are conducting more experiments on larger groups of steers and lambs. In addition to measuring rate of gain and feed conversion, they are studying the animals' internal organs to determine whether there are likely to be digestive problems.

Results from this second stage of testing could be available by mid-1978. If the experiments continue to show promise, it will then be necessary to test the feeding of cement dust on a large scale before it can be recommended as a general practice

One of the problems with this type of feed is that the chemical composition of the dust, especially in the case of some trace elements, can vary a great deal because it depends upon the source of the raw material used for the cement. In fact, it could be dangerous to add this material to cattle rations unless the feeder was sure that it contained no toxic levels of trace minerals

Another problem is that too high a percentage of the dust works and precisely what its effects are Dr Wheeler stated that "We are cautioning farmers not to use cement kiln dust in livestock diets until more research has been conducted"

In the meantime, research workers in Alberta and Alberta Agriculture's nutritionists are following the studies carefully If the cement dust should prove to be of real value, farmers will be informed immediately

Further information on this subject can be obtained from Ross Gould, Livestock Supervisor for Beef Cattle, Agriculture Building, 9718-107 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5K 2C3 and from the nutritionists at the Alberta Soil and Feed Testing Laboratory, 0.8 Longman Building, 6909-116 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T6H 4P2

Local skiers compete in national ski-offs

Stephen Hansen returned Saturday from Quebec City with a new vision of what Albertans and Camrose racers must do to reach the top in Canadian cross country skiing

On Wednesday, Stephen skied the worst race of his career, pointing out that the waxing job was so slippery that he had to herringbone up even the easiest grades earning 40th instead of fifth of 43, skiing 4-09 minutes behind David Hockey from Devon who came 16th, with whom he usually races neck in neck.

In the 5 km on Friday with snow conditions and wax more compatable, Stephen skied 2 seconds behind David to place 39th in the field with a time of 17 42 which was 3 2 minutes off the winning time put in by Perry Saleski of Northern Ontario

In the junior Girls' Division, Lou Ann Cox had easier 15th in a field of 27 with a time of 25 04 from 5 km , 5 98 minutes behind Monique Waterous of the N W T

On Friday on the 2.5 km , her position was 17th with a difference in time with Monique again in first place, of 2 14.

In the Junior Mens' Division, Tyrone Kellerman of Hinton, the fastest Junior in Alberta, only managed a 12th place spot with a time of 57 38 which was 6 38 minutes behind 1st place Daniel Auclair of Quebec Jon Seavold of Devon skied 18th with a time of 60 15.

The trails were well groomed with two lanes of passing skiers, fast but not tricky, with snow conditions generally icey and wet.

Aside from the race itself, the championship was no more a celebration of sport than a local ski meet In western skiers' opinion, the Alberta championships or the Alberta Games made more of an effort to make visiting athletes feel more significant, that is, aside from visiting a unique city like Quebec, or staying in the Hotel Frontenac

By comparison, last year in Burns Lake, the citizens of that northern town made the total event, a time to remember for all athletes Everyone was given mementos of the northern town, there was a gigantic parade through the city with fire trucks, a welcoming ceremony in the local arena, special entertainment for all the athletes and a commemorative wind-up banquet. Not so Quebec and Canadian Championships 1978 - there you competed and then back to the hotel where you fended for yourself

How to choose from 'garden catalogues'

By now many of you will have received your garden catalogues and will be wondering what flowers and vegetables to choose for this year's garden

In case you are wondering what some of the horticultural terms mean, here are some definitions

Annuals are plants that are started from seed, either indoors or outdoors, and that complete their lifespan in one season. Some annuals flower continually, they provide a colorful display throughout the summer. Their short lifespan makes them useful for filling in portions of the landscape while more permanent plantings are still immature

Biennials are plants that take two years to complete their lifespan. They usually produce only foliage during their first year. Often they can be made to act like annuals if the seeds are started early in the greenhouse

Perennials have varying lifespans, but most can be expected to remain in the garden for at least three years. Because perennials, unlike annuals, have a limited period of bloom, a perennial flowerbed or border must include varieties that bloom at different times. Only in this way can continual color throughout the growing season be ensured.

Other terms frequently referred to in seed catalogues are hardy, half-hardy and tender. Hardy plants can withstand extremes of cold and drought to varying degrees during the winter and produce flowers the following summer. Half-hardy plants are not able to withstand low temperatures and are often injured by late spring and early fall frosts. Hence they have to be protected in the spring and fall. Tender plants are very susceptible to low temperature damage. In fact, some can even be badly damaged by temperatures that are still above freezing. They will be killed by a very short period of slightly below freezing temperatures

Chris Campbell, horticultural specialist with Alberta Agriculture, advises anyone who chooses flower or vegetable varieties from seed catalogues to check to see whether they are in the "Alberta Horticultural Guide" before submitting an order. Among many other things the guide lists flower, vegetable, fruit, shrub and tree varieties that will do well in specific areas of the province. It gives the height, spread and colors of the ornamentals and tells which of the recommended vegetable varieties are suitable for freezing.

Ms Campbell also recommends planning a vegetable or flower garden on paper before ordering plants and seeds. She says the plan should be well thought out and drawn to scale on a piece of graph paper. Such things as the mature height and spread of the plants and their flowering dates (or maturing dates in the case of vegetables) should be taken into consideration when placing the various plants on the plan.

Copies of the "Alberta Horticultural Guide" can be obtained from the publications office, Agriculture Building, 9718 - 107 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5K 2C8

Problems with an International Wheat Agreement were summarized recently in a "Palliser Wheat Growers' newsletter: "Ceiling prices made of cast iron and floor prices made of tissue paper."

Overseas DDD coming

Albertans will be able to direct dial their overseas calls in 1979 when AGT introduces the new telephone service in Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Vegreville Regions

The service, called Direct Dialing Overseas (DDO), will be available initially between Alberta and 24 nations: United Kingdom, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Netherlands, Greece, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, Eire, Israel, Austria, Luxembourg, South Africa, Hong Kong, Japan, Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Venezuela. Calling these nations direct requires dialing between 12 - 15 numbers

DDO is identical to DDD and Zero-Plus Number Dialing services, except for the access codes. To dial direct, the access code for a DDO call is 011. The other access code is 01 to place a DDO call which requires operator assistance, such as collect, person-to-person, third number billing or credit card calls.

Overseas calls will also include the numbers of telephone codes for countries, which are assigned by the International Telephone and Telegraph Consultive Committee (CCITT), a permanent committee of the International Telecommunications Union (ITU), an organization based in Geneva. Canada's country code is 1

Direct overseas service will be implemented by each of the Trans Canada Telephone System member companies according to their individual long-range plans. AGT studies and forecasts of the volume of international calls indicate DDO service, a project costing $3 - 4 million, will be economically feasible in Alberta in 1979. DDO facilities will help operators cope with the expected increase in calls in two years' time. Last year operators placed over 600,000 calls overseas for Albertans

AGT plans to expand DDO service province-wide in the [illegible].

Mundare leads finals in Beaverhill hockey

Mundare has the lead in the Beaverhill Hockey League finals after both they and Lamont had won semi-final playoffs in easy fashion.

Lamont whipped Ryley 9-5 in Tofield last Wednesday night to win that semi-final series in four straight games. Lamont had won the first three games by scores of 8-3, 8-2 and 11-2.

In Mundare on Thursday night, the home team trounced Tofield 13-2 to win their semi final series four games to one.

Mundare had taken the first two games by 5-3 and 8-4 scores with Tofield winning the third game 11-7 and Mundare rebounded to whip Tofield 10-4 in the fourth con-[illegible]

Date for the third game in the series had not been confirmed at presstime, although it was expected that the game could be played tonight (Thursday).

There was music in the kitchen, two full squares dancing in the dining room and a third recovering in the sitting room.

CANADA PENSION PLAN CHANGES.

Better Benefits For Some.

Divorce or Annulment.

CPP pension credits earned by a husband and wife during marriage may be divided equally between them if the marriage ends in divorce or annulment after January 1, 1978. This ensures that an asset accumulated through the efforts of both spouses while they were married can be shared equally by both when the marriage is dissolved.

Retroactive Payment of Retirement Benefits.

Retirement benefits may now be paid retroactively for a period of up to 12 months to contributors who had attained age 65 but who are under age 70 and who have retired from the labour force.

Post-Mortem Benefits.

Applications for retroactive benefits (i.e. up to 12 months) can now be made on behalf of a deceased person, in cases where a contributor qualified, but failed to apply, before death. Families or estates will be entitled to receive benefits in such cases.

Elimination of Reductions in Children's Benefits.

Orphans' and disabled contributors' children's benefits are no longer reduced for the fifth and subsequent children. All children in a family, regardless of its size, are eligible to receive equal benefits.

These important amendments to the Canada Pension Plan came into force on January 1st, 1978.

Gold brick 'mailed' at Post Office

A gold brick deposited in the night mail slot at the Camrose Post Office last Tuesday, March 14, has been found to be a mint shipment which was heisted in Edmonton March 8.

The 43.3 pound bullion brick, valued at $123,840 was apparently wrapped in canvas and addressed to RCMP here. No postage was attached. According to Sgt. Norm Lowe of the Camrose RCMP detachment, the gold was immediately identified by its serial number and picked up in Camrose last Wednesday by RCMP from Edmonton.

Willfried Belau of Ed-[illegible], age 23, has been charged with theft of the gold brick and was remanded on a reserved plea in Edmonton court Monday. Belau was an employee of the Federal Post Office.

The gold brick was one of four being shipped from the Giant Mine at Yellowknife to the federal mint at Ottawa, March 8. It is thought by police the bullion was off-loaded between transfers from a Pacific Western Airlines plane to a Loomis carrier during a one-day transfer in Edmonton between air connections.

Although Belau was not at first, under suspicion in connection with the case, the fact he was known to have been the last person to have handled the bullion led to his being questioned by RCMP. According to Sgt. Lowe, police felt he became scared and picked the closest point to Edmonton at which he could return the gold, thereby hoping to take suspicion off himself.

CLC Vikings end basketball season

Basketball was just one of the many sports represented in the Polar Games, though perhaps the highlight.

The members of the CLC team were billeted out in homes in all parts of Whitehorse, which is a snug little city surrounded by mountains and hills.

There were three other basketball teams besides CLC. F.H. Collins High School entered a team and Taku, a men's team from Whitehorse, also took part. Fort Nelson, in northern B.C., sent a team as well.

The first games, played Friday afternoon, saw C.L.C. defeat F. H Collins 76-63. Eric Galdue was the big scorer for CLC in this game, scoring 25 pts.

On Saturday morning, CLC lost an 83-61 decision to Taku who demonstrated a good calibre of basketball. Because of this loss CLC had to play in the semi-finals on Saturday evening, while Taku got a bye into the finals.

C.L.C defeated F H. Collins in the semi-finals by an 80-70 score. Erik Mawer scored 16 pts. while Eric Galdue scored 13 pts., and Craig Johnson and Rod Nisi each scored 12 pts.

The finals were held on Sunday morning and C.L.C. was defeated 97-54 again by Taku. CLC consequently place second, ahead of F.H Collins who was third and Fort Nelson who came in last.

Ultimately the trip was a big success and the CLC team was impressed with the Whitehorse hospitality.

EASTER GARNISHES

Easter festivities feature special meals. The Easter dinner lends itself to gay spring [illegible] and luscious turkey or ham.

For garnishing the Easter turkey or ham platter try one of the Poultry Products Institute's suggestions.

1. Arrange gumdrop flowers on beds of parsley on side of the platter where they won't interfere with the carver; or supply a small plate to which the garnish may be easily transferred. To make gumdrop flowers, use the large crescent-shaped candies or the largest size of the other shapes available. Sprinkle a little fine granulated sugar on a 12 inch square piece of waxed paper and roll candies out thin with a rolling pin. These thin pieces of candy will form individual petals of flowers. Form one around the other until a flower shape is achieved. Fasten if necessary with a toothpick. Green gumdrops may be shaped into leaves and the other colours made into flowers. Long strips of gumdrop may be used as stems.

2. Form small nests of shredded lettuce and fill with small jelly beans or Easter Eggs.

3. Shred raw peeled potato on a fine grater or shredder. Dry potato thoroughly and press 2 or 3 tablespoonsful into a small sieve to form a small nest, and plunge into deep hot fat for 2 or 3 minutes until lightly browned and crisp. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Repeat until required number of potato nests are prepared. This may be done the day before and the nests recrisped in the oven. Fill with grape or apple jelly and arrange around roast turkey on beds of parsley or shredded lettuce.

4. Use spiced crabapples, in groups of 3 arranged on parsley, around the platter.

5. Tint canned pears pale pink, green and yellow by adding a drop or two of food colouring to the syrup and letting pears stand in it until tinted. Cinnamon, ginger, cloves may be added to the different coloured syrups to season the pears. Cut each pear half in three lengthwise and arrange four or five of these strips in the form of a flower with a maraschino cherry or small circle of uncolored pear, or small ball of grated cheese in the centre. Arrange 2 or 3 of these around the platter on shredded lettuce.

6. Tint peeled hard-cooked eggs by soaking for a short time in pickled beet juice or water to which a few drops of food colouring have been added. Devil the eggs, if desired, or leave whole or slice and arrange with parsley around the platter.

FARM SAFETY TEST AVAILABLE

Spring is coming, farm operations are gearing up, and once again unfortunately, farm accidents will start to occur in greater frequency

To prepare farmers for safe work during the new cropping season, Alberta Agriculture and Alberta Labour have developed a type of rate-yourself safety test which every farm operator and laborer can use to judge the [illegible] of any farm

The test, called the Farm Safety Scale, was originally developed for use by regional farm training specialists in evaluating training farms. It resulted from the Farm Accident Monitoring System which Alberta Agriculture and Alberta Labour implemented across the province in mid-1976

However, the test has many more applications according to farm safety research coordinator Solomon Kyeremanteng. "The scale measures the conditions of major areas which we've found contribute to the majority of farm accidents in Alberta. In many [illegible] still exist on the very farms where accidents occurred.

"I strongly believe the scale can be used to identify the general safety conditions of the average Alberta farm," added Mr. Kyeremanteng

The test measures safety conditions by two different methods: the Likert Scale, a numberical assessment of safe or unsafe conditions, and a simple "yes" or "no" scale. An explanation of why each question is included in the test is provided with the package.

"It's a test every operator should take," says Mr. Kyeremanteng. "He's also responsible for fixing any problem area the test might reveal. However, when you consider the time and money lost, pain caused and family anguish raised by even one farm injury, much less a death, a farm operator should be willing to at least judge his own operation to ensure safe working conditions."

Copies of the Farm Safety Scale may be obtained by writing to Alberta Agriculture, Farm Safety Program, 9718-107 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5K 2C8.

Copies of the scale will also be available in all district and regional agriculture offices beginning the first week of April.

Confronting Your Faith

With Pastor Curtis Johnson of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Ryley

Late-Seventies' Morality

A new brand of sexual morality has become respectable in the late seventies. It's been growing since the early fifties and now has almost complete control of the thinking of the secular man.

In the new morality, sexual promiscuity doesn't matter as long as no-one is hurt. In fact, among the young searching for identity and acceptance, it's to be encouraged.

Divorce evokes little of the shame and censure it once did. Marriage vows are sworn with unspoken reservations; the blessings pronounced as a ritual, without belief in their efficacy.

Homosexuality has crept "out of the closet" and parades as an acceptable alternative lifestyle. With it, a hundred other horrid perversions have adopted the mask of respectability

How did it happen? We might point to science and the advent of the pill. The media have deliberately set about to feed "public taste", both forcing and following its descending spiral. Establishment organizations - churches, commissions parliamentary committees and even the judiciary - have hastened the trend.

The trouble is that a lot of good people, including professed Christians, have got themselves all mixed up on moral issues. They no longer see clearly what is right and what is wrong. Morality has taken on an ambiguity; it swirls in a mist around them. At times they clearly see right from wrong. At other times they mistake the wrong for the right, and all too often any [illegible], they just simply don't [illegible].

Take, for example, the thrust for acceptance by homosexuals. It doesn't seem appropriate to condemn an entire group of people in today's climate of humanistic tolerance of all religions, all philosophies, all lifesty[illegible] all moralities.

Yet the Christian should have no doubt. Romans 4:26, 27 spell out God's view of homosexual acts. Of course we can be oversimplistic and condemn the person as well as the act, forgetting that the homosexual can gain repentance and forgiveness just as much as the adulterer

While society continues to argue whether homosexuality is the result of early identification problems, seduction, cultural pressures, or genetics, the Christian should never be in doubt about the morality of the homosexual act and lifestyle

This may seem like a hard line. But it is Biblical, and it is no harder than the line taken [illegible] alcoholism or drug addiction, both of which stand condemned by Christian teaching even while scientists and psychologists continue to argue causes. In all such cases, the reclamation of the individual is justifiable and appropriate while the acts are [illegible].

The same kind of stand must be taken in other areas of sexual morality. Peter con[illegible] epistle, chapter two. Paul condemns them in Ephesians, chapter five. Christ and Paul proclaim the one-man, one-woman marriage which is to last for life.

This part of being a Christian isn't all that easy. But when society shared the Christian stance, Christian morality had popular and public support. Now the media, the learned men, and even the theologians pour out their scorn on Christian morality as being outdated, unnecessary, primitive, and even dangerous. Well, did you ever think being a born-again person would make you popular or understood by the world?

On the other hand, have you noticed recently that an amazing number of psychologists, sociologists, [illegible] been proclaimed the kind of morality that Christians have always espoused? The reasons given may be different, but it is comforting to have company on what we sometimes call the straight and [illegible].

Protein programs announced

The target date for implementation of a comprehensive system for paying farmers for protein and identifying protein in wheat at country elevators has been set for August 1, 1979 by the Grain Transportation Technical Group

The Canadian Grain Commission and the Canadian Wheat Board are currently finalizing details of an interim protein payment program to be implemented across Western Canada at the start of the 1978-79 crop year

Under the program, farmers will have the opportunity to receive a premium for their deliveries of high-grade Red Spring wheat with a protein content of 15 per cent or higher. It was explained the interim program for 1978-79 is continingent on the establishment of two new grades: Extra No 1 CWRS and Extra No. 2 CWRS, both with a required protein content of 15 percent or over. Farmers delivering wheat of these two grades during the coming crop year will be entitled to receive a higher initial payment than the first payments for grades one and two CWRS

Under the upcoming program, farmers may deliver Extra 1 CWRS and Extra 2 CWRS under quota to country elevators or ship consigned cars or producer cars of these grades, subject to prevailing regulations

In the case of farm deliveries to country elevators, the elevator manager would be responsible for determining whether or not the wheat met the specifications of the new grades. The elevator manager would then pay the farmer the appropriate initial payment, ship out the high protein wheat in response to Wheat Board requirements and accept the Canadian Grain Commission official grade at unload. Farmers who chose to ship these new grades via consigned cars or producer cars would also accept the Canadian Grain Commission weight and grade on unload at a terminal, as they do now for any other grade of wheat

Two other experimental programs, already approved by the Grain Transportation Technical Group, will continue during the 1978-79 crop year. The first, a bin sampling, identification and shipping program at country elevators has been underway since early this year. The second program, involving protein testing at selected country elevator points, is to begin shortly.

M.L.A. report . . .

urban municipalities as my constituency for the need for a guaranteed source of water. With the increase in population in towns throughout the constituency, it is obvious that some sources, other than wells, will be required in the near future. Here again, the Minister of the Environment indicated that a regional water study is well underway, and should be completed in the near future. I hope that the study will prove feasible, and that a regional water distribution system will be initiated.

March 6-10 was Education Week, and I was pleased to be invited to the Harry Hill School to address the students on Friday, March 10. Their theme for Education Week was improvements in Education. I was intrigued by a unique project of the students there. They ground wheat into flour and baked their own bread. Furthermore, they served their freshly baked produce with farmstyle butter (non-colored).

On Monday, March 13, I took the opportunity to table a loaf of bread in the Legislature. bread baked on March 10. Despite the fact that Hairy Hill School is the smallest in my constituency, the small size of the school has no bearing on the quality of achievement attained in the School. It is worthwhile to note that the very capable Minister of Housing and Public Works, Honourable Wm Yurko, was born and raised in the Hairy Hill area.

The House adjourned 45 minutes earlier in order to allow reports from delegates attending any Commonwealth Parliamentary function during the past year. Being one of their delegates, attending the Fourth Canadian Regional Parliamentary Seminar in Ottawa during the first part of November, I was chosen to report to the Committee of the Legislature. At the Ottawa Seminar, there were delegates from all ten provinces of Canada and representatives from Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad and Tobago. The Alberta Branch will be hosting the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association from August 13-19, 1978.

On Wednesday March 15, 1978, a demonstration by the students of the University of Alberta took place at the Legislature. The purpose of this demonstration was to express the desire for increased support for the cost of University. The leaders of the other political parties participated and I wonder why Harry Kostiuk, President of the Alberta Federation of Labor was involved, when his position is such that he has no involvement with the Student's Union. I believe that his presence was detrimental to the students' credibility.

It may be worth noting that in 1970 (when Social Credit was in office) operating grants to the three Alberta Universities was $87,934,000. In 1977, grants were $184,048,000. In 1970, students contributed 20 per cent of their costs in universities today, they are contributing only 13 per cent

Go fly a kite

All it takes in the early spring as a good windy day and the mind of a boy swings to flying kites. And what with the marvelous models available in stores today, scientifically designed and already assembled, it seems almost impossible to miss, although the lad at right was having a bit of trouble launching the "bird", almost as big as himself. The two at left, not content with just ordinary kite flying, had progressed to the point they were cutting each other's kite out of the air, while their own continued to soar

Tofield teams play in Camrose tourney

Two Tofield teams are competing in a minor hockey tournament in Camrose this week.

In all, thirty-two teams in [illegible] bantam ages are taking part in the tournament which opened last Friday and which concludes this Saturday night.

The first part of the tournament ended on Sunday evening with the Camrose Bulldogs winning the eight-team bantam "open" competition, beating Stettler 4-3 in the finals.

Tofield has teams entered in pee wee and bantam "C" classifications

The pee wee competition (eight teams) opened this morning (Thursday) when Tofield played against the Camrose Rangers.

The winner of that game advances to the tournament semi-finals on Saturday morning while the loser would drop into consolation play early Saturday afternoon.

Finals in the tournament championship and the consolation finals are scheduled for Saturday evening.

Other teams entered in this competition are Sylvan Lake, Innisfail, Bashaw [illegible] with three squads from Camrose including the Drillers, Wildcats and Cowboys

The bantam "C" competition (also eight teams) opened with games on Tuesday with Tofield meeting Bashaw Tuesday evening.

Tofield played Fenco River yesterday (Wednesday) morning and met Sherwood Park early yesterday evening.

This tournament is divided into two divisions with the top two teams from each division meeting in semi-final play this morning (Thursday) with the finals scheduled for this evening.

The other four teams entered in this category include Irma, Myrnam, Swan Hills and Camrose Warriors.

This tournament is Camrose's first attempt at holding a large-scale minor hockey tourney.

Sub-division standards established for Ryley

Minimum design standards for development of residential sub divisions are now a requirement in the Village of Ryley

At a recent regular meeting of Village Council, three readings were given to a by-law setting out such standards and council authorized the secretary-treasurer to sell brochures outlining these standards at a set rate

Persons renting property in the village will, in the future, be required to pay a deposit for a water meter in their residence

Three readings to the necessary by-law to require such a deposit were given at [illegible] meeting of council

Councillor Brown and secretary treasurer R.C. Haviland were authorized to represent the village at the annual organizational meeting of the Tofield Cemetery Committee

Information about possible grants for the water treatment plant's construction was received from Alberta Environment

Approval of a land sale to Kinsella Transit Mix Ltd was approved and finalized at a special meeting, after first being discussed at a committee of whole council meeting held during the regular meeting.

Approval of sub-divisional plans for the north-easterly part of the village

Accounts were approved for payment and other routine business matters were handled

It was noted that the minutes of the February 27th meeting were in error as Al Burton had not accepted the appointment as director of Disaster Services for the village and thus had not attended a meeting in Camrose

Following the change, the minutes, along with minutes of a special meeting held on March 3rd, were approved.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a regular meeting held March 13th and a special meeting held on March 21st.

That Place holds nite

A good crowd turned out for the "promotion night" held in the Community Centre on Friday night under the sponsorship of That Place

Entertainment for the evening was provided by members of all of the churches in Tofield and surrounding area

Leader Severson outlined the aims and aspirations of the Vision Society and detailed the work presently being done by the staff of That Place

Considerable interest in the future of That Place was shown by those in attendance with a number of new memberships being sold and donations were received

Tofield's ratepayers meet on Friday night

The annual meeting of ratepayers in the Town of Tofield has been scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) night

The meeting will be held in the Community Centre at eight o'clock with reports on the past year's activities to be given Members of council, along with administrative staff, are expected to be in attendance

The decision to hold the annual meeting was made at a recent regular meeting of Town Council

Councillors agreed that letters should be forwarded to Alberta Transportation and the Railway Transport Committee of the Canadian Transport Commission to object to the proposed abandonment of railway branch lines in the town

Councillors were in accord that the lines should not be abandoned because of possible [illegible] industrial use

Three readings were given to a by-law which authorized a tax assessment on property owned by the Tofield Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion

It was agreed that Councillors Weatherill, Watson, Warton and Pitter should meet prior to the next regular meeting of council, to discuss a major road plan for the town

Councillor Watson was authorized to arrange for filling in cracks in the pavement

It was agreed that a contract be arranged with Tofield Tire and Battery for rental of a riding tractor, mower and attachments for use in the park

Councillor Regehr told his fellow councillors that the County of Beaver was donating machine time to clean up the willows and bush on the Fairgrounds

Administration was advised to complete the STEP program application which would seek to provide employment for four students

The chartered accounting firm of Hunt and Miranda was reappointed as the town's auditors, for a term not to exceed five years

A budget of $1,480 for the Fire Department was approved. A proposal for extension to the Fire Hall and the purchase of an air pack and extra tank was deferred to regular budget time

Fire Chief J Tiedemann was present during discussion on the fire department expenditures

Approval was given to the payment of accounts, amounting to $78,734.37

The minutes of a regular meeting held on February 27th, and a special meeting held on March 6th, were approved

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a meeting held on March 13th.

Helping Mother Nature

Ottawa's Department of Fisheries and the Environment is planning an interesting new scheme, with a pilot project in the Interlake region in Manitoba. The plan is to use solar heat to provide as much as seventy percent of the annual heating needs of a fish hatchery, which raises fish for research purposes. The warmed water encourages faster growth of the fish.

If the project proves as successful as is anticipated, it is thought it may move to other hatcheries, both government and commercial units.

The thought occurs, if there is a potential from the sun's heat, would there be equally as much potential in Lake Wabamun from the heat of the big power plant there. Calgary Power has faced a barrage of criticism from cottage owners over several years concerning the great expansion of weed growth in the lake, and the company has gone to very considerable lengths to answer the criticism and to alleviate the problem.

Use of the warm waters as a source of heating market gardens was suggested, but we think the idea was considered not too feasible.

Ottawa's research station has already proved the faster growth of fish in warm water . . . if the idea could be extended to Wabamun it's entirely possible the fish might help control the weed growth, while the company could earn the undying gratitude of fishermen in the area if the annual catch expanded as much as the weeds.

Imagine, no more carping, just more carp!

Not all in agreement

The Lougheed government operates as a pretty well integrated machine, and rarely does it appear to the public that there are any problems within the organization. Differences of opinion doubtless are expressed within caucus, and doubtless there are some pretty severe disputes from time to time, but on the outside at least, the impression is maintained most of the time that the members are in pretty general agreement.

Oh, the backbenchers rise every once in awhile and ask questions of various ministers regarding the interests of their specific constituencies, but for the most part, one gains the impression these questions are being asked so that they can be seen to have been asked by the voters back home, and also that the minister concerned has been tipped off ahead of time.

So it was more than a little unusual the other day when a Calgary member, Harvey Ghitter, was quite critical of the attorney general's action in undertaking the Royal American Shows inquiry in Edmonton, and of some of the comments Mr. Foster, as attorney general, reserved for the witness stand in the inquiry, rather than making them in the Legislature. Himself a well known lawyer in Calgary, as well as being an MLA, Mr. Ghitter pointed out the Legislature is the higher of the two courts, and reproved Mr. Foster for bypassing the Legislature to make his comments at the Laycraft inquiry.

With comments like this being made in public, it might have been fascinating to hear the kind of comment made behind the closed doors of the caucus. We'll bet the thermostat could have been turned down for some time.

IT WAS WORTHWHILE

We left Canada in Nov. of 1975 for which was to be the start of a 2½ year voluntary service term with the Mennonite Central Committee. We flew to Recife located in the state of Pernambuco, Brazil, which is found of the far eastern tip of the South American continent. There we were thrust into 3 months of intensive study of the Portuguese language. Armed with the basic techniques of the language, we moved into the interior of the state some 100 km. from the eastern coastline to a mainly agricultural based community called Orobo.

The climate is hot with the typical dry and wet summers common to tropical areas. During Oct to March, which is the summer season in the Southern Hemisphere, we experienced a semi-desert type of climate and during April through Sept. was the somewhat colder rainy winter season, also the season when most of the crops are produced.

Northeastern Brazil is one of the largest poor areas among 3rd world countries. Orobe is a small but very typical community with 20,000 inhabitants living within 120 sq. km. (75 sq. miles) with 2,500 of these living in town. Crowded conditions were typical in town and in poor class rural areas. The difference between the rich (5 percent of the population) and the poor (80 percent) was very real in the Northeast. This is characterized by the rich owning the most productive land the poor being crowded into the inferior agricultural land. Our work took place mainly with the poorer class.

Among the many physical problems that presented themselves, the main ones we worked at were mal-nutrition, poor sanitary conditions, and low agricultural production.

For Tom, working through already organized co-ops and other farm workers organizations was the best method to help local farmers. Poor soil fertility, lack of mechanization and updated technology are some of the reasons for poor ag. production. Tom assisted farmers by giving technical assistance, introduced chemical fertilizers, use of better seed and obtaining credit for local farmers for purchase of these agricultural inputs.

Poor sanitary conditions were a major reason for poor health conditions. Intestinal parasites are very common here. Small children are commonly found with 5-6 kinds of parasites at one time. The majority of families do not own an outside toilet, therefore contaminated feces are spread. So we promoted, encouraged, and taught importance of toilet use to stop the vicious parasite cycles. Another effort to improve health standards was to dig community wells. Families were using water from small water collection holes for drinking and household use. These holes were open and easily contaminated. With wells, clean safe drinking was available for family use. Wells 3-5 meters were dug, concrete casing installed and covered with a lid. A pump was installed thus eliminating any chance of contamination. The cost of the well was shared by all users which generally numbered 10-15 families. The work was done together, and the cost of the material (app. $65.00) was divided. In this way people were encouraged to work together and as a group solve their own problems.

Another main reason for poor health conditions, along with lack of sanitation, was mal-nutrition. A high percentage of children died before they reached the age of 5 years, due to very poor nutrition and hygiene conditions. Esther taught classes to poor rural women. Various types of classes were taught: nutrition cooking, health-hygiene and pre-natal. The main topics covered were the basic food groups, a balanced diet, the diet of the pregnant and nursing mother, the diet of the baby, and pure water. Many other topics, as well as demonstration vegetable gardens were included. With the help of Mennonite Central Committee funds, water filter projects were carried out, assisting families to buy the filters. Each family paid only half the cost of the filter. Esther compiled a recipe booklet, of which each cooking student received a copy. The recipes were of simple dishes that could be made inexpensively with local products.

Development work was not to stop when we left our community. Therefore, Tom taught farmers, and in particular trained one counterpart, to continue agricultural and sanitation projects. Esther taught a teacher training course to ten women, selected from the various areas of the Orobo community. These women studied in preparation to become teachers of nutrition-cooking, health-hygiene, and pre-natal courses. Each trainee received a complete set of lesson notes, and prepared a complete set of visual aids to enable her to teach the three courses. Now they are responsible for continuing the teaching of fellow rural women in the Orobo area. In this way true development should take place where the local people themselves carry forward their own projects.

Renewal of the Catholic Church in Brazil gave us many opportunities to become closer to the people. Local youth were searching for answers to life's problems and we gathered with them for weekly Bible study and sharing times. Many rural people wanted to read the Bible but couldn't afford to buy one, so with funds sent to us from families, friends and churches back home, we bought and distributed upon request 700-800 New Testaments (Good news for Modern Man) in Portuguese. Cost of each N.T. approx. $1.50.

We have enjoyed our term of service immensely. The Brazilians showed us so much love and kindness. They trusted us and accepted us as their brother and sister. We have learned so much and are thankful for having this cross-cultural experience and realize how fortunate we are as Canadians for the wealthy land we live in.

It also opened us to world problems and that we must all be responsible to each other for this world is not ours alone to live in.

Tom and Esther Olfert

GET A FACE LIFT

Dear Sir, [redacted] Mar 22

In answer to a letter appearing March 16 entitled "Where is Civic Pride" Please allow me as a newcomer to your town, to voice my opinion

It would appear to me, there is no civic pride or business pride either for that matter, in this town

I was at a bingo in the Community Centre when it was announced there was a sale at a local shop After looking for 6 days without luck, I finally asked a sales clerk where this shop was located She told me where it was and I was able to find it, but the only sign visible to me was on the door saying "Yes, we're open." Do your business people in this town not stay in business long enough to put up or hang out a sign saying what their business is"

Upon further checking it was noticed those who were sure of their business have very prominent signs such as Tofield Hotel, Post Office, ALCB etc The ones where the government gets a large slice of the money But alas, the Treasury Branch sign by the Co-op, certainly does not look to me to be the place one would buy license plates for automobiles, which are due now Must one still go to Edmonton to get these services?

By all appearances the greater share of businesses in town could use a Face Lift not just trees. How about this for a Spring Project"

Come on business people in town Take a look at your place from the outside. You know where you are, but we don't. Do you want our business kept in town or taken to the city? It's up to you.

A Newcomer to Town.

Confronting Your Faith

Rick Pastor Harold Burtger of the Mennonite Church, Holden Congregation.

Someone has offered a pregnant bit of advice - "If all else fails read the instructions." Not a few of us must admit having experienced frustration, disappointment and sometimes have suffered loss simply because we by-passed the instructions.

Every useful thing whether it be automobile, dishwasher or calculator has been made to fill a designated function, provided it is assembled and used within the specified code of directions provided for it by its designer. Maximum performance and efficiency are tied to the built-in specifications, so that if you want to gain the greatest benefit you must be careful to comply closely with the regulations.

Few will question this principle as it commonly applies to the realm of things produced by man's ingenuity, but is it any less reasonable to accept that the created world, in which we live and of which we are a part was also designed with objectivity, and ordered to function within specified codes inbuilt by its Maker so that, if those codes are respected and followed, the creation works, and if not it fails?

There are a number of New Testament Scriptures that indicate that the world was created by Jesus Christ and for Him, such as Colossians 1:16, 17 and I Corinthians 8:13. The late E. Stanley Jones, in commenting on this truth says; "That phrase - 'for Christ' is important. If these passages mean anything, they mean that everything is made to work in its inner structure in Christ's Way. If it works in His Way, it fulfills the purpose of its creation - it works harmoniously, creatively, and happily. Its very being and the purpose of its being is fulfilled. If it works some other way, it works its own ruin, not by decreee from without, but intrinsically. It is ruined by violating the law of its own nature. It is self destroyed."

Knowledgable and honest people will not minimize the critical state of affairs plaguing our world, physically, economically, socially and morally, for which the remedy continues to elude us despite human effort to diagnose and prescribe solutions in our counterfeit claims that we are the masters of our destiny we tend to ignor our Maker, if not to openly rebel against His Sovereignty. We defend our right to live independently, as we please, assuming that specified moral and ethical codes are unauthoritative, restrictive and enslaving rather than liberating and fulfilling.

The Apostle Paul gave an answer to such (interne philosophy in 1 Corinthians 6 12 when he said: "All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient (not for my best) All things are lawful for me, (I can do what I please) but I will not be brought under the power of any" (I will not allow) the exercise of my liberty to enslave me to the thing that I allow. In other words we may exercise our liberty in such a way as to produce either results or consequences, and there is a difference.

Quoting E. Stanley Jones again - "Morality is not something we can take or leave and nothing happens. Everything happens. Morality is not built up by mores, by custom - it is not built up, but built in. You don't break the moral laws, you break yourself upon them. This is a universe where you get results or you get consequences. If you work with the moral universe you get results - it will back you, sustain you, and you will have cosmic support for your way of life. But if you go against the oral universe, you get consequences - you'll be up against things, you'll be frustrated."

It is my belief that the ills plaguing our world today are not by accident but by design - [illegible] of a creation aborting its objectivity. Will we consult the directions and redirect life according to the Maker's plan before its too late?

It is still our choice.

With the Guide, you can do it.

The income tax return has been improved this year, making it easier for you to do it yourself. And to make it even easier, read the six basic steps in the Guide. You'll probably find all you need to know there. But if you have any additional questions, you'll find the answers in the detailed portion of the Guide.

And remember:
1. Include all your original receipts.
2. Double check your return before mailing it. If you have a refund coming, you'll get it sooner if your tax form has been done accurately.

Go ahead! You can do it.

DISPOSING OF MANURE IN THE SOIL

Research carried out at the federal station at Lethbridge shows that manure can be applied to the soil at two or three times the recommended rate without danger of crop toxicity or pollution, but that soil moisture is an important factor in determining how much manure can be used without adversely affecting plant growth

Application rates used at the research station since 1973 have been 0, 13, 27, and 40 tons per acre on nonirrigated land and 0, 27, 54 and 80 tons per acre on irrigated land The manure was applied and incorprated into the soil in the fall The following spring the soil was tilled again, and seeded to Galt barley

The barley responded favorably to all applications in the first year, but in 1975 and 1976 yields fluctuated because of variable moisture levels It was found that as the rates of manure applied increased, moisture requirements also increased

According to information received by Alberta Agriculture, the soil dried out excessively at germination time when the higher rates of manure were applied, and supplementary water was required to germinate the seed During the growing season vegetative growth was rank and soil moisture use was high. When sufficient moisture was not maintained during the growing season, the plants became stressed during the period when the kernels were developing, with the result that the grain was underdeveloped and shrivelled On the other hand, the germination was not affected when soil moisture was abundant The kernels filled and the grain yield increased

Manure at all rates increased the protein content of the grain, says the Lethbridge release, and the relative increase was greater where soil moisture was not limiting The protein content was about the same when lower application rates of manure were used as when they were moderate or heavy. Relatively large increases in grain and straw yields were recorded when light applications of manure were used, but increases from additional manure were small.

THE SHELF LIFE OF CANNED FOOD

How long can canned foods be safely stored? I get several calls each year asking this question. I think it's a good idea to use them within a year and to make sure you rotate your stalk.

According to Karen Graham, Alberta Agriculture's district home economist at Pincher Creek, commercial canned foods can be kept almost indefinitely if they are stored in a cool place. "The sealed cans," she says, "are heated during the canning process to destroy organisms that could cause spoilage" Canned acidic foods that are not stored in a cool place may react with the iron and tin in the can to cause an off-flavor, but this flavor does not indicate spoilage. Mrs Graham says some of the vitamins in commercially canned foods will deteriorate if the cans are stored for a year or so in a relatively warm temperature. Canned fruits and vegetables, for example, can lose up to 10 per cent of their vitamin C content if they are stored for more than a year at 18 degree C. If the storage temperature is 26 degree C, the vitamin C loss can be as high as 25 per cent after a year.

Mrs. Graham says the type of food and its vitamin content will determine the net loss of nutrients that occurs when the cans are stored for a long period "Some vitamins" she explains, "are more stable than others. Riboflavin (one of the B vitamins), for example, is not affected under normal storage temperatures."

Home canned foods can also be kept almost indefinitely, providing they were properly canned and are stored in a cool place If they are not kept in a cool, dry place, the quality can deteriorate after the first year To prevent the food from darkening, the jars should be kept in a dark storeroom wrapped in a newspaper or stored in boxes

"Before opening any canned product," says Mrs Graham, "check the can for rust, punctures or bulges Any leakage from the container or a bulge in a can indicates spoilage. If this type of damage is discovered, it is safer to discard the food"

Are canned goods safe after they have been frozen?

Mrs Graham says there is no danger in using canned foods that have been frozen as long as there is no sign of leakage from the container after it has thawed. However the freezing may change the appearance and texture of the food. Some creamy foods may curdle or separate after they have been frozen, but their original consistency usually returns when they are heated. If, however, there is any sign that the container has leaked or if there is a bulge in the cans, do not take a chance on eating the food

Did you get Unemployment Insurance in 1977?

If so, you have probably received a tax information slip (T4U) in the mail.

If the slip hasn't arrived...

If you didn't get a T4U from us, go to your local post office. Pick up a postal reply card to apply for duplicates. Fill it in and mail it. You'll get your duplicate T4U in time to file your tax return.

If the slip has arrived...

If you did get a T4U but need a replacement for any reason, also use the postal reply card. Mark "replacement" on the card in the upper right hand corner.

If the slip has arrived but you need more information...

If you did get a T4U and still need an itemized statement, fill in the same card. You must write the total UI benefits you got in 1977 somewhere on the card.

This is important. It will help us get your statement to you in time. You'll find the total benefits figure in Box "B" of your T4U slip.

CANADA PENSION PLAN CHANGES.

Better Benefits For Some.

Divorce or Annulment.

CPP pension credits earned by a husband and wife during marriage may be divided equally between them if the marriage ends in divorce or annulment after January 1, 1978. This ensures that an asset accumulated through the efforts of both spouses while they were married can be shared equally by both when the marriage is dissolved.

Retroactive Payment of Retirement Benefits.

Retirement benefits may now be paid retroactively for a period of up to 12 months to contributors who had attained age 65 but who are under age 70 and who have retired from the labour force.

Post-Mortem Benefits.

Applications for retroactive benefits (i.e. up to 12 months) can now be made on behalf of a deceased person, in cases where a contributor qualified, but failed to apply, before death. Families or estates will be entitled to receive benefits in such cases.

Elimination of Reductions in Children's Benefits.

Orphans' and disabled contributors' children's benefits are no longer reduced for the fifth and subsequent children. All children in a family, regardless of its size, are eligible to receive equal benefits.

These important amendments to the Canada Pension Plan came into force on January 1st, 1978.

Writers wanted

The Mercury is looking for two correspondents to help keep readers informed about happenings in two communities.

The two areas in need of correspondents are Ryley and Bruce.

Ryley has always been served by a local news writer while Bruce has not had a news correspondent in the past.

Anyone can be a news reporter. Interested persons do not need a gifted command of the language or a super writing talent. As long as the basic information is received, it can be edited for publication.

Anyone interested in helping to keep readers from the two communities informed should write to The Editor, The Mercury, 5211-50 Street, Tofield.

So, you think drunk driving is funny.

There's nothing funny about a person who drinks too much and then drives. But there is something funny about how surprised such drivers are when they're caught. In fact, you should see the look on their faces after we charge them with impaired driving. Because, once we charge anyone with impaired driving we take them "back to the station." And, like everyone else charged under the criminal code they have to arrange their own release. One more thing. Under the law licence suspensions are mandatory for impaired drivers. There are no exemptions, no "special licences" for driving to work. Suspension is always absolute.

Sound tough? Not really. You see CHECK STOP isn't aimed at people who've had a couple of drinks while enjoying themselves. CHECK STOP is aimed at people who drink too much and then drive. A few of them are so drunk they can barely turn the key in their ignition. However, most impaired drivers look sober — but are only fooling themselves. Don't let them fool you. Watch for the kind of peole you should stop before they get behind a wheel.

You know who we mean. And, you know how they act.

Please CHECK STOP can catch fools who drink too much and drive. But only you can stop them before they turn the key.

Think twice.

CHECK STOP
It's really up to you.

IN MEMORIAM

ERICKSON - In memory of Peter Erickson, who would have reached his 89th year on April 4th, passed away Jan. 12th, 1978. Blessed be his memory.

SAFELY HOME

[redacted] home in Heaven, dear ones;
Oh so happy and so bright,
There is perfect joy and beauty
In this everlasting light.
All the pain and grief is over,
Every restless tossing passed,
I am now at [redacted] forever,
Safely home in heaven at last.
Did you wonder I so calmly
Trod the valley of the shade?
[redacted] but Jesus love illumined
Every dark and fearful glade.
And He came Himself to meet me
In the way so hard to tread,
And with Jesus arm to lean on,
Could I have one doubt or dread?
Then you must not grieve so sorely,
For I love you dearly still,
Try to look beyond deaths shadows
Pray to trust our Father's will.
There is work still waiting for you,
So you must not idly stand,
Do it now while life remaineth
[redacted] shall rest in Jesus land.
When that work is all completed,
He will gently call you home;
Oh, the rapture of that meeting,
Oh, the joy to see you come.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by Olive, Orval, Muriel, Bill & family. 30p-730

SAFELY HOME

I am home in Heaven, dear ones,
Oh so happy and so bright,
There is perfect joy and beauty
In this everlasting light
All the pain and grief is over,
Every restless tossing passed,
I am now at peace forever,
Safely home in heaven at last
Did you wonder I so calmly
Trod the valley of the shade?
Oh but Jesus love illumined
Every dark and fearful glade.
And He came Himself to meet me
In the way so hard to tread,
And with Jesus arm to lean on,
Could I have one doubt or dread?
Then you must not grieve so sorely,
For I love you dearly still,
Try to look beyond deaths shadows
Pray to trust our Father's will
There is work still waiting for you,
So you must not idly stand,
Do it now while life remaineth
You shall rest in Jesus land
When that work is all completed,
He will gently call you home;
Oh, the rapture of that meeting,

Tofield teams do well in tournament

Tofield minor hockey teams won four games while losing three during a week long tournament in Camrose which concluded on Saturday.

Tofield Bantams were undefeated in divisional play and bowed out in the tournament semi finals while the Pee Wee team was eliminated in consolation play finals.

Bantams

Tofield posted three straight one goal victories to finish in first play in their division.

In their opening contest, Tofield eked out a narrow 9-8 triumph over Bashaw, holding off a final period assault by the losers which had resulted in two goals late in the game.

Andrukow, Schacher and Olson paced the winners at the with two goals each while singles were added by Barton, Beattie and Aarhus. Tofield picked up six penalties to ten for Bashaw.

Tofield then edged Peace River 3-2 when they scored the lone goal of the final period.

Schacher, Olson and Blakey scored Tofield's goals. Tofield was assessed fifteen penalties to only six for Peace River.

After giving Sherwood Park a 3-1 first period lead, Tofield bounced back with three straight goals to earn a 4-3 decision and first place in their division.

Olson, Henriksen, Schacher and Beattie scored for Tofield who picked up nine penalties to ten for Sherwood Park.

Tofield then tangled with Bashaw in semi-final play with Bashaw coming out on top by a 5-2 score.

Henriksen and Schacher scored Tofield's goals with the team being assessed eleven penalties to nine for the winners.

Pee Wees

Tofield Pee Wees got off on the wrong foot when they were blasted 12-3 by Camrose Rangers, in their opening mat ch.

Hubert, Bouma and Fleck scored for Tofield who had two penalties to four for Camrose in the cleanly played contest.

Dropping down to consolation play, Tofield rebounded by posting a convincing 7-2 victory over the Camrose Drillers.

Hubert and Berrecloth paced Tofield's attack with two goals each while singles were added by Yoder, Madsen and Morris. Tofield picked up five penalties to eight for the Camrose squad.

Dennis Fenske to head landowners' association

The Cooking Lake Moraine Landowners Association held their annual meeting in the Tofield Community Hall on March 20.

Professor Fred Lanak was the guest speaker. He explored avenues the municipal government would follow to effect a certain result.

Three pieces of legislation could be used to freeze this area:

(1) Environment Act, Section 15; (2). Land Surface Rights Act, and (3) Alberta Historical Resources Act.

Following the speech, an election of a board of directors for the Cooking Lake Moraine Landowners Association was held with the following 8 members elected:

Bill Brown - Lindbrook, Dennis Fenske, North Minstik, Joyce Henderson, Spitstead, Doug Heuchert, South Minstik, Ed Kubic, Josephs Lake, Joe Laarhuis, Beaverhill Lake, Brian Rauch, South Cooking Lake, and Bill Stefenzen, North Cooking Lake.

The Minister of the Environment, Hon. Dave Russel, had agreed to meet the Board on Tuesday (April 4).

The following executive was appointed by the Board - Dennis Fenske, President, Ed Kubic, Vice-president, Joyce Henderson, Secretary-treasurer.

Driver crackdown planned by RCMP

RCMP in Tofield are planning a crackdown on three types of driving infractions within the town limits.

The drinking driver could be the hardest hit as attempts are being made to bring in an "ALERT" unit to set up a road block which could see every suspicious driver being tested and possibly charged with a liquor offense.

RCMP have been quite disenchanted with the number of drinking drivers that are apparently on the road and have decided a crackdown is necessary. Just on the past Saturday night, three charges of impaired driving were laid.

With the filing of Saturday's three charges, the number of impaired driving charges laid so far this year has climbed to thirteen, a total considered to be too high for the size of the community.

Drivers making u-turns on Main Street in the Town will find that not to be a smart move in the future.

Numerous complaints have been received about this driving practice and RCMP warn that charges will be laid in all instances in the future.

Near are the youngsters getting off. Complaints about the younger generation riding their bicycles on the sidewalk have been received and RCMP warn kids that this practice is not legal.

Norm Kelly reported the theft of approximately one hundred dollars in change from the Tofield Laundromat. Police are investigating.

Officials of the Tofield Post Office have reported that a person (or persons) has been tampering with locked boxes located in the lobby with at least one door having been destroyed.

A young male Tofield resident will be appearing in court later he was charged with an offence. Manners Kuczera of Tofield reported to RCMP that extensive damage had been caused to the front lawn of his property, apparently by a vehicle's tires being spun rapidly.

John Sen of Holden reported a loss of a cylinder motor exhaust manifold and a four-speed transmission from a panel truck while it had been left at Lyalo Motors for repairs.

Floyd Tiedeman of Tofield reported the theft of a car radio from his truck.

Museum to open

The directors of the Tofield Historical Society are at last in a position to open the local museum for public viewing.

They have been busy for many days building cabinets and preparing articles for display.

Most of the museum's contents are of local interest, some local history has been recorded regarding them.

They extend a cordial invitation to all to view the exhibits perhaps you have a contribution to make.

The museum will be open Saturday and Sunday, April 15 and 16 also April 22 and 23 from 1 to 5 p.m.

There is no charge for admission.

Hultholm gets medal

Don Hultholm of Holden has been presented with the Queen Elizabeth II Silver Jubilee Medal for his work in 4-H.

Mr. Hultholm was nominated for the award by the 4-H Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture because of his many years of service in the field of 4-H in the Holden area.

Mr. Hultholm became involved in 4-H as a young boy and later became a leader in the local movement, a position he still holds.

He has served as district and regional councils and is a member of the Alberta 4-H Advisory Council, having held the post of president for one term.

Mr. Hultholm is currently serving on the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs and will be attending that organization's annual meeting in Halifax, Nova Scotia in late May.

Born and raised in the Holden area, Don and his wife, Lydia, operate their own farm in the district.

Now for the bad news!

Canadian Comment

[illegible], Switzerland — (SF) — The largest factory in this town on the shores of Lake Constance is MOWAG — and enterprise owned and operated by 74-year-old Walter Ruf.

MOWAG makes armoured cars, and right now there are Canadian armoured cars coming off the assembly line.

Several years ago when Canada was hunting around for a new armoured car, the MOWAG factory name just happened to come up. When their products had been investigated, it was MOWAG that won the $150 million contract for 350 new armoured vehicles for the Canadian Armed Forces. It's really a pretty good deal for both Herr Ruf and for Canada.

Only the first 14 armoured cars are being made here in the Kreuzlingen MOWAG factory. The rest are being assembled in the General Motors plant at London, Ontario. Herr Ruf is building the suspensions for all 350 vehicles and collecting a royalty of $7,300 on each one, [illegible]. He'll be getting $351,000 [illegible] each of the 14 cars he builds plus about [illegible] for each car made in [illegible] to pay for the [illegible] royalties.

So far there's nothing special about the deal, but wait. When Herr Ruf came to Canada to firm up his deal, he found a company in Toronto making armour plate. Not only will all the vehicles in the [illegible] made armout plate, but Canadian steel is now being shipped to Switzerland for use in armoured cars being made for other MOWAG customers.

Herr Ruf has been having trouble obtaining Swiss government approval for some foreign sales of his armoured cars, because the executive council of Switzerland in Bern is even more fussy about who gets to buy weapons than is the Canadian government. [illegible] MOWAG armoured cars for other foreign customers has [illegible].

The Swiss government will have objection to MOWAG making and exporting suspensions for armoured cars to the GM plant in London, Ont., and GM of Canada has been given approval to act as international agent for the company. Several promising customers are now discussing deals, including Malaysia.

Not only has the deal Canada made with MOWAG [illegible] provided the Canadian Armed Forces with a first-rate weapon, ideal for urban guerrilla warfare - but it has turned out to be an excellent arrangement for job creation and eventual foreign sales profits, too.

As far as the vehicle itself is concerned, it is impervious to Molotov cocktails, can make 105 kilometers an hour on the highway, the plating will stop any bullets up to .30 calibre machine gun rounds, and it behaves like a speed boat in the water. It's the best all-purpose armoured car I've ever seen, at a reasonable price.

Outside bids

Mention of bidding above reminds us that Alberta contractors are facing stiff competition from outside the province, as less and less work is being done in other areas, while construction continues at a high level in Alberta.

So it was that a month ago Alberta Housing Corporation found a Winnipeg firm the lowest of nine to bid on a 61 unit senior citizens residence in Calgary.

It's always a problem politically to see work awarded outside the range of the political area concerned, and there are frequently complaints that government, especially, should be supporting and sustaining firms within its orbit.

However, with a bid of $1,643,080, the Winnipeg builders were $101,000 lower than the nearest Alberta firm, and that's too much for a government to overlook on almost any preferential bid.

A highly interesting aspect of the bidding, too, was that the next seven firms were all in a surprisingly tight range, indicating competitive bidding, under the conditions they're used to.

Could it be that Alberta firms are so geared to higher costs, with high wages, expensive associated costs and so on that they can be outbid by businesses two provinces away?

Your cigarette dollar

Board controls manufacturing which is 27 per cent of your cigarette dollar

Light up, sit back and relax, and we'll tell you who gets what out of the dollar you put down for that package of cigarettes.

Canada's tobacco industry is finding itself constrained by the controls program. Sales are brisk and revenues up. Smoking apparently has not been affected by economic conditions. The major tobacco processors already have profit margins at the limit of what the controls program allows.

Price hikes you have been seeing are the work of the tax man. Cigarettes, like alcohol, are a favorite target when governments need extra revenue. That revenue is essential for all those services we've come to expect of government, such as health services, recreation facilities and welfare programs. Taxing cigarettes and alcohol theoretically places the burden on those who can afford luxury items rather than on citizens who can purchase only the bare essentials. Taxes account for almost 60 cents of the retail price of your package.

Tobacco is marketed through the Ontario Flue-Cured Tobacco Growers Marketing Board. The quota of tobacco the farmer may grow on his land is determined by this Board. The Tobacco Marketing Board, however, does not set the price of the unprocessed tobacco, this is determined at the tobacco auction by the trade and quality of the leaf. The tobacco in your cigarette accounts for about seven cents of your dollar.

Now comes the cellophane, crush proof box and foil for four cents, four more cents for the labor, two cents for the advertising, four cents for overhead such as plant costs, and municipal taxes, six and one half cents gross profit (that's before the company pays its income tax), and finally seven cents each for the wholesaler and retailer.

So people may know

We're interested in a couple of the Bills for this session of the Legislature being put forward by members of the Opposition, which, of course, means they haven't a chance. Oh, possibly one being put forward by Gordon Taylor might pass, in that it is a minor amendment to the Jury Act, which would remove blindness as a ground for disqualification as a juror.

It's not a bad idea at all, and probably not many people have known that blindness presently is a disqualification for jury duty. Seemingly, it stems from the days when being blind was equated with lack of intelligence or judgment, days which mercifully are long [illegible].

It occurs to us that not being able to see the witnesses might enable a juror to concentrate more on what is being said, although many courtroom participants come away with a feeling that all witnesses must be blind. But then, isn't Justice supposed to be blind in the first place?

The other bill is much more weighty, with many sections, all defining the public's right to information concerning the public business, except in certain special instances.

Advanced by Dr. Walter Buck, we would imagine a good deal of it is inspired by the lengthy fight in the House of Commons by Peace River MP Ged Baldwin for similar legislation, one which he probably won't live long enough to win. Although the forces of all parties are slowly being marshalled in support as more and more instances of the paper curtain come to light.

For our part, we wish Dr. Buck well. There's no doubt that the public has a right to far more information than it usually is given access to, that information which should be in the public domain is corked up simply because its easier, or to avoid administrative embarrassment.

Be careful using microwaves

During the past few years there has been a dramatic increase in the use of microwave ovens for cooking, first of all in commercial food establishments and then in the home. These ovens use a wave similar to radio or television waves to cook food placed in them. This cooking is achieved very quickly, completely and safely. If, however, the oven is operated improperly, or is in such condition as to allow the escape of microwaves then the operator's health could be affected by these microwaves.

Following are some rules for the safe operation of microwave ovens.

(1) The oven should be placed at a height of 45" to the center of the door from the [illegible].

(2) Stand at least an arm's length away from an operating oven.

(3) While the oven is operating, the door should be closed at all times.

(4) Never look through the oven door while it is in operation.

(5) An empty oven should not be operated nor should metal cookware be used.

(6) The oven has safety locks to ensure the oven does not operate with the door open. These should not be tampered with.

(7) An oven which is damaged in any way should not be operated. The oven should be regularly serviced by a qualified serviceman for signs of wear, damage, or tampering.

(8) Scouring pads, steel wool, and other abrasives could damage the oven. To clean oven cavity, doors, and seals, use water and a mild detergent. This cleaning should be done after each use.

(9) If you are a cardiac pacemaker user, an operating microwave oven should never be approached.

The Alberta East Central Health Unit hopes that the above informaiton will be useful to you in the safe enjoyment of your microwave oven. If there is an area of the use of your machine that needs further explanation, or if you are concerned about the safety of your microwave oven, please contact the Public Health Inspector in your area. A simple check can be made to determine the safety of your oven and an explanation of some of the hazards will be given.

COOL COOKING FOR KIDS

This is a new book. I have in the office. Its purpose is to acquaint children with food, where it comes from, and how to prepare it. These are some ideas from the book.

PEANUT BUTTER MILK SHAKE

Put 2 cups cold milk into blender. Add one-third cup peanut butter. Add 2 tbsp sugar or honey. Crush and add 6 to 8 ice cubes. Blend until smooth. Yield 24 oz.

INSTANT FINGER PAINT

Use instant chocolate pudding for finger painting. Each child should have about ⅓ cup to work with.

Spread clean lettuce leaves, 1 per child, with softened cream cheese or with cottage cheese. Roll them up and place them on a plate, seam side down. Chill, and serve for a snack.

COOL COOKING FOR KIDS by Pat McClenahan and Ida Jaque.

Time is money...and less is getting you more
Food prices have undeniably risen, but so have wages and salaries. The clock faces illustrate the relative food buying power of an average hourly wage in the manufacturing industries in 1961 vs. 1977. The 1977 worker still has enough of his hour's pay left over to buy a pound of sirloin steak: 17 minutes. Coffee is one of the few commodities for which consumers must pay proportionally more: 40 minutes in 1977 compared with 23 minutes in 1961

SEEDLING BLIGHT OF RAPE

The best way to prevent seedling blight of rape is to sow the seed shallowly in a firm seedbed.

Plant pathologists with Alberta Agriculture explain that seedlings that are not planted shallowly die because of a decay that sets in before they become well established. "This decay," they say, "is caused by a fungus that lives in the soil and which attacks both Polish and Argentine type rapeseed."

Seedling blight generally occurs when growing conditions are not favorable to the crop. Plants that are weakened by their struggle to reach the soil surface after deep seeding and by cool growing conditions are very susceptible to seedling blight

Seedling blight was very severe in 1975, which had a cool, dry spring, because many rape growers seeded too deeply in an attempt to place the seed in moist soil. The pathologists point out that fields that were reseeded when moisture conditions had improved and tempreatures were higher produced good stands of rape with an insignificant percentage of seedling blight

Since seedling blight does not infect cereal crops, this problem is generally less severe when rape is grown after a cereal crop than when it is grown after rape, flax or clover

The pathologists recommend the following procedures to reduce rape losses from seedling blight

— Sow rape no deeper than 2.5 cm In dry soil it is better to sow at this depth than to sow deeper to reach moisture.

— Sow rape in a firm seedbed

— Use a combination insecticide-fungicide seed treatment. It will provide some protection against seedling blight, seed decay and the flea beetle problem

— Keep the land free of rape and cruciferous weeds for a period of two or more years before using it for a rape crop

Meant For Last Week

Last week's Budget Address contained welcome news for many Albertans It came in the form of an announcement that the 10 cent tax on gasoline · · and the 12 cent tax on diesel fuel · · would be removed, effective April 1st

It should be noted that I have advocated removal of that tax since 1974 when it became evident that the tax was not necessary as a revenue source for the province. I'm happy that the government finally took my advice The real challenge for the government now is to assure that the full benefits of that reduction is passed on to the motoring public in Alberta.

One other aspect of this matter concerns me That is the radical spread of prices for gasoline depending on geographic location. For example, gasoline prices in far northern Alberta and other rural regions now exceeds one dollar per gallon, some 20 to 25 cents above the price in the urban centres of Edmonton and Calgary. Perhaps we should be attempting to provide some type of transporation equalization to bring these prices into line

There has been some concern expressed regarding the cost-factors relative to propane, used by many farmers in Alberta Propane prices will be de-regulated on April 1st, and the price may well go up considerably No tax reduction has been announced for propane Provincial Treasurer Leitch has made a commitment to consider, in the future, the cost of propane and the tax associated with it.

If you have questions or comments, please call my Edmonton office at 427-2331, or my Fort Saskatchewan office at 998-3376

Thirteen girls seek rodeo queen crown

Thirteen (13) might be an unlucky number to some, but to the Camrose Kinsmen, the number thirteen is lucky.

Kinsmen have a total of thirteen lovely young ladies trying out for the title of 1978 Kinsmen Rodeo Queen.

The 1978 Queen will be crowned on Saturday night, following a final judging session which starts at seven o'clock. Judging is also scheduled for Friday night at seven o'clock and follows a judging session held last week when the girls met the judges for the first time.

The new queen will be crowned by the 1977 Rodeo Queen, Marilyn Riske of Camrose, who had represented the Camrose Light Horse Association.

The 1978 competition is the best yet, setting a new record for entries. Last year, a total of nine young ladies vied for the crown.

Chairman of this year's rodeo queen competition, for a second successive season, is Ilas Barr.

Following is a brief history of each of this year's contestants:

Angela Doody Angela is a sixteen year old grade eleven student from Sedgewick and is representing the Happy Riders. She is a ski enthusiast in winter and a horse showparticipant the rest of the year, riding both English and Western.

Leslie Gambrit Leslie is a fifteen year old grade nine student at Godsby and is representing the Bothe Moonlight Riders. She loves music, playing the flute, piano and guitar and is a member of a 4-H beef club.

Lorne Grude Lorne is an eighteen year old school student from Holden. Besides her interest in horses, she enjoys sports and has played the piano for 12 years and will seek a degree in music. She is representing the Ryley Holden 4-H Light Horse Club.

Crystal Harkin Crystal is employed at Clyde Auction Mart and will be enrolling at Grant MacEwan Community College in the fall. She has been riding for 14 years taking part in 4-H horse club activities, gymkhanas and horse shows. She is representing the Lone Island Saddle Horse Club from Bisby.

Kathy Hisey Kathy is a fifteen year old grade nine student from Ryley. She loves music, playing the piano and bass guitar. Her other love is horses, taking part in gymkhanas, horse shows and trail rides and wants to become a professional horse trainer. She is representing the Ryley Light Horse Association.

Sherry Koutsug Sherry is a grade twelve student at Camrose Composite and is extremely active in sports, mainly basketball, volleyball and fastball. She plans on attending the U of A in the fall, taking physical education. She is representing the Camrose Light Horse Association.

Deanna McCullough Deanna is nearly fifteen years old and a grade nine student in Edmonton. Her interest in horses has her attending a Western Equitation course at Grant MacEwan Community College. She is representing the Hay Lakes Gymkhana Club.

Cyndie Rabby Cyndie is seventeen years old and a grade twelve student in Tofield. She is active in horse shows and gymkhanas and hopes to become a riding instructor. She is representing the Hastings Lake Pony Club.

Shawna Rennich-Shawna is a thirteen year old grade eight student from Botha. She is active in sports and loves gymkhanas, especially barrel racing. She is representing the Botha 4-H Horse Club.

Sydney Tessau-Sydney is fifteen years old and attends Clear Vista School in Wetaskiwin. She takes part in many horse shows during the summer and enjoys singing and playing the piano. Sydney represents the Peace Hills 4-H Riders of Wetaskiwin.

Liz Thompson-Liz is seventeen years old and a student at Grant MacEwan College where she is taking Equine Studies. She also enjoys rodeos, drawing, sports and country music. She is representing the New Sarepta Gymkhana Club.

Jocelyn White-Jocelyn is sixteen years old and a grade eleven student in Ponoka. She is a keen competitor in equestrian and rodeo events and is also active in other sports. She is representing the Needsmore Riders of Ponoka.

Summer curling spiel for Bashaw

Another major summer attraction has been announced for the Town of Bashaw.

Not content to put on an annual hockey school during the summer, Bashaw also hosts the World Junior Hereford championships each summer and now, something new has been added for the summer of 1978.

The Bashaw Curling Club has announced plans for the holding of the town's first annual mid-summer spiel bonspiel.

Five thousand dollars ($5,000) will be given out to the winners during the six-day bonspiel which is scheduled for August.

There will be three events during the spiel which will offer accumulating draws for visiting rinks.

Each rink must be composed of two men and two women and there is an entry fee of one hundred dollars ($100) per rink.

Extra attractions have been added with entertainment planned for each night, refreshments will be served and a pancake breakfast is planned.

Arrangements can be made for trailer parking at either Pelican Pedal ion Buffalo Lake or at Red Deer Lake.

Some of the outdoor attractions being promoted are a nine-hole golf course, trout pond, fishing and water skiing.

Entries may be sent to Allan Ratz, Box 364, Bashaw, T0B 0H0. All entries must be accompanied by a fifty dollar deposit. Entries will be accepted until August 7th.

The bonspiel opens on August 13 and winds up with the finals scheduled for August 18th. The spiel will be held in the Bashaw Arena.

Immediately after the bonspiel has been completed, the ice in the arena will be altered to accomodate the community's annual hockey school.

Confer at Banff

Is a continuing attempt to maintain and improve rat control in the prairies, Alberta and Saskatchewan will hold a joint meeting in Rat Control in Lloydminster from April 11 to 13.

"The meeting is important to strengthening our program," says Cliff Barrett, Alberta Agriculture's supervisor of pest control, "and is especially notable because of the interest being shown by several other provinces." British Columbia, Manitoba, Prince Edward Island and the Northwest Territories have all expressed an interest in attending.

The specific objective of the meeting is to review the rat control policies and programs in the two prairie provinces but, says Mr. Barrett, if outside provinces attend, then the conference will also be afforded an opportunity to look at rat control in other areas of Canada.

Topics to be reviewed include pest control officer reports, bait and baiting techniques and current chemicals in use. The conference will also serve to inform staff about new control and inspection techniques and will act as a medium to exchange information.

"Alberta has maintained its rat-free status for 27 years, and we're getting the word out that our rat control program works," says Mr. Barrett.

"For the most part the province is a natural rat-fortress on three sides, so we're really geared up to pick off rats that come in from the east," he added. The main control program is centred along a buffer zone 300 miles long, and 18 miles wide which runs along the Saskatchewan border from Cold Lake to the Montana border.

To the south, the Northwest Territories present few problems and to the west the Rockies effectively block rat movement, however the rodents can enter Alberta courtesy of transport trucks and rail cars. That doesn't happen often although pest control officers did catch a live rat in Edmonton about two months ago.

"Normally, they die en route," said Mr Barrett.

"To the south, the Dakotas and Montana have good programs," said the pest control supervisor. "There are natural barriers, and in Montana the farms are so far apart, the poor rat doesn't have much of a chance to spread."

Where there are infested areas in other provinces, Mr Barrett said tough, new techniques are needed to combat the rat problem. "Good clean-up and grain storage systems would provide considerable support to rat control efforts."

Control is difficult once rats are entrenched in Alberta, we have to be vigilant. A pregnant female entering the province could spell real trouble. She only has to breed for a few generations, and you end up having - a rat control problem."

Agriculture down-rated declares Mazankowski

Agriculture surfaced in two places in Ottawa this week. First was the announcement by the Minister of Agriculture of the final stage in a major restructuring of Agriculture Canada. Second was the appearance of the Minister before the House of Commons Agriculture Committee to explain next year's spending estimates for his department. These two events provide an opportune time to examine just what the Department of Agriculture is doing and how much priority the federal government gives to the agriculture industry and its problems.

For the 1978-79 fiscal year, the Department of Agriculture will spend $730 million. This is certainly a large amount of money when viewed by itself but when looked at relative to other federal government spending it soon takes on a new light. Overall, the government will spend $46.8 billion next year. That means that agriculture, which generates 12 percent of Canada's exports and directly or indirectly employs one out of every four Canadians, will be getting only 1.5 percent of the government's spending allocation. To show further the low priority given to agriculture by the federal government, compare the $730 million total spending on agriculture to $522 million for the CBC, $1,038 million for the Canadian International Development Agency, $477 million for Atomic Energy Canada Ltd., $1.3 billion for the Post Office, and $12.7 billion for National Health and Welfare.

I questioned the Minister of Agriculture when he appeared before the Commons Agriculture Committee this week about the low priority given to the agriculture industry by the federal government and whether or not he thought that the government's allocation of funds was fair. The only response he could give was to compliment the agriculture industry for doing so well with so little support from the federal treasury.

As for the Department of Agriculture itself, it is interesting to note that of its $730 million budget, $278 million or about 40 percent will go to the Canadian Dairy Commission for subsidies on manufacturing milk and cream. This leaves only about $450 million for all other aspects of agriculture. In these times of soaring farm input costs and low prices for agricultural products, and the constant need for more research and development in the agricultural field, the federal govenment's spending priorities seem to me to be seriously misplaced.

As I see it

Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A. Clover B.

Last Thursday in the Legislature, I outlined my views on what may be referred to as an "Energy Strategy for Alberta's Consumers".

I stated that in order to provide the people of Alberta, the true owners of the province's energy resources, with energy at an equitable price, it is necessary to put into effect a comprehensive energy startegy directed at the consumer.

This would contain a number of major components.

I congratulate the government for removing the gasoline tax, something I've advocated for several years. It's important that the full benefit of that reduction be passed on to the consumer.

We need further incentives in the area of the Farm Fuel Distribution Allowance to lower farm input costs. The 4-cent increase in the allowance for farm fuels will do very little to offset the 220 percent increase in farm input costs over the past two years.

Establishment of a uniform refinery gate price for gasoline would help to lower prices in centres far away from refineries. In northern Alberta, for example, gasoline often sells for 20 cents per gallon more than in Edmonton. One wholesale gasoline price would do much to remove this disparity.

The removal of royalties on natural gas used by Alberta's small businesses, farmers and residential consumers would result in an immediate price reduction of from 30 to 40 percent.

Another important and beneficial move would be the introduction of a subsidy for propane. The objective would be to remove the inequitable situation whereby all consumers of fossil fuels except propane and coal are assisted by some form of subsidy by government.

Generally speaking, these steps would do much to assist all citizens of Alberta in comatting the high cost of energy, which is completely out of line when one considers that we, as Albertans, own the resource and should benefit from the lowest possible cost for that resource!

"Vehicle Check" is undertaken by police

Large numbers of vehicles travel Alberta's streets and highways while equipped with faulty or inoperative equipment.

This condition becomes most noticeable at this time of year because arduous winter driving conditions take their toll of vehicle equipment. There seems to be a reluctance on the part of many motorists to voluntarily repair or replace such equipment.

Starting April 1st, the R.C.M.P. will stop motor vehicles and do a thorough equipment check. These checks are designed to help emphasize April as Traffic Safety Month and its theme of "Traffic Safety Begins With You".

Written warnings or prosecution summonses will be issued if violations are found.

Should violations on a vehicle be excessive provisions exist to have the vehicle removed from the road until it is repaired.

Motorists are also encouraged to keep safe driving practices always in mind, to drive courteously, and in that way avoid accident or prosecution.

Need for farm profits stressed

The need for farmers to realize a reasonable profit from their operations was the gist of the fifth annual conference on agricultural credit sponsored by the Canadian Bankers' Association (CBA).

The conference, held this year in Ottawa, drew some 400 farmers, bankers, government officers, academics and representatives from agri-businesses.

Rowland C. Frazee, CBA president and president of The Royal Bank of Canada, told delegates that leasing, long-term lending and financial advisory services are three activities that banks need to expand. And, pointing to the half billion dollar drop in farm incomes during the first half of 1977, Mr. Frazee pledged continued bank support "of the farming community during this down-turn". But he suggested that farmers exercise caution on new capital expenditures, and stressed that there must be renewed emphasis on sound farm management.

Farm loans on the books of the chartered banks have risen from about $1 billion in 1967 to $3.6 billion at June of this year, Frazee said. All told, banks accounted for about 57 per cent of all agricultural credit extended in 1975.

W. E. Jarvis, Canadian Wheat Board Commissioner said Canada could find itself without a food system unless farmers have sufficient incentives to stay on the land.

It was difficult to explain to consumers that increases in the weekly grocery bills constitute the farmers' livelihood. This situation is "primarily a matter of a lack of communication, of lack of understanding of each other's concerns and ultimate interdependence."

William Stewart, former Ontario agriculture minister and now a farmer at Denfield, Ont., said a farmer and his bank manager must enjoy a personal understanding and mutual respect. Bank credit is like another farm implement that must be carefully preserved and effectively used.

Eugene Whelan, federal agriculture minister, complimented the banks for their increased interest in farm lending.

He said he would like to see some elasticity in interest rates. "After all, farmers in general are some of the best risks around ... I think it's worth bearing in mind that ... about 80 per cent of all farm cash incomes are covered by the assurance of the federal government's Agricultural Stabilization programs."

Conference chairman

Rowland C. Frazee

G. E. Chamberlain, director of farm services for the Bank of Nova Scotia, said in a pre-conference announcement: "A major key to North American affluence is ... our highly developed and highly efficient agricultural industry. If we are going to maintain this standard, Canadian farmers must have some incentive to continue to invest the large amounts of capital necessary for a modern farming operation."

STORAGE LIFE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Dairy products, like all perishable foods, deteriorate in quality if left too long in [illegible].

Consumers can get some idea of the storage life of a milk product by checking the 'best before' date on the package. Agriculture Canada's food advisory division offers this further advice. Firm cheeses will keep in the refrigerator for several weeks, unopened processed cheeses for several months, yogurt for seven to 10 days. Unopened butter if fresh when refrigerated should retain its optimum quality and flavor for two weeks. Milk will keep its best flavor in the home refrigerator for about five days if it is fresh at point of purchase.

Confronting Your Faith

DOES GOD CARE?
Confronting Your Faith with J.M. Schmidt pastor of Tofield Gospel Church

"In view of all the misery and suffering in this world, where is God? Doesn't he care?" This and similar questions have been asked for many centuries and are still being asked today. While there is no short conclusive answer to such profound questions, the Bible helps us to understand the problem and to find satisfying explanations for the individual searcher.

First, we must realize that God has already done something about the misery and suffering of this world He has provided the ultimate solution. He has done the most costly and effective thing possible by giving his Son to be the Saviour of the world. Thus all who will accept Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Lord will find a happy and meaningful lifestyle for now, and a glorious life hereafter.

But how can a loving God allow so much evil, so much unhappiness in this world? Why all the wars, the violence, the crimes, sickness, and the disruption of so many family relationships? Man has always blamed God for the evil of his own making. God created man a free moral being. Man is at liberty to choose right or wrong, good or evil. Man has misused this valuable freedom to become and to practice evil. C.S. Lewis estimates that at least four-fifths of human suffering comes from man being wicked to his fellowman. Satan gets only a small fraction of the blame. The truth is, man wants it that way or else he would choose to be different.

The daily news demonstrates just how twisted and evil man has become. His better education, his increased wealth, his human philosophies together with his very best resolutions to improve himself, have been futile. His efforts at self-improvement have utterly failed.

"But why didn't God make us so that we couldn't sin?"

He no doubt could have. But if he had done so, we would not be free responsible beings, we would merely be mechanical robots. God wants his creatures to make their own decisions so that their worship and service to Him will be voluntary.

"But why doesn't God kill the devil and make an end to all evil?" If He did so, and He could, He would have to do away with every creature that has been contaminated by sin. He would have to kill everyone of us, "for all have sinned and fall short of God's standard." He has a better plan! "For God is not willing that anyone should perish, but that all should repent and be saved". Because God loves us, "He sent his only begotten Son into the world, so that anyone who believes in him, shall not perish but have eternal life." John 3:16

Those who sincerely turn to God, discover a brand new life, a dynamic source of power, a salvation from the bondage and consequences of sin as well as a grand home of Eternal Life hereafter.

Holden and district news

Mrs G H Taylor

The Holden Senior Citizens Group held their monthly meeting on March 8th with the president, George Gerbrahaus in the chair. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and other regular business was attended to and correspondence read. A decision was held regarding taking down the old store building as it is in such poor condition. It is to be taken down completely and a new building built. A few members are at present busy dismantling the inside and they would appreciate some help. After the meeting was adjourned, several games of bingo were played with small prizes given to winners of each game. Lunch was then served with Mrs. Annie Laube being hostess.

Mrs Beth Mertz of Viking and her uncle, Alex Barlow who is staying with them, were Friday afternoon callers with her aunt, Mrs Beth Campbell. Mr. and Mrs Oscar Mertz are home after spending the holiday and several days this past week visiting in B.C.

Recent weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs Roy Nichols were their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nichols of Penoka.

Mrs. Melvin Carlson and Eric have returned home after spending a few days over the long holiday weekend visiting Edith's father, Mr Lamb and other relatives in Penticton, B.C. While there, they had a birthday party for one of Edith's sisters.

Mr and Mrs Roy Nichols were Wednesday supper guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Lukawiecki, in honor of Mrs. Nichols' birthday.

Several ladies of the Holden R.C. Ladies Aid called at the home of Mr. and Mrs Roy Nichols last Thursday to help Mrs Nichols celebrate her birthday, taking along a birthday cake.

Mrs Irene McGregor was a visitor last Thursday in Ryley calling on friends. Mr and Mrs Lawrence Pourse and also with Mrs Herman Voigt at Tofield. Friday, Irene McGregor with Mrs. Stranko were over to Sedgewick and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Claude McArthur and went to Killam Hospital to see their daughter Mrs. Ann Stranko there. Then, they called in to see Mr and Mrs. Clarence Roti, former Holden residents, also to the Auxiliary Nursing home visiting with Mrs Silva Mackenzie, former Holden district resident, and with Mrs. Deschaak who is over 100 years of age.

The Holden and District Community Choir, which was formed just over a year ago, meets each Monday evening for practice at 7:30 p.m. in Holden United Church. It was inaugurated in October of 1976 under the auspices of the County of Beaver Further Education Council and became an official organization on February 13th, 1977. Mrs. Ann Sigvaldason is president and Ben Lutz is secretary-treasurer. Victor Dawson of Ryley is the permanent conductor with Miss Debbie Lawson, principal pianist, and Eileen Hartman formed the music committee at that time. The choir has studied and performed a variety of musical works from choral works of the 18th century and song arrangements of the 20th century to modern selections.

Their first public performance was at the fourth annual Beaver Regional Arts Society Musical Festival held in Tofield in 1977 at which they were awarded "distinction" for their performance of Dvorak's "Going Home". They have performed also at several concerts, the Holden Carnival Week Concert, a Christmas Carol Sing, and at the December Holden Chamber of Commerce Supper. Several members spent an evening carol singing on December 18th.

They also gave programs at three senior citizens' functions, twice at Vialta Lodge and also took part in the recent program, "Magic of Music" held at Ryley. The choir has increased in number to a total of 22 members when all are present. Members of the choir have also given solos as part of the public presentations. Eileen Hartman an alto saxaphone, clarinet, trumpet and flute; Janet McLevin on guitar and baritone horn, Lorna Grinde on the piano and Victor Dawson as solo vocalist.

The first annual meeting was held in January. Janet McLevin was elected president and Ann Shavchook is secretary-treasurer. The choir is now busy practicing and preparing to enter the fifth annual Music Festival. Members are from Hastings Lake, Tofield, Viking as well as Holden. Anyone interested in singing is welcome to join.

John Komarnisky was the winner of $50 in the recent Lotto Canada, with a ticket his son, Maurice and wife, Marriane Komarnisky of Edmonton, had given him for his birthday.

Marjorie and Ken Campbell of Leduc were Sunday afternoon visitors with her mother, Mrs Beth Campbell.

Mr and Mrs Bruce Budd returned home on Sunday after spending the past week visiting with his sister and family, also calling on friends in Vancouver, B.C.

Dr Robert Bruce of the Ontario Cancer Research Institute in Toronto is using a bacterial test which he describes as "fast, cheap and sensitive," to determine whether or not Vitamin C plays a vital role in the prevention of cancer of the colon

Cancer of the colon is most prevalent in countries like our own where people eat the most [illegible]

Dr Bruce has volunteers who provide him with samples of their food and samples of their feces, the wastes their bodies give off. The foods do not contain bacterial activity, but the feces normally do There is a possibility that cancer-causing agents are not in the food eaten, but that they are made in the normal digestive process of the body.

The presence of Vitamin C in the body significantly lowers the bacterial activity of the feces, which might mean that cancer of the colon could be avoided by keeping the levels of Vitamin C adequate in the body at all times

During the next year Dr Bruce will be setting up controlled studies using high-risk people, in which some will be given Vitamin C and others will not, in the hope that a pattern will emerge which will help us avoid cancer of the [illegible]

Dr Bruce's work is supported by the Canadian Cancer Society with funds raised during the Society's April Campaign In Alberta the campaign objective is [illegible]

RCMP keep busy

It was an extremely busy week for the Tofield Detachment of the RCMP as they responded to a total of fifty-one complaints

Four more impaired drivers were nailed, bringing the total to seventeen (17) persons having [illegible] charged so far this year, a considerable total for the size of the area being served by police

A teen dance in Holden was considered to be the direct cause of the majority of the liquor-involved charges filed during the past week, eight out of eleven charges laid followed the Holden dance as a total of seven illegal possession charges were filed in addition to the impaired driving charges.

Licensed premises were causing a great deal of concern with RCMP responding to an increasing number of complaints in those areas Last week, there were at least four fights on licensed [illegible]

Two juveniles and five adults have been charged with break and enter following the theft of a quantity of liquor from the Tofield Legion last month

Harold Gates reported the loss of license plates from his vehicle The license number is JCT 800 Anyone seeing those plates are asked to contact the RCMP.

Gail Jordan of Tofield reported the theft of a compact vacuum cleaner from her residence The cleaner was valued at just under five hundred dollars

Two thefts were [illegible] in Ryley. Richard Rabby reported the loss of a radio, aerial and speakers from his car while Ryley Motors was entered and a quantity of money was taken RCMP are investigating

Larry Lalonde of Calgary reported the loss of a suitcase full of personal belongings It was thought that the suitcase fell off his truck in an area about five miles east of Tofield, on Highway 14

RCMP have issued an alert to the driving public to be on the alert to wild animals being on the highway

Already, a number of reports have been received of deer having been struck and either injured or killed, by vehicles.

FOUND ITEMS

A number of found items have been turned over to the RCMP and, to date, have not been claimed by owners

Owners of found property have been warned that if they do not claim these articles, they will be turned over to the finders. Included in the list is a 10-speed bicycle.

COURT

Ten persons charged with traffic violations failed to appear in court and summonses have now been issued. A failure to appear charge results in an automatic fine of $50 (minimum).

On a charge of careless driving, Mark Jones of Tofield was fined $100

Garden Club provides juniors with materials

by Doris Brown

Members of the Tofield Garden Club met on Tuesday evening at the home of Barbara Petterson

The club is once again supplying free garden seeds and bulbs to any junior (those 12 years and under as of Aug. 12th) who wishes to enter in the horticultural section of the Tofield Fair.

Juniors should request the seeds by phoning [illegible] at [illegible] before April [illegible]

The members also decided to buy plants to present to all first prize winners in the junior horticulture classes.

The club will also purchase 12 rosette ribbons that will be presented to winners of special horticulture classes.

Care and storage of the Garden Club tables was discussed. It was decided to store the tables at the arena and charge a rental fee of $1 per table for groups or organizations using the table.

A trip to Edmonton is planned for May 11th to attend "The Good Earth" (a horticultural show) at the Sportex, and also to visit The Klondike [illegible] This will be a bus trip and non-members are also welcome to go along

The club is holding a Flea Market in the arena on May 27, table rental will be $4 and pie and coffee will be served throughout the afternoon

Ryley Pool has re-opened

Plans for operation of the summer program at the Ryley Swimming Pool were outlined at the monthly meeting of the Beaver Heritage and Agricultural Society

It is hoped to offer lessons to as many children and adults as possible during the spring [illegible]

To help in busing of children it is hoped that plans can be finalized for offering a four-hour time block each summer weekday to Tofield

Other towns may be interested in reserving a time slot so that a maximum number of their children can also take swimming lessons

Ron Teske was hired as pool supervisor with duties to start April 15

Mr. Teske will be in charge of all phases of operation of the pool. Working with him will be senior and junior lifeguards, who will be hired during the next few weeks

Prior to commencing the spring and summer schedule, the pool closed during the week of April 10-15 so that the pool could be drained, scrubbed down and refilled.

The pool reopened for rentals and recreation swims on Sunday This cleaning is necessary once a year to rid the pool of buildup on the bottom and sides of the pool.

A new fee schedule will be in effect, commencing April 16.

Swim rates will be $1.00 for students and adults; with pre-schoolers, accompanied by parents, free

For those who swim fairly often, 1978 passes will be available; family passes $150.00, single passes $80.00. The rental rates will revert to last year's rate of $20.00 per hour A set of ten swimming lessons will cost $15.00 for children up to eighteen years of age, $20.00 for adults.

Special lessons such as bronze medallion will have an added cost to cover extra expenses for these courses. It is hoped to offer after school lessons starting in mid-May.

Delegates reported on the fair workshop held March 6 in Viking. They felt the workshop very helpful, giving opportunity to discuss problems and means of improving the fairs. The fair committee will be meeting very shortly to discuss plans for the fair to be held on Wednesday, August 16.

Dale Stensrud, a student working at the pool under the work experience program, has completed the required hours for credit. During this time, Dale has worked at the front end of the pool, learned testing of the water and other pool maintainence, and helped volunteers paint the lobby and dressing room areas of the [illegible].

The April lottery draw was made. Winners were Irwin Strynadka and Keith Murray who will share the $500.00 prize.

"Lack of interest" halts Ryley program

At the annual meeting of the Ryley Junior Sports Association, held on April 4th, it was decided that because of the lack of interest shown by parents in attending this important meeting, there would be no attempt made to operate baseball and softball teams this year

The purpose in calling the meeting was to reorganize the executive and make decisions concerning the operation of ball teams for the girls and boys of Ryley and the surrounding area

However, as there were only seven people present, including Maxine Reid and Marlene Podoborozny, a motion was made that due to lack of support from parents there would be no junior sports operation for this year

It was also decided that if parents would indicate an interest in another meeting being held, that the executive would call one

With the ball season close at hand, this would have to be done within the next week

Parents who are interested or have comments or suggestions, are asked to contact Marlene Podoborozny 663-2183, Maxine Reid 663-3752, or Eveline Baker 663-3568

Grand Champion

Dennis Patrick of Tofield exhibited the Grand Champion Charolais female during the recent Canadian Western Stock Show and Sale in Edmonton The animal was sold to Roy Krysik of Greencourt for $3 600

Ryley Teens plan a drive

The Ryley-Teen Club had their first activity on April 8. This activity was a car wash and bake sale and the teens found that it was a very worthwhile activity The day consisted mainly of washing cars from 9 00 a.m. to 5.30 p.m., and from the estimated count they washed approximately 50 cars. During washing all the cars the teens found time to enjoy themselves also, so it turned out to be a great day

The Teen Club is having a bottle and can drive on April 22. If anyone is doing any spring cleaning and want to get rid of any bottles and cans, the teens will be coming around from about 10 00 a m to 1 00 p.m to pick them up.

LONELY VIGIL

Election budget? Who knows

If Monday night's budget was an election budget, it would almost seem Finance Minister Jean Chretien and Prime Minister Trudeau have agreed to sacrifice Jack Horner for the greater field of Ontario and Quebec. It was a good, honest budget, telling Canadians we're in trouble, and we can't afford any pie-in-the-sky budgets. In that respect, it was not unlike the budgets several years ago of Walter Harris and Walter Gordon, both of whom refused to bring in inflationary budgets immediately prior to elections, and who told Canadians that times would continue to be tough.

Many steps could have been taken, of course, but the move to reduce the sales tax was almost the only possible policy which wouldn't affect Alberta equally with other provinces. As it happens, in our somewhat superheated economy, it could be considered a blessing, but it's one that many Albertans won't forget when they head for the polls, and realize other Canadians are facing prices lower in many respects.

However it's achieved we can't guess, but we've been told by newcomers to Alberta that many goods here are no cheaper without the sales tax than those they used to purchase in other provinces with it. This being the case, they'll be buying at levels lower than Alberta, as long as the tax cut lasts.

It's interesting that Mr. Chretien should have chosen the sales tax, because it's one of the most visible and therefore one of the most annoying, of all taxes. It's not ever deducted painlessly at the source . . . it's there with every purchase.

A number of changes were important, but many were cosmetic. Amendments to the regulations affecting Registered Retirement Savings Programs were undoubtedly wise and needful, but they won't affect the federal budget by a dime, overall, and they could just as easily have been introduced at any time. Similarly with the decision to postpone the tax on appreciation when an incorporated family farm is sold, or when property is divided for such reasons as divorce. More equity is introduced, and the move is highly desirable and justified, but it need not have taken a budget to introduce. In any case, only a few are affected.

Higher write-offs for research and development should pay major dividends in the long run, and eventually may help ever so slightly to turn around our unhappy balance of payments. Goodness knows we've suffered long enough over our low level of research and development, but probably we've suffered more over the lack of use and application of knowledge already researched and proven.

Similarly, the attention focussed on development of energy resources and on railway development indicate areas which badly needed attention ere now, and which may help in the long run to aid our economy. Unfortunately, in the short haul, they probably won't be noticed much.

One thing we might have expected, but which was not included, was a freeze on the purchase of foreign exchange, with permits necessary to move foreign dollars outside the country, as an aid to our sagging dollar. However, with an election imminent, that would obviously have been politically unacceptable. Not only that, but with the probability that many tourists are expected here because of the highly favorable rate of exchange, it might have reacted unfavorably.

As presented, the budget probably means the election will be called before Jack Horner gains his nomination. And that won't be later than Monday, despite the interest created by the late entry of a dark horse.

CAMPAIGN SUCCESSFUL

March 29th, 1978

Dear Sirs:

The Kidney Foundation in Alberta, last year, recorded its most successful campaign - due mainly to the contributions received from many concerned and generous firms who helped support the following programs:

— Blood Pressure Testing Clinics - held in 32 Alberta centres;

— Organ Donor - distribution in Alberta of over 750,000 cards;

— Public and Professional Education Program - audio-visual presentations and literature made available to all those interested;

— Patient Services Program providing for the non-medical needs of patients and their families;

— Alberta Research Fellowship Program - established;

— National Research Fund - supported.

(Over 75 per cent of funds raised in Alberta last year were spent in Alberta.)

We are pleased to report that Kidney transplantations are being performed at both Calgary and Edmonton, and Dialysis (artificial kidney machine) treatments are being provided through the Rental Units at the hospitals and the Home Dialysis Program in both cities, which help many other Albertans.

In addition to supporting these and other projects in 1978, our main objective will be to further the research being carried out in Alberta and across the Nation. This year, the Alberta Branch Research Fellowship Program will provide funds for two or more doctors to do research in Alberta, at a cost of approximately $20,000 each.

To help us achieve our objectives for 1978, and to continue our ongoing programs, may we count on your support. Your thoughtful contribution will be greatly appreciated by the Foundation and all those who benefit through its efforts. It will also assist us in our attempt to find the cause and cure of kidney disease.

Yours sincerely,
Julius Lister
Campaign Chairman.

Canadian Comment

GENEVA, Switzerland (BP) — Whatever a doubt, this city has the highest cost of living in Europe — one of the highest in the world. Expect to pay $6 for lunch, $1 for a coffee, $5 a pound for butter and $100 if you want a new shirt. Prices are enough to make a North American feel poverty-stricken.

To face prices like that when the Western world is in the midst of a currency crisis, gives you a small clue about what has been happening to so debase American and Canadian dollars. The Swiss have had price and wage controls for more than five years, and their rate of inflation, as a result, hovers between 1 and 2 percent annually. They have virtually no unemployment. The Swiss work a 44-hour week, not the 35-hour week fashionable in North America.

Five years ago there were about four Swiss francs to the U.S. dollar, and prices in Switzerland, translated into dollars, were quite in line. Since those days, our currency has become debased with inflation, while theirs has not. You'll find that there are 1.8 Swiss to the U.S. dollar; about 1.6 francs to the Canadian dollar.

It certainly means that North Americans planning a holiday in Switzerland — or Germany for that matter — had better plan on spending like crazy. Unless you are one of the fortunate few that doesn't have to worry about money at all, better you should take the Canadian government's advice and stay home to spend your dollars.

The currency situation, though, presents a tremendous opportunity for Canadians to sell goods in Europe, if only we'd get off our keesters and try. The solid value of European currency means that we can manufacture here and sell there for bargain prices, provided we can get access to the markets. That's what the current sessions here on the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade is all about. So far we don't appear to be doing too well in the negotiations. Europeans are reluctant to dismantle tariff and non-tariff barriers, now that the competition on the western side of the Atlantic has the cost advantage.

There is, however, one area where we could take immediate profitable action. I'm talking about promotion of tourism.

Our federal and provincial governments have been loud in their complaints about how the balance of trade in tourism has left Canada badly out in the cold. Just imagine the attraction of a Canadian holiday to Swiss and German tourists. Their money will go so far over here they could holiday for three weeks at the price of what one week back home.

As far as I can tell, there's no extra Canadian effort being expended in that direction. Air Canada, for example, finds itself with a shortage of aircraft at the moment, and doesn't consider Canadian tourism promotion in Europe worth the effort. Neither has there been any stirring from the federal government.

Maybe we deserve to be moved firmly into a secondary position as far as the world's economy is concerned. It's better learn fast that you work for what you get.

Regents plan CLC expansion

Camrose Lutheran Colleges Board of Regents met March 31 April 1 for their annual spring meeting and reviewed recommendations from the Campus Development Committee.

The Campus Development Committee had submitted to the Board a summary of space needs which reflected the additional planning which has been done since the completion of the master plan D. Olson of Vancouver has been contracted to provide the Board with a Design Program for, Faith and Life Building, Library, and a Science Extension.

In addition to this, the Board authorsed the Development Council to proceed with the selection of an architect to do preliminary plans for the proposed buildings. The Design Program and the recommendation on the architect to be selected is to be presented to the June Board meeting.

MAIL ORDER TIPS

Have you ever considered ordering merchandise from a magazine? Ordering by mail seems very convenient - but use caution. Here are a few tips to help you get your money's worth when shopping by mail:

— Check with local stores to see if the item is available and how the cost compares to the mail - order price, including postage.

Consider paying by C.O.D. (but very few don't pay until you receive the merchandise).

— If you are having problems with a mail-order firm, and can't seem to solve them, contact the Canadian Direct Mail - Marketing Association, 130 Merton Street, Toronto, ON M4S 1A4 (Everybody's Money - Spring 78)

Homemaking VS. Automotive Mechanics

Barbara Green, District Home Economist at Camrose passed on the following information about a recent Consumer Reports study. In their study, they compared annual costs of, a) hand-washing using one sink, b) handwashing using two sinks, c) dishwasher, short cycle, and d) dishwasher, long cycle.

One example of the findings was, if you compare, twice a day, two sink handwashing with once a day, long cycle dishwashing, the annual cost is $41 for handwashing vs $97 for automatic washing.

Economy is only one of the factors to consider. Your time, size of family, amount of entertaining, and whether doing dishes is drudgery, all play a part.

Your And Youth Seminars

Each year, the Rural Education and Development Association (READA) sponsors cooperative seminars for teens during the summer months. These seminars give youth a chance to develop skills in leadership and communication, learn ideas of cooperation and co-operatives, meet new and exciting people, and enjoy a holiday in the mountains, boating, hiking, fishing, and camping.

The seminars are open to young people of various ages. For teens, aged 14 and 15, the seminar is July 13-19. For youths aged 16-18, the seminar is July 19-25. You need not belong to any club or organization to participate. For more information, contact my office

Hastings Lake news briefs

Lois Fenna

At the Camrose Rodeo over the weekend, the late winter weather lent a chilling air, and horses were hard to handle, but, even if Hastings Lake did not carry home the title of Rodeo Queen, the Pony Club benefited greatly from the hard work of Cindy Rabby and her supporters, earning about $100 as its share of the sale of draw tickets.

A local success was the winning of the draw itself, which went to Dan Rabby, with a trip for two to Seattle.

Howard Gates and Art and Ralph Dunham have recently returned from a trip to Vancouver Island, where, after a hazardous journey through the mountains, they spent an excellent weekend fishing off Nanaimo, returning with pockets full of salmon. They were fishing guests of Al Tatnell, who used to live in this district.

Starting at 8.30 p.m. on Friday there will be whist at the hall once more.

The next meeting of the Community Association will be on Monday, and there will be a dance at the hall on Saturday, April 22, when one member of each couple is asked to bring a box lunch for two.

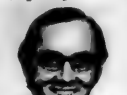
Holden's mayor addresses Village's Chamber session

Following in the text of a speech made by Holden Mayor, Oleh Slykora, made at a meeting of the Local Chamber of Commerce on April 6th.

Madam President, guests, ladies and gentlemen. There are three kinds of people in any community. First there are those that live off of the community. Those are the leeches, the very worst possible kind. Secondly there are those that live in the community but do nothing. These are not much better than the first kind. Then there are those that live for the community. They work and promote and endeavour to make the community grow and be a better place in which to live. I submit that Chambers of Commerce members are of this third kind because they too work for and promote the community. Then it was with a great deal of satisfaction that I accepted the President's invitation several weeks ago to speak to the Chamber of Commerce. The purpose was, as she put it, to "tell us what the Village is doing".



OLEH SLYKORA

It has always been my view that the purpose of the Chamber was to promote the community, to make it grow and prosper As well I feel the chamber should give the council a nudge when it gets sluggish, encouragement when it's discouraged and a kick if it gets complacement. When I ran for council last October I did not even dream that five months down the road I would have to give an accounting to the Chamber, nor did I expect that Margaret Mallett would be the President. Well of course history is now written Thus I must say I am pleased to be here, and I am pleased that Margaret is in the chair

We have an active Chamber, and I'd even go so far as to say, an active council Working independently, but at times together, we can attempt to give this community the lift it needs.

In planning what I would say tonight I thought that covering the five areas might best achieve the task of explaining what we are doing. The five areas are 1. philosophy of council 2. finance we have made 3. plans we have (current and proposed) 4. concerns I wish to share 5 questions to you and from you.

In the first area it would be very easy for me to give you a re-run of last fall's election campaign. I could review for you the shortcomings of the previous council, as I saw them, and brings heaps of woe and damnation on them That I refuse to do. When three members of a council have either died, moved away or decided not to seek re-election, while the other two who ran were soundly defeated - that speaks for itself As a matter of fact, I take off my hat to anyone who runs for public office - therein lies the essence of democracy. Those who are elected soon find out it's not an easy job. It will take precious time and even cost you money

From the very first meeting there was evidence of dedication, interest and cooperation It was agreed that actions taken would be by council authorization and or notification "All" orders go through the secretary's office None of us are interested in individual glory nor are we going to be a council that fights and bickers among itself. Thus far the interest is clear in the willingness of new councillors to tackle tough departmental assignments

Dedication is shown in the persistent work at getting John Deere Cooperation is clear in that we strive for agreement or at least consensus Thus every motion passed to date has been carried unanimously I think we even shocked the secretary by bringing in our own pre-drafted agenda to the first meeting of the new council

For the first time, I believe, we have a lady on council. We're pleased and proud and glad that Christine Mackay is with as councillor and deputy-mayor. This is a direct contact for the ladies should they wish

it. As a point of interest you might note, and attach whatever value you like, that the average age of this council is less that forty. As well it represents a range of occupational groups and interests These characteristics show the completion and interests of the council

This brings me to the second area. What discoveries have we made" Upon taking office we decided to take stock in our departments. This puts us in a position whereby we analyze what we have with an eye to making improvements

In the area of finance, which determines a lot of what we can or cannot do, we found a promising bank account of $25,000.00 But when we tallied up the bills unpaid, plus the deficit of some $16,000.00 for the fiscal year, that account figuratively went up in smoke

We have a garage that lets in more cold air than it keeps out and is covered by a hoary roof - that's h-o-r-y, not h-o-l-y.

And then there's city hall. I never realized how shoddy, unorganized and poverty stricken in appearance that office was until I began spending some time in it No wonder the community was depressed one day had to look at its nerve center.

In the field of water and sewer we find that at least the sewer system is working but at least one lift station required installation of a safety ventilation system.

The water supply and purification system requires further work. The plant is inefficiently heated and thus conditions for working are not very favorable. We have as well identified some inconsistencies in the water quality. As well much finishing work on the land area around the dam is required.

In the field of disaster services we found no up-to-date plan in existence Similarly the whole emergency services area showed many faults. Police services and revenues were down Some fire equipment was damaged, unrepairable and unusable Organization of the fire department was lacking. Similar remarks could be made about the ambulance service.

The public works department is easiest to assess. You all know what shape the streets can be in as well as the condition of the sidewalks. As well if you visited the nuisance grounds you would have found it one terrible mess with no place to dump garbage. On top of all this, many areas were weed-infested.

The hall in which we sit tonight certainly needs attention Roof replacement, lighting, and plumbing would be key items here.

As a community we plug-in to other settings Holden's receipts or benefits from the Rural Development Council have been minimal. Beaver Foundation has been just another meeting to go to The Recreation board - locally at least - was almost nonexistent. The value we get out of the Regional Board was debatable as well.

Thus the whole area of discovering the state-of-the-village was very saddening because so much needs to be done to bring us up to acceptable and decent standard. At the same time it's maddening to have to inherit unfinished projects like the filling of lots, the mountain of dirt at the water dam that I've christened "ducks hit island", the inadequate nuisance grounds and all equipment and facilities in disrepair. I can only rationalize and say: "I guess that's why we were elected."

That brings us to the third area of plans that we have. These are either currently underway or proposed. The Lord only knows, we have no shortage of work. Thus over the next two and one-half years we intend to bring up to standard those areas that are lacking. I can see a steady progression of work, hopefully using new and village-enhancing proposals, as well as an increase in taxes unless the previous unfeasible is miserly hold over their finances. When our term of office expires I hope you will get a chance to judge at least some of us on the things we will have tried to do

To give you a better idea of what we plan, the following is a list of plans completed, currently being carried out, or proposed:

1. A yearly increase in taxes.
2. Upgrading of the Village Garage - appearance and structure.
3. Upgrading of the appearance and services at city hall
4. Continued monitoring and provision of good water.
5. Landscaping and seeding of the water dam area.
6. Installation of a proper heating system at the water plant.
7. Installation of a safety-ventilation system at the north lift.
8. Updating of the Disaster Services Procedure.
9. Request to the RCMP for an increase in patrols and revenue
10. Repair to fire equipment and re-organization of the department.
11. Repair to the ambulance with training for drivers and attendants.
12. Street improvement program to provide basic curb and gutters to priority areas and paving and/or oiling for dust control
13. Re-assessment of procedures for use of nuisance ground with excavation of necessary pits
14. Weed control program.
15. Major renovations and remodelling to the Community Hall.
16. Expanded promotional activity through the Rural Development Council.
17. Pursuit of a Senior Citizens Lodge through the Beaver Foundation.
18. Acquisition and expansion of medical services.
19. Assessment of local and regional recreation with an eye to more value for current dollars
20. Co-operation with other municipalities, organizations and levels of government.

Although this list could be continued indefinitely, this already indicates a substantial portion of work to be done or in progress in accordance with the Municipal Government Act I will continue to recommend to council, ways to improve the village in terms of finance, beauty and growth.

After that lengthy list we have now arrived at the fourth area - concerns I wish to share In setting policy and seeing that it's carried out I find many concerns ranging from the small but irritable to the big and rather expensive ones People in this community complain about three things - dogs, dust and streets. They're not unhappy with the taxes and they are long-suffering on inadequate services. We are concerned that

1. Responsible dog owners are no inconvenience but they let their pooches, pardon, their dogs roam freely. We are also concerned that many of these same people break the law in not buying licences. The concern is the enforcement to protect the rights of the majority Last time I looked, this is a funny and insignificant matter let me make it clear that when major dilemmas, for example,

The Treatment Of Rapeseed For the Disease Blackleg

The fungus disease Blackleg (Australian Strain) has the potential of being very hazardous to rapeseed production. It also is extremely difficult to identify either in the field or on the seed without the aid of a laboratory. Because of this, the Rapeseed Growers Association of Saskatchewan is requesting that you treat your seed properly with one of the following chemicals before seeding in 1978.

Interprovincial Cooperatives Limited, Trade Name BENOLIN B contains Benomyl 5 percent; Thiram 6 percent; Lindane 50 percent.

Use 3 pounds of powder on every 100 pounds of rapeseed at a cost of $19.00 per 100 pounds of rapeseed.

Chipman Chemicals Ltd., Trade Name: GAMMASON . Contains Benomyl 8 percent; Captan 10 percent; Lindane 50 percent.

Use 3 pounds of powder on every 100 pounds of rapeseed at a cost of $19.00 per 100 pounds of rapeseed.

Niagara Chemical, Trade Names BENLATE Contains Benomyl 50 percent; THIRALIN contains Thiram 10 percent, Lindane 75 percent.

These two chemicals are in separate bags. First mix ½ pound of Benlate with 1 to 2 pounds of Thiralin then mix with 100 pounds of Rapeseed. 3 pounds of Thiralin plus ½ pound of Benlate costs $25.00.

It requires the full amount of chemical to obtain control of Blackleg and the powder must remain on the seed until it germinates. Therefore, we would recommend that from 4 to 8 ounces of vegetable oil per 100 pounds of rapeseed be thoroughly mixed onto the seed before applying anyone of the ABOVE CHEMICALS. For these same reasons we DO NOT recommend drill box treatment.

Niagara Chemical Registration pending Benlate contains Benomyl 50 percent, Thiram contains Thiram 75 percent.

These two chemicals are in separate bags First mix ½ pound of Benlate with 2 to 3 pounds of Thiralin then mix with 100 pounds of Rapeseed. 3 pounds of Thiralin plus ½ pound of Benlate costs $25.00.

It requires the full amount of chemical to obtain control of Blackleg and the powder must remain on the seed until it germinates. Therefore, we would recommend that from 4 to 8 ounces of vegetable oil per 100 pounds of rapeseed be thoroughly mixed onto the seed before applying anyone of the ABOVE CHEMICALS. mix 8 to 10 ounces of vegetable oil with 100 pounds of seed Then add the powders and finally the Puradan 5 granules should be blended in with as little mixing as possible

The mixing of Puradan 5 granules with powder treated seed has a tendency to remove the powder from the rapeseed, thus reducing its effectiveness to control blackleg.

AGRICULTURE
by Dr. Walt Buck, M.L.A.
Clover Bar

Several important points were highlighted during last week's discussion of the spending estimates of the Department of Agriculture.

My colleague from Bow Valley Constituency, Fred Mandeville, outlined a number of pressing problems being confronted by farmers in Alberta. He suggested that the pressure of high interest rates charged for Agricultural Development Corporation loans is burdening particularly young farmers in Alberta. He suggested a moratorium on some of that debt load. This is not to suggest there should be any loans written-off, but rather a system whereby either payment of the interest or the loans could be extended to allow new farmers to carry on without the constant pressure of appressive debt.

Another concern expressed effectively by Mr. Mandeville is the problem of farmers in facing the high costs on their farm operations without a comparable increase in the return for their products. One major cost factor is the increase in energy costs. I'm fully committed to a policy whereby natural gas used in agricultural production and processing in Alberta should be supplied without royalty costs. This would reduce the cost by up to 30 percent.

Concerns are still being expressed to me about the large amount of agricultural land that is being taken out of production. Despite the government's monitoring of foreign land sales, I'm not convinced that problem has been solved.

It is encouraging to see that more emphasis will be placed on marketing of agricultural products. There's no doubt our farmers can adequately meet the production needs, but they do have marketing problems.

Confronting Your Faith

"Confronting Your Faith" with Rev. Gary A. Barr Pastor of the Lutheran parish of Ryley-Holden.

God is a gracious loving father. This is one of the most difficult ideas for us to understand. The love of God is always a great mystery to all of us. God is loving when we don't expect him to be. When we realize what sinful creatures we are, we find that if God would do the expected (at least what we would expect), He would give up on us. But God doesn't. He continues to care and look after each one of us. We do not have the compassion for our fellow men that God has for each of us. We have to admit that God's love is beyond our understanding, the concept of God's grace is baffling.

One time in a Sunday School class, we were discussing grace. An illustration of what grace is all about came from the story of Joseph being sold into slavery by his brothers. One of the questions asked before the story had been completely read was, "What do you think Joseph did to his brothers?" One of the boys in the class unhesitatingly said "He killed them." We were then told to read the rest of the story. That same boy kept saying over and over to himself "I just can't believe it. He should have killed them." That boy felt that killing was what they deserved. He had difficulty in understanding Joseph's action.

This is our problem when we are confronted with God's graciousness. It is just not what we would expect. God is patient, loving, and kind to us His people. When Adam and Eve sinned, perhaps, the logical thing to do, according to human reasoning would have been to start all over again. But God did not do this. He works with us the way we are.

God never deserts us nor abandons us. He stays with us through everything that we face. Because our sinfulness erects a barrier between Him and us. He provides a way to overcome this sin. God sent His Son to save us from sin. He willingly sacrificed His Son for our sakes even though we do not deserve such treatment. It is easy for us to take Jesus Christ for granted until we realize how undeserving of such a gift we really are. It is because God sent His Son to us that we know of His graciousness. And though we will never fully understand God's reasoning, we should readily receive this wonderful gift that God has given us, and trust in Him.

illegal turns taking place on our streets? Do you remember the time when the businessmen and citizens would walk out, stop traffic and tell these stinkers to smarten up? How many of you, besides Henry Keller and I note he's not present tonight - would be willing to take down license numbers and go to court and testify? I mean that sincerely and I don't think I'm far off base. Here for example are two half page ads from the Journal dated March 30 and 22. The headline reads "We've got to stop giving crime a chance." Here the Solicitor General is asking us to report vandals, shoplifters and anything that looks suspicious. How much did these ads cost? I'd venture a guess of forty to fifty thousand dollars. The government feels the expense is worth it. I agree with the province's position and ask your support in not giving crime a chance.

You know I've spoken with the RCMP, I've written to the MLA. I've had my concerns before the Solicitor-General and the Inspector of E-Division. I've asked for more police; I've asked for a resident policeman. All I receive is a bit of sympathy and a statement that: "based on the number of files in the Holden area a further increase in manpower is not warranted." Do you know what the answer is? Get on the phone every time you see the law broken. If every citizen in Holden did that we'd create the fattest file the Tofield RCMP ever saw - then we'd get our resident policeman.

Do you want to see this town grow? By how much? What is the optimum size? Do you want to be a large village? A small town? Give me a population size.

We have a development proposal to increase the population, in a new sub-division, by 1200 residents. Are you in agreement? Who should bear the cost? Do you want this to be a bedroom town for Vegreville? These are the questions that need to be answered.

Of a general nature and of interest to the Chamber as well is the matter of welcome the village receives. What businesses would most likely prosper? What services do we need most?

Well, Madam President, I could go on asking questions and dreaming with you but perhaps I have made the point. I will end here.

In summary then what I've tried to do is show the inside up and philosophy of council. Noting the analytical discoveries we've made, I listed the plans we have in operation and proposal stages. Finally I expressed a few concerns and left you with some questions.

In closing let me once again say how pleased I was to accept this invitation. I look forward to working with the Chamber. This opportunity to share ideas was a welcome one. If there are questions, I'd be pleased to attempt providing some answers.

Talking turkey

Scientists at Agriculture Canada's Swift Current, Sask., Research Station are working on a program that they say will result in economic production of 45 kilogram (about 100 pounds) turkeys by the end of the century.

Dr. Ken Dunkelgod, a nutritionist at the station, says the consumer will benefit from the larger turkeys because they have more palatable, digestible and nutritious meat than the smaller birds.

The larger turkeys also produce a greater variety of cuts, such as turkey steaks and leg of roast turkey.

Snow mold

Are you wondering what to do about the snow mold on your lawn?

Dr. Jack Horricks, plant pathologist with Alberta Agriculture, says there is nothing you can do if the snow has already melted. However, if there are still patches of snow in shady places, you should shovel them off the lawn immediately. Dr. Horricks points out that snow mold damage has already occurred by the time the snow has melted. Hence, raking or sweeping off the whitish-grey cobweb-like material, which appears as the snow melts, does not do any good.

This cobweb-like material is caused by four different fungi which kill the grass in irregular patches. Three of the fungi kill it during late winter and early spring, while the fourth can also kill it in the fall.

Dr. Horricks suggests anyone planning to plant a lawn this spring use a snow mold-resistant grass seed like Sydpert, New Port, Nugget or Kentucky Bluegrass. These varieties are also recommended for golf fairways. Bardot and Bare Colonial bentgrasses and Northland creeping bentgrass are recommended for golf and bowling greens.

Modern waterbeds are fast becoming accepted as a truly better way to sleep — for the whole family. Don't let some of the "myths" keep you from enjoying the benefits.

Weight is not a problem
To set aside forever the myths about waterbeds crashing through floors, the Waterbed Manufacturers Association sponsored an engineering study to get at the facts about waterbed weights versus floor loading. The survey found that if a home is structurally sound and constructed to local building codes there should be no problem.

Don't worry about leakage
A quality waterbed system — with frame and liner and properly constructed mattress — won't leak unless someone deliberately punctures the mattress. But even if it did, it would not damage the carpeting or floor. The water would be contained in the strong safety liner. That's what the safety liner is for — an extra margin of safety.

Your bed will always be warm and comfortable.
A comfortable sleeping temperature is essential to your enjoyment of a waterbed. Equally important, the waterbed heater you select should meet the standards of Underwriters Laboratories in the United States and Canadian Standards Association in Canada, whose recognition assures you of a safe quality product.

Farm fuel credited

Alberta Agriculture Minister Marvin Moore announced in a statement to the provincial Legislature that the recent increase in the Farm Fuel Transportation Allowance will be credited to producers at the time of purchase rather than after they have filed a rebate application form.

The increase in the allowance was announced by Provincial Treasurer Merv Leitch in his budget address to the Legislature on March 17 and will reduce the present cost of purple diesel fuel and purple gasoline by 4 cents per gallon.

According to a March 18 release on farm prices by Alberta Agriculture, the average prices for purple diesel fuel and purple gasoline are about 53 and 56 cents per gallon respectively.

"The federal government levies a 10 cent-per-gallon excise tax on gasoline which is refundable on application by farmers and commercial users," said Mr. Moore. "This system, while having the advantage of selective control over the use of fuel, has a number of disadvantages for many citizens.

"Additional government employees would be required to administer the system. Farmers would be required to maintain receipts and to submit applications for refunds and of course, there would be a major disadvantage in the additional operating capital required by the individual.

"For these reasons we have opted to deduct the 4 cents at the time of purchase rather than return it to producers after a rebate application." Farmers will, of course still be required to demonstrate their eligibility for this allowance.

The Minister also noted that, on the average, Alberta farm fuel costs will be 12 cents per gallon lower than those in any other province in Canada.

Service honoured

Reuben "Bronk" Gray of Tofield was recently presented with a 30-year pin for his service with Northwestern Utilities Limited. Mr. Gray joined the company in 1948 as a line walker, and was promoted to a chief gas utility man in 1958, and assumed his present post of chief gas utility man in 1968. Mr. Gray and his wife, Elsie, have four children.

1977 a good reason for Crop Insurance in 1978

Last year's heavy crop losses demonstrate the worth of crop insurance.

The 20,000 farmers insured under the All-Risk Crop Insurance Plan filed about 9,000 claims for full or partial crop failure. They shared nearly 39 million dollars in cash benefits.

For uninsured farmers, there was no such compensation.

If you want to protect against the kind of losses which could re-occur this year, call the District Office of Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation now before the April 30 deadline.

Spring cleaning

Ron Teske was just one of many volunteers who turned up at the Ryley Swimming Pool last week to help give the pool its annual clean-up. It's not easy to get rid of one of the largest bathtub rings in the world, but, the volunteers did it and the pool is shiny clean.

Order forage seed now

Order your forage seed now to avoid disappointment, advises Myron Bjorge, Alberta Agriculture's range management specialist at Rocky Mountain House.

He reports that the seed supply of bromegrass, orchardgrass, meadow fescue, Kentucky bluegrass, tall wheatgrass, streambank wheatgrass, redtop, alfalfa, red clover and birdsfoot trefoil are all much below what will be required and that reed canarygrass seed is extremely scarce.

Although seed supplies of creeping red fescue, crested wheatgrass, intermediate wheatgrass, pubescent wheatgrass, slender wheatgrass, alsike clover and sweetclover are almost normal, they could come under pressure because they are likely to be substituted whenever possible for those forages that are in short supply. However, seed supplies of timothy and Russian wildrye should be adequate to meet a normal demand.

Mr. Bjorge urges farmers to make their forage seed purchases early so that more Alberta-grown seed will be kept in the province and seed dealers can buy more high quality seed from out-of-province sources before they run out.

Since forage seed is going to be expensive this year, Mr. Bjorge suggests that farmers include in their seed mixtures only those forage species that will contribute to an increase in yield. He points out that forage yields can often be increased by planting a mixture consisting of only two species as opposed to planting a more complicated mixture. "More emphasis", he says, "should be placed on the preparation of a good seed bed, the use of a seed drill that was designed for seeding forage crops and seeding at the optimum time."

Forage seed requirements can also be reduced by prolonging the life of existing hay and pasture fields. In the case of seeded pastures this can be done by avoiding early spring grazing, practising rotational grazing, stocking the pasture at the optimum intensity and applying an adequate amount of fertilizer. Using an adequate amount of fertilizer and cutting hay at the proper time will prolong the productive life of hay stands, especially alfalfa. Since all these factors also increase hay and pasture yields, they represent a very practical method is indirectly decreasing reseeding costs.

Look for the Travel Alberta Holiday Passport in your mailbox soon

Your Holiday Passport will be delivered right to your home in the next week or so. And it's yours to have fun — Stamping Around Alberta.

Just take your holiday passport with you no matter what you want to see or do. There are 14 tourism zones in Alberta. Each has its attractions. Each has its own stamp. And each zone will be pleased to help you find the exciting places where you can get your passport stamped.

With stamps from only six zones, you can start on your collection of medallions. One stamp per zone is all you need. Then send your stamped passport to Travel Alberta. We'll send you a bronze* medallion in a presentation case and return your passport so you can go on to get your silver* (four more zones) and your gold* (all zones). You'll find details in your passport.

The main idea is to discover just how exciting every part of Alberta can be. You'll be hearing more on radio. To help make it easier, you'll find calendars of events in newspapers beginning in May — what to see and do and where you can get to use your passport.

Mail the coupon in your passport for stamp locations and other valuable Stamp Around Alberta information.

This year, for weekends and your vacation, Stamp Around Alberta.

Farmers grow younger as farms cost more, earn less

. . . now statistics prove it

By G R Sargent
Alberta Wheat Pool

Farm numbers are increasing More of Alberta's land base is involved in agriculture. The average age of farmers is decreasing Capital employed on farms is rising dramatically Farm mechanization continues. Off-farm employment is becoming more common among farmers. These are some of the changes which Alberta's agriculture has undergone in the five year period to 1976 Statistics Canada has completed the 1976 census of agriculture and the results describe the dimensions of agriculture in Alberta.

In 1976, agricultural holdings in Alberta numbered 61,130, representing a 2.5 percent drop from 1971. Agricultural holdings include small holdings or acreages and census farms. A census farm is described as one which sells agricultural products valued at $1,200 or more during the year The number of holdings in this category was 57,310 in 1976, an decrease of 4,000 from the [illegible]

Alberta's agricultural land base expanded by over 600,000 acres during the five years to 1976 All agricultural holdings utilize over 49 9 million acres Farm operations account for 49.5 million acres or about 31 percent the provinces total land area. During the period from 1971 to 1976 many small agricultural holdings moved into the census farm category As a result, the average Alberta farm involved 864 acres in 1976 compared to 889 acres in 1971. Nearly 69 percent of farm land was classified as improved - land under crops, improved pasture or summerfallow

Family farms predominate as the type of farm enterprise organization, representing 94 percent of all farms Compared to 1971, about half as many farms operate as partnerships, while family farm corporations have more than doubled Only 356 non-family corporations are in the farming business in Alberta

Almost 60 percent of farms are owned by the farmer Just over one-third of the farms are situations where the farm operator is either part owner or part tenant Six percent of Alberta farmers are tenants

Since the previous census in 1971, the age of farmers has decreased. In 1971, 18 percent of Alberta farmers were under 35 years of age. By 1976, almost 20 percent were in this group Two percent fewer farmers were in the 35 to 54 year old group and the 55 and over group

The value of capital employed on Alberta farms nearly tripled during the five years to 1976 In total, farm capital amounts to $13.6 billion for an average of $227,000 per farm Land and buildings represent the largest portion at $10.3 billion or $181,000 per farm Capital for machinery and equipment was $2.1 billion or $36,000 on average Livestock and poultry represented the balance of $1.1 billion or $20,000 per farm The mix of livestock on Alberta farms changed significantly during the five year period. Cattle numbers rose by almost one million head to 4 6 million in 1976 The poultry population also increased - from 7 6 million to 7 8 million birds The Alberta herds of dairy cow, pigs, sheep and turkeys all declined

Mechanization continues to replace labour on farms. Nearly 116,000 tractors 110,000 trucks, 44,000 swathers and 43,000 combines form the basic line of farm equipment Less than one-quarter of Alberta farms employ paid labour at some time during the year and only 5 percent employ year-round help.

Although farmers are selling more dollars worth of agricultural products the rise in farm product prices has not kept pace with the rise in input costs In 1971, 8 percent of farms sold more than $25,000 of agricultural products by 1976, 24 percent of farms were in this category Almost 60 percent of Alberta farms sold products valued from $1,200 to $10,000 in 1971; in 1976, this group had decreased to 40 percent of all farms The cost-price squeeze has forced more farm operators to seek off-farm employment About one-third of Alberta farmers were employed off the farm in 1976.

A number of healthy trends are evident in the changes which Alberta's agriculture has undergone in the five years to 1976 Less healthy signs are lower populations of some livestock and increased off-farm employment

HIGHER YIELDING WINTER WHEAT

A new variety of winter wheat developed for farmers in Oregon may boost yields for British Columbia farmers by up to 40 per cent

Recent field tests at Agriculture Canada's Agassiz, B C , Research Station show the new variety, Stephens, greatly out-yields Nugaines, the variety now recommended for production in southern British Columbia

Stephens is also more resistant to stripe rust, a problem disease in winter wheat crops in the Agassiz area

Dear Sir

The continuing saga of County of Beaver and its Disgruntled Populace is deserving of critical response but first, a brief synopsis in Episode One 'No Coffe Thanks' posed the crucial question are parents discontented with some of the goings on in the local school? Presumably, No Coffee has been disappointed with the administrative response No Coffee suggested that if other parents were experiencing the same difficulty they should contact the ATA. One would assume this was not an unreasonable suggestion since local administrative and teaching staff are members of the Association. A poor performance by one member reflects on all the members of the Association whatever their role may be.

In Episode Two the drama's antagonist reared its head. Problem Solver thinks No Coffee has got the wrong idea and suggests there is little point in taking local problems to the ATA since they are too remote. At this point it became obvious that problem solver didn't understand the problem or is unwilling to solve the problem. No Coffee suggested the ATA was worth a try when the local machinery wasn't functioning properly.

Problem Solver seems to be somewhat confused about communication. (Perhaps this is the problem). Problem Solver suggested that the ATA is too remote. We were under the impression, at least judging from our child's Social Studies notes, that due to the technology of our time (not to mention the invention of the wheel) fourty miles is hardly remote these days.

An even younger child's Social Studies notes reminds us of Alexander Graham Bell's contribution to communications.

Problem Solver's solution suggests that concerned individuals take problems to the local school superintendent and Board of Education if problems are being solved locally, why then, does No Coffee feel it necessary to contact an outside agency in the first place? Could it be that No Coffee does not see the local system as being responsive to parental concerns? Could it also be the fear of reprisal?

Are you confused? Are you concerned? Will Problem Solver ever come to his senses and understand the source of No Coffee's frustration or will he continue to pout out that teachers can be fired by the local Board of Education? Will No Coffee ever understand that those who administrate the system must be right, or they wouldn't be in that way - would they?

Still Confused? Don't despair Problem Solver still has a few months to tackle the real problem before the saga is replaced by summer reruns and he can deal with the same old band-drum problems every summer brings.

Maybe the problem will just go away.

Dear Editor

Several other people and I were very offended by the article that was published last Friday in The Mercury about the Holden Teen Dance.

I don't feel that it was right to blame the impaired changes and illegal possessions on the dance. There were other things going on that weekend. What about the people that sit in the bar until closing? Are they not drinking? Do they not take beer out of the bar to drink on the way home or even in the country?

It seems unfair that you would come down so hard on the Holden Teen Club when there is no liquor allowed in the dance. I have four chaperones at every dance to keep the liquor out of the hall. We have talked to the RCMP and they advised us that they would take care of the liquor outside of the hall. The teen club cannot be held responsible for the liquor outside the hall.

It is unfair to assume that the only drinking that goes on in Holden is the night of the teen dance.

The executive of the teen club has been trying very hard to clean up the teen dances and have been quite successful.

Yours Truly,
Terrance Lehr
President of the Holden Teen Club

OPEN LETTER TO ALL CITIZENS OF EAST CENTRAL ALBERTA

The tourist season will shortly be getting into high gear, and thousands of visitors will be coming to, or going through East Central Alberta. Zone 5's Judging by the fantastic interest in the various kinds of literature published by the Battle River Tourist Association, and considering it IS the year of the Commonwealth Games (right on our door step), and not to overlook the huge "Stamp Around Alberta" promotion now under way - you can be certain, there will be a considerable increase in the number of people coming to visit this summer. They will come from ALL over Alberta, from other provinces and territories in Canada, and from other countries!

WHEN THE GUESTS ARRIVE IN YOUR COMMUNITY WOULD YOU BE PROUD TO ESCORT THEM ON A TOUR?

— Is the local park spic and span?

— Are there grounds in your area, like around schools, public buildings, around a ravine or lake, vacant lots etc that are littered with rubbish and overgrown with uncut grass and weeds that could be burnt off?

— Is there anything that could be spruced up with a paint job?

— Could some hedges be trimmed — could some flowers be planted?

— How do the local businesses look . . . from the front . . . from the back?

— What does the directional and other signs look like in your area?

— Could some flags be put up, or lanterns or banners?

— What we're saying is that we should look at our communities like we would look at our homes if visitors were coming. On such occasions there are usually some special preparations made to ensure that everything is just right.

To this end we are inviting EVERY COMMUNITY in East Central Alberta to launch a "COMMUNITY SPRING CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN". We are inviting Town Councils, Service Clubs, Home owners and businesses to do their part in a general clean-up.

We hope that all citizens will give our suggestion serious consideration. Wouldn't it be great to boast that "along with our good clean air, and our friendly people, ours is the cleanest communities in Alberta!" And remember . . . besides being a pride and joy to the visitors, your community will be a nicer and safer place in which to live for ALL your own citizens

Yours truly,
Battle River Tourist Association

Canadian Comment

OTTAWA — (SP) — It's a common complaint of MPs that the regular debates of the House of Commons aren't covered the way they should be, because news people concentrate on the daily Question Period. It's a fair criticism but Question Period, after all, does tend to capsulize the major current events.

Recently, though, the Commons saw debate on amendments to the National Aeronautics Act, and one speech by Tory Alvin Hamilton just leapt off the pages of Hansard at you.

Hamilton was making the point that insurance companies have a weekend deal because of act ons taken by the bureaucracy which were unauthorized by Parliament. It's standard procedure for the legislation of Parliament to be fleshed out with rules drafted by bureaucrats, but sometimes the rules pervert the intent of the legislation

Locked in!

Stamping ground

The delivery around town last week of the Stamp Around Alberta passports has provoked more criticism than we've heard of a government program for some time. Several people we've talked to have complained about the "immense expense" and the waste of money which must be represented.

One thing we've noticed is that the criticism has been coming from older people, but then, that's probably because we haven't talked with many younger people since they came out.

We're not really sure how much money is involved overall, but doing a little guesstimating, we'd guess it probably isn't exceptional in the way of promotional schemes.

What strikes us as unfortunate is that the scheme, which emanates from the Hon. Bob Dowling's Ministry of Tourism office, should be so roundly condemned before it's had a chance to be tried. Our own guess is that it will be acclaimed by a portion of the community, and that there will be a race by some to see who can cover the most zones in a season, or to see who can fill the entire passport soonest.

It's funny when you think of it. The Tourism Ministry has been under fire for years to do more promoting. Freedom Alberta to Albertans. Get Albertans travelling around our own magnificent scenery. Not just in the Badlands, but in the other fascinating areas, too, such as Cypress Hills, the Badlands, the parklands, the entire Peace River Block, and all the many other interesting areas between.

Yet when they do come up with an idea, the only people applauding, apparently, are those in the tourism promotion business. Let's wait a few weeks, and see how well the idea goes over during the more open holiday weather.

Innocent till . . . ?

Nobody ever suggested the execution of justice could be conducted without fault, or without mistakes being made, but it occurs to us that sometimes when mistakes are made, when it is clearly indicated that a citizen has been wrongfully held in custody, there should be some form of redress, or recompense.

One of the most recent illustrations is where a Calgary man was arrested for a bank robbery, positively identified by two tellers, held in custody for an entire month, despite his ability to "prove" he wasn't there, and then finally released only when the case came to court, and the confession of another man was filed.

Seemingly the man's record wasn't so pure that he couldn't have been viewed in the light of being guilty, supported by two identifications, but most of us feel disturbed that circumstantial evidence could so build up in this way. There's always the fear it could happen to us. Or possibly to someone in our family.

Granted, there's no hundred percent guarantee anywhere, but we expect the criminal to pay when he makes a mistake. Seemingly society should pay in some way when it makes a mistake.

Recreation Report

by Colleen Walker
Program Supervisor
Recreation Programming And The Family

A couple of months ago I attended a Recreation Administrators' seminar where I heard a very entertaining and thought provoking speech. Lyle Larson, Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of Alberta, delivered a speech about family and recreation.

It was most entertaining but at times quite concerning. Certainly we'll all agree that modern marriage is experiencing considerable difficulty including high divorce rates, sexual maladjustment, sex-role biases, children who are less valued, and an end ence.

In recreation to blame for these problems? Perhaps we are not making recreation available, or visible, accessible, memorable or even affordable.

Mr Larson suggested some predications:

1. Recreation will have to focus more on couples. Children are coming and leaving home earlier than ever and parents are left to themselves. We must provide more opportunities for couples in recreation.

2. Recreational opportunities will need to adjust to the interests and needs of a single parent family. One out of three marriages are ending in divorce, so there will be more and more single parents.

3. Dual career marriages will continue to increase. Nearly 40 percent of marriages today involve working mothers. Recreation must be able to adapt to weekend schedule, day care programs, early evening programs, etc.

4. Male-female segregation in many activities will increasingly be unnecessary and even inappropriate. Recreation must meet with these changes in camps, sports, etc.

5. The number of older persons will increase due to improved health conditions and earlier retirement. Implication for recreation is larger, more comprehensive recreational facilities, and an extensive range of service.

These changes are happening now. As recreation personnel we need your help and your feedback to make these changes.

Progressive Farming

Warble Inspections At Cattle Markets.

Jim Mackay
Dist. Agriculturist
Box 300, Ryley, Alta
Phone: 663 3555

Inspections under the Alberta Warble Control Program will continue at all markets and terminal stockyards in 1978.

Alberta Agriculture's livestock supervisor, Ross Gould, says the warble infested cattle being offered for sale, other than those being sold for slaughter within seven days, milking dairy cattle and animals that are sick or too young to treat, will continue to be treated at the market. The cost of treating the animals will continue to be charged to the owner who will have $2 per head deducted from the proceeds of each animal that has to be treated.

To avoid the extra cost of having animals treated at the market, farmers are advised to check their cattle for grubs several weeks before they intend to sell them. Even in herds which are carefully treated in the fall, and odd animals may have one or two grubs. Treating these on the farm is cheaper than having them treated at a market.

It is important to remember that any animal treated with Neguvon, Grubex or Epco Trichlorofon cannot be slaughtered for 21 days after the pesticide has been applied. The wait period for cattle treated with Spotton is 45 days, but animals treated with Ruelene can be slaughtered seven days after treatment.

Public Right to Know

For the third consecutive year, I have introduced and debated a bill in the Legislature which would make certain that information based in determining public policy will be available to the public.

This bill cannot be construed in any way as infringing on the rights of individual privacy, but simply ensures that all information which goes into public decision-making is made public - - a challenge to the Conservative government's claim it "open and responsive government".

Such situations as created by the secretary surrounding the operations of the Alberta Energy Company and P.W.A. must be avoided in future. Closed-door decisions affecting the expenditure of public money will not be allowed to occur. After-the-fact approval of investment of Heritage Savings Trust Fund money will not happen if this bill is approved.

Because this government has become closed and unapproachable to the people of this province, Right to Information legislation is necessary!

Tory Economic Strategy - - A Hoax

My colleague from Little Bow, Ray Speaker, has been critical of the government's alleged economic strategy, aimed at diversifying and decentralizing the provincial economy.

He points out these interesting facts: manufacturing has declined from 19.3 percent to 13.9 percent of the net value of production in the past five years, while mining, including conventional gas and oil extraction, has increased from 40 percent to nearly 53 percent. 68 percent of Alberta's labor force gain salaries from petroleum and petroleum-related industries.

Our Premier repeatedly states that Alberta must become less dependent on non-renewable resources, but we see that dependence growing rather than diminishing. 78 percent of all major projects under construction and 72 percent of new proposals on the government's list are petroleum related.

To successfully diversify our economy and stimulate manufacturing, emphasis must be placed on technological innovation. The hope for the future lies in innovative individuals and encouragement for the competitive, responsible free enterprise system.

M.L.A. report . . .

John S. Batiuk

The Minister of Housing and Public Works, Hon. William Yurko announced to the Assembly, a 1978-79 support list for Senior Citizens.

This year's program will reach 42 communities with the majority of the projects going to the smaller rural centres. The Senior Citizens' Lodge program includes a budget of $7 millions for 228 beds. 1548 self contained provides a budget of nearly $50 millions. As in the past two years all applications for senior citizens' lodges have been approved. In the last of approval a 44-bed Senior Citizens' Lodge for the Town of Two Hills was announced. Also 8 self-contained units were approved for the Village of Holden.

Much work had to be done to accomplish these and I am sure these two communities will appreciate these announcements.

The weekend of April 7th to 9th inclusive saw a very successful Annual Meeting of the Progressive Conservative Party of Alberta at the Palliser Hotel in Calgary. As every annual meeting of the party, this one then year had an overwhelming attendance well over 1500 delegates attended the meeting. Although Calgary is quite far from the Vegreville area, our constituency sent twenty-five delegates. Only one rural constituency had more delegates than ours and I am gratified to have had such a good representation.

After the presentation of the Federal Budget, much of the Question Period was taken up with questioning the Provincial Treasurer how the Federal Budget would affect Alberta. Truly, as I see it, that was a very meek budget intended to favor some areas of Canada.

The contribution of the Sales Tax program will remove the entire sales tax for the Atlantic Provinces and only a portion for the remaining provinces. Since Alberta is the only province that does not have a sales tax, it will not benefit. Listening to some of the Opposition Members, they seemed to suggest that Alberta should have a sales tax so as to benefit from the Federal Budget. I only hope that this is not the beginning of on going programs that will benefit certain areas of Canada. In his wisdom, I feel the Federal Minister of Finance would have done much better to remove some hidden taxes which would help the entire country.

The Minister of Agriculture advised the House that it is the intention of the Alberta Government to join Saskatchewan and Manitoba to help reimburse the Canadian Co-op Implements Ltd. in their difficulties.

A resolution proposed that the government consider embarking upon a comprehensive home care program for Alberta Senior Citizens to achieve available home chore support. About 80 senior citizens sat in the galleries throughout the debate.

In the last six weeks I have received two letters asking my help for financial assistance for one certain person. I do not dispute that this individual is in need, but both these letters have been unsigned and therefore I am not legally in a position to ask the Social Services Department to investigate the financial status of this individual. I would strongly urge the person who wrote the letters to get in contact with me, otherwise I am not able to act.

Province donates to feeding programs

Alberta has made a special donation of $250,000 to 11 voluntary agencies to purchase Alberta products for use in their feeding programs in Asia and Africa.

Horst A. Schmid, minister responsible for the Alberta International Assistance Program said: "In many areas of the world the food situation continues to be highly critical. By making these donations to responsible agencies, we know the food will go where it is most needed and will help alleviate some of the suffering."

Among the items to be purchased in Alberta with these funds are powdered milk and eggs, cooking oil and honey and sugar. "Two types of programs will benefit from these funds," said Mr. Schmid. "Child feeding programs and food for work programs. The food for work programs give poor unemployed workers specified amounts of food in return for working on projects such as digging irrigation canals to make otherwise unproductive land capable of growing food."

This special donation brings the total assistance the Alberta Government has provided this year for projects in Third World countries to $3,720,000.

Shipping costs to transport the food items from Alberta overseas will be provided by the Canadian International Development Agency.

YCW grants

Over $80,000 has been approved for funding of Young Canada Works projects in the federal constituency of Battle River for this summer.

Wayne Lowther of the Job Creation Branch in Camrose reported yesterday, Tuesday, that ten projects have received approval, of the 43 applications submitted.

In order of total federal contribution, which amounts to approximately half the total estimated project cost, the approved projects are as follows: Wainwright Golf Club development, $8,600; summer recreation for the handicapped at Camrose, $8,338; upgrading of cross-country and downhill facilities at the Camrose Ski Club, $7,684; beautification project, $5,168; Camrose Heritage museum, $3,188; Alix community park and playground, $4,753; New Norway village improvement, $3,188; Flagstaff Children's Theatre in Killam, $4,752; and the Bashaw Parks and Golf Course, $3,188.

Of the ten approved projects, those at Hessler and New Norway are said to be "firsts" in terms of the respective community involvement in the Young Canada Works program. The respective projects will commence in May, with all students to be hired from the local Canada Manpower office.

Lowther indicated that applications for the adult Canada Works Program, which the federal government sponsors for the fall and winter months, are now being accepted and must be submitted no later than June 24, 1978.

CRCA announces top "finalists"

A new lead in Canadian Rodeo finalist standings in the bull riding event was set by Don Johanson of Hussar at the Camrose Winchester Rifle Rodeo April 7 8 and 9.

According to unofficial standings released by the Canadian Rodeo Cowboys' Association (CRCA), Johanson's mark of 76 at Camrose was combined with his winning performance at the Saskatoon Indoor Rodeo to put him in the lead in the Canadian standings Johanson's mark of 76 at Saskatoon earned him $493 while a 76 at Camrose was worth $425.

Capacity crowds at the Camrose rodeo witnessed Tom Bews of Pekisko being named All Around Champion on the strength of winning the steer wrestling and $500 for a 4.4 second run.

Ties were featured in saddle bronc riding. Leaders with winning marks of 76 each were Glen Griffith of Cessford and Tom Eriksen and Jim Legette, both from Innisfail.

Two of three Hern brothers from Bindloss Alberta won events.

In the Saskatoon Indoor Rodeo, which was held simultaneously with the Camrose rodeo, Canadian All Around champion Ben Hern was the fastest steer wrestler with a time of 3.7 seconds earning $583. Allan Hern won $358 at Camrose for a mark of 76 in bareback riding.

Oscar Walker of Lethbridge was the calf roping winner at Camrose with a time of 11.5 seconds, good for $458.

The results of the two rodeos produced two new event leaders for the season, Jim Gladstone in calf roping and Don Johanson in bull riding, while the other leaders, Steve Dunham in bareback riding, Glen Griffith in saddle bronc and Ron Ostrom in steer wrestling maintained their positions.

Holden cracks down on unsightly property

Property owners in the village of Holden will be required to keep their premises in a neat and tidy condition in the future.

At a recent meeting of village council, three readings were given to a by-law which regulates untidy and unsightly premises as well as controlling the abatement of nuisance in general.

Representatives of the RCMP and Holden Town Club were invited to attend tonight's (Thursday) meeting of council to discuss an RCMP request that teen dances be scheduled between 8-12 o'clock instead of from 10 to 2 a.m.

Council decided to file an objection with the Public Utilities Board over a proposal by Northwestern Utilities which would initiate a uniform gas rate in the company's service area. Councillors agreed that gas rates in Holden would rise if the request was granted.

Council decided to ask the village's engineers to submit a cost price for a curb and gutter program on 50 Avenue, after receiving an estimate from a private firm.

Owners of unregistered dogs are to be informed, by letter, that license fees are past due, informing them of the provisions of the dog control by-law.

Councillor Mackay told fellow councillors that the travelling playground would visit the village for a week during the summer and that swimming classes were being arranged. As well, the recreation board were planning repairs to the playground.

A letter received from the County of Beaver informed council that the supplementary school requisition for 1978 amounted to $24,385.

Dorothy Emerson and Lyle Andrusty were appointed to sit on the village recreation board and that body's budget of $1,800 was approved.

Council was told that the Buildings Inspection Branch had conducted an inspection on the roof of the community hall and would be forwarding a written report in the near future.

It was agreed that the village should participate in the derelict vehicle removal and recycling program being planned by Alberta Environment.

The secretary-treasurer was authorized to attend the AUMA regional meeting in Daysland on May 3rd.

It was decided not to conduct a census during 1978.

Accounts amounting to $15,549.51 were approved for payment.

Minutes of the council meeting of March 9th were approved.

Information for this news story was obtained from the unapproved minutes of a council meeting held on April 13th.

Confronting Your Faith

With Rev Dave Moddle of the Tofield United Church

There have been two things happening recently within the United Church which are of interest considering the title of the ministers' spot in The Mercury The United Church of Canada is currently trying to have its members "confront their faith" in two ways: through a new and extensive Bible study course called Kerygma, and through a study of a position paper on faith called "The Lordship of Jesus."

The Kerygma Bible study course is heavy, and detailed course and I mean, heavy The Leaders' Guide is a great big binder weighing at least five pounds The participants' guide is no lighter The aim of Kerygma as stated in the introduction is "to help people listen to the Bible" Some people I have talked to estimate that to explore the course properly will take three years spending up to four hours a week in reading the Bible.

The course is divided into ten themes Every time a theme is worked through, selected parts of the Bible from Genesis to Revelations are read. Some of the themes are: "God Saves His People," "God's Laws Demand a Righteous People," "God's People Live in the World," and "God's People Have Hope " The aim of the course is to have people read through the Bible at least ten times in ten different ways, so that when they are done, they will know the Bible well enough to use it and know it as a friend.

Now many people will respond that they have better things to do than put all that energy into studying the Bible "Well," the church says, "maybe if you take the time to study the Bible, you'll realize why it is so important " Besides, if something is worth doing, it's worth doing well. It's an ambitious project Here's hoping people will set aside their reluctance and take up the challenge

The other important thing going on these days is the report presented to the United Church's General Council in Calgary last summer "The Lordship of Jesus" is a report from the church's committee on Christian Faith and which challenges people to take seriously that their first and foremost call as Christians is to confess Jesus as Lord It then goes on to establish the primacy of the Scriptures in any attempt to follow Jesus The paper speaks about how we can find ways to silence the Bible and reject Jesus as Lord, and then in contrast shows ways by which one may hear the Bible better and accept Jesus as Lord in our understanding of the Word of God.

Finally, the paper centres on the acts of the church, calling upon it to stop breaking down the community of faith and to start bearing its cross as it tries to follow the Lordship of Jesus

It's hard to describe the report and to do it justice in this short space Suffice to say that it's an exciting call to United Chruch people everywhere to re-examine their relationship to the church Excerpts are being printed in the United Chruch Observer and copies of the report will be available for study Even if you are not an active member of the United Church, this report is worth reading It is honest, clear and relevant to all walks of life, yet it pulls no punches, clearly calling all of us to a renewed vision of the importance of faith in a [illegible] world

Two important studies are thus available to United Church people If you've become dissatisfied with the church in past years now is your chance to take a critical look at its faith and approach to the Bible Maybe there is still some meaning left for you in the local church If you are interested in open and honest dialogue, see your local United Church minister

Montreal students arrive here today

Forty students from Ecole Secondaire Paillon in Montreal, Quebec, arrived in Camrose this afternoon (Wednesday) to experience some of Western Canadian life for a week. They will be staying with their Camrose Composite High School friends who visited them in Montreal during the Easter holidays, as part of an Open House Canada bicultural exchange program operated under the Department of State. The students are accompanied by three supervisors as well.

A full itinerary has been planned for their visit. They are all band students, as are the Camrose kids with whom they are exchanging, and the highlight of the week's schedule will be a joint band concert on Friday evening at 7.30 p.m. in the Composite gymnasium. The public will have an opportunity to greet the French students and hear the combined product of the 80 band pupils. A similar joint concert when the Camrose students were in Montreal was a resounding success.

Upon arrival at Edmonton International Airport early this afternoon, the Montreal people were presented with cowboy hats donated by the Camrose Chamber of Commerce, and each student met with his or her "twin" when they got to the Composite this afternoon, going home with their hosts after school. Many will be enjoying a hay ride and wiener roast at the Grundberg farm this evening.

Tomorrow morning (Thursday) will be spent in school in a full band rehearsal, and tours have been arranged for the afternoon. The students plan to visit the Camrose Veterinary Clinic, the Hutterite Colony, the Seed Cleaning Plant, Byers Flour Mill, and at the Ordean Broen farm will witness a display of horseback riding by the Light Horse Association, concluding with a stop at the Al Kerr Dairy Farm at milling time.

After supper with their host families, they will have a senior stage band rehearsal at the school at which visitors will be welcome.

Friday morning will again be devoted to band rehearsal, and at noon some students will attend Canadian History 30 class. All will attend regular classes with their twins during the afternoon.

The joint concert on Friday evening will last from 7.30 to approximately 9 p.m after which will be an open school dance to which the Montreal students will be admitted free.

A very long day will be in store for the students and supervisors on Saturday when they go to Banff. Among the activities there will be a drive up Tunnel Mountain to lookout points, a ride on the Gondola on Sulphur Mountain, and a swim in the Upper Hot Springs. The buses are scheduled to leave CCHS at 6 a.m. and are not expected to return until midnight Sunday has been left unorganized, but some host families are considering trips to Fort Edmonton or the Alberta Game Farm.

The band will perform for Rotary Club at their Monday luncheon meeting at the Legion, and attending classes with their twins during the morning and afternoon. A group portrait will be taken after school.

On Monday evening, the visitors will be honored at a banquet at the school, at which time they will be greeted by representatives of the County of Camrose and County Board of Education, Camrose Separate School Board, Camrose Public School Board, City of Camrose, and the provincial government. Some presentations will be made. The banquet will be followed by a farewell party among the exchange students. The Montreal group will leave Camrose early Tuesday morning.
